Introduction

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Who is this book for?

This book is for any advanced student of English but it is particularly relevant to people studying for the Cambridge Certificate in Advanced English (CAE) or the Certificate of Proficiency in English (CPE) exams. We assume that anybody using this book has a reasonable knowledge of and ability to use English, at least up to Cambridge First Certificate standard.

What sort of grammar is in this book?

This book covers the main areas of English grammar at advanced level and concentrates on areas you need to pass the exams. It looks, for example, at verb and noun structures, adverb and adjective structures, and ways of linking complex sentences and texts. It also provides information on style and register, for example whether some structures are more typical of written or spoken English. Although grammar and vocabulary are obviously important in all areas of the advanced exams, special attention is given to structures which are frequently tested in Paper 3 – Use of English. For example, modal verbs (see Units 3 and 4) and relative clauses (see Unit 11) have occurred in virtually every Paper 3 in the CPE exam in recent years. Some areas of grammar, such as relative clauses and determiners (see Unit 9), occur most frequently in the cloze test (see page 14 below), while modal Perfects are very common in sentence gapped sentences – the practice exercises in the book reflect this. Other areas of grammar, such as articles (see Unit 8), may cause you more difficulty in Paper 2 – Composition. Again, the practice exercises in the book reflect this.

What sort of vocabulary is in this book?

At advanced level, there is an enormous amount of vocabulary to learn. No book can hope to cover it all. It is also much more difficult to predict vocabulary which will occur in the exams. This book focuses on areas of vocabulary that are useful in a wide range of situations, e.g. agreeing and disagreeing, frequency, problems and solutions, starting and ending, etc. Words that combine frequently with others are a particular focus. This involves a consideration of collocation (see Unit 1.6) as well as what grammatical structures we can use with certain words.

Each Unit has two Sections dedicated to vocabulary, but there is also a lot of vocabulary in the Grammar Sections: groups of words often share similar grammatical patterns, e.g. verbs that are commonly followed by that-clauses or to-infinitive structures (see Unit 14.2), or verbs that are commonly followed by it + clause (see Unit 12.2). The Sections often end with examples of common phrases and idioms which use the grammatical structures. Vocabulary Sections complement the preceding Grammar Sections where possible, whilst others deal with separate topics. The Syllabus map (pages 6–9) shows this.

Some of the grammar or vocabulary in the book may be formal or used in limited contexts, though language that would normally be considered specialised, such as legal or technical jargon or academic or literary usage, is not included because it is not tested in the exams.

How can I use this book?

There are many different ways to use this book. You can use the Contents or Syllabus map to look up a particular area of grammar or vocabulary that you want to study. Or, you may want to study complete Units in the order in which they appear. Several options are available to you. References within the Sections will point you in the direction of explanations of related areas of grammar or vocabulary in other Sections or Units.

THE ENTRY TEST

Each Unit begins with an Entry test. Each exercise in this test is related to one of the Grammar Sections within the Unit. If you have difficulties with an exercise, there is a cross-reference to the relevant Section which will provide all the explanation and practice you need. On the other hand, if you find the exercise easy, it may mean that you are perfectly competent in that area of grammar and you may wish to ignore that Section.

THE OVERVIEW

The Overview provides a summary of the grammar which students in advanced classes should already be familiar with. For example, with relative clauses (see Unit 11) you should already know about the differences between defining and non-defining relative clauses – these are summarised in the Overview. The Watch Out! boxes highlight areas that often continue to cause difficulty. If you have any difficulties with the points covered in the Overview, look at Grammar and Vocabulary for First Certificate by Luke Prodromou (Longman).

THE GRAMMAR SECTIONS

Each Unit has between two and five Grammar Sections which deal with aspects of a particular area of grammar. These Sections contain explanations and descriptions with many of example sentences. The page ends with a short exercise so that you can check whether you have understood the main grammar points.

PRACTICES

Opposite is a page of related practice exercises. The first practice is always a straightforward test of understanding the main grammar points in the Section; the later practices are more complicated and reflect the level and style of the advanced exams. These practices can be done in class or for homework. If you are doing them in class, you may want to discuss your answers with other students or with your teacher before checking the correct answers in the Key at the back of the book (in 'with Key' editions). Discussion helps everybody to understand and remember the main facts or issues.

THE VOCABULARY SECTIONS

Each Unit has two Vocabulary Sections. These deal with a particular area of vocabulary such as words connected with differences and similarities (see Unit 7.4) or competing (see Unit 15.4). Lexical areas such as collocation, word formation, phrasal verbs, prepositions and idiomatic phrases are also covered, specifically in particular Sections and generally in other Vocabulary Sections. There are several short Pre-practices within the explanations. The main Practice exercises contain much of the vocabulary presented in the explanations but also add other related items.

THE EXAM PRACTICES

At the end of each Unit there is an Exam practice which revises the grammar and vocabulary in the whole Unit using CAE and CPE-type exercises. Each paper has the same score so that you can monitor your general progress as you work with different Units.

THE PROGRESS TESTS

After Units 5, 10 and 15 there are Progress tests in CAE and CPE-exam format. They revise the grammar and vocabulary of the previous five Units together with any other previous Units.

Will I pass Proficiency if I do everything in this book?

One textbook is never enough to become fluent. We recommend that you read widely in English (books, magazines, newspapers...) as well as take every opportunity to listen to English (satellite television, film, radio...) and speak the language, so that you can use it naturally and easily. Everybody can learn a language (we have all already learned at least one!), but it takes time, patience and hard work.

ABOUT THE EXAMS

What level are CAE and CPE?

CAE is an advanced exam at a level between Cambridge First Certificate in English and CPE. It is recognised by many British Universities for English Language entry requirements at undergraduate level. CPE is more widely recognised for the same purpose as well as being a qualification in many countries to teach English. A pass at CPE is an indication that you should be able to follow lectures in English, write essays, understand the books you need to read, and contribute effectively in undergraduate seminars and classes. In other words, it is quite a high level. For both exams, grades A, B and C are passes. D is a narrow fail and E is a fail.

Both exams consist of five papers. The first three papers are normally taken on the same day. Papers 4 and 5 may be on different days within a week or two of the other papers.

PAPER 1

CPE – Reading Comprehension (1 hour)

The first part, Section A, consists of twenty-five multiple choice vocabulary questions. The second part, Section B, consists of fifteen multiple choice comprehension questions on three texts.

CAE – Reading (1 hour 15 mins)

There are four texts followed by a total of approximately fifty matching and multiple choice questions.

PAPER 2

CPE – Composition (2 hours)

You must complete two writing tasks of 350 words each out of a choice of five topics. These usually include a discussion of a topic, a description of something such as a festival or city, a story and a letter. You also have the option to write about one of three prescribed reading texts, usually novels.

CAE – Writing (2 hours)

You must complete two writing tasks usually including a letter, report, memo, information sheet, review, article, etc., but not a story. Section A is a compulsory task based on reading information with a maximum of 450 words. Section B consists of one task from a choice of four.

PAPER 3

This book concentrates on grammar and vocabulary needed for Paper 3, although this information is essential for all the other Papers in the exams.

CPE – Use of English (2 hours)

The first part of this paper, Section A, consists of four different grammar and vocabulary tasks based on a short text and sets of sentences. The second part, Section B, asks you to read a passage, answer a number of comprehension and vocabulary questions, and summarise a specified aspect of it.

CAE – English in Use (1 hour 30 mins)

This paper focuses on grammar, vocabulary and register, and includes tasks such as gap filling, proof reading and text completion.

PAPER 4

CPE – Listening Comprehension (approximately 40 mins)

CAE – Listening Comprehension (approximately 45 mins)

Both CAE and CPE consist of recordings of three or four different spoken situations, such as conversations, interviews, extracts from radio programmes, recorded telephone messages, etc., and a variety of matching, completion and multiple choice tasks.

PAPER 5

CPE – Speaking (approximately 15 mins)

CAE – Speaking (approximately 15 mins)

This part of the exam consists of a conversation with an examiner. You are asked to talk about some photographs, give opinions and discuss some issues. The examiner will assess your pronunciation, fluency, range of vocabulary, grammatical accuracy and general ability to hold a natural conversation in English. CAE interviews are conducted in pairs – you will be asked to discuss things both with the examiner and the other candidate.

What types of questions can we expect in CPE?

PAPER 1

Multiple choice

In Section A, there are twenty-five multiple choice vocabulary items in a question like this example:

In this section you must choose the word or phrase which best completes each sentence. On your answer sheet, indicate the letter A, B, C or D against the number of each item 1 to 25 for the word or phrase you choose. Give one answer only to each question.

- 1 Even the tiniest of dust can damage delicate electrical equipment.
A piece B portion C shred D speck

(Answer: 1 D)

This question tests your knowledge of the different meanings of words, collocations, etc.

PAPER 3

Cloze test

In Section A there is a short passage (under 200 words) in which twenty words are missing. You must decide what the words are. Example:

Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

THE HERRING GULL

The herring gull's ability to eat almost (1) from fish to the young of its own kind, has made it one of the (2) species in Britain to be actually thriving at this time. Its (3) have multiplied in recent years because of the increasing (4) of edible refuse which is a by-product of modern life. ...

(Answers: eat almost (1) anything from fish to... one of the (2) few species... etc.)

Words typically gapped include pronouns (including relative pronouns), articles, determiners and linking words such as however, but, such...that. It can also test collocation and prepositions.

Sentence transformation

In the second part of Section A, there are eight sentence transformations which ask you to rewrite a sentence using a different beginning. Example:

Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible to the sentence printed before it.

- (a) All the people I have contact with disapprove of the changes.

None

(Answer: None of the people I have contact with approve of the changes.)

Areas tested include conditionals, reported speech, inversion, changing verbs to nouns, etc.

Gapped sentence

Section A continues with six gapped sentences where several words are missing in each gap. Example:

Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase

- (a) You should that into account before you went and spent all your money.

(Answer: You should have taken that into account before you went and spent all your money.)

Areas commonly tested in this question include modal verbs, conditionals and idiomatic phrases.

Word transformation

Section A ends with eight sentences which must be rewritten using a given word that cannot be changed in any way. Example:

For each of the sentences below, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given. This word must not be altered in any way.

- (a) Nobody else in the country possesses his skills on the trumpet.

unmatched

(Answer: His skills on the trumpet are unmatched by anybody else (or anyone else) in the country.)

This question tests your knowledge of common phrases and changing verbs to nouns, etc.

What types of questions can we expect in CAE?

The CAE has been revised from December 1999. In CAE, specific grammar and vocabulary questions are all in Paper 3 – English in Use. The Paper includes six Parts and a total of 80 questions.

MULTIPLE CHOICE CLOZE

This consists of a passage with fifteen gaps. For each gap you must choose one word from a choice of four.

OPEN CLOZE

The only exercise that is similar to CPE is the cloze test (a gapped passage). There are fifteen gaps in the CAE exam.

ERROR CORRECTION

A text about sixteen lines long is provided. Most lines have either an extra, unnecessary word which you must find, or a spelling or punctuation mistake which you must correct.

WORD FORMATION

This new task is similar to FCE but the base words are more difficult and may involve more changes. There are two passages in which you are required to write the missing word in the correct part of speech using the word given. For example, transform becomes transformation. Remember to check whether you need to make a noun plural, an adjective negative, etc. There are fifteen gaps.

INFORMATION TRANSFER

This consists of a gapped text in which you are asked to rewrite information from another text in a different style or register. For example, you may have to fill the gaps in an informal letter with information taken from an advertisement. You must make any necessary changes in vocabulary and grammar so that the style is appropriate. There are thirteen gaps.

DISCOURSE CLOZE

A text is provided from which various phrases have been omitted. From a list of these phrases, you are asked to put back the correct phrase in each gap. There are six gaps and three distractors.

What about the other exercises and papers in CAE and CPE?

In addition to the above tasks, you will need to be able to recognise and use a wide range of grammar and vocabulary in order to:

- understand the reading passages in Paper 1
- write letters and compositions in the Paper 2
- answer the questions in Paper 3 Section B
- understand what is being said in the Paper 4
- understand and speak to the examiner and other candidates in Paper 5.

The grammar and vocabulary in this book will be a great help.

OVERVIEW

1 USES OF PERFECT TENSES

Present Perfect

We use Present Perfect to talk about things that took place:

- during a period that includes past and present:
They've been waiting here for an hour.
- in the past, but we're not saying exactly when:
Don't tell me he's bought another new car!
- in the past with an effect or result in the present:
I'm afraid I've forgotten my key.
- with the time adverb just meaning 'a short time ago' (American English uses Past Simple here):
She's just gone out.

Past Perfect

We use Past Perfect to talk about things that took place:

- before something else in the past (see Section 2.1):
I took the decision after I had spoken to John.
- during a period before an event in the past:
All day I'd been feeling nervous but the feeling vanished as soon as I saw her.

Future Perfect

We use Future Perfect to talk about:

- something that will be finished before a specified time in the future (see Section 2.2):
I'll have signed nearly a hundred letters by tonight.

For, since, already, yet, still, often, etc.

We often use Perfect tenses with these time words.

- Note important variations in their position:
We still haven't heard from Olga. We'd still not heard from her by the time evening arrived. (= more formal) I haven't heard a convincing explanation of her absence yet. She's phoned already. Has she phoned already? She's already phoned. She hasn't already phoned, has she?

2 USES OF CONTINUOUS TENSES

We use Continuous tenses to talk about things:

- continuing over a period, and temporary.
Continuous tenses show that we either view the event as incomplete, or that we don't know or don't need to say when it started or finished:
We're studying Shakespeare at school at the moment. (= temporary activity during these weeks)

It was raining when we left the building. (= we don't know or aren't interested in when the rain started or when it will finish)

- that are in the process of changing:
William's piano playing was improving every day. I think I'm getting more forgetful as I grow older.
- With verbs that describe a short action, e.g. hit, knock, blink, the action is repeated rather than continuous:
I've been ringing him all morning but he never seems to be in.
- We often use Past Continuous and Past Perfect Continuous to set the background to narrative events. Because it may not be clear when the activity begins or ends, they give the impression you are arriving in the middle of a scene:
Jo had been working all morning and was now spending a happy half hour doing nothing more taxing than staring into space. She was looking forward to her holiday in Scotland in a few days' time.

3 EXPRESSING THE FUTURE

English does not have one future tense. Instead, we use other tenses and modal verbs to refer to the future (see Section 4):

- This time next week we'll be sitting our exams. (= we'll be in the middle of them)*
- When you arrive, you are to go straight to the registration desk.*

watch out!

We don't use Present Perfect when an exact past time is mentioned and there is no connection with the present:

- ✗ We've been to London in 1997.
- ✓ We went to London in 1997.
- But we can use the Present Perfect if the period mentioned includes the past and present:
We've been here since half past six. I haven't done much work today. It's been raining for ages.
- We use Past Perfect for something that happened before something else. We can only use it with another Past tense:
I went to see him because his wife had asked me to.
- We omit will in time clauses (see Sections 1.4 and 4.2):
✗ I'll phone you as soon as we will have arrived.
✓ I'll phone you as soon as we have arrived.

SECTION I

Present Perfect

Present Perfect often combines with other tenses in the same sentence.

1 USES WITH OTHER PRESENT TENSES

We use Present Perfect with other Present tenses:

- with report/comment verbs or phrases (guess, imagine, suppose, etc.):
I reckon Gloria's been held up in traffic. Do you suppose they've forgotten they're meant to be here?
- with the phrase This is / It's / That's the first / second / only, etc. time ...:
This is the first time he's been late. It's the only time I've ever really got angry with him.
- when an event is unusual or unique in your life (often with a superlative and ever or never):
I've never met anybody who is so absent-minded.

However, we commonly use a Past tense to refer to somebody who is dead:

Princess Diana was the most extraordinary person I've ever read about.

- when commenting on the present results of something in the past (usually with appear, seem, sound, etc.):
He sounds as if he has run all the way here. It seems they've already decided without consulting us.

2 USES WITH PAST TENSES

We use Present Perfect with Past tenses:

- to describe states or events that have continued since a time in the past (with since, ever since, etc.):
He's been a bit more careful since he had that warning. Ever since I first heard it I've been trying to find a recording of that song.
- to describe long-term or repeated feelings and thoughts about past events:
I've often wondered why he decided to become a teacher. I've always felt we did the wrong thing when we took her on as an assistant.

3 USE WITH ANOTHER PRESENT PERFECT

We use Present Perfect with another Present Perfect:

- to describe two states that have existed since a time in the past:
Since I've known him, he's always worn the same sweater.

4 USE WITH FUTURE FORMS

In time clauses (after when, as soon as, until, before, etc.) we don't use will, and so the Future Perfect will have done is not possible. In these cases we use the Present Perfect to refer to the future:

We'll continue the meeting when he's recovered his composure.

5 USE WITH SINCE AND YET

Note the position and emphatic uses of since and yet:

There was no news this morning but we've since learned that she's in Rome.

I haven't met anyone yet who can run as fast as him.
or: I've yet to meet anyone who ...

6 COMMON PHRASES

They've made it! (= They've succeeded) I've had enough. (= I'm fed up. I don't want to do any more)
You've had it! (= You're in trouble) That's torn it! (= You, we, etc. have done something that someone else will complain strongly about) Now you've done it! (= You've done something seriously wrong)
She's arrived. (= She's achieved fame, success, acceptance, etc. at last) He's lost it. (= He's lost his patience or self-control) You've got me there! (= Good point: I've no idea what the solution is)

? check

Correct these sentences.

- It's the third time he missed a meeting.
- As soon as he will finish, he's going home.
- This is the best lasagne I ever have.
- Since we've known each other, he always shows impeccable manners.
- Since I've met her, I've never seen her lose her temper.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the sentences that are correct. Correct those that are not.

- a Do you think Vicky's always known the truth about us?
- b That's been the second time you've forgotten to post something for me.
- c I haven't seen Peter since he begins seeing his new girlfriend.
- d Ever since we met, you never asked me what I prefer to do.
- e In all my life, I never spoke to someone who is quite so stupid.

- h Since he's lived here, he was usually extremely friendly.
- i They'll join us after they'll get a bite to eat.
- j He says he hasn't yet come to a final decision.

2 Fill each of the gaps in this passage with one suitable word.

I've often (1) that Stefan's success as a teacher is due to his eccentricity as much as his knowledge of the subject. From the first time he ever (2) into a classroom, students have always loved him. They've probably (3) met anybody who displays such an extraordinary mixture of enthusiasm and great personal warmth. It (4) also probably the first time they've (5) somebody who always wears a leather jacket and a scarf even at the height of summer.

3 Fill each of the gaps in this passage with one suitable word.

'When did you really begin to feel at home here?' Paul asked.
 'Oh, you've (1) me there!' John replied. 'Let's just say you won't feel you truly belong until you've (2) out with your colleagues and then made it up several times. Over the summer I've (3) it with all of them countless times, often over quite trivial things. I've lost (4) of the times I've said to myself – That's it! I've had (5)! But I come back the next day, time after time. I've often (6) why I do. As far as the boss goes, just wait until you make a major mistake. Your colleagues will go "Oooh, now you've (7) it!" or "Um, that's (8) it!", and the boss comes in and just smiles at you. Then you'll know you've (9) it. Then you'll definitely have (10).

4 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: I'm not going to go out again until the storm has blown over.

- a I'll phone him just as soon as typing all these letters.
- b I looked for that book everywhere but I'm afraid across it yet.
- c This isn't the first time he away from home.
- d I spoke to Sylvia last night: she sounds had a hard time recently.
- e I went to the new pizzeria last night: it does the eaten.

This is the first time
- d The journey to Paris took much longer before they built the Channel Tunnel.
Since the
- e It's almost a year since I stopped smoking.
I gave /
- f This café used to be a lot more popular before they opened the new one next door.
Since

SECTION 2

Other Perfect forms

1 PAST PERFECT

Not always necessary

Past Perfect emphasises that we are talking about a period before a time in the past. If the time sequence is clear (e.g. because we use after), both Past Simple and Past Perfect are possible. At other times Past Perfect is essential to understanding the sequence, and we often add already, as soon as, or until:

I got to work after Simon arrived / had arrived.
When I arrived, they'd already started. (= they started before I arrived)
When I arrived, they started. (= I arrived before they started)

With definite time

Unlike Present Perfect, we can use Past Perfect with a definite time reference:

I arrived at nine o'clock but he had got there at eight.

With before

There is one exception to the time sequence rules on Past Perfect. When we use before, the verb in Past Simple can refer to something that takes place before the verb in Past Perfect. The first action may prevent the second from happening:

The waiter took my plate away before I'd finished eating.
I was blamed for it before I'd even had a chance to defend myself.

Unfulfilled plans

We use Past Perfect with report verbs and with hope, intend, expect, etc. to talk about plans that have not yet been fulfilled. Had is usually stressed in speech with this use:

I had hoped to talk to him but he was too busy to listen.
I had thought of phoning him but decided against it.

2 FUTURE PERFECT

With by

We can often use Future Perfect with the preposition by or the phrase by the time meaning 'at some point before the time mentioned or indicated':

It's taking her so long to write that book that by the time she's finished it people will have forgotten the incident it's based on.

Predicting

We can also use will have done to say what we think has probably happened:

There's no point phoning: they'll have gone out.

- We can use should / ought to or may / might instead of will if there is some uncertainty about the prediction of present or future:

I should have finished making this cake by the time Sue comes home. (= I think I will have, but I'm not sure. See Unit 4, Section 3.2 for modal Perfects)

3 USES OF PERFECT INFINITIVES

We use Perfect infinitives:

- after link verbs like seem and appear to refer to a previous time period (an ordinary to-infinitive will usually refer to the present or future):
There seems to have been some sort of mistake.
- after phrases expressing emotions and feelings:
I'm sorry to have kept you waiting.
She was felt not to have met the standards required.

4 PERFECT -ING FORMS

When talking about results and time, we can use a Perfect -ing form to emphasise that one thing happens before another:

I didn't remember having met her before. Having finally grasped what I meant, he got down to work.

watch out!

Perfect passives can sometimes be confusing because we use both be (= passive) and have (= Perfect) as auxiliaries:

The refugees have been prevented from entering the country. This picture is thought to have been painted by a pupil of Rembrandt's.

? che

Which of the points in this Section do these examples illustrate?

- 'How did you become a teacher?' 'I'd intended to be an actor, but things didn't work out.' 1
- I turned on the computer, but before I had managed to log on there was a power cut. 2
- After he told me what he wanted, we talked about the plans for the next day. 2
- The exhibition will have finished by the time I get around to seeing it. 2
- They appear to have accepted most of your terms.

Practice

1 Match the beginnings (1–8) with a suitable ending (a–h).

Example: O + i

2 Correct any sentences that are unacceptable.

- a By the time he is 50, he will live in this country for half his life.
- b It's a surprise party and they won't know anything about it until they got here.
- c They're probably planning a quiet evening together; I know they won't have guessed what we're doing.
- d The other seventy guests should be arrived before Mikis and Maria.
- e By the time we ~~will~~ have finished, everybody will have eaten and drunk as much as they can.

3 Cross out and correct eight errors in this extract from a composition. A ninth error has already been corrected.

Dear Sir^e
I had ~~had~~ recently been on a two-week holiday with your company to the island of Thassos.

I am sorry to ~~have said~~ say that it was the worst holiday I've ever had. Over the years I went on many holidays to Greece, a country I have now come to know quite well. I think I can safely say that, until this year, all of those holidays were wonderful. For example I have once spent six weeks on Crete, which I had not visited before. I had loved that holiday so much that I returned every spring for the last four years.

This year, however, was different. I honestly consider this to had ~~had~~ been the worst holiday of my life. This is not the fault of Thassos: the fault lies entirely with your company whose inability to organise the simplest thing is quite unbelievable.

As both the outward and return flights have been delayed for several hours, there was nobody to meet us at the airport or transfer us to our hotel, and when we eventually did reach the hotel, we discovered it had been built over a mile from the beach. Reading your brochure carefully, we feel this was not what we have expected.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible to the sentence printed before it.

Example: Don't use that milk until you've finished this carton.

Make sure you've finished this carton before you use that milk.

- a I'm sure he will arrive before you get there.
By the time
- b I reckon the journey to Cornwall is over 200 miles.
By the time we get
- c After keying that report, could you perhaps check this order for me?
When that
- d I'm sure Helen will have got there before everyone else.
Helen is
- e We will fax you further details on receipt of your completed application form.

5 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: All the best things will have gone if we don't get to the sale soon.

- a I was really happy when they announced decided to get married.
- b She proceeded to fix the faulty wiring, having first been switched off.
- c It wasn't until he mentioned the conference that I met before.
- d By next Christmas we decorating the house.
- e He is planning completed all his coursework by next week.
- f It's six o'clock: I imagine they for the airport by now.
- g The suspect is believed fled the country.
- h After he had lost his glasses, he but to buy another pair.

SECTION 3

Continuous forms

1 USES OF PERFECT CONTINUOUS TENSES

Like other Perfect tenses, Perfect Continuous tenses focus on a past period that leads up to a later one. Perfect Continuous tenses, as with other Continuous tenses, show that an event continues and/or is temporary:

I've been meaning to tell you about it since the weekend. Next October I'll have been playing with this team for ten years. He'd been driving for hours and he needed a rest.

- We use Past or Present Perfect Continuous to talk about something that is incomplete, just finishing or about to change. The Past and Present Perfect Simple can suggest the action is finished:
*I'd been staring at the computer screen all evening when a solution suddenly struck me. I've been reading 'War and Peace' again. (= I may not have finished)
I've read War and Peace again. (= I've finished)*
- The Continuous can emphasise the action; the Simple focuses on the result:
What have you been doing? (= tell me about your activities) What have you done? (= tell me the result of your activities)
- The difference between choosing Continuous or Simple may only be a matter of emphasising that something is continuing and/or temporary:
I've been waiting here for over an hour.
(= emphasising that I still am)

2 USING PAST CONTINUOUS FOR PLANS

We can use Past Continuous to talk about plans in the past:

We were meeting at 8 o'clock and I was already late.

- We use was going to to talk about plans in the past that we still haven't carried out or that we no longer intend to carry out:
I was going to phone you but I forgot.
- We can use I was thinking... to introduce vague future plans:
I was thinking of going to London this weekend.

3 USING PAST CONTINUOUS FOR POLITE REQUESTS

We often use Past Continuous to introduce polite requests, suggestions or inquiries so that they become more an invitation to discuss the subject than a demand for a yes or no answer:

*I was thinking – would you mind swapping seats?
I was wondering if you wanted to go out this evening.
Were you looking for anything in particular?*

watch out!

Note we can't use I was thinking with whether or if:

- ✗ I was thinking whether you'd like to come round to my place for coffee?
- ✓ *I was thinking – would you like to come round to my place for coffee?
I was wondering whether you'd like to come round to my place for coffee?*

4 CONTINUOUS INFINITIVES

Verb and other structures that can be followed by a to-infinitive can also be followed by a Continuous infinitive to emphasise that something is still continuing or is temporary:

It's ridiculous for him to be driving in central Athens at his age.

Several cyclists are thought to have been taking drugs during the race.

5 PERFECT CONTINUOUS PASSIVE

The Perfect Continuous passive is very uncommon because it involves two forms of be:

The Botley Road has been being widened for the past six weeks.

? check

Match the example sentences (1–5) with the explanations (a–e) of the uses of the Continuous.

- 1 I was going to try to finish this this evening.
 - 2 I was wondering whether you'd thought of going to see that new film?
 - 3 He was blinking rapidly in the unaccustomed sunlight.
 - 4 I was thinking of meeting Suzette later.
 - 5 I've been thinking a lot recently about your idea.
- a repeated action
 - b plans you no longer have or are no longer sure about
 - c vague future plans
 - d polite suggestion
 - e emphasising the continuing activity

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the correct sentence, a or b.

Example: Which sentence would be said after one particular meal?

a I've eaten too much. ✓ b I've been eating too much.

- Which sentence refers to a temporary situation?
a That lamp sits on that table over there.
b You're sitting in my seat.
- Which activity is probably not completed?
a I've been writing this essay all evening.
b I've written to him asking for an appointment.
- Which is a gradual process?
a The increase in traffic noise is becoming a real nuisance.
b John becomes President of Oxford Rotary Club in July.
- Which would you say when you look out of the window early one morning?
a It's been raining. b It was raining.
- Which is a more certain plan?
a I was thinking of spending the weekend at my sister's.
b I'm planning to spend the weekend at my sister's.
- You saw a colleague waiting for a bus on your way to work. Which would you say to your other colleagues when you get to the office to explain why she was there?
a She might have gone to see her dentist.
b She might have been going to see her dentist.

3 Match the questions (1–8) with suitable answers (a–h).

- Why didn't you call?
 - When do you think they'll be here?
 - Why did they look so hot and sweaty?
 - Why couldn't we use the rooms?
 - Why are they so exhausted?
 - Why didn't the students respond?
 - Why were they apprehended?
 - What time are they setting off tomorrow?
- They could be arriving at any moment.
 - I think they'd been working out in the gym.
 - They must have been doing something wrong.
 - I was going to, but I clean forgot.
 - They weren't listening.
 - Well, they hope to have been driving for five hours by lunchtime.
 - They were being cleaned.
 - They've been working all day up in the attic.

4 Write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

Example: My original intention was to drive all the way. going
I was going to drive all the way.

- It occurred to me that you might like to come round this evening.
wondering
- Our arguments over politics go back years.
arguing
- My son has finally come to accept that there's no such thing as a free lunch.
dawning
- Who is the organiser of this event?
running
- I think he's at last beginning to agree with me.

2 Tick (✓) the most suitable underlined verb. Sometimes both may be possible. The first has been done for you.

I don't normally go to the cinema. Not because I don't like it but because it's just a habit I have never got into. However, on this occasion I decided (✓) / was deciding to go because my friends had been constantly going / had constantly gone ⁽¹⁾ on about this film all week and eventually wore me down. It starred / was starring ⁽²⁾ some ephemeral Hollywood actor whom I had vaguely heard of but couldn't put a face to. We got to the cinema early to find people were already waiting / already waited ⁽³⁾ outside which suggested that my friends weren't the only ones who thought it was worth seeing – although I could still think of several other things I would rather having been doing / do ⁽⁴⁾ at that moment.

In the end, the film turned out / was turning out ⁽⁵⁾ to be not half as bad as expected, though I would have preferred / would have been preferring ⁽⁶⁾ something with a bit more action. The plot centred on two men who were planning to carry out some immensely complicated robbery, though what they completely failed to realise / were completely failing to realise ⁽⁷⁾ was that all the time their plans were being closely monitored / were closely monitored ⁽⁸⁾ by the police. Somewhat unpredictably, however, they got away with it because they changed / were changing ⁽⁹⁾ their plans at the last minute. It was okay but I'm not thinking / I don't think ⁽¹⁰⁾ of going again.

SECTION 4

The future

1 WAYS OF REFERRING TO THE FUTURE

The following table summarises the different structures we use to talk about the future.

Form	Example	Meaning
will	I'll just go and get my coat.	= an immediate decision about what you are going to do will	You'll be sick if you eat more chocolate.	= a general prediction be going to	I'm going to stop in a minute.	= a personal intention be going to	Look out! We're going to hit the car in front.	= a prediction after looking at what is happening now
Present Continuous	We're going to the café. Won't you join us?	= fixed plans / arrangements
Present Simple	The coach leaves in ten minutes.	= an unalterable arrangement or fact will + Continuous	Don't phone too early because I'll be putting the baby to bed.	= an action that will be in progress some time in the future will + Continuous	We'll be working on this until the end of the year.	= an activity that will be happening during a period in the future will + Continuous	I'll give your letter to him – I'll be seeing him later.	= an action that will happen because it is regular or decided will + Perfect	We'll have driven over five hundred miles by the time we get there.	= an event that will be finished before a specified time in the future will + Perfect Continuous	We'll have been living here for ten years next May.	= a state of affairs in progress for a period up to a specified time in the future be + to-infinitive	He is to be given an award. You're to stay here until you've apologised.	= an official arrangement or order

- We use shall with I or we with the same meaning as will. However, it is becoming increasingly formal – its most common current use is in polite offers or to ask advice (see Unit 3, Section 1.1):
Shall I open the door for you? What shall we do now?

2 WILL IN TIME CLAUSES AND IF-CLAUSES

We omit will in time clauses after when, as soon as, until, before, etc:

I'm not going to speak to her until she's apologised.

However, with conditional clauses (after if, unless, providing, etc.) we can use will, but only:

- when we want emphasis and will makes an intention or promise stronger:
If you will insist on the best, then you must expect to pay more for it.
- in polite requests – will means 'be willing to':
If you'll hold these bags for me, I can open the door.

- We use would instead of will in reported speech and conditionals:
*They promised they would work on it all weekend.
Harry asked me if I would help him out.*

3 COMMON PHRASES

I'm (just) about to go out. (= in a very short time)
We were on the point of leaving when the bell rang.
We're due to meet in half an hour.

Match the examples with the meanings in the table.

- Are you going to the match tomorrow?
- Are you going to go out this evening or not?
- My driving licence expires in 2030.
- I've had enough. I'll finish this tomorrow.
- We'll be sending you more details in the post.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the most appropriate of the underlined words.

- a She looks very pale. I think she'll / she's going to faint.
- b I'll / I'm going to do that for you, if you like.
- c I'll be / I'm going to be a rocket scientist when I grow up.
- d 'Somebody's at the door.' 'I'll / I'm going to see who it is.'
- e I need to be home early today so I leave / am leaving at 4.00.
- f We'll be in plenty of time providing the traffic is not / will not be too bad.
- g She asked if I would / will be so kind as to give her a lift.
- h What sort of job do you think you will do / will be doing in a few years time?
- i By the time you get back, all the food will have gone / will go.
- j The two Prime Ministers are to / shall discuss the current economic crisis.

2 Fill each of the numbered gaps in this passage with one suitable word.

 'Remember that by the terms of the contract you are due (1) to leave before midday,' the voice said.

 'Yes. Yes, I know. I was (2) about to pack when you rang.'

 'Midday,' the voice repeated.

 'I know. As I said, I was on the (3) of leaving – packing, then leaving.'

 'That is (4) you want to pay for another week,' the voice continued.

 'No. No, I'll (5) out by twelve,' I stammered.

 'It does say very clearly on your door that all guests are (6) vacate their rooms by midday,' the voice went on, quite unnecessarily, I thought.

 'Look. I've told you,' I shouted, 'I'll have (7) before the clock strikes twelve! I'm (8) in less than fifteen minutes. The flies, ants and cockroaches will soon (9) partying in a punctually vacated apartment. Have no fear.'

 'Kindly remember that the new occupants (10) in at ...'

 'I know! Midday!' I screamed, and threw down the phone.

3 Fill each of the gaps in the following sentences with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: I was just about to have a cup of coffee when Sue called.

- a He was resigning when the news of his promotion came through.
- b Our builder told me he best to get the materials as soon as he could.
- c I think we'd better leave this restaurant as soon the bill.
- d If that little boy carries on like that, he accident before long.
- e By the time I qualify, I law for six years.
- f Our company is over by a multi-national.

4 A word is missing from most of the numbered pairs of lines in the passage. Mark the place with a line /, and write the missing word on the right. If a pair of lines does not need a word added, put a tick (✓). The first two have been done for you.

- Despite all the lessons we have learned from history, it is difficult to conceive what people are likely / be doing ✓

5 innovations will probably have out of date.
6 There's little doubt that many of our habitual, taken-for-granted
7 activities such as shopping and going to school will disappear by 8 the year 2100, largely due to the growth of electronic media. But what 9 we have little idea about is how this affects our personal relationships.
10 Or rather, not ours as this will be long after we left this earth. What 11 concerns us is how our great-great-grandchildren / be living.
12 Will people still be talking to each other face to face, or 13 only via computers? Will they still be able to find a friendly shoulder
14 to cry on when they're feeling low? In the long run, who knows?

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Stative verbs

1 NOT NORMALLY USED IN THE CONTINUOUS

Some verbs are not normally used in the Continuous. They describe states that stay the same rather than actions or events that change. The most common stative verb is be. Others include:

- emotional states (e.g. love, doubt, care), and senses (e.g. smell):
I only want to ask you a simple question.
Do you prefer to travel by bus or by train?
- mental processes (e.g. believe, feel, remember):
Do you realise / ~~Are you realising~~ what they're doing?
I suspect / ~~am suspecting~~ we're not making as much profit as we should. I understand / ~~am understanding~~ everything you're saying.
- verbs that describe a sense of permanence because they are not actions:
How many cars does / ~~is~~ your family own / ~~owning~~?
I think what we need / ~~are needing~~ for the trip depends / ~~is depending~~ on the weather. Who ~~is~~ / does this book belonging / belong to? This dress fits / ~~is fitting~~ me perfectly. What ~~is~~ / does that lorry containing / contain?
- We use can or could with see, hear, taste, smell, understand and remember to describe what is or was happening at the time:
That's strange: I couldn't smell anything burning when I went to bed last night.

1 Tick (✓) the verbs underlined below if they are stative.

- The summary included all the main points contained in the article.
- In my opinion she deserves all the criticism she gets.
- I prefer to use my old computer at home to the ones at work.

2 WHEN STATIVE VERBS CAN BE USED IN THE CONTINUOUS

We can use some stative verbs in the Continuous:

- when they have an active meaning:
I'm tasting this to see if there is enough salt.
She's being rather obstinate at the moment.
- when they emphasise change or development:
More schools will be including Shakespeare on their syllabuses.
- Sometimes using Simple or Continuous involves a change in meaning:
I'm thinking about going to see Hamlet. (= trying to reach a decision) I think Shakespeare's brilliant. (= my opinion)
I'm seeing her later. (= I have an appointment)
I see what you're on about. (= I understand)
- We use verbs that refer to physical feelings (e.g. hurt, ache, feel) in the Simple or Continuous with little or no difference of meaning:
My head aches / is aching. How are you feeling / do you feel now?

2 Tick (✓) if the verb forms in these sentences are acceptable:

- I think I'm now recognising the extent of the task – we have taken on.
- Shakespeare's plays are involving a relatively small number of female parts.

watch out!

A small group of verbs with meanings related to mental activity, e.g. admit, agree, deny, promise, etc., act like stative verbs. We don't use them in the Continuous except for emphasis:
Are you actually denying that you took my pen?

Practice

1 In the following pairs of sentences decide if one or both are acceptable. Tick (✓) those that are and put a cross (X) by those that are not.

Example: I'm owning over 200 CDs. X
I own over 200 CDs. ✓

- I'm not liking ice-cream.
 - I don't like ice-cream.
- The verdict depends on whether the jury believed the key witness.
 - The verdict is depending on whether the jury believed the key witness.

- 3 a I can see somebody moving in the trees over there.
b I keep seeing somebody moving in the trees over there.
- 4 a He is believing that aliens kidnapped his daughter.
b He believes that aliens kidnapped his daughter.
- 5 a She has a baby boy.
b She's having a baby boy.
- 6 a Are you still feeling sick?
b Do you still feel sick?
- 7 a I've been thinking about you for some time.
b I think about you all the time.
- 8 a This box is containing all the relevant documents.
b This box contains all the relevant documents.
- 9 a He's an idiot.
b He's being an idiot.
- 10 a Understanding how to use the computer is essential in this job.
b I understand how to use computers and so I can do this job.

2 Decide whether the underlined verbs are in the best tense. Tick (✓) those that are acceptable and correct those that are not.

Topic: Describe someone you like or dislike

I don't like to admit to disliking anyone, but I have to confess that there is one of my classmates who am particularly disliking (1). We have studied (2) together in the same class for the last few years and I begin (3) to feel that I have been having (4) enough. It's not that he is an unpleasant person, in fact in other circumstances I am feeling (5) sure that we would get on fine. It is just that when you have sat (6) next to someone for so long in such an artificial environment as a classroom, you find (7) that the smallest thing can start to get on your nerves. I thought (8) about this only the other day after the person in question – let us call him George, though that is not his real name – had been trying (9) to help me with an exercise in our text book. I was realising (10) immediately that he really wasn't knowing (11) what he talked (12) about. This was not a problem but what annoyed (13) me was the fact that he refused (14) to listen to my explanations. The exercise was consisting (15) of reading a text and answering questions on it and I am not thinking (16) that he had been reading (17) the text. I didn't know what to say. I was going to tell (18) him to stop being so stupid but that would have been sounding (19) rude. So in the end I just sat (20) and said nothing.

3 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence but using the word given. This word must not be altered in any way.

Example: I may go to work overseas.

thinking I'm thinking of going to work overseas.

- a I was wondering whether to ask Richard to help me out.
suppose
- b Reading between the lines, I think the honeymooners are enjoying themselves.
sounds
- c I can't possibly finish this work without your help.
depending
- d The new receptionist certainly has plenty of confidence.
lack
- e My young niece was always tired because she was found to be without enough iron.
lacking

4 Tick (✓) the word or phrase that best completes each sentence.

- 1 After so many years, it is great to see him ✓..... his ambitions.
a get b realise c possess d deserve
- 2 The review committee three practising lawyers and a retired businessman.
a consists b comprises c is made up d encloses
- 3 Don't worry: this is nothing that you.

a thoroughly b highly c extremely d desperately
- 7 I hope there won't be a repetition of these unfortunate events.
a deeply b strongly c sincerely d thoroughly
- 8 That voice sounds: I'm sure I know her.
a known b usual c familiar d remembered
- 9 He finally got the reward he so richly a owes b earns c deserves d justifies
- 10 What happens next entirely on you. 10
a depends b revolves c trusts d relies

SECTION 6

Collocation: an introduction

1 WHAT IS COLLOCATION?

Words that occur together frequently 'collocate'. Words that don't collocate never occur together. If we try, they sound unnatural and wrong:

- ✗ Time speeds / travels / rides / moves. (= they don't collocate)
- ✓ Time flies / goes by / wears on / passes. (= they collocate)
- There are no rules we can use to learn collocations. There is often no logical reason why some words are possible and others are not:
We can talk about an academic year. (but not ~~a studying year~~) Discussions can be productive or fruitful. (but not ~~proliffic~~)
- We learn a collocation by discovering it, learning it and using it – in the same way as other vocabulary.

2 FIXED COLLOCATIONS

In 'fixed' collocations, particular words occur together, and the combination has a special meaning. Other words are not possible and so we can learn these compounds and common phrases as a combination of words. We can also think of idiomatic expressions and dependent prepositions as types of collocation:

I had to go on a crash course to learn Spanish. The children arrived safe and sound. My boss usually arrives at 8 o'clock on the dot. I'll be back in a flash.

- We can sometimes choose between fixed collocations that mean the same thing:
She was back in a flash or: She was back (as) quick as a flash.
- Fixed collocations can be changed by using different grammatical forms or making additions:
You're in danger of pricing yourself out of the property market. I want you back here on the precise dot of eleven. Will they honour their election pledges?

1 Circle the only word that completes the fixed collocation in this sentence.

Please arrive in time for the meeting.
a fine b great c best d good

3 OPEN COLLOCATIONS

In 'open' collocations, we can choose from a limited set of words to combine with another word. We need a full understanding of the meanings of individual words, but there is often no logical reason why some words collocate and others don't:

We can talk about a fragile peace, or an uneasy peace. (but not ~~a tender peace, an unsteady peace or a weak peace~~)

- Sometimes choosing which collocation to use depends on the position of the word in the sentence:
We may agree unconditionally, but we don't normally unconditionally agree.

2 Circle any words we can combine with timing in this sentence:

The police arrived with timing just as the gang were leaving the bank.

a best b perfect c immaculate d total e exquisite

4 GRAMMATICAL FORMS

- adjective + noun: I remember my formative years.
- adverb + adjective: I'm hopelessly addicted to coffee.
- noun + noun: The government have just unveiled their policy review.
- verb + noun: We will honour our pledge to reduce unemployment.
- dependent preposition: Personally, I think they should be ashamed of themselves.
- part of a longer phrase: It's always interesting to delve into the past.

3 Circle the word which fills the gap.

- 1 People were moved by the photographs in the newspapers.
a genuinely b totally c earnestly d lovingly
- 2 Nothing you say will make a of difference to my decision.
a fragment b scrap c gram d grain
- 3 Paul is a real introvert in contrast his brother Andrew.
a with b by c to d against

- 8 Cooking good French food can be a very job.
- 9 They had a agreement to keep each other fully informed of developments.
- 10 In a of minutes the whole building had been razed to the ground.

3 In the following text, circle the underlined word that collocates with those around it.

For the past eight years or so, Lecturer in Zoology Tim Guilford and his colleagues have spent / used (1) a lot of time anxiously scrutinising / scanning (2) the horizon, stopwatch in hand, waiting for the return of a pigeon to the loft at the University Field Station in Wytham. The research is devoted / allocated (3) to understanding the clues that pigeons use to enable them to navigate around their home land / territory (4). The experiments involve releasing / discharging (5) pigeons from a variety of sites up to 35 kilometres away, and measuring how long it takes them to get home / go home (6) under different conditions. They are not studying the pigeon for what it's traditionally famed in / for (7), which is its navigation abilities from unfamiliar areas. Rather, it seems there is a huge space / gap (8) between what we know about birds and other large vertebrates migrating over very long distances, and what we know about how rats and birds get their bearings / positions (9) in small areas. It seems we do not know much about what most animals fill / pack (10) their time with – that is, finding their direction / way (11) around their familiar area in relation to each other and to home.

4 Underline the word or phrase that best completes each sentence.

- 1 The team won the championship four years

On the other hand, reformed hippie and university lecturer, David Stone, pointed out that it was his generation who had (16) Glastonbury on the map. There had (17) nothing like it before, and he failed to see why they could not follow through what they had (18) in the late seventies. The Festival's future and its ethos seem uncertain. OVERVIEW

1 FORM OF THE PASSIVE

We form the passive using be in an appropriate tense or form + the past participle of a transitive verb:

A small sum of money was stolen from the cash box.

They ought to have been punished more severely.

Having been beaten in the semi-final, she flew home the next day.

- In spoken English, we sometimes use get instead of be in the passive:
They got told off for making so much noise.
- However, get + -ed is more common with an active meaning similar to 'become' in phrases like get dressed, get married, etc. (See Section 3.2).

2 REASONS FOR USING THE PASSIVE

In English, the topic or subject matter is commonly at the beginning of the sentence, and new information about the subject is normally at the end. In an active sentence, the 'agent' (the person or thing that performs the action) usually comes first and is the subject of the sentence:

Subject (Agent)	Action	Result
Olympiakos	scored	the first goal.

This active sentence is principally about Olympiakos.

- In the passive, the result or thing affected by the action comes first and is the subject of the sentence:

Subject (Result)	Action	Agent
The first goal	was scored	by Olympiakos.

This passive sentence is principally about the goal.

We choose between active and passive because of the topic we are talking about, especially when reporting information. An English newspaper, assuming its readers are interested in the England football team, makes the England team the topic. It is likely to report:

England have been beaten by Germany in a penalty shoot-out.

A German newspaper, more interested in their own national team, is likely to report:

Germany has beaten England in a penalty shoot-out.

Other reasons for using the passive include:

- the agent is unknown or obvious (see also Section 1):
I was born in 1982.
Coffee will be made available after the meal.
- the agent is 'people or things in general':
Some verbs cannot be used in the Continuous.
- the agent is a long phrase:
Helen was surprised by all the messages of sympathy that she received.
- avoiding references to ourselves and making a statement impersonal:
We can't possibly complete this work overnight.
becomes: This work can't possibly be completed overnight. (= the work is the problem, not us)
- avoiding 'you' in orders and rules:
You must give in your application before the end of the week. becomes: All applications must be given in before the end of the week.
- in factual writing when the focus is usually on events, achievements, etc. rather than agents:
Vaccination had been pioneered two hundred years earlier.

watch out!

- Not all be + -ed forms are passive. They may be adjectives:
I was worried we would be late because of the traffic.
- We avoid passive constructions with be being or been being, although they sometimes occur in spoken English:
Avoid: The road will have been being repaired for months.
✓ They will have been repairing the road for months. or: The road will have been under repair for months.

SECTION I

Agents and objects with the passive

1 THE AGENT

Not mentioning the agent

In most passive sentences we have no interest in who or what performs the action. We are interested in the action itself, who or what is affected by the action, or what is the result of it (see Overview). In fact, only about 20% of passive sentences mention the agent:

That window has been broken again!

Mentioning the agent

We mention the agent when we think the information is important, especially if we want to say more about it, for example with a relative clause:

I remember being taken to the fair by my father, who rarely showed any interest in such things.

The survivors were picked out of the water by a cruise liner which had heard their distress call.

- The agent is usually introduced with by (See Section 6.3 for prepositions after passives).

2 VERBS WITH TWO OBJECTS

Verbs that have two objects (usually a person and a thing) in the active usually have two passive forms because either of the objects can become the new subject:

They gave the award to an unknown actress.
(= active)

The award was given to an unknown actress.*
(= passive)

An unknown actress was given the award.*
(= passive)

- We usually add a preposition before the personal object. The preposition is usually to, but we sometimes use for:
A note was handed to the minister.
A slice of cake was cut for him.
- However, some verbs, e.g. allow, ask, cause, forgive, deny, don't normally take a preposition before the personal object:
Permission was refused him.

3 VERBS WITH LIMITED USE IN THE PASSIVE

We can't use some verbs as freely in the passive as others.

- We can't use intransitive verbs in the passive because they don't have an object that can be changed into the subject:
~~✗ The Tasmanian tiger was died out early this century.~~
✓ The Tasmanian tiger died out early this century.
- Some verbs, e.g. suggest and explain, can't change the indirect object to subject:
~~✗ He was explained the procedure.~~
~~✗ We were suggested a new time.~~
✓ The procedure was explained to him.
A new time was suggested for us.
- Some verb phrases with two objects can't be passive at all:
I bear him no ill will.
The book earned him a fortune.
Let me wish you luck.
- Some verbs are followed by two nouns, but the second is not really an object. We can see this if it is replaced by an adjective:
They declared him President.
He was declared President.
The doctor declared him dead.
He was declared dead.

? check

Correct the following sentences.

- Man and wife they were pronounced.
- I was explained what I had to do.
- His previous misdemeanours were forgiven to him.
- He ~~was~~ earned a lot of money from his betting.
- We were suggested a good restaurant for lunch.

Practice

1 Fill each of the gaps in the following sentences with one of the passive verb phrases below.

is deemed could soon be fitted were charged has been held has finally been elected is expected being caused to be printed is auctioned being considered

- High-tech 'leg-irons' on violent suspects arrested by the police, under plans by chief constables.
- Last week, police in Scotland called for the introduction of leg-restraints following concerns about the number of injuries during struggles in the back of police cars and vans.
- Four people last night with public disorder offences after officers mounted dawn raids on suspected football hooligans.
- Hugh Hefner, founder of 'Playboy', to the American Society of Magazine Editors' Hall of Fame.
- A first edition copy of Chaucer's 'Canterbury Tales', the first book in England, to raise at least £500,000 when it in July.
- A British woman released early from an attempted murder sentence in the United States – a charge which she has always denied – in prison because she an illegal immigrant.

2 Add the appropriate extra information (a–e) to the passive sentences (1–5).

- The news was leaked to the press by the minister ...
- The minister was attacked by protesters, ...
- I remember being sent a letter by a man in America ...
- The winning goal was scored by Fausto Ferrini ...
- A man was run over by a car, ...
 - in his first appearance for the club.
 - who had waited outside the building all day to voice their opposition to the policies.
 - in a deliberate attempt to boost his popularity.
 - who complained my article was prejudiced against his country.
 - which witnesses said was being driven at very high speed.

3 Where possible, rewrite each of the following sentences in two different ways, using a different subject each time. Some sentences may be rewritten only one way.

- The police showed the victim a picture of the suspect.
- People used to sell the tourists fake antiques.
- Why didn't they offer the customers a refund?
- They didn't guarantee every participant a free lunch.
- They reported the incident to the police.
- People suggested to us that the Internet would be a good source of information.
- They promised us full compensation if the scheme fell through.
- The referee declared the boxing match a draw.
- We'll give the new members of staff all the help they need.
- The incident earned him the reputation of being unreliable.

4 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the following passage with one suitable word.

Twenty-four hours after arriving in the country, I (1) told to leave. The security police, the country's largest employer, came to my hotel, politely asked me what I thought of the city and then recommended that I leave on the morning plane. I asked them why I was (2) expelled and they said it was not a question of my being ' (3) out', they were simply recommending that I leave. I refused and the problems started. My passport and plane ticket (4) stolen from my room after my key 'disappeared'. The police shrugged their shoulders and decided not to interview the leather-jacketed youth who I (5) been pressed up against in the lift. For three days I was (6) by two not very secret policemen everywhere I went. I visited a fellow-journalist whose address I had (7) given. He lived in a beautiful old house which would (8) demolished the following year by the government to make way for a block of 'modern' flats. Everybody would be (9) in it as soon as it was ready but where they would live in the meantime had not been (10) out. Massive taxation was (11) imposed on the people to pay for these supposed improvements. I went back to the hotel, still (12) followed by the two policemen, and felt very depressed.

SECTION 2

Infinitives and -ing form passives

1 INFINITIVES AFTER CERTAIN VERBS

Make, see, hear, and help have different patterns in the active and the passive. In the active, the verb is followed by object + infinitive without to. In the passive, we use a to-infinitive:

Active	Passive
I heard him shout at his brother.	He was heard to shout at his brother.
They've made him promise not to come before six.	He's been made to promise not to come before six.

watch out!

Let v. allow

We can't use let in the passive when it is followed by a verb phrase. We use allow:

My parents let me do what I wanted. (= active)

~~X I was let to do what I wanted.~~

✓ I was allowed to do what I wanted.

- But we can use let in the passive in phrases like:
The dog was let loose. I was badly let down.

2 PASSIVE INFINITIVES

We form the passive infinitive of verbs by putting to be (sometimes to get) in front of the past participle:

Active	Passive
There's so much to do.	There's so much to be done.
I've got to write this essay before Friday.	This essay has got to be written before Friday.
If I'm going to do it by then, I'd better get a move on.	If it's going to be done by then, I'd better get a move on.

- We use Perfect passive infinitives to emphasise that something is or isn't completed (See also Unit 1, Section 2 Watch out!):
My new car was to have been delivered today but there was a problem with the paintwork.

Active or passive infinitive?

- If the subject is the agent, the sentence is active and we use an active infinitive:
I've got so many library books to return.

- If the subject is not the agent, we use a passive infinitive:
All systems are to be checked as soon as possible.
- We can use some active and passive infinitives with the same meaning, especially after There:
There are so many rooms to paint / to be painted.
- But, with something, anything and nothing + to do there can be a change in meaning:
There's nothing to do in the evenings. (= we're bored)
I'm sorry, there's nothing to be done. (= there's no action anyone can take)

3 REPORT VERBS

We often use report verbs, e.g. claim, mention, request, point out, with impersonal passive constructions.

There are three main patterns:

- It's thought by the press that the chairman earns too much. The chairman is thought by the press to earn too much. There are thought to be disagreements among senior ministers.
- We often introduce a statement with They say, think, believe, etc. or It is said... / One knows..., etc. meaning 'People generally think, believe, etc. ...':
It's thought that carrots improve eyesight. (= Carrots are believed to improve eyesight.)

4 PASSIVE -ING FORMS

We use passive -ing forms (being + -ed) and Perfect passive -ing forms (having been + -ed):

- after verbs that are normally followed by -ing forms (see Unit 15):
I love being given flowers. She recalled having been taken there when she was young.
- as participles, usually with the meaning of 'because' (see Unit 6, Section 1):
Being paid monthly, I find annual bills hard to pay. Having been stung by bees, she has no love of insects.
- as the subject of a sentence:
Being proved wrong is never a comfortable experience.

? check

Underline the passives in these sentences.

- 1 They are believed to have left the country.
- 2 She is thought to have been smuggled out of the country in the back of a lorry.
- 3 They were seen to leave the room together.
- 4 He is said to be recovering well.
- 5 The whole place was cleaned until there was not a speck of dust to be seen anywhere.

Practice

1 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word.

Example: New measures to combat crime are to be introduced at the end of the year.

- a We strongly advised reconsider our position.
- b He is known hidden large sums of money in his orchard.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible to the sentence before it.

Example: He didn't remember that he had been ordered to appear before the judge.
 He had no recollection of being ordered to appear before the judge.

- a She vaguely remembers that she was knocked down by a motorbike.
She has vague memories of
- b It's never very nice when people laugh at you.
Being
- c Stewart was criticised for his extravagance and was more careful after that.
Having
- d I really wish I hadn't been pushed into giving a speech.
I really regret
- e Because I was told it was quicker, I naturally took the mountain road.
Having
- f I can't tell you what it feels like because nobody's ever given me £100,000.
Never

SECTION 3

Structures with get and have

1 CAUSATIVES

We can use get and have in both active and passive patterns.

- The active pattern, meaning 'cause or order someone to do something', is get + person + to-infinitive, or have + person + infinitive without to:
I'll get the waiter to bring you the menu.
I'll have the waiter bring you the menu.

Note that have is much more common in American English; get is common in spoken British English.

- The passive pattern, meaning 'arrange for somebody else to do something', is get / have + object + past participle:
I'll have / get the menu brought to you.
I had to get / have my jacket cleaned after the party.
I must go and get / have my photo taken for my new passport.
I'll get / have those copies made for you immediately.
She's getting / having her teeth fixed.

2 GET + -ED: ACTIVE AND PASSIVE

We can sometimes use get instead of be in the passive. This is usually informal:

They got punished by the Principal for making so much noise.

Lucky Paul got promoted / elected / chosen / appointed yesterday.

Poor Vassili – his dog got run over last night.

- Get* meaning 'become' is also common with a particular small group of past participles:
get dressed get married get used to get stuck get lost get caught get burned get involved
- The meaning of these phrases can be active:
I got dressed as quickly as I could.
- We can use some of these active phrases with an object:
I have to get the children dressed early every morning.
Don't get your family involved in the business.

3 THINGS THAT HAPPEN TO YOU

We use have + object + past participle to describe things that happen to us, often misfortunes. The subject is the person who experiences what happened:

I've had my car stolen. (Compare: My car was stolen.)

He's had his application for citizenship turned down. (Compare: His application for citizenship has been turned down.)

My mother's had her letter published in The Times. (Compare: My mother's letter has been published in The Times.)

- In spoken English we can sometimes use get instead of have:
She's got another letter published in The Times.
- Note that sometimes only the context will identify precise meaning. Consider:
They had their fence pulled down. (= either: they employed somebody to pull it down (causative); or it was pulled down without their planning it, e.g. by vandals.)

? check

Which of these sentences are causatives?

- He tried to escape but got caught.
- They were aiming to walk the entire route but got tired in the end.
- I need to get my hair cut. ✓
- I'm going to have my portrait painted. ✓
- I had my car broken into last week.

Practice

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage below with a form of have or be.

It was last May, while we were taking our annual late-spring break on Lindos that we (1) our house broken into. All our TV and video equipment (2) stolen, but what was worse was when we discovered that the final draft of my husband's latest novel (3) (4) torn into pieces and the disks he (5) (6) writing it on (7) disappeared. Of course, you hear about people who (8) (9) their properties vandalised and others whose most prized possessions (10) (11) taken, but it's a terrible shock when it happens to you, when you know that your home (12) (13) invaded, and that you (14) (15) your most intimate belongings handled and examined by strangers.

2 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence before it.

Example: Hasn't that film been developed yet?

Haven't you had the film developed yet?

- Can it be true that you're really going to deliver my sofa today?
Can it be true that I'm
- One of the others agreed to post my letters for me.
I got
- My dentist is supposed to be capping my two front teeth this morning.
I'm
- My car really needs servicing.
I really
- Why did you let them go without signing the receipt?
Why didn't you

3 Fill the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: His arm is in a sling after he got it stamped on.

- I keep getting headaches so I'm going tested.
- It's unpleasant for children when they names by other children.
- I've just taken for my new passport.
- My handbag was completely flattened after it on in the bus.
- My husband's been to the hairdresser: I really wish he so short.
- I know you don't approve of my new hair colour but you'll just to it.

4 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given. The words must not be altered in any way.

Example: Computing is just something you take for granted after a while. get Computing is just something you get used to after a while.

- The whole of my sister's class spent last weekend redecorating her flat.
had
- We couldn't find our way out of the woods.
got
- Do you think there's any chance of this new party winning the election?
get
- I can't say I enjoy the teacher reading out my work in front of the class.
having
- It's quite simple for a locksmith to copy one or more of your keys.
copied

5 Rearrange the words to make coherent sentences inside the first and last words given.

Example: film to has just be

That seen.

That film just has to be seen.

- your ever your house belongings into any and had broken of you Have stolen?
- fingerprints police your on you never had files have can put you Once relax.
- something get got have done just about this to You office.
- your I not passport help would got have my for But stamped.
- us organised get at can the everything of all same All time.
- care any take to must such involved dangerous in family your not get You situations.
- arrested taxed if will get you car be almost and certainly don't your You insured.
- interest government seems to never to brought get under able rates be
The control.

SECTION 4

Not using the passive: transitive to intransitive

1 CHANGING THE SUBJECT WITHOUT USING THE PASSIVE

With some transitive verbs we can change the subject of a sentence without using the passive. We don't mention or even imply an agent. Verbs that allow us to change the subject to 'the thing affected by the action' without using the passive are called 'ergative' verbs. By changing the subject of the sentence in this way, the active transitive verb becomes intransitive:

The dog opened the door. (= active) The door was opened by the dog. (= passive) The door opened. (ergative – as if the door opened by itself)

- Here are more examples of ergative verbs:
The whistle blew. That jumper does up at the neck.
The car crashed into a post. The soup thickened.

2 MEANINGS OF THESE VERBS

Describing change

Most verbs that we can use in this way describe change of some kind:

Transitive	Non-passive intransitive
This book will change your life.	His life changed completely when he moved to Denmark.
The sun had dried their clothes by the time they got home.	Their clothes had dried by the time they got home.
She broke her pencil because she was pressing too hard.	Her pencil broke because she was pressing too hard.

- Other examples include:
begin vary decrease expand increase open close finish fade stretch crack smash

watch out!

We can't use all verbs describing change in this way. For example, destroy and demolish must stay transitive:

- ✗ The old building demolished.
- ✓ They demolished the old building. The old building was demolished.

Describing movement

Other verbs that we can use in this way describe movement of some kind:

Transitive	Non-passive intransitive
He reversed the car into the garage.	A car reversed round the corner.
The pilot landed the plane on only one engine.	The plane landed on time.
He moved his chair closer to hers.	That new restaurant has moved.

- Other examples include:
turn stop fill shake spin sail tip shift bounce

Cooking

Another group of verbs that we can use in this way relate to cooking:

Transitive	Non-passive intransitive
Dissolve the mixture in a little water.	Stir until the sugar has dissolved.
Simmer the stock for an hour.	After the stock has simmered for an hour, add seasoning.

- Other examples include:
bake boil cook fry melt toast thicken burn heat up cool down warm brown freeze thaw

3 OTHER EXAMPLES OF ERGATIVE VERBS

She photographs very well. (= she is photogenic)
Her voice records well. (= her voice sounds good on tape)
Will this stain wash out? (= Will the stain disappear with washing?)
Your composition reads well. (= your style is very good)
Black jeans are selling well. (= many people are buying them)
This skirt creases so easily. (= the skirt becomes creased very quickly)

? check

Which of the following sentences are incorrect?

- The light has destroyed the photograph.
- Raise your hand if you know the answer.
- The photograph destroyed because of the light.
- The photograph was destroyed in the fire.
- The treasure was raised to the surface.
- The hot air balloon raised quickly into the sky.

Practice

1 In the following pairs of sentences, a, b or both are correct. Put a cross (X) next to every sentence that is incorrect. Write the correction.

Example: a Drop a line when you get there.

b He was upset to discover he dropped from the team. (X) (had been / was dropped)

- 1 a The Titanic was sunk by an iceberg.
b The boat sank without trace.
- 2 a This shirt dries extremely quickly.
b Her hair soon dried by the wind.
- 3 a The hole soon filled with water.

- 4 a The western shore washed by warm currents.
b Fertile soil washes down into the valleys.
- 5 a My dress ripped when it caught in the car door.
b His newspaper had been ripped into shreds.
- 6 a The sacked workers compensated for the loss of earnings.
b He was compensated for his injuries.
- 7 a My chair tipped backwards until it fell over.
b All the left-overs were tipped into a bin liner.
- 8 a Inflation was increased over the last six months.
b My salary was increased by just over 5%.
- 9 a They've expanded production facilities at the old factory.
b Metal is expanded when heated.
- 10 a The white Mercedes turned into the car park.
b The sign had been turned to face the opposite direction.

2 Rewrite each of the following sentences changing the object to subject without using the passive. Add any prepositional phrases necessary.

Example: The sun has melted the chocolate.

The chocolate has melted in the sun.

- a The DJ dimmed the lights during the last dance.
- b Darren improved his performance in the 100 metres by a tenth of a second.
- c An iceberg sank the Titanic in 1911.
- d Tears filled his eyes.
- e The committee gradually developed the plan.

3 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

Example: The first act of your play is very well written. reads

The first act of your play reads very well.

- a Initially, I think you develop the plot very convincingly.
unfolds
- b You step up the tension in the third scene.
increases
- c But then everything seems different.
change
- d You put in melodrama instead of real drama, don't you?
replaces
- e Why do you close the first act with only a vague suspicion of murder in the air?
does
- f Why don't you open the second act with the actual killing?
doesn't
- g And why does the third act end on such an anticlimax?
do
- h It's difficult to see tickets being bought for a play like this.
selling

4 Fill each of the gaps in these extracts from a report with an appropriate word from the list.

Example: The amount we can spend on technical equipment has fortunately increased.

grown expanded fallen contracted widened intensified folded changed dried (increased)

- a It's sad that the number of students considering a career in teaching has off a lot.
- b Consequently, the teacher training faculty has by about 25%.
- c Attitudes towards the teaching profession have considerably.
- d However, in other departments options have greatly.
- e Inevitably some departments have completely.
- f Interest in Latin, for example, has up.
- g And competition with other colleges has, it must be admitted,
- h But, the curriculum has into new areas such as media studies.
- i Interest in computer studies has beyond all expectations.

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Verbs we commonly use in the passive

1 VERBS WITHOUT AN AGENT

We use some verbs more often in the passive than in the active because the agent is either unknown or obvious, or not important to what we want to say:

I was born in Italy.

My neighbour's been arrested!

She was fined £100 for driving without insurance.

Stockholm has been dubbed the Venice of the North.

A reminder will be sent by post.

The stadium was built in 1983.

1 Add one of these passive verbs to the sentences below. Make any necessary changes.

be deemed be earmarked be baffled be jailed be strewn

- Their work to be of the highest standard.
- The murderer should for life.
- The floor had with newspapers and old magazines.
- I completely and had no idea what had happened.
- The building has for demolition.

2 ADJECTIVE OR PASSIVE?

Some verbs are so commonly used in the passive, without mentioning an agent, that they work in a similar way to -ed adjectives (see Overview, Watch out!):

I heard the news and was horrified.

Tuscan truffles are particularly prized for their pungent aroma.

I'm gutted! (slang = I'm very upset)

3 PREPOSITIONS

Some common passive verbs collocate with particular prepositions. Here are some examples:

The threat was couched in the vaguest possible terms.

We've been conditioned into accepting TV as essential.

The athlete was acclaimed as a national hero.

The old man has been indicted as a war criminal.

I don't think any of these remarks could be construed as positive.

I've been swamped with requests to do concerts all over Europe.

2 Add a suitable preposition to these sentences.

- The factory is scheduled demolition next year.
- The little boy was eventually reunited his parents.
- These three chapters could be subsumed a new heading.
- I've been shortlisted the Noble Prize for Literature!

4 NO PREPOSITION

Some common passive verbs, e.g. be called, be named, be deemed, be dubbed, are not commonly followed by a preposition:

All his efforts were deemed a complete waste of public resources.

I've been called many things in my life but never 'inspired'.

5 PHRASAL VERBS

We also commonly use particular phrasal verbs in the passive:

This coat was handed down to me by my older brother.

I was so caught up in my book that I failed to realise the time.

The get-out clause was written into their contract.

Practice

1 Match the beginnings of the sentences (1–10) with a suitable ending (a–j).

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 The condemned man was relieved | a for complaining to the referee. |
| 2 I was completely mesmerised | b by experienced machine operators. |
| 3 The old man was paralysed | c as aggressive. |
| 4 Both players were penalised | d at the last moment. |
| 5 I've been swamped | e for next Friday. |
| 6 The meeting has been scheduled | f by his performance. |
| 7 Ioannis was somewhat disconcerted | g by the lack of response. |
| 8 His behaviour was in danger of being construed | h with offers of help. |
| 9 She was hospitalised | i down one side after the stroke. |
| 10 The factory is staffed | j for three months after the accident. |

2 Fill each of the gaps with the most appropriate word from the list.

haunted touched locked earmarked buffeted possessed hounded blessed doomed destined handicapped dogged

Jack, he's so unlucky: (1) by misfortune, (2) by fate at every turn and (3) by memories of the past, (4) in a battle with his family, (5) by the police and severely (6) by facial features straight out of a horror movie, he's (7) to failure.

Jill is so different: (8) with an ability to get on with everyone, (9) with genius, already (10) by her company for a top job and (11) to be a success in whatever she does, she's (12) of just about every quality Jack lacks.

3 Fill each of the gaps in the following sentences with an appropriate verb from the list. The verbs should be used in the passive.

overcome deemed inundated dwarfed dubbed shrouded scheduled baffled strewn short-listed

- The ex-champion by heat exhaustion in the final and was unable to finish the match.
- How the intelligence services work in secrecy.
- Since the film came out, I with requests for my autograph.
- His house in the foothills by the surrounding mountains.
- Their new CD for release next January.
- All the doctors we saw by the reason for her illness.
- I'm afraid your recent work totally inadequate for the task.
- Believe it or not, last month a news reader the sexiest man on television.
- Many people think a nineteen-year-old's first novel should for last year's National Literature prize.
- When the police arrived, the victim's clothes all over the room.

4 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given. This word must not be altered in any way.

- Since the advertisement, we've had more applications than we can deal with.

SECTION 6

Phrasal verbs; verb + preposition

1 PHRASAL VERB, OR VERB + PREPOSITION?

Phrasal verbs are verbs which are always followed by an adverb, e.g. cloud over, a preposition, e.g. come across sth / sb, or an adverb and a preposition, e.g. creep up on sth / sb. The meaning of a phrasal verb is sometimes obvious from the meanings of its parts, e.g. fall down. But the meaning is often more idiomatic and so less obvious, e.g. put up with sb / sth. Phrasal verbs can be either transitive or intransitive:

When you get to the next crossroads, turn off.

Would you turn off the radio, please.

- A preposition can sometimes follow a verb which is not a phrasal verb. The preposition is part of a prepositional phrase:
Who lives across the road?
- Some prepositions commonly follow certain verbs because of meanings and collocation:
This broken plate will have to be paid for.
What are you looking at?

1 Which of these two sentences contains a phrasal verb?

- The marathon runners ran over the bridge towards the finish line.
- My friend's cat was run over by an ambulance.

2 POSITION OF OBJECT

- When a phrasal verb is transitive, we can place a noun object before or after the adverb:
Please turn the radio off. Please turn off the radio.
- When the object is a pronoun, it is always placed before the adverb:
Please turn it off.
- With a verb + preposition, the preposition is placed before its object. We can't put the object between a verb and a preposition:
I've come into money.
I came into it when my father died.
- Verbs + adverb + preposition behave in the same way as verbs + preposition:
You'll have to put up with them for a little longer.

2 Which of these sentences contains a phrasal verb?

- I think somebody has been gnawing at this biscuit.
- If you don't mind, we need to think this over.

3 PREPOSITIONS AFTER PASSIVES

Note that many prepositions can follow passive verbs. However, the most common are by (used to mention the agent), with (used to mention how something is done or what it is done with) and in:

They're being cared for by a neighbour.

It was prepared with great patience.

Man was first discovered in East Africa.

- We use other prepositions when the meaning or verb + preposition collocation requires them:
Money has been contributed towards the costs.

3 Choose the preposition which best completes this sentence.

Any gain must be balanced any potential loss.

a towards b to c against d for

- Some prepositions of movement make passive transformations difficult. In these cases, we use other verbs:
They all ran laughing into the room.
~~✗ The room was run into.~~
✓ The room was soon filled with people laughing.

Practice

1 Choose the preposition that best completes each sentence.

- My attention was drawn the picture on the far wall.

a to b for c into d with
- The white Audi was eliminated police enquiries at an early stage.
a with b from c of d for

- 9 A whole host of criticisms have been levelled the committee.
a against b towards c by d for
- 10 The final cost has been estimated anything between four and five million dollars.
a against b to c at d in

2 Fill each of the gaps with a suitable passive verb in such a way that the new sentence is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence above it.

- a They moved towards the piazza from all sides.
The piazza from all sides.
- b The two sides came to an agreement after hours of negotiation.
Agreement after hours of negotiation.
- c The men poured concrete into the hole until it was full.
The hole with concrete.
- d People came into the room through a sort of tunnel.
The room through a sort of tunnel.
- e Everyone got out of the stadium as the fire spread.
The stadium as the fire spread.

3 Underline the word that best fits the sentence.

- 1 Do you think he could be upon to make a speech after the presentation?
a prevailed b impelled c urged d pressured
- 2 I'm afraid a penalty clause has been written your contract.
a out of b into c down d away for
- 3 I was completely over by their warm reception.
a pushed b run c bowled d thrown
- 4 I think the implications have been rather quickly over.
a painted b removed c sprayed d glossed
- 5 A number of very interesting proposals have been put a across b down c forward d through

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible to the sentence before it.

- a The sports centre presents a certificate of attendance to every student when they leave.
All
- b I don't think they should have pressure put on them to make a decision.
I don't think they should be

- c The price is exclusive of airport taxes.

Exam practice 2

1 Circle a letter A, B, C or D that best fills each numbered gap.

A popular character in the nation's top television soap is (1) for something of which she was probably innocent. Having been (2) guilty of a series of fraudulent acts, she contemplates months of incarceration. A good story-line, but wait! Within hours the television station is being (3) with calls of protest. A national newspaper soon (4) up a campaign to have her freed. Thousands of T-shirts are printed with slogans (5) for her release. Offices and factory floors (6) to the sounds of animated debate. It is even mentioned in Parliament. It's easy to (7) off such idiocies as 'a bit of fun', but there's surely a more serious side. A fair proportion of viewers were obviously (8) in by the story to such an extent that their perception of fact and fiction was clearly (9). Everywhere, millions will (10) over their 7-day TV guide to get a preview of the week's soaps. If a character is (11) to be past his or her sell-by date, and the decision has been taken to (12) him or her out, possibly to have them (13) off in spectacular fashion, viewing figures are likely to soar by up to 25%. A life-threatening fire can be (14) upon to add millions to the ratings. A major wedding can find half of Britain sitting (15) to the screen! It's all very strange.

- 1 A jailed B prisoned C sentenced D charged
- 2 A arrested B called C found D discovered
- 3 A bombed B attacked C streamed D inundated
- 4 A opens B starts C puts D establishes
- 5 A demanding B calling C insisting D sounding
- 6 A echo B ring C fill D deafen
- 7 A laugh B smile C take D put
- 8 A thrown B carried C indulged D taken
- 9 A blurred B hampered C tampered D glossed
- 10 A flick B go C pore D sit
- 11 A decided B resolved C deemed D suspected
- 12 A write B cast C sort D work
- 13 A ridden B taken C driven D killed
- 14 A leaned B construed C relied D improved
- 15 A swamped B stuck C paralysed D glued

SCORE _____

2 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

After living (1) the threat of extinction for more than 30 years, the national bird of the United States has (2) granted an official reprieve, as the bald eagle and twenty-eight other animal and plant species have been earmarked (3) removal from America's list of endangered species. The bald eagle, also (4) as the white-headed sea eagle, took pride of place at the top of a list of species likely to (5) taken off the endangered register in the coming years. The proposed 'delistings' are (6) promoted (7) the US interior secretary to counter a growing feeling among Republicans that endangered-species laws do not work. Charges of ineffectiveness have been (8) against these laws before, but more recently it has (9) been suggested that the situation may actually have been (10) worse by them. The recovery of the bald eagle follows thirty-one years on the critical list. Its numbers had been (11) to fewer than five hundred (12) the use of pesticides that reacted adversely (13) its reproductive system. The number of nesting pairs is now estimated (14) five thousand. The interior secretary claims that the new list was a vindication of the legislation under which the eagle, a national symbol (15) originally from the Indians, and more than a thousand other species (16) protected. (A spokesperson denied that it was simply a publicity stunt timed to coincide (17) the swearing (18) of the president for his second term.) Until now, few species have (19) been removed from the list. When they (20), it was usually because they had become extinct.

OVERVIEW

1 THE BASICS

The ten modal auxiliaries are:

can may must will should could might ought to shall would

- Modals come before the infinitive form of a verb without to (except ought to):
I may meet her tomorrow. (see Watch out! opposite)
- Modals never change form. They do not have -ed, -s, or -ing endings:
Maria may join us.
- Modals never use do when forming questions or negatives. To form negatives we use not after the modal and before the verb:
Will you come?
You mustn't worry so much.
- We can use modals with the Continuous form of a verb:
She should be arriving soon.
- We can use modals with the passive form of a verb:
The interview can be arranged for another day.
- Modals are used in short answers and question tags:
You will apply for the job, won't you? Well, I might.
- Modals usually refer to events in the present or future:
I can come immediately, if you like. (= present)
I may ring you later. (= future)
- However, some modals refer to the past:
I could read before I went to school.
- Other modals need the addition of have to make a modal Perfect:
I should have realised earlier.
- Sometimes it's necessary to choose another verb:
I was able to finish before I went out.
We managed to find the right address.
- We use other verbs with similar meanings to modals. These verbs always use to. They include be able to, have to, used to, are / is / was to, be allowed to, be supposed to, manage to:
I'm supposed to have let them know my decision by today.
Will we be allowed to bring our own food?

(For key difficulties with meaning, see the Watch out!, Unit 4, p.63.)

watch out!

Ought to always uses to. Other modals never use to:

- ✗ You oughtn't speak to your mother like that.
You must to go and see that film.
- ✓ You oughtn't to speak to your mother like that.
You must go and see that film.
- Dare and need sometimes act like modals without to:
I dare say. I never need see her again.
- More often, they are ordinary verbs with to:
He dared me to jump over the edge. Do you need to know now?
(For more on dare and need, see Unit 15, Section 2.5)

2 MAIN USES OF MODALS 1

Here is a list of uses dealt with in this Unit with examples. For other uses, see Unit 4, Overview.

Predicting See Section 1

I shall be in Piraeus next week. A live concert in Athens would be extremely popular. You won't like this food: it's very spicy. They ought to / should win the next game easily.

True, untrue, possible See Section 2

The fare may not be cheaper on Sundays but it's worth checking. I'm afraid you may have broken your wrist. Well actually, you could be right. He ought to have got home by now. You'll all know what I'm talking about, I'm sure. She won't have arrived yet.

Deduction See Section 2

It must be right: there's no other explanation. That can't be Monica: she's in Spain. You couldn't have seen her – she left three days ago.

Necessity See Section 3

You must leave immediately. We mustn't be late. You needn't pay me now. I didn't need to take so much money. I have to get there for eight o'clock.

Duty and advice See Section 3

What shall I do? Should I tell her she's made a mistake? You should always pay your bills on time. You really shouldn't have done that. Ought I to tell him I can't come?

(For an alphabetical list of modals with their meanings, see pages 64–67.)

SECTION I

Predicting

1 SAYING WE ARE SURE SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN

We can use will and shall to talk about what will happen. (For other ways of talking about the future, see Unit 1, Section 4):

Exports will continue to rise over the next few months.
I shall be staying in Tokyo for the next three days.
We shan't stay long; we have to be at Mary's by six.

- We can emphasise our certainty by adding really, (most) certainly / definitely, almost certainly, etc:
You definitely won't like the exhibition.
You'll certainly like their new CD.
- We can express doubt by adding presumably, (most) probably, etc:
You probably won't like their new single.
You'll presumably be wanting some more.

Differences between shall and will

We use shall with I or we. It's old-fashioned with other persons:

I shan't have your X-ray results until next week.
You shall go to her party, I promise.

- When predicting something, or expressing determination (see Unit 4, Section 1), there is little difference in meaning between shall and will:
We shan't / won't arrive much before midnight, I'm afraid. (= predicting) I shall / will succeed, just you wait and see. (= determination)
- But we use only will, not shall, to ask for predictions:
Will I get grade A, do you think?
- We commonly use shall to make polite offers (see Unit 4, Section 1.2), or to ask advice:
Shall I turn the lights on?
Shall I wear the green or the blue tie?

2 SAYING IT IS POSSIBLE SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN

We use may, might and could to say that something is possible (See Watch out! in Section 2 for may not, might not and could not):

It may / might / could rain tomorrow.

- However, we commonly use will rather than may / might / could in questions:
Will it rain tomorrow, do you think?

- We can also use would in conditional sentences to predict what would happen if something else happened, or to talk about things that are very unlikely to happen:

He would get very annoyed if you rang him now.
A sunny holiday in Wales? Now, that would be a miracle!

- However, we can use will if other words in the sentence show that something is unlikely:
I doubt if we'll ever again experience a winter quite as cold as this one.
- We can emphasise the degree of probability by adding other words:
She could conceivably come along a bit later. (= it's just possible) She may / might very well come along a bit later. (= it's quite likely)
- The situation, stress and intonation, and other words we use in the statement can affect the degree of probability more than the modal itself:
I suppose she might come, but I doubt it. (= it's doubtful) Actually, I think she might very well come. (= high probability)

3 IN MY OPINION...

We can use should and ought to to make subjective predictions. (See also Section 2.2) In the negative, we avoid oughtn't to, and prefer shouldn't:

They ought to / should win the next round easily.
You shouldn't have trouble with traffic.

- We use should and ought to to predict favourable events:
~~✗ She should fail her driving test.~~
~~The weather should be horrible tomorrow.~~
 ✓ She'll probably fail her driving test.
She should / ought to do well in her driving test.
The weather will be horrible tomorrow.
It should be fine tomorrow.

? check

Which of the above points do these sentences illustrate?

- My mother will most certainly object to my going away over Christmas.
- We should qualify for the World Cup easily next time.
- I suppose it is just conceivable that we could get knocked out on penalties again.
- Soula would be furious if she found out what you were doing.
- Will we get there before nightfall, do you think?

Practice

- 1 Tick (✓) the sentences that are acceptable. Correct the others.

Example: You might as well come with us if you've nothing better to do. ✓

- 1 I won't be in the country when you two are tying the knot.
- 2 How much longer do you think that noise will be going on?
- 3 I don't think I shall be able to join you until 8.30.
- 4 Shall I look OK if I wear this?
- 5 You shall have to put two first-class stamps on this envelope.
- 6 I think a weekend away would be a good idea.
- 7 Presumably we would be laughed at if we tried it in public.
- 8 If he maintains his current rate of progress, he should sail through the exam.
- 9 Looking like that, he should compare unfavourably with the other candidates.
- 10 According to statistics, smokers shouldn't live as long as non-smokers.

- 2 Which of the professions said what? Write the number of the profession next to the letter for the statement. Then, write what you think the 'it' refers to where it's underlined.

Example: i It may be necessary to take it away to put more memory in.

You write: i 0 (computer)

(0 computer engineer) 1 lawyer 2 barman
3 hotel receptionist 4 gardener 5 sailor
6 dentist 7 teacher 8 pilot

- a It may have to come out; we might well not be able to save it.
- b It should only be about ten minutes; then we expect the all-clear for take-off.
- c With any luck we'll get a centimetre or two over the weekend. We could certainly do with it.
- d Very light now, yes, but it might just get up later on, in which case...
- e We may be able to get it overturned on appeal.
- f It certainly won't be ready until the maid has been in.
- g Is that it, or will you be wanting another?
- h It will certainly improve if you try harder to imitate the patterns that native speakers use.
- (i It may be necessary to take it away to put more memory in.)

- 3 Underline the option that can best complete each of the following sentences. Sometimes only one, sometimes both, are possible.

Example: They won't most certainly / most certainly won't approve of the scheme.

- a He'll no doubt be / He should be late for the meeting.
- b She shall / She will go on to greater things, I have no doubt.
- c The whole team may as well / might as well give up and go back to carpentry.
- d Will / Shall I in any way be exploited in this new position?
- e I reckon they ought to / might just down tools and go home.
- f It shall / will be touch and go whether she survives.
- g The outcome might / can rest on this last handful of votes.
- h I have to say that I won't definitely / definitely won't attend the meeting.

- 4 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence but using the word given.

Example: It's pointless going home now: it would be simpler to stay the night. well
You might as well stay the night.

- a He's unlikely to have the common sense to ask for directions.
suppose
- b I wouldn't have thought there's much chance of the package being here before Friday.
doubt
- c I don't think we could expect that much of him.
asking
- d I suppose it's possible that she will break the world record at the next meeting.
conceivably
- e I can't see them finding the task insurmountable.
ought
- f I think it's really quite likely that attitudes towards sunbathing will have to change soon.
well
- g Might it be an idea if we pay the deposit for you?
like
- h I don't foresee there being any major problems.
think

SECTION 2

True, untrue, possible: present and past

1 TRUE/UNTRUE

Present

In addition to predicting, we use may, might, could and will to say whether we think something is true or likely in the present:

You may / might / could very well be right. (= it's likely now) You may / might / could conceivably / possibly have a point there. (= it's not impossible) That'll be my mother on the phone. (= I'm quite sure) Nikos'll be arriving in Brighton about now, I should think. (= it's probable) Surely he won't be there already? (= I don't believe he is)

Past

We use could have, will have, may have and might have to speculate about the possibility of something happening in the past (see Unit 4, Section 2 for modals in the past):

They may have finished already, for all I know.
The doctor won't have had a chance to look at your X-ray yet.

- Sometimes we speculate about something that didn't happen but we feel there was potential for it to happen:

That wasn't a good idea – you might have hurt him.

- Sometimes we speculate about what happened without knowing exactly what did happen:

You may / might / could have done just enough to scrape through.

watch out!

- We use may not / might not to express possibility (see also Section 4). We use could not to talk about deduction (see 3 below) and ability (see Unit 4, Section 2):

I might / may not have her new phone number; let me check. (= possibility)

He couldn't be there already – it's over thirty miles away. (= deduction)

'How far is to London from here?' 'I couldn't say.' (= ability)

2 IN MY OPINION...

We use should and ought to to give our subjective opinion about whether we think something is possible or true (see Section 1.3 for should / ought to for predictions):

I've fixed your video and it should / ought to be working all right now.

- However, we use should and ought to more commonly to give our opinion about whether something is right or not (see Section 3.2):
That table shouldn't be here. It should be over there.
There ought to be another packet of sugar in that cupboard.

3 DEDUCTION

When we give good reasons for thinking something is true or untrue, we use must and can't as opposites:

He goes to Scotland every year for his holidays. He must like it. (= I'm sure he does) John can't possibly be seventy! He doesn't look a day over fifty. (= I'm sure it isn't true)

- When we give reasons for making logical assumptions about the past, we use must have and can't have:

You look very relaxed – it must have been a good holiday. Where's Dominic? He can't have left already, can he?

- We can also use couldn't and couldn't have:
They couldn't be asking for me – no one knows I live here. (= disbelief)
He couldn't have taken it by mistake, could he? (= doubt)

4 EXPRESSING ANNOYANCE

We can use might have and could have to express annoyance about something that happened:

He could / might at least have offered to pay! (= but he didn't)

Which one of these sentences does not illustrate one of the points above?

- He'll probably be getting off the plane now.
- They must be enjoying themselves; just listen.
- You could have done the car a lot of damage.
- He may well come along later.
- I think that socket should work now.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the pairs of sentences that express approximately the same idea. Put a cross (X) by those where there is a clear difference in meaning.

Examples: x I may well have been a little bit late in arriving.

It's quite possible I was a little bit late. ✓ y We may not get there in time for the speeches.

We couldn't get there in time for the speeches. X

- a This could be the chance we've all been waiting for.
This might be the chance we've all been waiting for.
- b This may very well be the last chance for peace.
This might very well be the last chance for peace.
- c That's probably the postman dropping in the weekly free newspaper.
That'll be the postman dropping in the weekly free newspaper.
- d They won't have read our fax yet.
I doubt if they've read our fax yet.
- e The exam results should be here by now.
The exam results should be here any day now.
- f They must have taken a short cut to get here.
They had to take a short cut to get here.
- g You could have done yourself a nasty injury.
You might have done yourself a nasty injury.
- h The washing machine shouldn't be making such a strange noise.
The washing machine couldn't be making such a strange noise.

2 Tick (✓) the modal verbs that complete each of the sentences in this passage. One, two or all of them may be possible.

There shouldn't/might not/ought not (1) be a comma before the 'who' in this sentence, Kostas. Oh yes, you may well/might well/will well (2) say that writing English is not important for you. But you could/may/might (3) have to write a dissertation in English one day. Punctuation and spelling should/could/may (4) be quite a serious problem for you. But it can/should/could (5) always be possible for you to get full-stops in the right place. And it can't/shouldn't/mustn't (6) be that difficult to spell most short words more or less correctly. You may/must/might (7) not have realised how flexible English is. For example, you may/should/can (8) find 'organisation' spelt with an 's' or a 'z'. It makes life easier, doesn't it?

3 Combine each question and answer using for to make one sentence.

Examples: 'Was it a serious crime?' 'Well, the police have put quite a lot of men on the case.'

It must have been quite a serious crime for the police to have put so many men on the case.

'Does he work many hours?' 'I don't know, but I do know his wages are very low.'

He can't work very many hours for his wages to be so low.

- a 'Was very much stolen?' 'Well, the bank's offering a reward of £50,000.'
- b 'Was it an exciting match?' 'Well, half the spectators left at half-time.'
- c 'Is it a good show?' 'Well, people have travelled an awfully long way to see it.'
- d 'Is it a big school?' 'Well, there are over sixty teachers working there.'
- e 'Has something serious gone wrong?' 'Well, the boss is ranting and raving like a madman.'
- f 'Was it a major operation?' 'Well, they let her out of hospital the following day.'

4 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: I think you may very well have put your finger on the problem there.

- a Our neighbours must fortune on that new garden furniture of theirs.
- b It couldn't you spoke to; I wasn't even in the country at the time.
- c It's well past dinner-time; surely the conference should by now.
- d She can't very well to have left the party so early.
- e I might like this would happen.
- f You could know beforehand that you couldn't come.

SECTION 3

Necessity, duty and advice

1 NECESSITY

We use must and mustn't when we decide for ourselves what's necessary:

You mustn't keep asking for my help all the time. (= I don't want you to) I really must be going: it's getting late. (= I think I must)

- We can also use must and mustn't for impersonal necessity:
The lead must be connected properly or it won't work.
- The strength of necessity varies with the situation:
All questions must be answered. (= order) You must see the film – it's really good. (= advice) We must get together sometime and talk this over. (= suggestion) have to

Although not a modal verb, we often use have to and have got to (more informal) before verbs to talk about necessity. Have to usually suggests that someone else decides what's necessary:

The notice says we have to report to the manager's office.

I've got to go or my boss will wonder where I am.

- Because have to isn't a modal, it has a past form, -ing form, infinitive form, etc. This means we can use it in more situations than must:
We had to break in because we'd forgotten our key.
They'll have to hurry if they're not going to be late.
I don't like having to wear a suit and tie.
He pretended to have to leave early.

2 DUTY AND ADVICE

We use should and ought to to express our opinion about what's right and wrong:

Drivers ought to be more considerate to other road users. (= it's their duty) You should take this responsibility very seriously. (= it's your duty)

You really shouldn't be lifting heavy furniture at your age. (= strong advice / criticism)

- To talk about the past, we use should have and ought to have. They suggest what happened in the past was wrong or unfortunate:
The Government ought to have listened. (= they didn't)
You shouldn't have worked so hard. (= you did)
- We use shall as well as should and ought to to ask for advice:
What shall I do? Do you think I should tell her?

3 NOT NECESSARY

To say there is no obligation to do something we use needn't, don't need to or don't have to. In many instances there is little or no change in meaning, but:

- We generally use needn't when the authority comes from the speaker:
You needn't come this evening if you don't want to.
- We generally use don't need to and don't have to when the authority doesn't come from the speaker:
You don't need to / don't have to carry an identity card.
- To talk about the past, we use needn't have or didn't need to / didn't have to. Needn't have means 'you did, but it wasn't necessary':
You needn't have cooked so much food.
- With didn't need to / didn't have to only the context tells us whether it actually happened:
I didn't need to go shopping, but I did, just for fun.
I didn't have to do any extra shopping, so I didn't.

4 OTHER VERBS FOR EXPRESSING NECESSITY AND ADVICE

Other verbs express necessity or advice:

Hard hats are to be worn on this site. (= necessity)

All guests will vacate their room before 11 o'clock.

(= necessity)

I wouldn't do that if I were you. (= advice)

You'd better phone home – they have news of your sister.

(= advice)

- We use had better for advice in a particular situation. Should and ought to can be more general:
✗ Employees had better give three months' notice.
✓ Employees should give three months' notice.
You'd better give in your notice if you plan to leave.

For other ways of expressing necessity, see Section 5.

? check

Which one of these sentences does not contain the idea of necessity, duty or advice?

- You'd better have a good excuse or you're in trouble.
- This film should be really good: it's had great reviews.
- You must try harder than that if you're going to make the team.
- You should have got up earlier – then you wouldn't be late.
- We may have to give in to their demands.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the sentences below which express necessity, duty or advice.

Example: It must be hard work on an oil rig, mustn't it? ✗

I must be on my way if you don't mind. ✓

- a The filler must be hard before you can paint over it.
- b You must be joking.
- c It must have been offside because the goal was disallowed.
- d Having to get up so early every morning is really getting me down.
- e A bike is sometimes worth having to beat traffic jams in towns.
- f Do you think I ought to give Dad a ring?
- g Should you have any problems with your computer, give me a call.
- h Doctors should respect their patients' wishes.
- i Are you saying we needn't have gone to all this trouble anyway?
- j He'd better not be late again!

2 Fill each of the gaps with must or a form of have to followed by a suitable verb.

Example: I really dislike having to go shopping at the weekend.

- a Just recently I down on my spending.
- b You really me to your wife.
- c We through the window because I had left my key inside.
- d One day everyone at the age of fifty, whether they like it or not.
- e This exercise is so difficult one a genius to do it.
- f I didn't take the job because I 50 hours a week.
- g Come on, you me drive you home.
- h You at your desk at nine sharp or else part of your salary
- i You for 26 weeks in the previous year to qualify for unemployment benefit.
- j I find I longer and longer on my homework at the moment just to keep up.

3 Tick (✓) each of the sentences in which didn't need to can be replaced with needn't have + -ed.

- a It's sweet of you, but you really didn't need to buy me flowers.
- b It's a good job we didn't need to be here earlier.
- c It was strange that we didn't need to show our passports.
- d You didn't need to come and pick me up: I could have got a taxi.
- e There was a sofa in the other room: you didn't need to sleep on the floor.
- f I didn't need to use cash; I had my credit card with me after all.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in two different ways so that they are as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before them.

Example: If I were you, I'd have the lobster.

a I think you ought to have the lobster.

b You really should have the lobster.

- 1 Why ever did you go to so much trouble with the refreshments?
 - a You really needn't
 - b It really
- 2 There is to be no talking whatsoever during the examination.
 - a Candidates will not
 - b Silence is to
- 3 I really must be going now.
 - a I've absolutely
 - b I really mustn't
- 4 She should take some form of identification with her, shouldn't she?
 - a She'd
 - b It might be
- 5 It may be possible for you to go there without a visa after all.
 - a It may not
 - b You might not
- 6 Don't you think it's time we made our excuses and left?
 - a Hadn't
 - b Oughtn't

Unit three

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Possibility, probability and certainty

Instead of using modals (see Section 2), we can express ideas of possibility, probability and certainty in other ways.

1 LIKELIHOOD

We can use a number of words and phrases to say how likely it is that something will happen. Here are examples:

- verbs and verbal phrases:
I bet you never write to her. I'd stake my life on his honesty. I don't doubt that he could do the job. I can't see the situation changing much in the foreseeable future. I assume he knows what he's doing.
- adjectives and adjectival phrases:
He's highly unlikely to arrive before 9. He's bound / certain / sure to arrive at some point.
- noun phrases:
The chances are that interest rates will fall in the near future. There's every chance / likelihood of interest rates coming down. There's a strong / a distinct possibility that interest rates will be reduced.
- adverbs and adverbial phrases:
Presumably, he'll be back. In all probability, today. Maybe even this morning – conceivably within the next half an hour. Doubtless he'll ring first.

1 Which of these sentences suggest that something is likely to happen?

- She's hardly likely to tell us what really happened, is she?
- There's an outside chance of a tornado hitting this region.
- I presume we'll be having our weekly meeting on Friday.
- I can't see why they shouldn't all pass.

2 IMPROBABILITY

We use a number of words and phrases to say how unlikely it is that something will happen. Here are some examples:

- verbs and verbal phrases:
I wouldn't bet on her coming first. I doubt if we'll meet again. In situations like that, climbers don't stand a chance of surviving. He hasn't got a cat in hell's chance of winning. (= informal)
- adjectives and adjectival phrases:
She's highly unlikely to have survived the earthquake.
- noun phrases:
The prospects of them surviving are slim. I have my doubts. There's very little / no chance / likelihood that the exchange rate will improve. There's a slight / slim possibility of her coming back. Hopes are fading / Fears are growing as to their chances of survival. The odds are against them coming out of their comas.

2 Which of these sentences suggest that something is unlikely to happen?

- It seems odds on their getting married before the end of the year.
- There's not much chance of us catching a bus at this time of night.
- There's every likelihood of the government doing a U-turn.
- Don't bet on him staying until the end of the week.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the sentences in which the speakers are optimistic that the project will go ahead.

- I have little doubt that the project has great potential.
- I must confess to a few reservations concerning the ultimate success of the project.
- I have my doubts as to the wisdom of going ahead with such a project.
- There's every chance that the doubts being expressed about the project will be unfounded.
- The odds are against such a project getting off the ground.
- It's odds on that the project will fall flat on its face.
- I do believe that, contrary to public opinion, the project has every chance of success.
- There's no way this project is going to see the light of day, I assure you.

- i I wouldn't bet against this project being the best thing to happen to us since the Euro.
- j Barring a miracle, this project is bound to hit the dust almost immediately.

2 Tick (✓) which two options in each item are possible to complete the sentences.

Example: I reckon there's a good possibility ✓ / chance ✓ / likelihood / odds the match will be cancelled.

- a You'll have the chance / possibility / occasion / opportunity to look over the house tomorrow.
- b I have my doubts / uncertainties / beliefs / reservations as to this applicant's suitability.
- c The chances / odds / possibilities / probabilities are she will reject him.
- d I'd stake / offer / bet / invest my mortgage on the fact that she's honest.
- e Our new gardener's bound / convinced / hoped / certain to make a good job of cutting the hedge.
- f The new student's bound / likely / sure / confident of passing the initial test.
- g She's in any / little / no / full doubt as to the identity of the intruder.
- h It doesn't look as whether / though / how / if the meeting's going to take place.
- i There's a distant / remote / far / distinct possibility that I'll be able to help after all.
- j There will almost inevitably / probably / certainly / inconceivably be some teething troubles initially.

3 Write full sentences from the prompt words, adding any necessary words and putting the verbs into a suitable form. (All the sentences contain the word chance(s), not always expressing likelihood.)

Example: I / never / chance / go / university / I / your age. I never had the chance to go to university when I was your age.

- a He / no chance / ever / persuade / her / marry / him.
- b They / stand / much chance / A grade / as / I / become / Prime Minister.
- c There / a chance / that / my company / send / United States / for a year.
- d There / little chance / of / management / agree / employees' demands.
- e No-one / have / a chance / yet / predict / outcome / this dispute / certainty.
- f Is / there / chance / of my borrow / your bicycle / half an hour?
- g The chances / that / the match / cancel.
- h you / a chance / speak / the Personnel Manager / yesterday?

4 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

This will now almost (1) prove to have been the driest April since the calamitous drought of 1924 and forecasters say the current spell is very (2) to continue well into next week and quite (3) beyond. A Met. Office spokesman suggested there was a slight (4) of rain just after the weekend but admitted there is every (5) that rain heading across the Atlantic (6) miss Britain completely. If it does, (7) of further rain within the next fortnight are thought to be slim. John Field of the National Farmers' Union said that many farmers were clearly (8) for the bankruptcy courts. 'The past few months (9) have been easy for anybody,' he commented yesterday. 'But here in the north, it's been without (10) the worst time anyone can remember. I haven't got the official figures but losses (11) run into tens of millions of pounds. And that's (12) to affect prices in the supermarkets very soon.' A ban on hose-pipes in all gardens now looks virtually (13) and the supply of general household water may very (14) have to be rationed in some areas. The Government will, in all (15), issue an official statement sometime in the next twenty-four hours.

5 Rewrite these four sentences six times, each time incorporating one of the words listed below it. More than one sentence may be possible.

Example: in item a: The odds are against him passing. He probably won't pass.

- | | |
|--|---|

SECTION 5

Obligations

1 LEGAL AND INSTITUTIONAL OBLIGATIONS

We can express moral and legal obligations with verbs. Note that we often use the passive:

Visitors are not allowed / permitted to picnic on the grass.

Smoking on these premises is strictly forbidden.

Chewing gum has been banned from the canteen area.

José has now been barred from five different clubs.

Guests are required to vacate their rooms by midday.

You're breaking the law.

- We can express obligation or permission with adjectives:

Military service is still compulsory in many countries.

Is her evidence permissible in court?

Joining the union is not obligatory.

- We also use many prepositional phrases to express legal obligation:

Is this within or outside the law? Some people think they are above the law. You're under no obligation to say anything if arrested. It's in your contract.

2 MORAL OBLIGATION

- We can express obligation using nouns:

It's your duty to help them.

You have an obligation to support your family.

There's no need to feel guilty.

- We can also express moral obligation using adjectives:

He was sent off for illegitimate use of the elbow.

There has been talk of an illicit liaison.

Their demands were (totally) unreasonable.

- We can also use verbs:

You're supposed to smile at all of your clients.

You're not expected to leave a tip.

You're not obliged to pay to go into the gallery.

3 PERSONAL OBLIGATION AND FREEDOM OF CHOICE

- We use many common phrases to express personal obligation:

It's your job to make sure they all get back safely.

Isn't it your turn to cook? It's up to you to tell him; after all, he's your brother. It's all down to you to decide if you're going. (= you must decide)

- We also use a number of common phrases to suggest we have freedom of choice:
It's up to you what you wear. You choose. Do as you wish. It's your choice. Nobody's forcing you. No one's telling you what to do.

1 Which point above – 1, 2 or 3 – do these sentences relate to?

- Please yourself.
- Do as you think fit.
- You needn't feel obliged to stay more than a few minutes.
- It's entirely your decision.
- Parking outside this exit is prohibited at all times.
- It's your life.

Practice

1 Fill in each of the following sentences with an appropriate word from the list.

compulsory obligatory illegitimate permissible illicit permitted illegal forbidden

- Psychologists maintain we are all tempted by the concept of fruit.
- The referee deemed the punch and disqualified him.
- It's for children to buy cigarettes.
- The driver was found to have above the level of alcohol in his blood.

- There are three questions in the exam.
- Do you think 'I didn't see him yet' would be in a composition?
- Is the use of hyphens in 'two-year-old child' ?

2 Tick (✓) the underlined words or phrases that can complete each of the following sentences. Sometimes one will be possible, sometimes both.

- This sort of behaviour is not acceptable / unacceptable.
- It's always dangerous to take on unqualified / disqualified staff.
- The goal was disallowed / not allowed because of handball.
- Contributions to the pension scheme are non-compulsory / not obligatory.
- Smoking is disallowed / not permitted in the school.
- This song has been barred / banned by several radio stations.

- g The evening activities are entirely optional / compulsory.
- h It is extremely unwise / forbidden to touch these wires.
- i He was disqualified / banned from driving for two years.
- j If you did but know it, you're breaking the law / the rules.

3 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the two prompts that follow them so that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed above it.

Example: You are responsible for ensuring that your equipment is in full working order.

down / make

It's down to you to make sure your equipment is in full working order.

- a No one is going to force you to do anything you don't feel capable of.
compelled / up
- b If he's broken the law, he can expect to be punished.
something / punishment
- c You don't have to pay now if you would rather not.
under / prefer
- d 'You mustn't pick things up and you really shouldn't touch anything at all,' the curator told us.
allowed / supposed
- e The choice of restaurant for tonight's meal is entirely yours.
which / up
- f Nobody's going to push you to decide here and now which college to go to.
pressure / choice
- g 100% attendance on the course is not something we ask of you.
expect / all
- h There are several bars that Richard is not allowed into any more.
number / barred
- i The entertaining of guests in private rooms is strictly prohibited.
you / allowed
- j Because you're the senior member of staff here, you should make the presentation.
being / up

4 Write a prefix that makes the following words negative. Then write the negative word. (see Unit 5, Section 6 for more information on prefixes)

Example: legal il = illegal

- | | | |
|---------------|--------------|--------------|
| a lawful | g rational | m essential |
| b permissible | h consistent | n acceptable |
| c reasonable | i manageable | o loyal |
| d reliable | j pardonable | p natural |
| e moral | k necessary | |
| f legitimate | l ethical | |

5 Underline the word that can complete each sentence.

Example: Referees must find it hard to decide what is and isn't legitimate use of the elbow.

a legal b illicit c legitimate d glaring

- 1 I'm to be outside the theatre before seven thirty.
a supposed b expected c having d permitted
- 2 You are no obligation whatsoever to respond.
a in b on c under d with
- 3 Don't you feel you have a to yourself to keep going?
a duty b pressure c reservation d compulsion
- 4 What is your attitude to the of performance-enhancing drugs for athletes?
a legalising b legality c permission d allowance
- 5 There really is no for this kind of over-the-top reaction.
a obligation b need c compulsion d requirement
- 6 In future you will do as you are a said b obliged c told d required
- 7 We don't want to be seen to be a compulsory b optional c obligatory d inflexible
- 8 Far be it from me to down the law, but I think we need to pull our socks up.
a put b lay c write d set

Exam practice 3

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

How can you criticise somebody so that they (1) do as you ask? The (2) are that yelling at them is never going to work while constant complaining, on the other hand, (3) very (4) sound like a victim-like, poor-me moan that gives no incentive for change. Of course, if you do feel (5) to have a go at someone, go ahead, but it is rarely productive. Not only is it more or less (6) to end in a row or a sulk, there's also the (7) possibility it (8) be ignored. Constructive criticism really (9) to be adult, rational and reasonable. No wonder so many of us struggle with it: there's no (10) it's much easier being unreasonable. But even if you (11) manage to give criticism like an adult, it (12) mean the recipient will feel under any (13) to take it in the same way. In all (14) you will be met by hurt eyes, slumped shoulders and a sad face. And when it comes to being on the receiving end yourself beware of being too hard on yourself afterwards. There is, admittedly, only a remote (15) that you will go over the top by saying something like 'Oh dear, I made a mistake, my legs are too fat, I can't cook and my children will (16) fail at school and I might as (17) go and live in the garden and eat worms.' This, to put it mildly, is self-indulgent. Added to which you may (18) persuade other people that you are right. It's absolutely (19) to learn from the experience of being criticised. That way, when it's your turn to dish it out, you will, (20), make a better job of it.

SCORE _____

2 Finish each of the sentences in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before it.

- a Getting the company to change their stand is probably beyond our capabilities.

MAIN USES OF MODALS 2

Here is a list of uses dealt with in this Unit with examples. For other uses, see Unit 3, Overview.

Intention, willingness See Section 1

If you would step this way.

Shall I help, or can you manage?

I'll give you a hand with that.

I will finish this, I promise.

You couldn't give me a hand, could you?

The horse wouldn't jump the fence.

I'll resist their attempts to take over for as long as I have to.

Frequency, habit See Section 1

He will often stop to chat and see how we are.

watch out!

Key difficulties with meanings:

- The same modal can express different meanings or perform different functions:
You must phone me as soon as you get back.
(= giving orders)
He's not here – he must have left. (= expressing certainty)
- Different modals can express similar meanings:
Shall I carry that for you? (= willingness)
Would you like me to carry that for you?
(= willingness)
- The exact meaning can change according to context or intonation:
Would you open the window for me, please?
(= polite request)
Would you stop making that noise immediately!
(= order)
- Modals can affect the level of formality and politeness (see Section 2):
'May I leave early today?' 'Of course you can.'
Could I possibly use your phone?
I wonder if I might have your attention for a moment.
- A sentence can have two possible meanings according to the way it is spoken, or the knowledge people have of the situation:
You might have told me. (= 'Perhaps you did, I can't remember' or: 'Why didn't you? You should have')

SECTION I

Intention, willingness, frequency, habit

1 INTENTION AND REFUSAL

We use will and would (past or conditional) to express willingness or intention to do something.

The precise meaning varies according to the context:

I really will be good, I promise. (= promise) I'll leave if you say that again. (= threat) I will get there in time if it's the last thing I do. (= determination)

I won't be staying long. (= intention or promise not to) 'Lend me five pounds.' 'No, I won't.' (= refusal)

My father wouldn't help me out financially. (= past refusal) I'd give you a hand with the washing up if I wasn't rushed off my feet. (conditional willingness)

- We occasionally use shall with I and we:
I told you I'd succeed and I shall! (= strong intention)
- We use won't and wouldn't to talk about machines 'refusing' to work properly:
This programme won't work with your computer.
My car wouldn't go this morning – I think it's the battery.

2 OFFERS AND REQUESTS

We can use will and would to offer to do something:

I'll do that for you – it's no problem. (= offer)
Markus said he would help me. (= past offer)

- We also use other modals to make offers:
Can I help?
Would you like a hand with your luggage?
Shall I carry that for you?
May I be of any assistance? (= formal)
- We can also ask if someone else is willing to do something by making requests:
You wouldn't mind giving me a hand, would you? (= tentative) Would you mind giving me a hand?
You couldn't give me a hand, could you? Do you think you could give me a hand? Can you give me a hand? Give me a hand, would you? (= more direct)
- Note that we don't use May you... or Shall you... to make requests.
- We can ask very politely or formally using:
Would you be so kind as to hold this for me?
Would you be kind enough to hold this for me?

- We can also use be willing to, especially if there's the possibility that the intention won't be carried out:
~~✗ I will help, but I don't have time.~~
✓ I'm willing to help, but I don't have time.
- We use may, might, and would with be willing to, be prepared to, etc. to make very tentative offers:
I might be willing to make a few contacts for you, at a price.
- We can use would and might with be willing to, etc. to make requests:
Would / Might you be willing to do the job if I offered you another ten percent?

3 FREQUENCY

We use will to talk about habits and typical behaviour in the present:

They'll spend hours on the phone to each other every night. (= they often do)

- We use would to talk about past habits and typical behaviour in the past:
Every morning I would get up at the crack of dawn and take the dogs for a walk.
- When stressed, will and would express the speaker's annoyance at the habits:
She will play her music loudly when I'm trying to work. They would keep talking when I just wanted to go home.
- Used to is similar to would. Note that words such as never, always, etc. commonly change position:
My dad would always / always used to read me a story before I went to bed.
- But, we only use used to, not would, to talk about states:
~~✗ I would be much slimmer when I was a young child.~~
✓ I used to be much slimmer when I was younger.

? check

Write (I) next to any sentence which refers to intention or refusal, (O) next to any which contains offers or requests, and (F) next to any which refers to frequency.

- If all goes well, I'll be there just before six.
- Shall I open the window?
- Tomorrow, as always, I'll get up and do my homework before breakfast.
- This door simply won't open.
- Ian said he'd give us a hand to clear up.

Practice

1 Match the direct speech (1–6) with the report (e–f).

Example: O I'll give you a lift. g She offered to ...

You write: O g

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------|
| (0 I'll give you a lift.) | a He begged me to ... |
| 1 I'll write to you every day. | b They warned me not to ... |
| 2 No, I won't pay and that's that. | c She just asked me to ... |
| 3 I'll report you to the authorities! | d She promised to ... |
| 4 You'll be sorry if you touch that. | e He threatened to ... |
| 5 Could you take the other end of this for me? | f She refused to ... |
| 6 Couldn't you possibly for once turn a blind eye, please? | (g She offered to ...) |

2 In each item below one or two options may be possible to complete the sentence. Underline those that are possible.

Example: I may / might / will be willing to spare you half an hour this afternoon.

- a Might / Can / Would you mind lifting your feet for a moment while I Hoover?
- b May / Could / Would you be so kind as to give me some advice?
- c Shall / Will / Can I carry that rather heavy-looking case for you?
- d Will / Could / Can you possibly come back a little later?
- e May / Would / Might you be willing to refund the money we have already paid you?
- f Do you think you will / may / could stand a little further away?

3 Fill each of the blanks with the appropriate animal from the list. Write which use of will or would the sentences illustrate.

Example: Eels will often swim thousands of miles in the course of a year. Typical behaviour

(eels) pigeons bees whales rhinoceroses cats

- a Poachers will do almost anything to get hold of the horn of white
- b will usually lick their kittens almost non-stop in the early days of their lives.
- c Hundreds of years ago, passenger would blacken the skies of North America.
- d will occasionally be found beached on a shore, having lost the rest of the school.
- e There's a theory that will never sting you unless provoked.

4 Put a tick (✓) beside the sentences in which would could replace used to. Put a cross (✗) beside the others.

Example: Switzerland used to be part of Austria. ✗

In the past several families used to live in the same house. ✓

- a Family values used to be quite different in those days.
- b It used to be quite normal for cousins to marry.
- c Generally speaking, these marriages used to succeed as well as any others.
- d People used to have different ideas about family relationships then.
- e The father used to farm and hunt and the mother used to look after the home.

5 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the two prompt words printed underneath it.

Example: I'd like to help but unfortunately it's not possible.

wish / I

I wish I could help but unfortunately I can't.

- a Could you possibly help me with the dishes?
possible / hand
- b Our previous cat would only go out if the door was opened specially for him.
used / unless
- c He threatened to tell my wife unless I admitted to everything.
said / if
- d Shall I pay by cheque or would you rather I paid cash?
like / prefer
- e I'd be very grateful if you could forward any letters to the above address.
appreciate / kind

SECTION 2

Ability, permission

1 ABILITY IN THE PRESENT AND FUTURE

Can is the most common modal we use to talk about ability:

*I can give you a lift this evening if you like.
Can you pick up spiders?*

CAN OR BE ABLE TO?

We sometimes use be able to with the same meaning as can:

I can't / am not able to give you an answer at the moment.

- We use modals like will with be able to as a future form of can:
One day people will be able to go for a holiday on the moon. I might be able to help you.
- We also use be able to in the infinitive and -ing form. We sometimes use verbs like feel and seem instead of be:
I'd like to be able to write as well as that. I like being able to do exactly what I please. I don't seem able to find the energy for playing football these days.
- We commonly use can, not be able to, with the meaning 'know how to', and with verbs related to the senses like see, hear:
Can you read music? I can smell something burning.
- Could, and sometimes would be able to, are common in conditional sentences. Could is more tentative than can:
I could come a bit earlier if that would be helpful.

2 THEORETICAL POSSIBILITY

Rather than expressing ability, we sometimes use can to say that something is possible in theory:

Speaking in public can be quite traumatic for many people. It can still be very hot in Egypt in September.

3 ABILITY IN THE PAST

Could

We often use could as a past form of can:

I could hear a noise and went outside.

Could have or was able to?

We use could have to say we were able to do something, but in fact we didn't:

He could have helped me, if he'd tried. (= but he didn't)

- For general ability in the past we also use was able to, though could is more common:
I could / was able to swim when I was five years old.
- For a specific event showing success after trying, we use was / were able to, managed to or succeeded in, but not could:
I was able to / managed to solve her problems for her.
- We can also express conditional past ability with would have been able to:
I wouldn't have been able to find her in that crowd even if I'd known she was there.

Couldn't have

We use couldn't have to say we were not able to do something so we didn't:

He couldn't have helped me anyway. (= he didn't)

4 PERMISSION

We use can and could as well as other modals to give and ask for permission:

*Can I go now? No, you can't. I won't let you.
They asked if they could go.*

5 POLITENESS AND FORMALITY

When giving or asking for permission, or making requests or offers, the degree of politeness or formality depends strongly on the situation, stress and intonation, and who is speaking to whom. As an approximate guide, may and might are more polite and formal; could and would are more polite than can and will:

'Can I leave early today?' 'Of course you may.'

Could I possibly use your phone?

Visitors to the college may not enter private rooms.

- We often use might with wonder:
I wonder if I might have your attention for a moment.
- However, because may and might are formal, they can sound aggressive or sarcastic:
Might I suggest that you talk to the manager about it? And where have you been, may I ask?

? check

Which of these sentences does not express ability, theoretical possibility or permission?

- You may leave the room when you have finished.
- May I be of any assistance?
- I can't open this door: it's stuck.
- I could have told him last week if he'd asked me.
- Believe it or not, crocodiles can make good pets.

Practice

1 Rewrite the following sentences using a modal. More than one modal may be possible.

Example: Is there any chance of me borrowing your Walkman tomorrow afternoon?

Can/ Could/ May I borrow your Walkman tomorrow afternoon?

- a Is it all right if I miss the first few minutes of tomorrow's meeting?
- b I wish my writing in English was better.
- c One day soon, Internet access is sure to be available to every schoolchild.
- d I knew how to swim before I was three.
- e A wasp sting was sometimes a cause of death in those days.
- f These photocopiers have proved to be quite temperamental.
- g The journey here took us twice as long as it needed to.
- h Even if they'd wanted to land at Heathrow, it was impossible because of the fog.
- i And what is this baby doing sitting on my desk, if you don't mind my asking?

2 Arrange each of the following comments using can't into five groups according to their basic meaning. One group will have five comments, the others two each. Two have been given as examples.

- (I can't believe it.)
- (I can't take it in.)
- a I can't understand it.
- b I can't manage.
- c I can't help it.
- d I can't get over it.
- e I can't stop myself.
- f I can't work it out.
- g I can't bear it.
- h I can't cope.
- i I can't take it.
- j I can't put it out of my mind.
- k I can't stand it.
- l I can't face it.
- m I can't put up with it.

1	2	3	4	5
I can't believe it.
I can't take it in.

3 Fill each of the gaps with a form of be able to followed by an appropriate verb.

Example: I don't think I will be able to drive you to the airport.

- a I never out the difference between a PC and a Mac.
- b I would really love myself more interestingly on paper.
- c You him on this number, but I have my doubts.
- d They just the drowning man to safety, thank goodness.
- e If you don't feel a contribution, just say so.

4 The outgoing President is in bullish mood. Complete his claims with could, was / were able to, have been able to or could have plus an appropriate verb.

Example: No one could have done more than I have to increase this country's standing in the world.

- a In my first term of office I this country back on its feet after my predecessor's mistakes.
- b In this second term I in the most exciting new legislation this country's seen for decades.
- c With anyone else in power, there economic chaos.
- d I my head up high throughout my presidency.
- e I any allegations you care to make against me.
- f I new measures which will eventually make the world a far better place.

5 Rewrite the sentences twice using the words given.

Example: He was only able to throw a tantrum like that because he was the boss.

couldn't wouldn't

He couldn't have thrown a tantrum like that if he hadn't been the boss.
He wouldn't have been able to throw a tantrum like that if he hadn't been the boss.

- a I hope one day we can meet again in more favourable circumstances.
possible able
- b Some supermarket beef tends to be rather tough.
can tendency
- c Would you be so kind as to send this out to all your major clients?
enough wonder
- d Maybe I could have helped you.
able possible
- e In the end we were able to communicate with sign language.
managed succeeded

SECTION 3

Special uses of should; modals in the past

1 SPECIAL USES OF SHOULD

We often use should in that-clauses after verbs connected with suggestions, requests or orders:

I suggested that he should take a break.

They insisted I should take a pay cut.

- Other verbs we often use with should include:
demand propose urge require recommend decide maintain warn

In more formal English, we can omit should in that-clauses. (See Unit 5, Section 1.1)

- We also use should in that-clauses after adjectives connected with importance, e.g. It is important that..., or personal reactions, e.g. I was surprised that.... We use should have to talk about the past:
It's essential that you should contact us as soon as you have any information.

He found it astonishing that anyone should have wanted to buy such an ugly present.

- Other adjectives we commonly use with should in this way include:

important necessary surprising normal sorry horrified interesting worried

Again, we can omit should.

- We sometimes use should in purpose clauses (see Unit 6, Section 2) after conjunctions like so that, in order that, in case, for fear that, lest:

They spoke quietly so that nobody should hear what they were saying. He disguised himself lest he should be recognised.

- We also use should before certain verbs, e.g. imagine, think, say, hope, to express concepts about which we are not certain:

I should imagine we'll be home for dinner.

(See Unit 5, Section 1.1 for Present subjunctive and alternative should.)

2 MODALS IN THE PAST

Could, would, might

Could and would are the only two modals we commonly use on their own to refer to the past:

*I could drive a tractor before I knew how to drive a car.
(= ability) We couldn't leave the building during the lunch break. (= permission)*

Every morning I would get up early and feed the chickens. (= habitual behaviour) I wouldn't do what I was told. (= refusal)

- We also use might occasionally:
In those days, they came for lunch and might stay on for supper. (= possibility)

Modal Perfects

Other modals may refer to the past when used with the Perfect (have + -ed). We use modal Perfects in three ways:

- to speculate about events, or imagine the opposite had happened:
*I would have talked to him but I didn't have time.
You should have told me you were coming.
They ought to have informed us of the change.
We were lucky – the whole thing could have ended in disaster.
You needn't have gone to so much trouble.
You might have warned me.*
- to talk about past events when we are not sure whether they happened or not:
I can't find my diary anywhere – I suppose I could have left it at home. (= it's possible) She may have phoned my office after I left. (= it's possible) She can't have left already! (= I don't think she has) She must have given it to someone else. (= I'm almost certain) They might have gone home by now. (= it's possible) They should have got there by now. (= I think so).
- to talk about possibility in the present and future. This is a form of the Future Perfect (see Unit 1, Section 2.2):
You should have already gone through immigration by the time I get to the airport.

? check

Identify these uses of should in the following sentences. Write the appropriate number.

1 after adjectives 2 after a verb 3 after conjunctions
4 referring to the past 5 before a verb

- For fear that they should ask him again, he pretended to be deaf.
- I'm worried that they should think I've not been telling the truth.
- I maintain we should continue for the time being.
- I should think it gets quite cold at night here, doesn't it?
- I should have known you'd be involved somehow.

Practice

1 Rewrite each of the following sentences in each pair (a–b) using should and one of the words listed. You may want to change the form of verbs.

Example: incredible

a The new trainer wants to hand in his notice already? I just don't believe it.
It's incredible that the new trainer should want to hand in his notice already.

1 important normal

a Some students tend to feel a little homesick in their first week here. I can understand that.
 b Children must be taught the difference between right and wrong. I believe that strongly.

2 odd bewildering

a Why has he complained now, right at the end of his course? I just can't work it out.
 b I wonder why she left without saying anything. I'd really like to know.

3 insisted warned

a 'Don't let your feelings run away with you, will you?' said the youth club leader.
 b 'We simply must go to the police about this latest attack,' said a bystander.

2 Match each of the half-sentences (1–6) with (a–f) and connect them using one of the following conjunctions.

Example: O so that g

lest so that in case

(0 Many people want to be pop stars)

- 1 But the Spice Boys don disguise when they go out
- 2 One group singer goes around in a Mickey Mouse mask
- 3 They always lock their bedroom doors at night
- 4 They never announce their immediate plans
- 5 Girlfriends are out of the question
- 6 They're not allowed to read the papers

- a ... female fans should become jealous.
 - b ... someone should try to come in.
 - c ... fans should recognise them.
 - d ... nobody should be able to guess who he is.
 - e ... no one should know where they're heading.
 - f ... they should read a bad review.
- (g ... people will recognise them in the street.)

3 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the two prompt words given.

Example: He promised to be here by ten o'clock without fail.
said / definitely
He said he would definitely be here by ten o'clock.

- a Don't you regret reacting in the way you did?
think / should
- b I bet she felt a bit of a fool when she realised who she had been speaking to.
must / dawned
- c I expect you'll be at Heathrow before me.
should / do
- d Do you think I should have given her a set of keys?
ought / left
- e Our stubborn young son always refused to treat visitors to the house with respect.
would / respectfully
- f It's possible that she put those goods in her bag accidentally.
may / mistake

4 Fill each of the gaps with a suitable word or phrase.

- a It shouldn't us more than half an hour to get to the airport.
- b Last night's match could into a complete fiasco.
- c The chairman insisted that all shareholders should of the board's decision in writing.
- d She just mind despite all our pleas, would she?
- e You should that into account before you went and spent all your money.

Unit four

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Frequency

As well as using modal verbs and used to (see Section 1.3), we can express frequency in many ways.

1 ADVERBS AND ADVERBIAL PHRASES

We most commonly express the idea of 'how often' with adverbs of frequency:

I rarely / seldom go into the centre of town if I can help it. John regularly / normally / often smokes more than a packet a day. We were constantly / regularly being criticised. I've told you repeatedly not to tip your chair back.

- We can also use adverbial phrases – usually in different positions in the sentence:

I still see my first girlfriend now and then / now and again / every so often. We were being attacked all the time / again and again. It's been raining on and off all day. From time to time I check my e-mails. I've been working non-stop since Friday.

- We can express frequency more precisely in many ways:

This happens every four years / twice a month / on a daily basis / 40 times a minute. Buses leave every hour on the hour. I cook once in a blue moon.

2 ADJECTIVES

We can often express frequency using adjectives:

It's uncommon / unusual / rare for anyone to disown his parents. Some people are prone to headaches. We are all susceptible to flattery. I'm liable to get sunburnt. He won how much? That's unheard-of!

3 HABITS AND TRENDS

Verbs, and verb and noun phrases, can express habits and trends:

Many people tend to talk too much. Some are in the habit of talking to themselves. Others have a tendency not to listen to other people. The underlying trend is towards low inflation. Do you follow the latest trends in fashion? Parisian designers set the trend for others to follow.

1 Which of the three sections above do these five sentences illustrate?

- One to be taken three times a day.
- Interest rates seem to be going up with alarming frequency.
- There's nothing unusual about wanting a pay rise, is there?
- There's normally never this much traffic on the high street.
- Don't make a habit of locking yourself out, will you?

Practice

1 Two or three of the options can complete the sentences. Underline them.

- I do question whether a seventeen-year-old will be able to stand up to the pressure of the job.
a non-stop b relentless c constant d liable
- I have problems when it comes to deciding whether there's a hyphen or not.
a all the time b unwaveringly c invariably d frequently
- It is for babies to be born with hair, isn't it?
a relatively rare b not unusual c quite often d very seldom
- I wish I could the habit of drinking coffee late at night.
a break b stop c avoid d get out of
- The figures have to be calculated on a(n) basis.
a daily b fortnightly c annually d monthly
- Spot-checks can be made anything up to three times year.
a per b the c in a d a
- She's telling me where I've gone wrong in my life.
a forever b all the time c on and off d constantly
- We still meet up for a drink and a chat once a in a blue moon b at a time c in a black mood d in a while
- We write to each other but not very often.
a occasionally b regularly c now and then d rarely
- He's in the habit of a interrupting me all the time b humming to himself c making me happy d not saying what he means

2 Fill each of the gaps in these extracts from students' end-of-year reports with an appropriate word from the list.

Example: Unfortunately, she requires constant supervision.

again from unfailingly occasion prone (constant) consistently sporadic fortnightly regularly now too course intervals uncommon tendency regularity clockwork

- She is cheerful and co-operative.
- His attendance at classes has been, to say the least.
- He has a(n) to drift off into his own dream world.
- His written work has earned him high grades.
- time to time his powers of concentration wane.
- Every and then he comes to life and contributes.
- He is to lapses of concentration.
- Her performance in the tests has been impressive.
- He has been warned time and time about his behaviour.
- On the odd when homework is handed in it is unsatisfactory.
- It is not for his work to be handed in extremely late.
- She is still late for lessons, despite frequent warnings.
- She is missing classes with alarming
- She delivers her assignments as regular as
- She is able to produce in the of a single lesson what many students require a week to produce.
- All often she is slow to respond and appears not be concentrating.
- He needs a fairly stern word at regular 3 Fill each of the numbered blanks in this short letter with one suitable word. The first one has been done for you.

Dear Marie,

Thank you for arranging this fortnight here for me. I know how busy you've been with the day-... (0)-day running of the office.

..... (1) usual, your choice of course for me has been inspired. I feel my confidence is increasing day (2) day but (3) time (4) time I do still wonder what I'm doing here. I know it's a once- (5)-a-lifetime offer but day (6) day (7), we're subjected to sessions in which, (8) now and then, I feel like screaming. Day (9) day, they try to get you to open up and (10) in a while I feel I might be able to, but then (11) often than not, I clam up. The pressure is not just (12) and off, it's constant. (13) the odd occasion when we are free to relax – like now – every (14) often someone comes by and asks 'Feeling all right?' (15) and then I feel like saying: 'No, I'm thinking of leaving', but so far I've just stopped myself. Thanks again.

Lots of love

Julie

4 Rewrite each of the sentences using the two words given in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as the sentence printed before it.

Example: Every now and then there tend to be violent storms in this area. liable / intermittent
There are liable to be intermittent violent storms in this area.

- Every two months there will be a spot-check on how the business is being run.
second / carried
- Terrorist attacks are happening increasingly frequently.
place / frequency
- An employer striking an employee is almost unheard-of.
extremely / physically
- Such assaults almost invariably lead to criminal proceedings.
would / rare
- It's not normal for people to insure themselves against minor accidents.
usually / serious
- There are frequent occasions on which the age of the offender should be taken into account.
times / borne
- The pressure for the employees here is non-stop.
working / under
- Employees are normally entitled to two ten-minute breaks a day.
rule / twice
- It's getting monotonous how regularly junk-mail arrives on our doorstep.
receive / regularity
- It's unheard-of for a student to get a refund if they curtail their course.
unprecedented / given

SECTION 5

Ability, quality and achievement

As well as using modal verbs and other verbs such as be able to, managed to, succeed in, (see Section 2), we can express ability, quality and achievement in other ways.

1 DEPENDENT PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions often collocate with certain nouns or adjectives. For example:

She has a talent / a gift / a feeling / an aptitude / a flair for languages.

He has a head for figures / a nose for a deal / an ear for accents / an eye for an opening.

She is a person of rare charm / ability / grace.

1 Add appropriate prepositions to these examples.

- a He has a sense timing / a wealth knowledge / a range skills.
- b She's brilliant / fantastic / great / hopeless / terrible making arrangements.
- c He's high / low confidence / strong one-to-one contact.
- d They're experts human relations / He's an expert 19th century history.

2 COLLOCATION

Here are some typical collocations describing people who show great skill or ability. (For an introduction to collocation, see Unit 1, Section 6):

a top lawyer	a quality performer
a leading journalist	an effective communicator
a prominent consultant	a top-class sprinter
an expert cook	an important writer
a star player	a competent PA
a first-class orator	an experienced examiner
a great surgeon	a natural comedian
a skilful negotiator	a talented singer

2 Fill the gaps below with one of these adjectives.

seasoned born polished efficient eminent strong

- a a(n) historian
- b a(n) linguist
- c a(n) campaigner
- d a(n) speaker
- e a(n) swimmer
- f a(n) secretary

3 CONNOTATION

It's important to know if a statement has a positive, negative or neutral meaning. For example:

Her marks were very reasonable. (= positive)

It's a moderate achievement. (= a 50-50 statement)

It was a mediocre performance. (= negative)

3 Underline the sentences that are definitely negative.

- a She's a has-been.
- b He's a high-flier.
- c They're over the hill.
- d She's definitely one for the future.
- e He's one to watch.
- f She's destined for great things.
- g It's on the slippery slope.
- h He's heading for a fall.

4 METAPHOR

Metaphor plays a big part when talking about ability, talent and achievement. For example, we can speak of a blossoming talent, fading powers and a tarnished reputation. (For an introduction to metaphor, see Unit 5, Section 5.)

4 Three of the following metaphors have a negative connotation. Tick (✓) them.

- a a budding pianist
- b a flourishing business
- c a promising student
- d a fading talent
- e a rocketing success
- f a meteoric rise to fame
- g waning powers
- h a shooting star

 - The President was a man of vision, wasn't he?
a rare b frequent c distant d seldom
 - You'll be glad to know that Yuki's work is showing a improvement.
a marked b mediocre c minimal d pronounced

4 We can use adjectives to describe the quality of something, for example a delicious drink, a gripping story or an enjoyable day. Underline the adjective which we do not use with the noun given.

Example:

- food
a delicious b mouth-watering c tasteful d inedible
- a drink
a refreshing b thirst-quenching
c warming d filling
- a room's décor
a striking b soothing
c tasteful d tasty

c thriving d shooting

Exam practice 4

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

Most people I know (1) never go to a martial arts movie, even if you paid them, but I defy anyone not to enjoy 70 minutes in the dark with Jackie Chan. For a start, Chan is simply interested in evading the bullies who want to do him over – and if he bumps into someone as he's running away, he's (2) apologetic. His screen persona is never (3) to bombast. Chan is a likeable, bumbling Everyman who tries to extricate himself from scrapes with his astounding athletic (4): as he leaps up the side of a building, you (5) swear he was on wires. With the kind of (6) and agility (7) limited to monkeys and flies, Chan seems (8) of scuttering up any surface. And it is extremely (9) for him to go on the offensive. The films of lesser action stars like Jean-Claude Van Damme provide a diet of relentless violence, punctuated (10) now and (11) by some semi-moronic 'witticism', but Chan's balletic altercations with his enemies are as a (12) oriented around the art of comic evasion. True, nobody (13) ever win a screen-writing Oscar for one of his films: they're the sort of film where villains (14) frequently deliver lines like 'I'm sorry we didn't get the tape, four of our guys got blown up'. They (15) to be a series of stunt sequences, all devised by Chan himself, wrapped around the most tenuous of plots. He uses no stunt double or state of the art technology or computer-generated tricks. He is simply a person of (16) charm with an enormous flair (17) physical comedy. And what is so (18) is that this (19) campaigner (20) still be making such films at the age of fifty.

OVERVIEW

1 SUBJUNCTIVES

The subjunctive has limited uses in English.

- The Present subjunctive consists of the infinitive without to in all persons (see Section 1.1). In British English, it is often very formal:

I suggest he stop as soon as he becomes tired.

- The Past subjunctive exists only in were in all persons – I were, he were, we were, etc. (see Section 1.2):

I wish she weren't so shy. (= but she is)

2 UNREAL PAST TENSES

The Unreal Past is similar to the Past subjunctive. It involves using Past tenses to propose impossible, unlikely or hypothetical conditions, to discuss imaginary situations, to express wishes, and to make proposals and polite requests (see Section 1):

I wish he wasn't so shy. (= but he is)

I wish I didn't have to go to work. (= but I do)

If only I hadn't listened to you. (= but I did)

3 CONDITIONALS

We commonly express a condition using an if-clause with a main clause. Conditional sentences are often categorised as:

Zero Present + Present

If you press this button, the engine stops.

First Present + will

If she rings this evening, I'll let you know.

Second Past + would

What would you do if you became President?

Third Past Perfect + would have

If I hadn't seen her, she'd have drowned.

Note: the Past and Past Perfect in Second and Third conditionals are 'Unreal' Pasts.

- These are useful patterns to learn when studying conditionals, but they are not the only patterns.

In this Unit, conditionals are categorised as:

Likely conditionals

These refer to past, present and future (see Section 2). They include 'Zero' and 'First' conditionals:

If you were working late last night, how come I didn't see your light on? (= past)

If you feel disappointed, that's natural. (= present)

If you do that again, I'm going to tell mum. (= future)

If you can meet me at the car, that's easiest for me. (= future)

False conditionals

Included in likely conditionals are what we call false conditionals. These are called 'false' because the speaker knows that the condition has already been fulfilled (see Section 2.5):

If you don't like opera, why are you here?

If you didn't like the film, you should have left.

'It's locked.' 'Well if that's the case we'll have to go round the back.'

Unlikely conditionals

- Unlikely conditionals also refer to the past, present and future (see Sections 3 and 4). They include what we call 'Second' and 'Third' conditionals:

It would be easier if Leeds were on a direct rail link to Oxford. (= present)

If you were going to travel to Tibet, when would be the best time to go?

(= future) If I'd listened more carefully to his directions, I wouldn't have got lost. (= past)

When and if

These words are similar in some languages but very different in English:

If Sally comes this evening, we'll talk it over with her.

(= she may come) When Sally comes this evening, we'll talk it over with her. (= she is coming)

- We sometimes use if and when as a phrase to say we are fairly certain a condition will be fulfilled:
We'll buy it if and when our income improves.

Alternatives to if in conditionals

So / As long as you promise not to tell, you can come too. You can drive this car provided / providing (that) you're fully insured. Suppose / Supposing something goes wrong, what then? I think I'll accept it, assuming the offer's still there. Mario can't come with us, even if he is your best friend. If only we'd got there sooner, the accident would never have happened. You can come in on condition that you don't stay long. Unless Peter changes his attitude, he's going to find himself in trouble.

watch out!

- Unless is close in meaning to 'if ... not'. We can't always use it as an alternative to if not:
✗ I'd feel happier unless she talked so much.
✓ I'd feel happier if she didn't talk so much.
- We often use if only without a result clause:
If only we'd got there sooner!

Subjunctives and Unreal Past

1 PRESENT SUBJUNCTIVE

Present subjunctive (see Overview) is common in formal British English. In less formal English, we use a Present tense form (but not if the rest of the sentence is in the past), and we can also use should. (The examples below give alternative forms.)

We use Present subjunctive:

- in that-clauses after report verbs, adjectives or nouns to express plans, urgency, intentions or suggestions:
The police insisted the car (should) be moved immediately. The police insist the car is / be moved immediately.
- Words often followed by a Present subjunctive are:
Verbs: insist, suggest, request, order, recommend, propose, think Adjectives: advisable, essential, desirable, preferable
Nouns: decision, insistence, demand, requirement, condition
- after if: If he (should) be found / is found guilty, he'll be jailed for ten years.
- after whether: Whether she (should) agree / agrees or not, we're going to have to go ahead.
- after whatever: Whatever his reasons be / are, they are insufficient to excuse him.
- The Present subjunctive is common in particular phrases:
Far be it from me... So be it. Be that as it may... Suffice it to say... Come what may... Heaven forbid! Long live the Queen.

2 PAST SUBJUNCTIVE

We use the Past subjunctive (were in all persons) in formal English:

If the minister were here, he would no doubt refute the allegations. (= formal)

- However, it's more common to use was and were in their usual ways:
I wish he wasn't such a big-head. (= informal)
- Were* is more common only in the phrase if I were you, and for all persons in the pattern were + subject + infinitive:
I wouldn't argue with her if I were you. Were the vote to go against me, I'd resign.

3 UNREAL PAST

We use Unreal Past (including Past Perfect) to discuss imaginary situations, to express impossible wishes, and to make proposals and polite requests. We can also use Past subjunctive:

- after if when we think it is unlikely or impossible that the condition will be fulfilled:
If she were to eat / ate fish more often, she might get to like it.
- to replace an if-clause when we imagine past, present or future events being different:
Had he agreed, he'd have become the team captain. Were he to agree, he'd probably become the next coach.
- after if only to express regrets and frustration:
If only he were / was more adventurous. If only I hadn't drunk so much coffee! (= but I did)
- after wish when we are wishing for the virtually impossible. For more reasonable wishes, we commonly use would or could:
I wish I weren't / wasn't having the injection tomorrow. (= but I am) I wish I'd listened to you. (= but I didn't) I wish you wouldn't shout all the time.
- after would rather and would sooner to express preferences:
Do you mean you'd sooner I weren't / wasn't here? I'd rather you hadn't spoken so rudely to him.
- After as if and as though we use Present and Present Perfect forms to suggest something is likely to be true. Past forms suggest it is unlikely or untrue:
The man speaks as if he has / had never heard of the place. He acts as though he owns / owned the place.
- after imperative suppose and imagine (Present tense is also possible):
Imagine he were to tell you / told you / tells you his most personal secrets. Suppose she were to have followed / had followed your advice. (= but she didn't)
- after it's time...:
*It's time I wasn't here. (Past subjunctive is not possible)
It's time we left. / It's time to leave.*

? check

Which sentence does not contain a Present or Past subjunctive, or Unreal Past tense?

- I propose that this street be closed to cars.
- If I was in his shoes, I'd give up.
- I'm suggesting that he reconsider my proposals.
- Imagine you are going to fall asleep.
- You talk as if you really meant it.

Practice

- 1 Fill each of the gaps with one suitable word. (In this exercise, words such as didn't and weren't count as one word.)

Example: Imagine we hadn't met all those years ago!

- I can't tell you how much I wish the architect here to see the results of his work.
- It's time you able to take full responsibility for your own actions.
- If he so self-righteous, he'd realise he was wrong.
- Imagine you completely blind: how would it affect your life?
- He looked for all the world as though he been sleeping in his clothes.
- I really wish I always in so much of a hurry these days.
- If only she so impossibly beautiful.
- I'd rather you talk so loudly, if you don't mind.

- 2 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the Present subjunctive.

Example: The commanding officer gave the order for them to go forward.

The commanding officer gave the order that they go forward.

- Their decision that he should be promoted is a good one.
- It is essential that we are kept fully informed of any developments.
- The UN's insistence that he accepts the terms of the cease-fire seemed inflexible.
- Whether the referee is right or not, the decision cannot be overturned.
- Whatever she decides, we cannot change our plans.
- She insisted that I didn't talk to anyone else about what I saw.

- 3 Add one of these common phrases to each of the sentences.

come what may suffice it to say be that as it may God forbid so be it far be it from me

- If ,, you were to die, who'd run the business?
- I don't want to explain. Aunt Sarah is coming to stay after all.
- If you really want to drop out of college, then
-, I'm determined to finish decorating my room this weekend.
- to tell you what to do, but you'd be mad to marry him.
- "This medicine tastes horrible!" "....., it will cure your cough."

- 4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: I'll get annoyed if you keep asking me every time you have a problem.

I'd rather you didn't keep asking me every time you have a problem.

- Should they strike the consultant off, she'll never work again.
If she be
- Our neighbour talks as if he owned half the county, doesn't he?
To hear our
- That cocky new boy talks like someone with years' experience.
That cocky new boy talks as
- Could you work this out without that calculator?
Suppose
- It's you not thinking carefully that caused us to have these problems.
If

- 5 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passages with one word.

a Thank you for your e-mail. I agree that it is essential you be fully (1) with the facts of the case. They are as follows. It was agreed six months ago that, come what (2), the above residence (3) decorated inside and out before the end of June. This has not happened and my solicitor has recommended I (4) with legal action forthwith.
May I suggest that you (5) me as a matter of some urgency.

b Just (1) you (2) not eaten for a week or two and (3) absolutely starving and the only food that (4) available to you was a trapped rat that you (5) no way of cooking anyway, would you be tempted?

c Dear Maria,
I'm afraid I've got some bad news. I know we agreed it was advisable that Stavros (1) the summer holidays with you. Unfortunately my parents have changed their minds and are now insisting he (2) to Athens to stay with Aunt Sotiria. (3) it to say, they are not allowing any discussion! Athens it is, although he really wishes he (4) at least share the period between you and his aunt. Dimos is going to England for the summer. If only life (5) so simple for all of us.
Kind regards,

SECTION 2

Likely conditionals in the past, present and future

1 VERB FORMS IN THE IF-CLAUSE

Present or future

To talk about conditions in the present or future that we think are likely to happen, we use Present tenses or modals. This is the most common form of conditional sentence:

If he comes into the room, don't mention the party this evening. 'Can I leave early today?' 'If you must.'

- To talk about the future, we can also use going to in the if-clause.

Even if we're not going to go swimming, we'd still better take a towel.

- Can for ability is also common in if-clauses: Assuming you can leave work early, we'll be able to make the 6.30 performance.

Past

To talk about events in the past, we can use Present Perfect or Past Simple / Continuous. This suggests that either we are not sure if something happened, or we are assuming it did and want to draw a conclusion from it (see Overview for false conditionals, and see Section 4 for unlikely conditionals in the past):

If he's read that report, he'll know what all the fuss is about.

If you've been telling the truth, we need to act quickly. Provided that she caught her flight, she'll be landing any moment now.

2 WILL / WON'T IN THE IF-CLAUSE

We sometimes use will and won't in the if-clause with the meanings of refusal (won't), polite request (will), or strong disapproval at someone's insistence on doing something (will):

If he won't go, there is nothing you can do about it. (= refusal)

If you'll hold this end, I'll take the other one. (= request)

If you will drive so fast, you must expect to have accidents. (= insistence)

watch out!

Apart from the meanings above, we don't normally use will in if-clauses to indicate the future:

✗ If the weather will be fine tomorrow, we can go for a walk.

✓ If the weather is fine tomorrow, we can go for a walk.

3 VERB FORMS IN THE MAIN CLAUSE

Verb forms in the main clause follow the normal rules for tense and modal use. Some of the most common are:

Present to indicate certainty of the result:

Simple If you mix blue and red, you get purple.

will to predict future events, make promises, etc:

Provided I see him, I'll tell him.

will have to predict what will have happened:

The train will have left if we don't get there soon.

can to express ability, permission, etc:

You can do it that way if you like, but I wouldn't recommend it.

going to for predictions or intentions:

If you do that again, I'm going to leave.

4 MIXING TIME REFERENCES

It is sometimes possible to have an if-clause referring to the present or future, and a main clause referring to the past, especially with must have and can't have for deductions:

If he's here already, he must have set off very early.

5 FALSE CONDITIONALS

False conditionals (see Overview) are very common when mixing time references:

'I don't eat red meat.' 'Well, if that's a problem we'll have to find another restaurant.'

? check

Tick (✓) the sentence that is incorrect.

- We'd better get ready if he's coming round soon.
- If I have to, I'm going to tell him what I think of him.
- If the film will be uninteresting, we can leave before the end.
- If you don't understand, why didn't you ask me?
- If you'll just wait a moment, I'll see if he's in.

Practice

1 In each of the following sentences, cross out any of the underlined verb forms that we cannot use.

- a If you leave / will leave your things lying around, you shouldn't be surprised if you lose / will lose them.
- b If you wait / will wait here a moment, I'll tell Mr Brown you're here – assuming he's / will be in.
- c If you trust / will trust me, I take / will take the money to him, providing you have / will have it with you now.
- d If the unit fits / will fit in the corner there, I think it is / will be the best place, unless you can / will think of anywhere else.
- e If you help / will help me work out whether we need to make another order at the moment, I spend / will spend some time tomorrow helping you with your statistics, if you like / will like.

2 Either two or all three of the main clauses (a–c) can complete the sentences (1–6). Put a cross (X) next to those that cannot.

- 1 Do that again and
 - a I'm leaving.
 - b I can't help you.
 - c you would be sorry.
- 2 Assuming you're going to see him,
 - a tell him about the meeting.
 - b will you give him a message from me?
 - c he can't be a complete recluse.
- 3 If the boss is feeling relaxed,
 - a we all feel the same way.
 - b the inspection will go all right.
 - c it would be a bad sign.
- 4 If Paul's been to Australia,
 - a he'll probably have acquired an accent.
 - b I think you should go there.
 - c he would certainly go to New Zealand.
- 5 If you're still not sure,
 - a you hadn't been following.
 - b you can't have been concentrating.
 - c it's clear you weren't listening.
- 6 If you will gossip about other people,
 - a you've got to expect people to gossip about you.
 - b people are gossiping about you.
 - c you can't expect others not to gossip about you.

3 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one word.

'A cat? ... All right,' I said, 'on (1) that you look after it, (2) that you feed it and as (3) as you don't expect me to clear up after it.' If (4) I had been more firm! The animal is never fed (5) I do it; (6) for me, it would have starved to death months ago. (7) I known that the children's interest in the beast would wane as soon as it arrived, I would have answered differently. The poor thing is ignored by them (8) if it springs into their laps. (9) I to kidnap the thing, I don't think they would notice. Should they (10) ask for a dog, I think I've got my answer ready.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: Having been to London, you should be able to tell us what it's like.

If you've been to London, you should be able to tell us what it's like.

- a Assuming everything goes according to plan, we'll be with you by six o'clock.
Unless
- b The Finn is almost certain to win, unless his engine blows out during the race.
The only way
- c I'll lend you my car for your holiday on condition you get it serviced afterwards.
If you'll pay for
- d You giving him your number suggests you did want to see him again.
Why did you
- e You'll find your dinner in the oven.
If you
- f There's clearly nothing I can do to stop you leaving.
If you're determined
- g I think I'll go swimming after school, despite the likelihood of rain at that time.
Even if

SECTION 3

Unlikely conditionals in the present and future

1 VERB FORMS IN THE IF-CLAUSE

Present

When we talk about unlikely or impossible situations in the present, we use Past subjunctive or Unreal Past (see Sections 1.2 and 1.3) in the if-clause to indicate that the opposite is true:

- If I didn't know you so well, I'd say you were lying.*
(= but I do know you well)
- If only he weren't so stubborn, he'd agree with us.*
(= but he is stubborn)

Future

When talking about the future, we use an Unreal Past tense in the if-clause to indicate that we are talking hypothetically and think the condition is unlikely to be fulfilled:

- If you told him, he'd never believe you.* (= I don't think you will tell him)
- Suppose your car broke down, what would you do?*

2 VERB FORMS IN THE MAIN CLAUSE

We commonly use would and could in the main clause when there is an Unreal Past or Past subjunctive in the if-clause:

- If I weren't so busy, I'd take a long holiday.*
- If you lent me £10, I could buy it today.*

- We also use might:
She might stay longer if you asked her nicely.

3 WOULD IN IF-CLAUSES

We use would and wouldn't in if-clauses for polite requests and strong wishes that someone would do something:

- If you would be kind enough to lend me a hand, we could finish this very quickly.* If you would just calm down for a moment, you'd see what I'm talking about.

watch out!

We don't use would in if-clauses to indicate simple future:

- ✗ I think you'd be mad if you would give up your job.
- ✓ I think you'd be mad if you gave up your job.

4 SHOULD IN IF-CLAUSES

We can use should in if-clauses instead of a Present or Unreal Past. It suggests that the condition is possible but unlikely. We use will or would or other modals in the main clause:

If they should agree the contract, we'd have to work twice as hard.

- This structure is formal and roughly equivalent to the phrase by any chance:
If by any chance they do turn up, we'd better tell them what happened.
- In more formal contexts we can also omit if or other conditional words and start the sentence with Should:
Should you change your mind, please let me know.*

5 IF ... ARE TO/WERE TO

We use be to in a fairly formal way to express conditions. It suggests that the speaker has no influence over whether the condition will be fulfilled or not. Are to, am to, and is to suggest the condition may be fulfilled. Were to (or, informally, was to) emphasises that the condition is very unlikely:

- If you are to get rid of him, who will tell him?*
Supposing you were to win the lottery, how would you spend the money?

- We can omit if or other conditional words and start the sentence with Were. This is not possible with are:
Were we to take on more staff, how could we afford to pay them?*

? check

Which of the following sentences refer to conditions in the present (P), and which to the future (F)?

- | | present | future |
|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| a If you asked him nicely, he'd let you have the day off. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| b If you were a bit more considerate, you'd offer me a seat. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| c Should you change your job, what would you do? | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| d If I were to say what I really think, I'd upset a lot of people. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| e If I thought he was dishonest, I wouldn't have offered him the job. | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Practice

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

In accordance with your recent request, we are pleased to supply the following reference. Miss Baiocci (1), I am sure, be a real asset to your organisation, knowing as she does a great deal about the way a company such as yours operates. There are very few duties here that I could (2) confidently entrust her with, and if she were (3) join you, you (4) soon come to (5) her organisational and interpersonal skills. If it (6) not clear that she is determined to move away from this area, we would (7) everything we (8) to keep her here. Assuming we (9) to lose her, I (10) be happy to know that she (11) being taken on by a company with a reputation such as you enjoy. (12) any further information be required, please do not hesitate to contact me.

2 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: I don't know if we're late because I don't have a watch.

If I had a watch, I'd know whether we were late.

- a Nico's not very good at maths so he can't become an accountant.
Were
- b Should anything happen to make you change your mind, let me know.
If by
- c Supposing the world was going to end tomorrow, what would you do tonight?
Were
- d Kindly calm down so I can explain what I mean.
If you would
- e I can't go and work in France because I can't speak French very well.
If
- f I think you should complain to the manager.
If
- g Supposing we do go ahead with the building, it can't be before June.
If we are
- h I think not having school on Mondays and having shorter holidays sounds quite a good idea.
I think it might be quite nice if

Imagine you were to win the lottery - what would you do?

3 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

- a If this scheme ground, everyone will have to pull their weight.
- b Your brakes are making an odd noise; I to if I were you.
- c Supposing someone told you that you weren't fit to do your job, react?
- d Considering his age and the seriousness of the operation, it would be a survived it.
- e Should you ever of a helping hand, remember where I am.
- f If that wisdom tooth is giving you trouble, I out.
- g If by any into Mrs Hebden while you're out, could you give her this note?
- h If we Friday deadline, some overtime may be necessary.

4 Match a sentence from the left (1-8) with a response on the right (a-h).

Examples: 9 + j 10 + i

- | | |
|--|---|
| 9 Would it be all right if we sat here? | i Thank you. |
| 10 Should you need me, I'll be next door. | j Yes, please do. |
| 1 Would you mind if I asked them along? | a Well, actually, I'd rather we didn't. |
| 2 I'm sorry I couldn't make it. | b I wish you had. |
| 3 Do you think it might be best if I said yes? | c If only I had! |
| 4 Could you let me know if you change your mind? | d I suppose it is. |
| 5 You'd feel better if you got some fresh air. | e I'm sure you would. |
| 6 Why didn't you tell me? | f Far be it from me to discourage you. |
| 7 Don't you think it's time we were leaving? | g Of course I will. |
| 8 I would if I could, you know. | h Perhaps I would. |

SECTION 4

Past conditionals

1 VERB FORMS IN THE IF-CLAUSE

We use Unreal Past Perfect in the if-clause to indicate that we know what happened but are speculating about what would have happened if the opposite had been true. This is sometimes called the 'Third' conditional:

If she'd known my number, she would have phoned.
(= but she didn't know it)

If I hadn't been standing outside the supermarket, we might never have met.

- We can omit if and start with Had:
Had I believed her for one moment, I wouldn't have refused to help.
- Occasionally, something that is generally true – although we wish it wasn't – can have results in the past:
If I wasn't / weren't such an idiot, I wouldn't have done that.

If it hadn't been for...

This phrase means 'without her, your, etc. help, interference, etc.'. We can use the phrase If it weren't / wasn't for... to refer to the present, though if the time reference is clear, it can occasionally refer to the past:

If it wasn't for the parking problem, I'd drive to work.
If it hadn't been for you, we'd never have got there on time.

Had it not been for Wagner, modern classical music would sound very different.

If it wasn't for / hadn't been for those delays on the motorway we'd never have missed the wedding.

Were

In formal English we can use conditional structures beginning with Were + Perfect infinitive:

Were you to have stopped and considered, you'd have seen the error of your ways.

2 VERB FORMS IN THE MAIN CLAUSE

- For Past conditionals that have results in the past, we use modal Perfects (would / could / might have, etc.):
Had you told me earlier, I could have done something about it.

- For Past conditionals that have results in the present or future, we use mainly would, could or might:
If you'd listened more carefully to his directions, you wouldn't be lost now.
If only I'd entered politics earlier, I could be Prime Minister now.
- With false conditionals in the past, we use Past tenses in the main clause. We don't use Unreal Past Perfect in the if-clause:
If you were in the area, why didn't you come and visit?

3 WOULD HAVE ... WOULD HAVE

The use of would have in both if-clause and main clause is becoming very common in spoken and even written English. It's still considered incorrect by some people:

If I'd have known how expensive it was, I wouldn't have gone.

- It's sometimes difficult to hear Past conditionals spoken at speed because of short forms:
I'd've come at once if only you'd've rung me.

4 PAST CONDITIONALS WITHOUT CONDITIONAL WORDS

We often use a Past conditional structure without using a conventional 'conditional word' like if or unless:

But for your help, we'd never have managed.
We'd have been completely lost without you.
You should have come – you'd have loved it.
The film would have been just as effective in black and white.

? check

Tick (✓) the sentence that has both an if-clause and a main clause which refer to the past.

- If I wasn't so tired all the time, I wouldn't have made such an elementary mistake.
- If you had driven faster, we'd be there by now.
- I'd have rung you if I'd known you were at home.
- I wouldn't be going to London if you hadn't told me about the exhibition.
- If you were right about the weather, we're going to get wet.

Practice

1 For each of the following sentences, say whether a or b, or both, can complete the sentence. Tick (✓) any that we can use, put a cross (X) for any that we cannot use.

Example: If President Kennedy hadn't been assassinated in 1963

- a the Cold War might have ended sooner. ✓
b America will be very different. X

- | | | |
|--|--|---|
| 1 If it hadn't been for the awful weather, | a we'd have spent more time sailing. | b we would go there again. |
| 2 If I'd realised you weren't coming, | a I wouldn't be so angry. | b I can do something. |
| 3 If he had told you the truth, | a you shouldn't have got angry with him. | b you wouldn't be in this predicament. |
| 4 If you liked Greece, | a you should have come with us to Naxos. | b why didn't you come with us to Naxos? |
| 5 Had they explained their reasons, | a they're stupid. | b you'd understand. |

2 Fill each of the blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

- a If for the postal strike, the cheque would have arrived today.
b In those days you would have been breaking ID card on you at all times.
c If you had been in my shoes, done?
d Had we misinformed about the bus times, we wouldn't have been late.
e In retrospect you might advised to get a lawyer.
f If Ioannis stayed that long at the party, been having a good time.
g But fire alarm alerting us, the building would have gone up in flames.

3 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: The young lad wasn't looking where he was going and tripped over that wire.

If the young lad had been looking where he was going, he would not have tripped over the wire.

- a The only thing that made the show worth watching was the visual effects.
If it
- b I would never have got so far if my parents hadn't encouraged me.
Had it
- c You're lying in this hospital bed because you forgot the most basic rule of Safety First.
If you
- d Taking that job would have meant her working from 8 till 8 every day.
She
- e But for the goalkeeper's brilliance, we could have lost by many more.
If the f Turning left at the lights would have got you here ten minutes earlier.

Were you

g The only reason the child hasn't been prosecuted is the fact that he's only twelve.

Were it

h The police showed great restraint and avoided a potentially very ugly incident.

There could

4 Write sentences that are a part of a chain, as in the examples.

Examples: I cheated from him in the Entry Test. We finished up in the same class.

If I hadn't cheated from him in the Entry Test, we wouldn't have finished up in the same class.

We used to do our homework together.

If we hadn't finished up in the same class, we wouldn't have done our homework together.

- a We started to find out quite a lot about each other. (Begin: If we ... homework together, ...)
b We discovered that we had a lot in common.
c He invited me to go to the National Gallery.
d We saw the most incredible paintings.
e I'm a true art-lover now.
f I went to the National Gallery again yesterday.
g I met another art-lover there.
h I'm going out to dinner tonight.
i I didn't phone you.
j You haven't warned me yet about going out with art-lovers.

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Metaphor

A metaphor is a combination of vocabulary items we use to express a particular feeling or encourage imagination, e.g. her sunny smile, have a big head, purr with delight, a sun-drenched beach, pull strings.

1 COMPOUND ADJECTIVES AND NOUNS AS METAPHORS

Some compounds are always metaphorical – they have a meaning that each part of the compound doesn't have. A bloodbath is never 'a bath full of blood'; the compound has only the meaning of 'a massacre'. Other examples of compounds that are always metaphorical include:

mindgames nutcase thought-reader sun-trap sinbin wine-lake narrow-minded warm-hearted bone-dry hard-bitten green-fingered soul-searching

1 Underline the words that we always use metaphorically.

clampdown summit dead-end rock-bottom cold-blooded world-shattering

2 SINGLE WORDS USED METAPHORICALLY

We can also use many single words in metaphorical contexts:

I hope this will have cushioned your loss. Seeing him on stage fired my enthusiasm. She just froze when she saw her ex-boyfriend. I didn't think she'd have the bottle to ask.

2 Underline the verbs that best complete the sentence.

'Get out!' the boss barked / thundered / cooed / squeaked / purred / roared / snapped / bleated.

3 IDIOMATIC PHRASES

Some idiomatic phrases are combinations of two words connected with and or or, for example come rain or shine. The pairs have a fixed order:

- ✗ She was the soul and life of the party.
- ✓ She was the life and soul of the party.

- Here are some examples:

SECTION 6

Word formation: prefixes and suffixes

1 PREFIXES CHANGE MEANING

A prefix at the beginning of a word has a meaning of its own that changes the meaning of the word it is joined to. Knowing what the prefix means can help us to understand the word. For example, if you read unpremeditated and know that meditate means 'think about something' – you can work out the meaning of unpremeditated: un- is a prefix meaning 'not'; pre- denotes 'before'; meditated means 'thought about'. You can now work out that unpremeditated means something like 'not thought about in advance'.

We can use prefixes in front of:

nouns	underclothes	underpayment
	undersigned	understudy
adjectives	underdeveloped	underground
	undernourished	underprivileged
	underweight verbs	undercut	underestimate
	understate	undervalue

1 Underline the words that do not contain the idea of 'beneath' or 'less'.

- a undercut b undergo c understaffed
 d underfoot e undertaking f underwrite

2 SAME PREFIX – DIFFERENT MEANINGS

Many prefixes can have more than one meaning.

- Before adjectives, un- means 'not':
unaware uncommon unconscious undecided
unimportant
- Before nouns, un- can indicate 'without':
untidiness unkindness unemployment
- Before verbs, un- means 'to do the opposite':
uncurl undo unplug unlock unwrap unzip
- In- and im- can sometimes indicate 'not':
indecisive infinite infallible impenetrable impolite
- They can also mean 'in/inside':
intake indoors implant imprison

2 Underline the words that mean 'not...'

- a unfaithful b unpack c inhospitable
 d impractical e impound f inside

3 PREFIXES IN FRONT OF 'NON-EXISTENT' WORDS

We use prefixes in front of many words where the base form doesn't exist by itself. For example, incessant means 'without stopping' but there is no such word as 'cessant' (although there is the verb cease). Here are more examples:

inflect intact immune disparage repeat impeccable impede unkempt unscathed

3 Underline the words that have no base form that exists by itself.

indirect inept untie infinity unprompted impromptu undying undue unduly insipid

4 SUFFIXES THAT SHOW THE PART OF SPEECH

A suffix changes the meaning of the word it is joined to only by changing its part of speech; e.g., we can add -ity to the adjective national to make the noun nationality. We often need to change the spelling, for example, urgent becomes urgency. Here are some examples of suffixes:

- -ation/-ition -ance -cy -er -ment -ness -ity
-ist form nouns:
inform (verb) becomes: information dance (verb) becomes: dancer sweet (adj) becomes: sweetness tour (verb) becomes: tourist
- -ous -able -ful -ing -ical -less -y form adjectives:
danger (noun) becomes: dangerous forget (verb) becomes: forgetful
- -ise -ify -en form verbs:
intense (adj) becomes: intensify flat (adj) becomes: flatten

4 Write numbers next to these suffixes according to which part of speech they usually indicate.

A few belong in more than one category.

1 adjective 2 noun 3 verb

-ist -hood -or -ese -ee -en -ision -some
-ship -ise -ical -ify -ible -y -ant -ive -ness

5 SUFFIXES THAT HAVE MEANING

A few suffixes, particularly at the end of adjectives, have meaning; e.g. -less always indicates 'without':

meaningless useless homeless hopelessly remorselessly

• Here are more examples:

-like -proof -tight -ful -worthy -able as in:
childlike childproof watertight respectful trustworthy understandable

- (0) Understand (1) Impress (2) Relevant (3) Consult
- (4) Consider (5) Value (6) Worth

The Crusades

The medieval crusades, when Western European knights and adventurers attempted to seize Jerusalem from the hands of the Seljuk Turks, are widely understood (0) by most people in the West, who think of them as glamorous and heroic. True, the level of heroism was occasionally (1), but in fact the crusaders were ignorant and misguided. For example, they viewed the Byzantine Emperor, through whose lands they had to travel, as an annoying (2), denying him even so much as a (3) role in the proceedings. In reality, his long experience of the Saracens had given him a not (4) knowledge of their fighting methods and politics. His advice, had the crusaders chosen to follow it, would have been absolutely (5). Instead, they repeatedly dismissed it as (6) with the result that, despite initial success, the crusades eventually dwindled to ignominious failure.

4 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the two prompt words given.

Example: The programme would only work if it was self-financing, wouldn't it? viable / itself

The programme would only be viable if it could finance itself, wouldn't it?

- a Unfortunately the optimism we all felt didn't last very long, did it?

OVERVIEW

1 TYPES OF LINKING CLAUSES

Apart from conditional clauses (see Unit 5, Overview 3), there are other types of clause we can use to show the relationship between statements in a sentence.

Time clauses

Time clauses are adverbial clauses which state whether one thing happened after, before or at the same time as another. We introduce them using a conjunction, e.g. when, after, while, once, etc. (see Section 1.1):

As soon as I've finished reading the newspaper, I'll wash up.

I'll make the salad while you're getting on with the pasta.

Reason clauses

Reason clauses are adverbial clauses which state why something is the case. We introduce them using a conjunction, e.g. because, since, as, etc. (see Section 1.2):

Because this TV is old, we're having problems with it. You try to fix it since you think you're so clever!

Result clauses

Result clauses state the result of a situation. We use so, such, etc. (see Section 2.1):

My mobile phone wouldn't work in the mountains so we had to find a callbox.

His reputation is such that his competitors are in awe of him.

Purpose clauses

Purpose clauses show why people do things, or what their intention is when they do them. We use a to-infinitive, or a conjunction e.g. in order to, so as to, etc. (see Section 2.2):

They stopped to look at the map.

Vehicles have been fitted with catalytic converters in order to reduce pollution.

Concession clauses

Concession clauses link statements which contrast with one another in a surprising way, often expressing something unexpected. We use conjunctions such as however, although, etc. (see Section 3):

Even though it's freezing cold, Pam insists on wearing a miniskirt.

I love travelling, though I find airports tiring.

-ing clauses

We can also use -ing clauses to express time and reason relationships (see Section 1):

Watching the advert for digital TV, Ben wondered about the technology involved.

Having realised that you were going to be late, you should have phoned to change your appointment.

2 REASONS FOR USING LINKING CLAUSES

Using different structures to show the relationship between events allows us to be more precise about the relationship. It also adds variety to simple or dull language. Compare the following examples:

- She walked into the room with the stolen picture and looked around carefully. She established that she was alone and walked over to the window. She opened it and immediately it started to rain heavily.*
- Walking into the room with the stolen picture, she looked around carefully. Once she had established that she was alone, she walked over to the window. Hardly had she got it open when it began to rain heavily.*

3 POSITION OF LINKING CLAUSES

The order of the two clauses can change as long as the relationship remains clear. We commonly place the more important information at the end:

I carried on working, although I felt really tired.

(= focus on feeling tired)

Although I felt really tired, I carried on working.

(= focus on working)

watch out!

- We don't normally use will after words like when, as soon as, until, once and in case in time clauses:
 - ✗ I'll wait here until the repair man will come.
 - I'll wait here in case he will turn up later.*
 - ✓ I'll wait here until the repair man comes.
 - I'll wait here in case he turns up later.*
- We can sometimes use the same word to introduce different types of linking clauses, for example:
 - While you have a point, we can't alter your contract, I'm afraid.* (= concession)
 - While you're on the phone, let's talk about next weekend.* (= time)

SECTION I

Time and Reason

1 TIME CLAUSES

We can use different linking words and phrases in time clauses to be more precise about:

- when things started (since, ever since):
Ever since she read an article on dishonest hotel owners, Fotini has found things to complain about.
- things happening at the same time (as, while, whilst, when):
While the bath was running, she checked the state of the towels. As she was doing so, she noticed a hole in one of them. Whilst she waited for the bath to fill, she switched on the TV. (= formal)
- one thing following another (after, before, as soon as, when, once, etc.):
She began to get more irritated when she realised the TV wasn't working. She decided to ring reception as soon as she'd finished her bath. Once she'd had her bath, she was feeling much better. Now that she was relaxed, she could cope better with the problems. After she'd waited half an hour for someone to mend the TV, she became edgy.
- one thing following another very quickly (no sooner...than, the moment / minute..., etc.):
On phoning reception yet again, she was told that the repairman was on his way. She'd hardly put down the phone when there was a knock on the door. Immediately he'd finished, the repairman left. She'd no sooner switched on the TV than there was an enormous explosion.
- every time (when, whenever, every time):
When she sent letters to the hotel, they never replied. Whenever she went back in person, they said the owner was unavailable.
- when things finish (until, by the time..., etc.):
Fotini wrote and phoned for three months, at which point she lost patience. She was determined to fight on until she got some satisfaction. She finally contacted a solicitor, by which time the hotel had closed down.

-ING CLAUSES

We can use an -ing form after (ever) since, after, before, while, when, whenever:

Since reading that article, Colin's refused to eat red meat.

After waiting for ages for a table, we decided to try another restaurant.

2 REASON CLAUSES

Ways of introducing reasons:

- because is much more common than the others, especially to answer Why...?:
I didn't say anything because you'd have been angry.
Because I'll be in tonight, I'll baby-sit.
- since, as often introduce reasons that the listener or reader already knows:
Since you don't like pizza, let's buy fish and chips.
As you've seen the film, let's go somewhere else.
- (just) in case is used to talk about things that may possibly happen:
Don't leave him alone in case something happens.
- seeing that meaning 'since':
Seeing that we're agreed, we might as well go ahead.
- in that, insofar as, inasmuch as are used in fairly formal English to justify what we have just said, often by indicating why the statement is true:
He's rather untrustworthy, in that he conveniently forgets that he owes you money.
We're expecting a busy summer insofar as bookings are already up for August.
This product is guaranteed inasmuch as we'll replace it if you return it within thirty days.
- for is used in very formal or literary contexts only:
He was very nervous for he was being videoed.
- ing clauses are used to express reason relationships:
We queued for over two hours, hoping to get tickets to the concert.
Having passed my driving test, I thought I could hire a car.

Which of the phrases can begin the sentence?

- Immediately he saw her
- On seeing her
- He had no sooner seen her he tried to attract
- Seeing that she hadn't noticed her attention.
him
- The moment he saw her

Practice

1 Write a correct version for each of the following sentences.

Example: As soon as I will get the answer, I'll let you know.

As soon as I get the answer, I'll let you know.

- After 1997, exports have been booming.
- When I'll get back, I'll tell you all about it.
- When examining it more closely, he realised that the ticket was for the next day.
- Once she will have understood the procedures, she'll work much faster.
- I'd no sooner taken my seat when the fire alarm went off.
- As our bus didn't leave for another hour, so we didn't have to rush.

2 Match the first halves of sentences (1–5) with the second halves (a–e) and connect them with one of the linking words listed below.

Example: O by which time f while on now that the minute once (by which time)

- | | |
|--|--|
| (0 We played tennis from three until six,) | a I had read the first few chapters. |
| 1 I understand why you don't like her | b hearing the result of the tests. |
| 2 I think I must have dropped my keys | c I was walking to work this morning. |
| 3 She was bound to contact the police | d I've finally met her. |
| 4 He phoned his wife immediately | e she discovered her diamonds missing. |
| 5 I began to enjoy the novel | (f I was exhausted.) |

3 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

I had no (1) sat down and opened the menu than she came in, smiling, slightly swaying, her arm outstretched. (2) catching sight of her, I realised that all the time I had been half-hoping for this, (3) since I boarded the plane. And the (4) she sat down, it was as if she had been expecting me, as if we had arranged to meet the night before. We had (5) exchanged opening pleasantries when behind me I heard the waiter, with remarkable intuition, ask whether he should bring champagne. We began talking wildly, questioning and answering, laughing between smiles. (6) I complimented her on her English, she pouted, (7) it was nowhere near as fluent as it had been. It was not (8) the first bottle of champagne had been emptied that the conversation drifted inexorably to the past and it was only (9) that awkwardness and tentativeness crept in. (10) time passed, an air of unreality seemed to descend upon the proceedings. By the (11) we had finished our starters, our bursts of conversation had become shorter, less animated, and the pauses between them correspondingly longer. We finished the second bottle in resigned silence, at (12) point her eyes were clearly filling up with tears.

4 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the words given in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before it.

Example: The training covered all the techniques and was therefore pretty comprehensive. (insofar)
The training was pretty comprehensive insofar as it covered all the techniques.

- I'm half German and so can speak the language fluently. (being)
- The traffic may be heavy on the motorway so let's avoid it. (in case)
- You're not busy so come and give me a hand. (seeing)
- Their failure to implement even one item in their manifesto would seem to indicate that this government is ineffective. (inasmuch)

5 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before it.

Example: When she finds out what you've done, she'll immediately inform the police.

The moment she finds out what you've done, she'll inform the police.

- Daniel was busy with his computer game, giving me time to look round his room.
While
- Finish eating first. Then you can watch television.
You can't
- The missing boy was last seen just before Christmas.
Nobody
- After the first few minutes, I began to enjoy the film.
Once
- I turned on the TV and the doorbell rang a moment later.
I'd no

SECTION 2

Result and Purpose

1 RESULT CLAUSES

Ways of introducing result clauses include:

so...(that)

So comes at the beginning of the result clause:

There were nine of us so we had to bring more chairs.

- We also use so before adjectives and adverbs followed by a that-clause (we can omit that):
He was so fed up (that) he threatened to resign.
So disgusted were they by the bad language (that) they walked out. (= formal) such...(that)

We use such before a noun or an adjective + noun, followed by a that-clause (we can omit that):

They had such a great time (that) no one wanted to go home. Such was our annoyance (that) we refused to cooperate further. (= formal)

- We use in such a way that and in such a way as to meaning 'with the result that':
He designed the room in such a way that it looked bigger than it actually was.
The city centre is signposted in such a way as to completely confuse most tourists.

Other ways of expressing result include:

- Therefore, consequently, and as a result are adverbials that help to express result:
Sales are down. Therefore there'll be no pay rise this year.
We didn't eat the shellfish and consequently weren't as sick as everyone else.
There was a shortage of lifeboats on the Titanic and 1500 people died as a result.
- We can use otherwise and or else to express the consequences of not doing something:
We need to speed up, otherwise we'll be late.
Let's put the price up or else we'll make no profit at all.

2 PURPOSE CLAUSES

Ways of introducing purpose clauses include:

to-infinitive

The most common way to express purpose is to use a to-infinitive (called an 'infinitive of purpose'), especially to express one particular purpose:

I phoned to find out if he was still there.
I didn't do it to annoy you.

in order to and so as to

We use in order to and so as to:

- to emphasise intentions or requirements:
I arrived early so as to / in order to appear keen.
- to express a negative motive or purpose:
In order not to be misunderstood, let me put it another way.
I told him when he was alone so as not to embarrass him in public.
- to avoid confusion with other uses of to-infinitive:
I helped him in order to make sure he arrived safely.
I helped him to get the answer. (= not an infinitive of purpose) in order that and so that

We use in order that and so that when the second subject begins with a noun or pronoun:

- ✗ I've drawn a map for you in order to find the house.
- ✓ I've drawn a map for you in order that you can find the house.

Other ways of expressing purpose include:

- We use for in front of nouns to express purpose:
They did it for a laugh.
- We often use for + -ing with a similar meaning to a to-infinitive:
We use this Allen key for tightening the screws.
We use this Allen key to tighten the screws.
- We use for fear of / that (and lest in very formal English) to introduce possible consequences that we are trying to avoid:
They left at night for fear of being followed.
He locked his drawer lest somebody should look in it overnight.

See Section 4 for other ways of expressing purpose.

? check

Mark (P) next to sentences that contain a purpose clause, and (R) next to those with a result clause.

- Such was their confusion that my parents ended up getting totally lost.
- So brilliant a footballer was he that he played for his country at the age of 18.
- I worked hard so that my mother wouldn't complain.
- We'd left early to make sure we got there in time.
- They played loud music every evening, so the neighbours began to complain.

Practice

1 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the word given.

Example: I've left this because I want you to finish it. (for) I've left this for you to finish.

- a I felt really ill and had to leave. (that)
- b It was a really boring film and I walked out half way through. (such)
- c If we don't get there soon there won't be any seats left. (otherwise)
- d Let's meet tomorrow to sort out any remaining difficulties. (in order that)
- e I took the country roads because I didn't want to get stuck in traffic. (so as)

2 A word is missing from most of the numbered pairs of lines in the passage. Mark the place with a line/ and write in the missing word on the right. If a pair of lines does not need a word added, put a tick (✓). The first two pairs have been done for you.

- f I'll give you this microphone in say can be heard by everyone.
- g I always take my mobile phone so as lost.
- h The judge gave him so long out of prison until he was 110 years old.

4 Finish each sentence in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before it.

- Example: Nicholas hadn't worked there for long, so not many people knew him.*
 Nicholas had been there for so short a time that not many people knew him.
- a Let's remind ourselves of the agenda before we forget the purpose of this meeting.
 In order that
 - b The elephant's strength means that it's in great demand when any heavy work is required.

 - c Bill had a very strong personality and many of us were frightened of him.
 So
 - d I'll call you Phil, and you Philip, so that we don't get totally confused.
 So as to
 - e The illegal immigrants gave false names because they didn't want to be identified.
 For fear

SECTION 3

Concession clauses

Concession clauses give information that contrasts with or opposes the facts in the main clause in an unexpected way. These clauses can be introduced with conjunctions such as although, (even) though, however, etc. Some of these words and phrases introduce the known or background information; others introduce the unexpected contrast.

1 POSITION OF LINKING WORDS AND PHRASES

Concession clauses can come as the first or second part of a sentence:

I stayed until the end, although I was very bored.

(= focus on being bored)

Although I was extremely bored, I stayed until the end.

(= focus on staying)

watch out!

It's important to use the conjunction with the right part of the sentence:

✗ It was much too hot, even though I went out.

✓ Even though it was much too hot, I went out.

- We often express contrast or opposition by starting a second sentence with an adverbial:
The weather was terrible. Nevertheless, we decided to go ahead with the picnic. Personally, I'm dead against the plan. However, I think I'm in the minority.
- Some adverbials and phrases can come at the end of the second sentence:
I saw my ex-fiancé last night. We didn't speak, though. I'm afraid I can't come. It was nice of you to invite me, all the same.

2 INTRODUCING BACKGROUND INFORMATION

We use many different patterns and structures to express concession.

- We use the conjunctions although, though and even though followed by a verb phrase:
Although she knew about his past, she couldn't help loving him. She's decided to travel alone, even though she's been warned.
- While and whilst (formal) can replace although:
While I see your point, I still think you're wrong. Whilst Anne's usually pleasant, she can often be bad-tempered.

- We use the pattern adjective / adverb + as or though + subject + verb in emphatic sentences:
Hard as they tried, the two sides couldn't agree a peace settlement. Difficult though it was, they finally managed to reach a compromise.
- We use much as, meaning 'although', with verbs such as like, hate, etc. to talk about strong feelings:
Much as I detest the idea of punishing children, I can see it has its uses.
- The prepositions in spite of and despite can be followed by a noun phrase or -ing form:
In spite of the price, I've decided to buy the car. Despite feeling dreadful, Max went swimming.
- We use a family of words ending -ever, e.g. however, whatever, whoever, to express the idea 'no matter how, what, who, etc.':
However many times you ask me, I'm not moving. Whichever day you visit, I won't be at home.

3 INTRODUCING THE UNEXPECTED CONTRAST

In everyday English, but is the most frequent word to introduce a contrast:

She may be annoying sometimes, but I love her.

- We often add another word or phrase to strengthen the contrast:
He left me in the lurch, but still I have tender feelings for him. I know standards have changed, but even so such scenes on TV aren't acceptable.
- We use a range of adverbs and adverbial phrases to introduce a second sentence that introduces a contrast. They follow a full-stop, a semi-colon or a dash (–):
I felt really tired. Nevertheless I continued dancing. I felt really tired. Even so, I went on dancing. I felt really tired – however, I carried on dancing. I felt really tired; all the same, I refused to stop dancing.

? check

Correct the following sentences.

- There were minutes left to the deadline, even though we refused to panic.
- Our project is meeting with considerable success, much as we might like it.
- I spent hours on the Internet even so I knew I was wasting my time.
- Despite of his youth, he had a very mature approach to life.
- Fines are a good way of punishing people, however they are of no use if they cannot be paid.

Practice

1 Rewrite each of the following sentences using the words given. Make any necessary changes to punctuation.

- a We've got no money, but we're very happy. (even)
- b The wind blew all the time, but we still managed to enjoy ourselves. (nevertheless)
- c I like her new boyfriend but I don't trust him. (however)
- d I know there's an economic recession, but our profits should still be higher. (all the same)
- e Reorganisation is a good idea but it would cause friction in this department. (while)
- f I love Sting's music, but I still thought his latest CD was disappointing. (much)
- g In spite of her inexperience, I still think we should take her on. (and yet)
- h My grandad's over ninety, but still manages to remain active. (even so)

2 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

Human nature is a strange thing. This summer I worked for a man my family know to be pleasant, the type who'd agree to have coffee with you even (1) he was terribly busy. Even (2), he turned out to be the most impossible person to work for. (3) you do is always unsatisfactory, (4) hard you work and (5) matter how many hours of overtime you do, it's never enough for him. Despite (6) a quiet man, he manages to project such an aggressive image in his café. His employees try to do their best, out of fear or a genuine desire to do a good job, and (7) he tears them off a strip every hour of the day. You may think I'm exaggerating (8) I'm not. During the height of the season he forced five waitresses to hand in their notice (9) though they were perfectly competent. All the (10), I carried on working there every evening. And he really missed the staff who left. (11), he'd never admit it. I didn't know what to do. (12) as I'd have liked to, I didn't think confronting him about his temper would work, (13) you might put that down to cowardice. Incredible (14) it may seem, in (15) of him, the café has a reputation for being a very friendly place. Strange, isn't it?

3 Combine each pair of sentences using the linking word given.

Example: Alan's behaved terribly towards me.
Nevertheless, I still feel something for him.
even

I still feel something for Alan even though he's behaved terribly towards me.

- a There has been strong European competition. We have secured the order, all the same.
yet
- b The future for rain forests looks bleak. However, no one is giving up.
although
- c There are many dissenters, yes. At the same time, there are many who think as we do.
despite
- d I've always been honest about my feelings. You, on the other hand, have not.
whereas
- e I know there is a moral code with regard to customers. Even so, I think in this case we might go ahead.
spite

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the sentence printed before it.

- a Grey is this year's colour. Even so, I look dull in it.
Although
- b It didn't matter how hard we tried, we still couldn't get him to lower the price.
Hard
- c I love chips, but my doctor says they're bad for me.
Much
- d They'd never agree to sell their land even if you offered them substantial sums.
However
- e I'm not working overtime, however often they ask me.
No
- f My car still runs surprisingly well considering it is over ten years old.
Even
- g I like the lyrics, despite the fact that I think the music is dreadful.
While
- h His daughter has startling intelligence, though she wastes most evenings playing computer games.
Intelligent

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Expressing purpose and effect

Apart from linking clauses, we can express purpose and result in other ways.

1 PURPOSE AND INTENTION

We can use vocabulary items with meanings related to purpose and intention in different parts of speech.

- We often express purpose and intention using verbs:
I mean / plan / intend / aim / hope to retire before I'm 45.
- We can also use nouns:
My goal / dream / (short-term) plan / (sincere) hope / (ultimate) aim / (stated) intention / (overriding) ambition is to jump over 16 metres.
- Adjectives can also express such ideas:
I'm eager / keen / determined / resolved / tempted to see the world before I settle down.
- Noun and verbal phrases can likewise express aims and intentions:
Pam has high hopes of winning. They've no intention of backing down. John has no thoughts of marrying. I've half a mind to resign. I'm toying with the idea of moving. I've made up my mind to leave. He's set his heart on getting a moped. She harbours a dream of getting married in the Seychelles.
- Prepositional phrases can also express purpose and motive:
She did the course in the hope of getting / with a view to getting / with the aim of getting a job in graphic design.

1 Fill each of the gaps below with one of these nouns.

- aim point reason
- Surely the whole of learning a language is to be able to use it?
 - The for this broadcast is to announce changes in taxation for the coming fiscal year.
 - The ultimate of the organisation is to promote international understanding.

2 Fill each of the blanks with one suitable word.

- They're to sell with a view making a quick profit while the going's good.
- I've every of completing the course because I'm intent becoming qualified.
- I'm of a to tell him that I've no thoughts giving in my notice.

2 RESULT, CAUSE AND EFFECT

Verb and noun structures, as well as adverbial phrases, can express result, cause and effect.

Verb	Noun
Money affects attitudes.	Money has an effect on attitudes.
Peer pressure influences teenagers.	Peer pressure has an influence on teenagers.
Statistics will shape / determine / mould / dictate policy.	Statistics will have a bearing on policy.
This will entail / involve / necessitate further research.	There will be a need for further research as a result / in consequence .
Stress stems from many things.	This will have long-term repercussions / far-reaching implications .
	Stress has its roots in many things.

3 Which of these words is not both a noun and a verb?

SECTION 5

Agreeing or not

1 NOT GIVING IN

Here are phrases we use to show we are unwilling to make concessions. There are many others:
standing firm not taking no for an answer holding out for all you can get remaining adamant rejecting compromise staying put

1 Fill the gaps with one of these words.

- guns ground blank inch foot heels
- a sticking to your e digging in your
- b not giving an f putting your
- c standing your down
- d refusing point to budge

2 WEIGHING THINGS UP

Phrases we use to show we are undecided and are considering issues include:

I'm sitting on the fence.

I must weigh things up / weigh up the arguments / see both sides of the issue / get an overview.

We must bear in mind his lack of qualifications, but we should take his experience into account / consideration.

We should also make allowances for his youth.

Considering his age, he's done remarkably well.

He's suitable, albeit rather young, for the job. (formal)

For a young salesman his track-record is good.

We can't ignore the specific requirements of the job, and certainly not rule out the need for computer skills.

Perhaps we need to compromise.

We need to balance the pros and cons.

Let's sleep on it / ponder a while.

1 In most lines of the following text, there is one unnecessary word. It is either grammatically incorrect or it does not fit in with the sense of the text. For each numbered line 1–16, write the unnecessary word in the spaces. Some lines are correct. Indicate these with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

There is a very outspoken group of people who want to ban hunting wild animals. Their argument is [✓]such that killing animals 1 is cruel and unnecessary, while especially in those cases where
 2 animals are hunted more for sport than for eating or for purposes
 3 of such conservation. While there are others who find this total
 4 opposition an example of blind prejudice, the majority of people
 5 view the debate with somewhat mixed feelings such as the issue can 6 quickly become a moral minefield. Is hunting animals because of 7 they are pests, like foxes, less acceptable than killing them
 8 for food? And where does fishing fit into the discussions? Not so that 9 much as those who catch a few fish to eat or sell, but rather 10 those people who spend hour after hour immediately sitting on the 11 river bank with no intention of the killing or eating their catch.
 12 On to a fish being caught, the 'sportsman' weighs it, photographs it 13 if it is large enough and worth boasting about, and then returns it to 14 the water, often with a so nasty wound in its mouth from the 15 hook, in order that to be caught again another day. Should this pastime 16 of millions of people, bizarre even though it may be, also be banned?

OVERVIEW

1 ADJECTIVES

Adjectives describe nouns. We normally use adjectives in two positions – before nouns and after ‘link’ verbs (be, seem, appear, become, feel, look, taste, sound, smell, get, etc.):

What a pleasant man! He seemed pleasant.

- We can use many adjectives in both positions, but we use others in either one position or the other:
It was an outright victory. I'm glad you could come.
- Here are more examples of adjectives commonly used before nouns:

countless indoor neighbouring maximum northern

- Here are examples of adjectives used after verbs:
awake content asleep aware glad afraid alive sure alone alike

2 FORMING ADVERBS FROM ADJECTIVES

We can turn most adjectives into adverbs by adding -ly (see Section 1.3). There may be spelling variations:

slow	slowly	quick	quickly
possible	possibly	automatic	automatically
easy	easily	satisfactory	satisfactorily
true	truly	full	fully

- We can also form some adverbs from nouns by adding -ly:
hour hourly part partly

Adjectives and adverbs with the same form

Some adjectives have the same form when they are adverbs:

Adjective	Adverb
I was the first person there.	I arrived first.
That's a fine distinction.	That suits us fine.
The truck hit the low bridge.	The plane swooped low.

- Some adjectives end in -ly, like monthly and early, and have the same form as adjective and adverb. Others can't be transformed into adverbs. Instead we have to use a phrase:
He had a friendly attitude.
He behaved in a friendly way.
- Other adjectives like this include:
costly cowardly deadly likely lively lonely silly ugly lovely

3 ADVERBIAL PHRASES

An adverbial phrase (an ‘adjunct’) is a group of words that works like an adverb to say when, how, etc. something happens. They can be:

- prepositional phrases:
Why don't you leave all that on the table?
- noun phrases:
I wouldn't have put it that way.
- adverb phrases:
I think you've all done very well indeed.

4 POSITION AND ORDER OF ADVERBS

We usually put an adverb after an object:

✗ I play very well the piano.

✓ I play the piano very well.

- Adverbs and adverbial phrases usually go at the end of the sentence, and usually in the order ‘how’ → ‘where’ → ‘when’:
They were playing quietly in the garden last night.
- We can move one of these adverbs to the beginning of the sentence for emphasis or focus:
Last night they were playing quietly in the garden. (= focusing on ‘when’) In the garden, they were all playing quietly. (= focusing on ‘where’)
- Adverbs of manner can also go before the verb:
The villagers slowly walked round the square.

OTHER ADVERBS

We usually put adverbs of frequency (always, often, etc.) before the verb or at the end of the phrase:

I quite often drive past their house.

I drive past their house quite often.

- These adverbs usually go after the first auxiliary verb:
I've just seen Dominic.
I've frequently been swimming with him.

Note the variety of positions of still, already, and yet:

I still haven't finished. I've still not finished.

Is she still here?

They've already been here. They've been here already.

Are they here already? Are they already here?

I haven't finished yet. Haven't you finished yet?

I haven't yet finished.

We use only and even in two main positions:

- before the subject they focus on:
I think only John really understands this point.
Even Simon is a bit confused.
- before the verb:
I only like the green ones.
I even think that the red ones are ugly.

SECTION I

Adjective structures; adjective or adverb?

1 ADJECTIVES AFTER NOUNS

We can use some adjectives before and after nouns. A change in position involves a change of meaning:

the present circumstances (= now)
the people present (= who are here) an involved explanation (= complicated) the people involved (= who took part) a concerned expression (= worried) the people concerned (= affected) a responsible person (= sensible) the people responsible (= who did it)

- There are a very few adjectives that we can only use after nouns:

presents galore the President elect the Prime Minister designate

2 STRUCTURES AFTER ADJECTIVES

We use a to-infinitive after some adjectives following 'link' verbs, e.g. be, feel, etc:

It's bound to rain later. I'm willing to try.
I'm loath to commit myself. I'm inclined to agree.
The situation is liable to change. They don't seem able to help at the moment. We're due to arrive soon. I'm prepared to compromise.

- We use a that-clause after some adjectives referring to people's beliefs and feelings. (As is normal in that-clauses, we can omit that):

I'm pleased (that) you've found a good job.

Here are more examples of these adjectives:

aware certain afraid sorry surprised upset worried sad anxious sure frightened confident

- We use a prepositional phrase after some adjectives. The preposition collocates with the adjective:

Nobody is immune from criticism.

Here are more examples:

ashamed of devoid of integral to subject to descended from lacking in compatible with intent on filled with characteristic of

3 ADJECTIVE OR ADVERB?

We use some adjectives after link verbs (see Overview, 1). We can normally distinguish between an adjective, which describes the noun, and an adverb, which usually adds information about the verb:

Adjective	Adverb
I got the answer right.	It's easy, as you rightly say.
I think you're wrong.	He was wrongly convicted.
Close the lid tight.	Hold on tightly.
She looks pretty.	She sang very prettily.
Now wipe it clean.	It broke clean in two.

- Some adverbs have two forms: an -ly form and one that looks like an adjective. These two forms may have different meanings:

He arrived late. (= not on time)

I haven't seen him lately. (= recently)

We're flying direct. (= by the shortest route)

I'll tell you directly. (= immediately)

The dancer leapt high. He's highly thought of.

It was raining hard. It hardly matters now.

I like diving deep. We deeply regret the move.

You've got it all wrong. The letter was wrongly addressed.

Be there at 12 sharp. I was sharply reprimanded.

- In informal spoken English, we use some adjectives as adverbs with no change of form, although an -ly version exists:
The boy shouted as loud as he could to a passing yacht.
- Adjectives we commonly use in this way include:
cheap quick slow kind real
- Here are some common phrases that use adjectives after verbs:
He fell flat on his face. His jokes fell flat. He's still going strong. Hold tight! Feel free to look around. Take it easy! Turn sharp right.

- I know I should be ashamed admit that I am saddened young Paula's being written out of my favourite soap. It's a pretty awful thing have to admit, but I really am upset she's leaving.

SECTION 2

Inversion after negative adverbs

(For inversion in conditionals after should, had, etc. see Unit 5, Sections 3.4 and 4. For inversion in result clauses after such, so, see Unit 6, Section 2.1)

1 WHAT IS INVERSION?

When we begin a sentence with a negative adverb or adverbial phrase, we sometimes have to change the usual word order of subject and verb (often using an auxiliary verb such as do):

I had never seen so many people in one room.

(= normal word order)

Never had I seen so many people in one room.*

(= inversion)

✗ ~~Not only he was good looking, he was also very intelligent.~~

✓ Not only was he good looking, he was also very intelligent.

2 WHEN WE USE INVERSION

We use inversion when we move a negative adverb (never, nowhere, not only, etc.) to the beginning of a sentence. We do this because we want to emphasise the meaning of the adverb.

Time relationships

- We use inversion after 'negative' adverbs which emphasise a time relationship at the beginning of a sentence:

No sooner had I put the phone down than it rang again.

Hardly / Scarcely / Barely had I got my breath back when it was time to go again.*

- We use inversion with phrases that use not:
Not until he apologises will I speak to him again.
Not since I was little have I had so much fun.
Not for one minute do I imagine they'll come back.
- We use inversion with some time phrases that use only:
Only after several weeks did she begin to recover.*
Only later did she realise what had happened.*
Only then did he remember he hadn't got his keys.*
Only when I've finished this will I be able to think about anything else.*

Here are more examples:

only recently only in the last few days only last week only five minutes earlier

watch out!

After not until, only when and only after, the inversion is in the main part of the sentence:

✗ ~~Not until did I see him I remembered we had met before.~~

✓ Not until I saw him did I remember we had met before.

Frequency

We also use inversion after 'negative' adverbs which emphasise frequency at the beginning of a sentence:

Never have I been so taken aback. Rarely do they fail to get away for a holiday. Seldom is that pop group out of the news. Hardly ever did he wear a suit.*

- We can also use inversion after 'negative' adverbs at the beginning of a sentence to emphasise how infrequently things happen:
Little did she realise what was about to happen.
Nowhere was a replacement to be found.*

General emphasis

We often use inversion for general emphasis with phrases that use only:

Only by patience and hard work will we find a solution.*

Only in this way do we stand any chance of success.*

- and we can also use phrases with no:
In no way should this be regarded as an end of the matter.
On no account are you to repeat this to anyone.
Under no circumstances can we accept the offer.*

3 NOT USING INVERSION

We use inversion when the adverb modifies the verb, and not when it modifies the noun:

Rarely seen during the day, the badger is a famously shy animal. (= no inversion)*

Hardly anyone knows about it. (= no inversion)*

? check

Tick (✓) the sentences which do not contain inversion.

- Nowhere have I seen anything like this.
- Never give up until you have tried all the alternatives.
- Only by paying the fees in full can we guarantee a place on the course.
- Hardly anyone applied for the job.
- Not since the 1940s has there been such poverty.

 - 7 No way should his laundry be done for him unless
 - 8 Only very rarely should a garment be ironed for him
 - 9 In exceptional circumstances
 - 10 But, only if he seems really desperate
- a learn how to switch on the vacuum cleaner.
 - b should you try to solve his problems for him.
 - c without the assurance that next time he will do it himself.
 - d you may take what he says seriously.
 - e it is in his own interests to do so.
 - f he is prepared to lend a hand with the washing up.
 - g be disturbed while watching a football match on television.
 - h persuaded to pick his clothes off the floor.
 - (i he should also be deluded into thinking you agree with him.)
 - (j you let him realise he isn't the boss.)

4 Fill each blank with a suitable word.

Memo to teaching staff

We have a problem. Rarely (1) we had a student population like this one. (2) since the 1980s can I remember so many troublesome students in our school at any one time. Not only (3) some of them treat the staff with absolute scorn, (4) they are also clearly (5) on causing as much trouble as possible among their peers. On (6) account can such behaviour be allowed to continue. And not for one (7) should the ringleaders think they will not be punished. Only (8) such punishment is carried out will confidence return to the student body and (9) then will school life return to some kind of normality. Under no circumstances (10) we allow the present state of affairs to continue.

SECTION 3

Making comparisons

1 FORMING COMPARATIVES

We can make adjectives and adverbs comparative with -er... than or more / less + adj / adv ... than:

He was much older than I remembered him.

(= comparative adjective) He drove far less carefully than he should have. (= comparative adverb)

- Some adverbs, have an -er comparative:
You should have come earlier.
- Adverbs ending in -ly (formed from adjectives) use more or less:
He started to work even more hurriedly.

2 SAME OR DIFFERENT

We can use the following structures and phrases to say that one thing is the same as, or different from, another:

Ben has much the same mannerisms as his father.

He has different mannerisms from his sister.

They're not as intelligent as their father.

Neither are anything like as intelligent as I am.

This is nothing like as cold as it is in January.

Your first attempt is nowhere near as good.

- In the positive we only use as...as. In the negative, we can also use so...as:
Grandad doesn't get about so easily as he used to.
- We use such + noun + as in negative sentences. Note the change in position of a / an:
I didn't have such a good time as last week. (= I didn't have as good a time as...)
- We can use as in a form of inversion with an auxiliary verb:
People can no longer climb the tower at Pisa, as was possible until a few years ago.
- We can also use superlatives with the; we often follow these with a that-clause:
This is the best burger that I've ever tasted.
- When the superlative isn't followed by a noun or that-clause, we can omit the:
I think this one is (the) best.

3 DOUBLE COMPARATIVES

We use double comparatives with the to say that one thing results in another:

The more we discuss this, the less I understand it.

The longer I carried the box, the heavier it became.

4 PREFERENCES

There are various ways to express preference:

I prefer (playing) basketball to football.

I would prefer to stay here than go out so late.

I'd sooner die than have to go through all that again.

I'd far rather do it now than leave it till later.

Rather than watch rubbish on TV, I'd prefer to go out.

5 AS AND LIKE

When followed by a noun, we use as to give a description, and like to make a comparison:

Peter works as a waiter. (= he's a waiter)

He works like a farm horse. (= comparison)

- When we make comparisons, like is followed by a noun phrase. As is a conjunction and is followed by a verb phrase. Although like is used very informally with verb phrases, it is best avoided:
X He looks ~~as~~ me.
They get up early every morning like I do.
✓ He looks like me.
They get up early every morning, as I do.

6 AS IF AND AS THOUGH

We use as if and as though to say what seems to be true, happening, etc:

He looks as if / as though he's going to be sick.

- We can use Unreal Past or subjunctive (see Unit 5, Section 1) after as if or as though to emphasise that the comparison is imaginary:
She looks as if she knew what's going to happen. (= she doesn't) She looks as if she knows what's going to happen. (= maybe she does)
- We can use just or exactly + as if / though to emphasise the comparison. Much or almost + as if / though weakens the comparison:
He looks just as though he'd won a million dollars.
They look almost as if they didn't want to be here.

Unit seven

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Differences and similarities

1 COLLOCATION

We can use a number of adjective / noun or adverb / verb collocations to say how different or similar people or things are. Other adjectives may have a similar meaning, but we can't use them because they don't collocate (see Unit 1, Section 6):

- ✗ There's a noted / wide / strong difference.
- ✓ There's a marked / perceptible / vast / clear difference.

1 Underline the following verbs that collocate with the noun comparison.

This computer game makes / draws / puts / avoids / bears / invites / takes comparison with the best on the market.

2 Underline the following adjectives that collocate with the noun similarity.

There's a marked / striking / resonant / distinct / weak / little similarity between the two boys.

3 Underline the following adverbs that collocate with the verb compare.

The new product compares favourably / well / closely / fairly / unfavourably with the old one.

2 SYNONYMS AND NEAR-SYNONYMS

Sometimes synonyms are virtually interchangeable:

This is one of the biggest / greatest days in our country's history.

- However, in different contexts, differences may emerge:
We need a bigger area / room / table / auditorium!
What a great idea / gesture / privilege / honour!

4 Underline the adjective that we can use in this sentence.

His achievement in winning the silver medal was matchless / peerless / unequalled / unique / incomparable / outstanding.

3 MODIFIERS

We often want to comment on how big a difference is. To do so we use modifying adjectives, adverbs and adverbial phrases in comparisons:

Home-made pizza is miles better than the rubbish you get in the supermarket.

There's still a substantial difference between the two main Parties.

5 Underline the modifiers that we can use in these two sentences.

- a He was considerably / slightly / much / fairly / quite / rather / immeasurably / far better than when we last saw him.
- b They are nowhere near / nothing like / not quite / not that / not virtually as efficient as when we last used them five years ago.

4 LINKING PHRASES

We can use linking phrases to replace smaller than, as big as, etc:

One teaspoon is equivalent to about 5ml.

6 Underline the words and phrases that we can use in this sentence.

This year's numbers were very small as against / relating to / in contrast to / compared to / whereas / tantamount to / equated to / in comparison with / comparable to the vast numbers we had last year.

5 IDIOMATIC PHRASES

We can use a number of idiomatic phrases in comparisons:

Using e-mail is as easy as falling off a log.

Don't go in there like a bull in a china shop and upset everyone.

7 Fill the gap in the phrases below with one of these words.

British v. American English

Millions of words have been written in an attempt to compare (0) the two languages, pointing out how they (1) but are still recognisably the 'same' language. Clearly no one should (2) against the American species just because it is the younger partner. Some people have (3) the difference to that between a horse and a mule, but that does not go very far towards (4) between the two languages. They are rather two breeds of horse that have (5) very slightly over the years. Some points of British English grammar (6) quite sharply with American English, but the fact remains that accent (7) as much within each country as between the two.

SECTION 5

Sentence adverbs

1 WHAT ARE SENTENCE ADVERBS?

Essentially, sentence adverbs are adverbs or adverbial phrases that comment on a whole sentence or part of a sentence:

By and large, they are separated from the rest of the sentence by a comma. Generally speaking, they go at the beginning of the sentence. However, some can go at the end, apparently. Moreover, we can certainly put some in the middle.

1 Underline the sentence adverbs or adverbial phrases.

- We got to the airport with half an hour to spare which, all things considered, was a miracle.
- I suppose with hindsight it would have been wiser to take the bus.

2 WHEN DO WE USE SENTENCE ADVERBS?

Sentence adverbs have a number of uses including organising information, commenting, giving examples, changing the subject, rephrasing and summarising:

Firstly, we use them to show how the sentence fits in with the rest of the text. Alternatively, we may use them to express our attitude to what we are about to say. In other words, we use them to comment on what we think or feel. On the whole, they make it easier to understand what is going on. Funnily enough, the two sentence adverbials that students of English get most confused about are 'On the contrary' and 'On the other hand'.

2 Match the sentence adverbs in italics with the functions (1–4) below.

- It was a long journey but all in all I think it was worth it.
- Our preparation was haphazard and ill-thought out. Thus we were easily defeated.
- I was told to get here for nine o'clock, presumably because something important has come up.
- I know how to do it. That is to say, I think I know how.

- Organising information
- Expressing your attitude
- Rephrasing
- Summarising and generalising

Practice

1 Underline the sentence adverb that best completes each sentence.

- It is impossible to tell whether a man is married or not. On the contrary / On the other hand, women usually have 'Miss' or 'Mrs' before their name.
- 'Your parents didn't want you to go abroad, did they?' On the contrary / On the other hand, they were all for it.'
- These new computers are amazingly fast. On the other hand, / On the contrary, they're very expensive.'
- It took ages to get there but in the end / at the end it was worth it.
- He slept through the entire film and in the end / at the end of it had the nerve to say he enjoyed it.
- As a rule / Fundamentally*, I find French films dull and pretentious.
- On balance / In contrast* I prefer Crete to Rhodes, though it's a close run thing.
- British and American English are characteristically / to all intents and purposes the same.

2 Underline the option a, b, c or d that best completes each sentence.

- She was caught cheating in the race. she was disqualified.
a Accordingly b Equally c Explicitly d Fundamentally
- She wasn't allowed into the country; because her papers aren't in order.
a subsequently b admittedly c presumably d paradoxically
- I wasn't there myself but they had the most almighty row.
a broadly b apparently c conversely d primarily
- My shirt was covered in oil but I had a spare one.
a hopefully b clearly c however d luckily
- She invited me to a party and I said 'yes'.
a naturally b lastly c overall d hopefully
- The decision was a bad one and I think that,, we all recognise that.
a in contrast b in particular c in retrospect
d in consequence
- It's an interesting idea and, at least, has a lot going for it.
a in theory b in fairness c in conclusion
d in reality

8 I dislike Hollywood films but this was an exception.

- a As a result b As far as I know c As a rule d As it turns out

3 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

- a I think Kazantsakis' books are fascinating but at the (1) time his ideas are not particularly easy to understand. (2) a result it takes me ages to get through even one of his shorter works. It's hard work but, all (3) considered, worth it.
- b Strangely (4), the holiday was a great success, though (5) a rule I get really bored lying on a beach. On the (6), I prefer the type of holiday where you are constantly discovering new things. To me, lying around is, to all intents and (7), a complete waste of time.
- c As (8) as we know, there is no other intelligent life in the universe. In (9), of course, there may well be intelligent forms out there, but theory is one thing and proof another. To (10) it bluntly, those who claim to have seen aliens are, (11) and large, nutcases. In the same (12), those who believe in the Loch Ness monster are living in fantasy land. On the other (13), the little green men may invade tomorrow and these words will, (14) hindsight, seem foolish. Though somehow I doubt it.

4 Fill each gap with one of the words or phrases.

let alone to a certain extent predominantly notably on the contrary

- a Most of the people queuing at the Marriage Counsellor's door were under 30, but not exclusively women.
- b I don't resent her being here;, I'm delighted she is.
- c I would never want to hurt another human being, my best friend.
- d He was a strong candidate, in the listening and speaking sections.
- e I can't vote for him but I can see that he's right.

5 Fill each gap with one of the words or phrases.

like it or not primarily believe it or not as regards particularly

- a They split up, because they agreed they were incompatible.
- b It's always rather a bleak area, in the winter.
- c I asked her to lend me £10,000 and,, she agreed.
- d the weather, I just don't know how you can bear to live here.
- e, you're going to have to sell something just to pay the rent.

6 Fill each gap with one of the words or phrases.

when it comes to in some respects not to mention in the main chiefly

- a I have some misgivings but I'm not unhappy I came here.
- b I've got rent, a gas bill and road tax to pay what I owe my dear old dad.
- c She's second to none cooking pasta.
- d I'm glad I came here, because of you.
- e I agree with him, but overall I think I would have to side with her.

7 Fill each of the gaps in these sentences with one suitable word.

Example: Broadly speaking, I agree that, come what may, we just have to persevere.

- a first sight English may seem a simple language but reality that's far from true.
- b you may know, she's leaving; least I'm pretty sure she is.
- c Personally, and incredible it may seem to you, I think chocolate is much overrated.
- d regard to arrival time, we should, things being equal, be there by seven.
- e everyone's surprise, the end she lost her nerve.
- f To be, I think this whole project stinks from to finish.
- g At the of the day and the final analysis, how many trophies we win is what's important.
- h to a point I think he did very well, his lack of experience in that event.
- i a nutshell, we've got to work harder, question about it.
- j the top of my head, I'd say there were over 100 people there, I'm very much mistaken.

Exam practice 7

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

Whether or not we are (1) in the universe is a question that has vexed humankind for centuries. But we are (2) to live in an era when the technology exists to allow us to come (3) to giving an answer. Up to now, (4) only was a belief in the existence of extraterrestrial life often (5) on personal rather than religious conviction, (6) was perhaps (7) much based on faith. But scientifically the possibility cannot be discounted and, perhaps more (8) at any other time in history, the subject is no longer liable (9) be dismissed as a crank's discipline. For example, can we estimate the number of civilisations within our own Milky Way galaxy? These days scientists believe that in some (10) they now have a not (11) knowledge of the factors involved in producing such civilisations.

The rate of formation of suitable stars – that is, ones (12) Earth which are hot (13) to sustain life and live long enough to allow life to evolve – is a (14) starting-point.

Astronomers are confident (15) they can assess this rate of formation at (16) one star per year. However, these stars also need to have habitable planets. (17) in the last five years have scientists found evidence that at least some stars (other than our own star, the Sun) have planetary systems. Broadly (18), perhaps one in ten stars have planets orbiting them. But we also require that these planets are warm enough to have liquid water, a basic component integral (19) life on Earth and presumably life elsewhere, and are not lacking (20) an atmosphere that can both provide protection and sustenance to developing life.

Is war ever justified?

Every day there is news of another war breaking out somewhere in world. Clauswitz claimed that the war is a continuation of the government by other means, but is it necessary? First World War is often used, especially by pacifists, as an example of an unjustifiable war: the European powers allied themselves with each other and for five years killed each other in appalling conditions. What makes the society indulge in such extraordinary behaviour? Is it simply in nature of man to fight? Under any circumstances can the violence ever be justified?

FOR ADJECTIVES AND VERBS AS NOUNS, SEE SECTION 4

OVERVIEW

1 COUNTABLE AND UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS

We use uncountable nouns to talk about things we think of as a mass, rather than countable individual things. We use them with singular verbs.

- It may not be immediately obvious whether nouns are countable or uncountable (see Section 2), and some uncountable nouns in English are countable in other languages. Logic and grammar seem to produce contradictions. Here are a few examples:

Uncountable	Countable
rice	lentils
bread / macaroni	four potatoes
advice	a few suggestions
knowledge	ideas
news / information	these facts
hair	a wig
money	a dollar
marketing	an advertisement
luggage	two suitcases
flu / cancer / measles	a cold / a headache / a heart attack
strawberry jam	a traffic jam

Is that really hair or is it a wig?

- Many nouns can be countable or uncountable depending on the context (see Section 2):

Uncountable	Countable
He's a danger to society.	Britain is a multi-racial society.
I never eat lunch.	He's grown fat through eating so many business lunches.
Work is starting to take over my life.	Beethoven's later works are startlingly original.

2 A / AN, THE OR NO ARTICLE?

A / an are determiners. Determiners are words we use before a noun to show whether the noun is specific or general, singular or plural, etc. (For other determiners, see Unit 9).

A / an

We use a or an with singular countable nouns only.

- A and an are indefinite articles. We use them to talk about one of something when we assume that the listener / reader doesn't know which specific thing (but see Section 2.6):

A car drove past. (= we don't know exactly which car)

The

We use the with countable nouns (singular or plural) and uncountable nouns:

A man is coming round to fix the television.
Let's sit on the grass over there.

- The is the definite article. We use it to talk about a specific example of something we think is known to both ourselves and the listener / reader:

The cars were parked illegally in the city centre. (= we know which cars and which city)

No article

To talk about things generally, we use uncountable or plural nouns without a / an or the:

Money doesn't necessarily bring happiness. It's easy to blame minorities for all the problems of society.
Paperclips were a brilliant invention.

In these examples we are talking generally, and not thinking of an individual item or example.

- We never use a / an with nouns which are used uncountably:
He shows an impressive understanding of the principles of marketing.

3 OTHER DETERMINERS

Other determiners such as my, your, his, etc., this, that, these, those, have a similar function to the and make the meaning specific:

Your happiness is of great concern to me.
(= happiness specific to you) Those holidays we had in the South of France were the best. (= specific holidays) That money was meant for paying the phone bill. (= a specific sum)

watch out!

Singular countable nouns must always have a / an, the or another determiner:

- ✗ Why don't you pull up chair and sit down?
- ✓ Why don't you pull up a chair and sit down?

Using the or no article

1 THE WITH NOUNS THAT ARE ALWAYS SINGULAR

We nearly always use the with some singular nouns because we consider there is only one in existence:
the sun the moon the Earth the air the ozone layer the past the future the countryside the EU the UN the seaside the world the Vietnam War the presidency the Government

- This category also includes superlatives because there is usually only one thing or group that is superlative:

He's the best accountant in town.
It's one of the noisiest bars in town.

watch out!

Logic is not always a reliable guide. We talk about the atmosphere and the environment. But we usually think of nature in a general sense and so omit the. Although we talk about the universe, we consider space as infinite and we use it without the:

- ✗ The oldest man in the space was John Glenn.
- ✓ The oldest man in space was John Glenn.

2 NOUNS WITHOUT ARTICLES

We use uncountable and plural nouns without articles to refer to general ideas and categories:

Cars and buses are a major source of pollution in cities.

- We use many uncountable abstract nouns in this way:

Intelligence is something you are born with, not something you learn.

Laughter is good for you.

- Here are more examples of abstract nouns we can use like this:

advice anger beauty chaos courage education excitement fun hospitality happiness history information knowledge laughter luck music patience poetry progress violence

3 GENERAL OR SPECIFIC – ADDING THE

We can use the with uncountable and countable nouns, including the abstract nouns above, to refer to a specific example of something. To make clear which specific example we are referring to, we may have to add a qualifying clause with of (or another preposition), a relative clause, or an adjective:

General	Specific
I like all kinds of music.	The music of Skalkottas is virtually unknown outside Greece.
Is there life after death?	It was a film about the life of a polar explorer.
We must fight for freedom.	I was allowed the freedom of the house and garden.
Truth is the first victim of war.	We'll never know the truth about what really happened.
You learn from experience.	The terrible experience was something he never got over.
She ought to be in jail – she's a danger to society.	The society which they set out to create was based on mutual trust.

- Sometimes the qualifying clause is implied rather than stated explicitly. This is especially true of truth:
I promise to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. (= about what happened)

? check

- Tick (✓) the sentences which are correct.
- What will music sound like in the future?
 - People's attitude to education reflect their attitude to children.
 - What exactly is the nature of your complaint?
 - When it comes to depression, laughter is often the best remedy.
 - The life is too short to waste time being angry with people.

Practice

1 In the following sentences the is missing in one or more cases. Write in the where necessary.

- There are countless varieties of English in use in English-speaking world.
- Concepts of language vary from country to country and from generation to generation; English you hear spoken nowadays is in no way recognisable as language used by last generation, let alone in time of Shakespeare.
- Government is now insisting that mathematics is taught with methods reminiscent of 1950s.
- Government is only possible if majority accept law of land.
- When Julie walked into room, you could have cut atmosphere with a knife.
- Music of today deserves a different name from music of Beethoven, Bach and other comparable geniuses.
- People living inside Arctic Circle have a very different view of year from those living in, say, Belgium.
- Many people in public sector of work are just looking for sun, sand and relaxation when they go on holiday, and why not?

2 Correct the 8 errors in this extract from a composition.

The war takes over when politics fails. It is always frightening and unpleasant and the society does everything it can to avoid clashes between countries, but there often comes a point where avoidance is no longer an option. In the past, the mankind has fought wars for many different reasons but the history shows that one side always blames the other for starting it. Aggression starts because one side accuses the other of doing something aggressive. The other side denies it. The argument gets louder and more heated until suddenly patience are at an end, the time for talk is over, and military power replaces spoken argument. Wars can be justified if they are fought for good reasons, but who is to say what is a good reason? History is written by the winners, and it is their version of the truth that we tend to work from. Our knowledge of the whole history of any war are likely to be limited by the lack of complete informations but if we are to learn any lessons for future, we must try to understand what happened.

3 Fill each gap with one of the nouns. In three sentences you will need to add the.

poetry chaos progress fortune strength dudgeon beauty frustration violence advice

- is said to be skin-deep.
- If you ask, I'm sure your uncle will give you sound
- Marta's been known to dabble in lyrical
- My next-door neighbour feels of not having worked for three years.
- Domestic is a frightening concept.
- The protest meeting ended in total
- Carlos has proverbial of a lion.
- Steady is being made.
- At the concert Anka had good to be sitting close to the stage.
- The foreman stomped off in high

4 Rewrite these headlines as normal written sentences, adding the as appropriate, and making any other suitable changes.

Example:

TV corrupts young says Minister of Education

The Minister of Education has said that television corrupts the young.

- death of President leaves country in chaos
- big business hit by inflation
- United manager faces sack after latest defeat
- COMPUTERS BLAMED FOR RECORD
NUMBER OF JOB LOSSES
- water people drink not fit for animals say environmentalists
- level of unemployment highest since mid nineteen nineties

SECTION 2

Singular, plural, uncountable

1 NOUNS THAT ARE ALWAYS PLURAL

Some nouns are always plural, often because they are made up of two 'parts'. This is especially true of some clothes and tools:

trousers underpants pyjamas tights scissors shorts pliers tweezers tongs glasses (= spectacles)

- To make them singular, we usually use a pair of.
These scissors are broken. This pair of scissors is broken.
- Some nouns are always plural because they are made up of many 'parts':
belongings goods people police

2 UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS ENDING IN -S

Some uncountable nouns that end with -s look like plural countable nouns but are not. We use a singular verb:

- ✗ What are the news today?
- ✓ What's the news today?

- Here are more examples. Note that many end in -ics:
news maths economics athletics genetics linguistics mechanics politics aerobics rabies

3 SINGULAR OR PLURAL?: COLLECTIVE NOUNS

Some nouns referring to groups can be either singular or plural. We use the with these collective nouns:

The media is / are interested in this story.

- Here are more examples of collective nouns:
army jury family band press school union community audience staff committee cast

4 THERE IS / THERE ARE

After there is / there are the first noun normally determines whether the verb is singular or plural:

There's a chair and a table in the room.

There is a chair and two tables in the room.

There are two tables and a chair in the room.

5 UNCOUNTABLE OR COUNTABLE PLURAL?

Some nouns that are often uncountable can also be countable singular or plural:

Uncountable

I was asked if I'd had any previous experience.

Is there any truth in what they're saying?

Death by chocolate – what a great way to go!

Life was hard a hundred years ago.

He has enormous strength.

Marriage is something to be taken seriously.

He reported for duty.

Countable plural

He had many hilarious experiences to tell us.

That's one of the world's great truths.

The accident caused a number of deaths.

Their lives were made a misery by the disaster.

Patience is one of his great strengths.

Many marriages end in divorce these days.

His duties included cleaning and cooking.

6 UNCOUNTABLE OR COUNTABLE SINGULAR?

We can use some nouns which are often uncountable with a / an. In this case, the nouns are usually qualified by an adjective or phrase (such as a prepositional phrase or relative clause):

Life is short. (= uncountable)

He led a life of unimpeachable rectitude. (= countable + adjectival phrase)

- Here are more examples:

I felt really rotten at work the other day so I went into the stockroom for a nap – I thought I'd feel better after a good sleep. Unfortunately my boss, who has a deep distrust of most of his employees as well as a history of suddenly firing his workers, decided there was some work he needed me to do urgently. My colleagues told him I'd been called out – lying is sometimes a necessary evil – but he had a better knowledge of the situation than they realised, and I was summoned to his office. I thought he would give me a hard time but he showed a tolerance that surprised me. Even so, it was an experience I wouldn't want to repeat.

(For common phrases with countable and uncountable nouns, see Section 5.)

? check

Correct any errors in these sentences.

- Your reading glasses is by the bed.
- The jury are still considering their verdict.
- There are one locking nut and four bolts for each wheel.
- I have a great deal of experiences in dealing with a problem like this.
- That's a really good advice.

Practice

1 Correct any mistakes in these sentences.

Tick (✓) sentences that are correct.

- a Can you explain why my best trousers have a hole in them?
- b The scissors in the sewing box needs sharpening.
- c This pair of binoculars have been in this drawer for as long as I can remember.
- d Half the audience were asleep by the interval.
- e I can't say that economics are a subject I've ever been very interested in.
- f There're one potato and two onions in the recipe.
- g Where has those kitchen scales gone that we used to have?

2 Tick (✓) the following sentences that are acceptable. Correct the others.

- a Did Mozart have an unhappy childhood?
- b After interesting travel to Los Angeles, he wanted to live in the USA.
- c An undiagnosed illness in his twenties has left him with virtually no hairs.
- d We learn many things throughout the life.
- e Her face shone with an unearthly beauty.

3 In the following old person's recollections, articles are missing. Put in a / an and the as appropriate.

I remember in dim and distant past my children being obsessed by man called Bob Dylan. I have no idea if he's still alive, but impact he had in sixties and seventies was incredible. I remember one song called 'Blowing in Wind'; my son – he's in his fifties now – sang it all day and all night, month in month out, for several years. And it was so silly: 'How many times must man look up before he can see sky?' I mean, question like that can't be taken seriously, can it? And 'How many times must white dove fly before it sleeps in sand?' And then answer to profound questions: 'Answer, my friend, is blowing in wind'. Generation after mine didn't know what life was all about, did they? We did, of course. 'Very thought of you'. 'Just way you look tonight'. 'Night they invented champagne'. They were real songs. But what came next? 'How many years can mountain exist before it is washed to sea?' And there was whole generation singing along to song. Funny world we live in, I say it's funny world we live in.

4 Put a line through all the articles that are not wanted in these sentences.

- a Thank a goodness that she has escaped without a harm to a life or a limb.
- b In the times gone by, the marriage was often a matter of the luck.
- c It was a love at the first sight that brought the couple together.
- d A man has always struggled with the dichotomy of the security of the permanence and the quest for the change.
- e Being on a duty for seventy hours certainly gives you a taste of what the life as a doctor is like.

5 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

One of the problems posed by the debate on global warming is the lack of detailed weather data before the second half of the 19th century. The main argument (1) the anti-pollution lobby is that (2) Earth's average temperature (3) risen by about half a degree since 1860 and the changes go arm in arm with the rise of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. The fossil-fuels lobby, on the other hand, say that (4) importance of greenhouse gases has been overrated and that the (5) was warming up anyway.

The question we have to answer, however, is what the Earth's climate would have been doing without (6) interference, and to answer that we need a (7) knowledge of what happened in the distant (8). For the last thousand years, we have (9) evidence of recorded history. While we cannot rely on weather observations – there (10) great doubt over whether early thermometers and other (11) were correct – there are plenty of other data that provide a picture of a changing (12). Tree rings, movement of glaciers, accounts of frozen (13) and pollen distribution enable estimates to be made of average temperatures during certain (14).

Some of the most reliable (15) comes from the ice-caps of Greenland and Antarctica. These are formed from compacted (16), each year's deposit being squashed by the following one. By drilling deep into (17) ice and analysing air bubbles trapped inside it, a picture may be obtained of (18) atmosphere ages ago. One core recently drilled in Antarctica reached (19) depth of a mile and a half, to reach (20) that had fallen some 200,000 years ago.

SECTION 3

Classifying

1 WAYS OF REFERRING TO A GROUP

There are three ways of talking about the characteristics of a group or class of things.

Plural noun without an article

This is the most common way of referring generally to a whole group:

Seagulls are found close to the coast. (= seagulls generally)

Singular noun with a/an

We use a singular noun with a/an to give a definition, for example answering the question

What is...?:

What's a seagull? A seagull is a large white and grey bird. (= all seagulls are...)

- We can't use a singular noun with a/an in phrases that refer to the whole group:
 - ✗ A tiger is in danger of becoming extinct.
 - ✓ Tigers are in danger of becoming extinct.
- The singular with a/an also loses its general meaning when it isn't the subject of the sentence. We use the plural (or the..., see below):
 - I've been studying a seagull.* (= one particular bird)
 - I've been studying seagulls.* (= seagulls as a group)

Singular noun with the

We use the in academic or formal language, mainly to describe typical characteristics. We always use a singular verb (compare Section 4.1):

The seagull is a scavenging bird.

I've been studying the seagull. (possible, but formal)

watch out!

We can't refer to a whole group in general by using a singular countable noun without an article:

✗ Seagull lives near the sea.

✓ Seagulls live near the sea.

- However, this is the only possibility with uncountable nouns:
 - Happiness is not an inevitable result of having money.*

2 SPECIAL GROUPS

There are three groups of things that we commonly refer to as a general class with the.

Parts of the body

Some of these are common phrases:

I looked him straight in the eye.

He's a pain in the neck.

I've got this annoying tune on the brain.

- This happens especially when the noun is related to the object of the sentence (or the subject of passives), and especially in prepositional phrases:
 - The bird was shot in the wing.*
 - She gave me a pat on the back.*
- When the noun is related to the subject of the sentence, possessives are more common:
 - That seagull had hurt its wing.*
 - He's had a lot of trouble with his heart.*

Musical instruments

We often refer to musical instruments generically with the:

The horn is one of the most difficult orchestral instruments to play.

- However, when we talk about bands, orchestras, recordings, etc. we can omit the:
 - I used to play trumpet in my school orchestra.*
 - Does that recording have Clapton on guitar?*

Scientific inventions

With some scientific inventions we use the:

It would be difficult to imagine life without the telephone.

- However, we don't use the with all inventions:
 - It would be very difficult these days to live life without video / e-mail.*

? check

In these sentences, delete a/an or the if they are not needed.

- He gained his doctorate with a thesis on the seagull.
- Some types of the seagull have red spots on the beak.
- I've always wanted a seagull as a pet.
- I used to play a piano in a jazz band.
- A cor anglais is a sort of oboe.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the underlined alternative that best fits the meaning of each sentence.

- a Accidents / The accident will happen, I'm afraid.
- b A tortoise is a / the sort of reptile.
- c My dog has hurt the / his leg.
- d Look me in the / my eye and tell me what you're saying is true.
- e A / The liver is used to help purify the blood.
- f Can't you think of anything else? You've got food on the / your brain.
- g Have you ever considered taking up a / the musical instrument?
- h What on earth is a / the CD Rom?
- i I used to play a / the trumpet when I was younger.
- j Frank Wittle invented a / the jet engine.

2 Underline and correct any errors in this passage.

A Great black-backed gull is the largest of the North Atlantic gulls. It can be a terrible killer in the seabird colonies, tearing its victims inside out. Formidable beak and great weight can be frightening, especially as it will swoop low to defend its territory from a human intruder. A duckling which strays from its parents are among its favourite prey; it can gulp them down in a single mouthful.

Like its close relative, herring gulls, the Lesser black-backed gull is a scavenger; it sometimes follows the ship for offal thrown into the sea, and inland it searches a rubbish tip for anything edible.

3 Here are key words for ten quiz questions. Write out the questions in full, then see how many answers you can find.

- Example: What / call / mixture / beer / lemonade ?
What do you call a mixture of beer and lemonade?
(Shandy)*
- a What / name / cross / donkey / horse ?
 - b What / proper name / 'funny bone' ?
 - c What / another expression / 'put / foot / it' ?
 - d What / call / young / of / kangaroo ?
 - e What / ostrich / emu / in common ?
 - f What / one word / 'pain / neck' ?
 - g Where / human body / 'femur' ?

4 Choose one of these nouns to complete each of the following sentences. (You will need to use one of the words twice.) Write the or a possessive before it.

Example: Their letting me go after ten years' service was a real kick in the teeth.

back head stomach foot eye hair toes throat (teeth)

- a Now he's released from the responsibilities of office, he can really let down.
- b The new male supervisor will really have to be on
- c A lot of young vandals who go looking for trouble are not right in
- d Can you do this calculation in ?
- e Wasn't it Goethe who said that a meal should please first and then ?
- f By having to go back on his tax pledges so soon, the Chancellor has shot himself in ?
- g He was obviously stabbed in by some of his so-called friends.
- h My intended apology stuck in as I saw him smirk.

5 Add the where necessary before the endings to make complete sentences.

- 1 Dimitri plays...
 - a bass guitar in a rock group.
 - b balalaika in his spare time.
 - c goalkeeper for his school team.
 - d fool in class.
 - e lead in his new film.
- 2 Life would seem strange now without...
 - a telephone.
 - b video.
 - c camera.
 - d cinema.
 - e e-mail.
 - f computer.
 - g satellite television.
 - h Internet.
 - i aeroplane.

6 Add the where necessary to these sentences.

- a I haven't got his address to hand.
- b A bird in hand is worth two in bush.
- c They lived from hand to mouth.
- d He gained upper hand.
- e They walked along hand in hand.
- f On other hand, perhaps he was right.

SECTION 4

Adjectives and verbs as nouns

1 ADJECTIVES AS PERSONAL NOUNS

We can use the + adjective to refer to a group or class of people:

The unemployed are calling for more government spending.

Other common examples include:

The wounded were taken to the nearest hospital.

I live next to a nursing home for the very old.

The young don't seem interested in politics these days.

He gave all his money to the poor.

Here are more examples:

the rich the penniless the dead the well educated the famous the very healthy the chronically sick the terminally ill

- We use the same pattern for most nationalities: the Swiss the British the French the Japanese

- There are a few examples that can refer to one person, and we use a singular verb:

The accused is a young man with two previous convictions for robbery.

The deceased has left a very detailed will.

2 ADJECTIVES AS ABSTRACT NOUNS

There are a few adjectives we can use as abstract nouns:

Out with the old; bring in the new!

I believe in the supernatural.

You're asking me to do the impossible.

This is the ultimate in chocolate cake.

Computer technology is moving into the unknown.

Of the two, the former is my preference.

In that case, the latter is fine for me.

- Some examples are common phrases: into the open for the common good out of the ordinary in the extreme on the loose to the full

The good, the bad and the ugly (also a film title)

The survival of the fittest (= a saying)

Moving from the sublime to the ridiculous (= a saying)

The evil that men do lives after them;

The good is oft interred with their bones;

(from Julius Caesar, Shakespeare)

3 GERUNDS

We can turn most verbs into nouns by adding -ing. We usually refer to these as 'gerunds' but also as '-ing forms'. They can be the subject or object of a sentence; we use a singular verb:

Spitting is a bad habit.

Another awful habit is picking your nose.

- As with other nouns, we can use the before gerunds:

The waiting is the worst part of a visit to the dentist.

It's all the standing around that I dislike.

The actual leaving is the worst part of a good holiday.

watch out!

- Adjectives as personal nouns use a plural verb. Adjectives as abstract nouns use a singular verb:
 - ✗ The rich doesn't understand our problems.
 - The unknown are often very frightening.*
 - ✓ The rich don't understand our problems.
 - The unknown is often very frightening.*
- We use the + gerund to refer to a specific activity, not a general activity:
 - ✗ I don't understand what people see in the swimming as a sport.
 - ✓ The swimming is probably the hardest part of the triathlon event.

? check

Underline the adjectives or verbs functioning as nouns in these sentences.

- As a zoologist, he has always been interested in the unusual in the animal world.
- I don't mind the airport – it's the flying that I hate.
- Never speak ill of the dead.
- As far as my musical tastes are concerned, I've always been attracted to the exotic.
- Bernstein conducted both Mozart and Haydn but seemed to show a preference for the latter.

Practice

1 Tick (✓) the sentences which are acceptable. Correct the mistakes in any that are not.

- The sick and elderly were helped out of the building.
- A deceased has not been named until relatives have been informed.
- The extremely rich tends to live in one of the suburbs in the hills above the town.
- This new research is venturing into the unknown.
- You are asking me to do the impossible: I simply can't find them.
- I am asking you to resign for the good of the company.
- For a Hollywood film, it is definitely out of ordinary.
- The supernatural are something I've always been interested in.

2 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

- Example:* The plight of those in need of accommodation has been given extensive exposure in the media for some years. homeless
The plight of the homeless has been given extensive exposure in the media for some years.
- You have to learn to accept the ups and downs of life.
rough
 - Pilots have to be prepared to be surprised.
unexpected
 - Living away from home will do him an enormous amount of good.
making
 - Teams will not be allowed to broadcast their national anthems at this tournament. playing
 - This should be returned to the sender of this letter as soon as possible.
undersigned
 - 'Never mock those people who have serious problems', my mother used to say.
afflicted

3 Circle the word that best completes each sentence.

- He's a rumbustious character who always tries to live life to the a full b extent c fun d end
- The escaped prisoner remained on the in the hills.
a free b liberty c loose d open
- As computer games go, this one's not particularly out of the a normal b usual c average d ordinary
- I found his remarks offensive in the a intense b most c extreme d whole
- This ward has been reserved for the ill.
a terminally b deeply c terribly d deathly

4 Cross out the in the following sentences when it cannot be used.

- The sending-off was the turning-point of the match.
- The lying around in the sun is many people's idea of the happiness.
- It's just the travelling that would put me off a job like that.
- The accused was finally convicted of the breaking and entering.
- I prefer the listening to opera to the watching it.
- It's not so much the washing of his shirts I mind, it's the ironing of them.
- The fighting that occurred today broke out after a three-day stand-off.
- If there's one thing I hate, it's the shopping for Christmas presents.

5 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

Political correctness has made and continues to make a significant impact on our language as we are all encouraged, for the common (1), to make increasing use of euphemistic paraphrase. We should turn our backs on expressions like 'the (2)' and embrace '..... (3) economically disadvantaged'. 'The (4) challenged' is recommended in place of 'the blind'; 'the chronically (5) of hearing' is suggested as a substitute for 'the (6)'. This is all very well and not asking the (7) of us. It is rather when the trend is taken to the (8) and 'the (9)' find themselves referred to as 'the follically challenged' that there is a risk of things getting out of hand. 'Out with the (10) and in with the new' may have its virtue as a saying, but so does 'Let sleeping dogs lie'.

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Singular, plural, uncountable:
common phrases

1 COUNTABLE AND UNCOUNTABLE

In several common phrases nouns that are commonly countable are used as uncountables, and vice versa:

- Countable nouns used uncountably:
We went on foot.
He'll never set foot in my house again.
We don't see eye to eye.
They walked arm in arm / hand in hand.
- Uncountable nouns used as countable plurals:

SECTION 6

Compounds

1 NOUN + NOUN

We often combine two nouns as a collocation. The first noun is usually singular and qualifies the second:

- a cooking book (= for learning cooking)
- a computer game (= played on a computer)

- We use many of these collocations so often that we consider them to be one word – they have become compound nouns. Some are usually written as one word (seafood). Others are written as two words (brain drain) and others are hyphenated (T-shirt).

There are no fixed rules:

- laptop city centre willpower evening class*
- flowchart animal rights phone-card watch-strap*

- We can combine more than two nouns as collocations:
a road tax disc (= a printed notice proving that road tax has been paid) a motorway service station (= for petrol and food on a motorway)

2 ADJECTIVE + NOUN

We can also combine adjectives with nouns as collocations or compounds:

- mobile phone parting shot fizzy drink*
- loudspeaker musical instrument*

1 Write A + N next to those compound nouns that consist of an adjective + noun. Write N + N next to those that consist of two nouns.

- a pen friend d nervous breakdown
- b social services e estate agent
- c general public f news bulletin

3 ADJECTIVE + ADJECTIVE

Some words combine to make compound adjectives:
absent-minded big-headed good-looking short-lived

- These may collocate with particular nouns:
cold-blooded murder clear-cut case run-down area shop-soiled goods flat-footed all-around athlete keep-fit fanatic

4 OTHER COMBINATIONS

We can combine other parts of speech, especially several words, to make compound nouns:

- grass roots opinion law and order bride-to-be*
- comrade in arms fork-lift truck*

2 Underline the correct compound noun to complete the sentence.

Throughout western Europe, there has been a rise in the number of

- a only-parent families c uni-parent families

- 10 The Prime Minister is an old at these conferences, having been to so many.
 a hand b man c time d goat

5 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

I was reading an article in our sister newspaper the other day in which an eminent columnist was suggesting that as a nation we had been slow to respond to the sea- (1) which our generation is experiencing in all aspects of day-to- (2) life. As I devoured my take- (3) pizza I started making a simple list of words which, if they did exist thirty years ago certainly had different connotations and in most cases did not exist at all: ozone (4), greenhouse (5), (6) ROM, mobile (7), (8) dish, (what was wrong with just three TV channels?) community (9) (to avoid all those prison riots?), remote (10), (11) print-out, jungle (12) – whatever has happened to music?

Not so long ago a previous population had to acquaint themselves with terms like brain (13) as all the egg-heads headed across the Atlantic and (14) power, as all the others started sticking daffodils in their hair. And before that a generation had to learn about the vacuum (15), the assembly (16), the burglar (17), the washing (18), the hair (19) and the fridge- (20). New words are coming into the language now at a frightening speed and, to respectfully disagree with my colleague, I believe we are, generally speaking, coping pretty well.

Exam practice 8

1 In most lines of the following text, there is one unnecessary word. It is either grammatically incorrect or does not fit in with the sense of the text. For each numbered line 1–14, write the unnecessary word in the space shown. Some lines are correct. Indicate these lines with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

- Beliefs which go back deep into the time lie behind many of our present day attitudes to birds. People have often regarded birds as having close

|----|---|-------|
| 1 | affinities with mankind because, like the humans, birds go on two legs, sing, | |
| 2 | show off and construct homes. Dances from many different cultures are | |
| 3 | copied from the courting displays of birds. Some birds were thought to warn | |
| 4 | of disaster or foretell a good fortune, according to the circumstances | |
| 5 | in which they were sighted. In the parts of Scotland, it is still lucky | |
| 6 | to hear the cuckoo while you are out of walking, but not before you have | |

| 8 | if you were standing on a grass or green leaves when the bird sang, but if | |
| 9 | you were on to barren ground you would not live to hear its call another | |
| 10 | year. Children in many parts of Britain still believe that it is unlucky | |
| 11 | to see a single crow or magpie, but lucky to see two. The birds were also | |
| 12 | involved in medicine: the ancient Greeks and Romans for example believed in | |
| 13 | that the way to cure blindness was to eat the heart of a raven or owl | |
| 14 | or eagle – all the birds well known for their keen eyesight. | |

The Grizzly bear, symbol of North America's wilderness, is under severe threat in one of (1) heartland habitats. (2) Grizzly is (3) sub-species of the Brown bear, but is bigger, stronger and fiercer. A Grizzly, for example, can kill (4) deer with one blow of (5) paw. This animal is now concentrated in Alaska and western Canada where it is being hunted in a way that will put it on the road to extinction, according to (6) Environmental Investigation Agency, which says the British Columbia government regards Grizzlies as a (7) to be hunted without having a (8) knowledge (9) how many there are in the province. This may be folly in the (10) as there is a danger that (11) species may be dwindling faster than the (12) can reproduce. Their forest (13) is also under continual assault from clear-cut logging, road-building, and mining for (14) resources. The agency has (15) proven track (16) in highlighting early warning (17) of major declines in important species, providing for example much of the (18) of large-scale ivory poaching which led to the 1989 (19) on commercial trade to try to save (20) African elephant.

OVERVIEW

This Unit deals with

- general pronouns and determiners:
all, the whole, none, no, both, neither, either (see Section 1)
each, every (see Section 2)
one(s), another, other(s), one another, each other
(see Section 3)
- quantifying pronouns and determiners:
much, many, a lot of, (a) few, (a) little, most (see Section 4)
some, any, somewhere, anywhere, somebody, nothing
etc. (see Section 5)

(For a / an and the, see Unit 8.)

1 PRONOUN OR DETERMINER?

We use most of the above words as either pronouns or determiners.

Pronouns

We use pronouns:

- on their own instead of a noun:
'Which one do you want?' 'Either is fine by me.'
- with of before the pronoun:
They ate nearly all of it.
- with of before the, this, those, etc. + noun:
They haven't looked at any of the alternatives.

Determiners

We use determiners:

- before nouns:
Have you got some money?
Both candidates were under-qualified for the job.
Most homes have a washing machine.
Have you seen my other glove?
I see no objection to doing it.

Note: no and every are determiners, never pronouns.
None and somebody, everyone, nowhere, anywhere, etc. are pronouns, never determiners.

- While most determiners follow the same patterns as pronouns with of, there are some exceptions:
~~✗ I don't like either the films.~~
✓ I like both the films. or: I like both of the films.
I don't like either of the films. or: I don't like either film.

2 USING MORE THAN ONE DETERMINER

We can sometimes use more than one determiner before a noun:

No other book gives quite so much detail.
They kept checking on us every few hours.
I'd like another five minutes, if you don't mind.

- Many combinations of determiners are not possible because they contradict or repeat each other:

~~✗ I'd like another one ice-cream, please.~~

~~I like some most types of music.~~

✓ I'd like another ice-cream, please. or: I'd like another one, please.

I like most types of music.

3 SINGULAR, PLURAL, UNCOUNTABLE

We use some determiners before singular nouns, e.g. neither, either, each, every, one, another, etc:

Neither type is particularly nice.

- others before plural nouns, e.g. all, both, other, some, etc:
Both children are at school now.
- others before uncountable nouns, e.g. all, a lot of, a little, most, some, etc:
All chocolate tastes the same to me.
- We can use some determiners before more than one type of noun, e.g. all, some, no, etc:
I dislike almost all green vegetables. (= plural noun)
All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
(= uncountable noun)
Some wines are best drunk young. (= plural noun)
There seems to be some doubt about it.
(= uncountable noun)

4 COMMON PHRASES

We use many determiners and pronouns in common phrases:

We've been working on this all day.
They were late, each and every one of them.
All hell broke loose when the news first came out.

SECTION I

All, both, the whole, neither, either, no, none

1 ALL AND BOTH

We can use all and both as determiners and pronouns in the following ways:

Virtually all chocolate tastes the same. All children love chocolate. Both types are disgusting. Both you and I are agreed on that. Have you been eating chocolate all this time? Have you eaten both those pieces? All of the chocolate in this country tastes the same. Have you eaten both of those pieces? They ate almost all of it. Both of them taste the same to me. It all tastes the same to me. They both look a bit strange.

watch out!

- Although both can be a pronoun used on its own, e.g. Both taste the same to me, we rarely use all as a pronoun on its own, except when it is followed by a relative clause:
 ✗ Give me all.
 ✓ Give me everything. or: Give me all / everything you've got.
- We don't commonly use the phrases all the day or all the people without a qualifying clause:
 ✗ We worked all the day. I talked to all the people.
 ✓ We worked all day. I talked to everyone.

2 THE WHOLE

With singular countable nouns, especially with places, we often use the whole instead of all the...:

- ✗ All the town was shocked by her death.
- ✓ The whole town was shocked by her death.
- We must use of with proper names and words like the, this, these, those, etc:
 I've travelled around the whole of France.
 I was off sick for the whole of the week.

3 NEITHER AND EITHER

We use either and neither to talk about two things. They can be pronouns and determiners:

Neither type is particularly nice. (= formal) Either type is fine by me. (= one or the other, it doesn't matter which) I like neither type. (= formal)

I don't like either type. (= less formal) Neither you nor I like them. Either you or I will have to go. Neither of the others liked them, either. I don't think either of these types is / are edible. To be honest, I like neither. I'm not particularly fond of either.

- After neither and either a singular verb is usual, but plural verbs are used in spoken English:
Neither of them is / are particularly nice.
Either is / are fine by me.
- Prepositional phrases like on either side, at either end, mean 'on both sides', 'at both ends':
 There are shops at either end of the street.

4 NO AND NONE

No is a determiner. None is a pronoun. We use them before singular, plural and uncountable nouns:

Bad chocolate is better than no chocolate. Bad chocolate is better than none. No piece I tasted was particularly good. Practically none of this stuff is as bad as you say. No two bars were alike. None of us could agree.

- In formal English, we can use a singular verb after none. However, a plural verb is common:
None of the people I work with likes chocolate at all. (= formal)
None of these brands taste the same.

5 COMMON PHRASES

Tell me all about it. They left me all alone. That's all: there's nothing else to add. All too often a sunny day ends in rain. He could be listening outside for all I know. She's no friend of mine. There's no reason why you shouldn't pass. It's none of your business. It was none other than George at the door. 'Haven't you got any?' 'None whatsoever.' Her leadership qualities are second to none. On the whole, you're probably right. I'm afraid your excuses are neither here nor there.

? check

Underline the correct verb form in these sentences. In some sentences, both may be correct.

- All the players are good but none is / are as good as Giggs.
- No animals have / has been mistreated in the making of this film.
- Monday or Tuesday. Both are / is convenient for me.
- Thursday or Friday. Either of them are / is fine.
- All I've brought is / are over there.

Practice

1 Correct the following sentences.

Example: Guess who took my chocolate? No other (None other) than Dimitra.

- a All of chocolate comes from cocoa beans.
- b Both of ordinary and white chocolate are made from cocoa butter.
- c There are very few people who like neither them.
- d I have no particular preference: I'll eat the either.
- e Yesterday, in fact, I ate all a 400 gm bar.
- f My friends bet me I couldn't eat it whole.
- g No one of them believed I could do it and not be sick.
- h Chocolate is eaten all over the whole America.
- i All the people love chocolate.
- j For everything we know, chocolate may be the elixir of life.

2 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one of the words listed.

all whole none no both neither either

Life has slowly changed for the (1) of our family. We were (2) very close once, my wife and I and our two daughters. Aged 12 and 11, they were (3) angels, keen, enthusiastic, communicative, (4) of them, nearly (5) the time. When we meet up nowadays (6) of us feels that comfortable. Oh yes, there are a few moments when we (7) hug and ask each other for an update. Then when we (8) sit down to either lunch or dinner – (9) of my daughters seems very keen to eat at the same time as us anyway – (10) of us seems to have that much to say. (11) my daughters resent questions about their activities and I can't ask (12) of them about their current boyfriends without (13) of them ganging up on me and telling me to be quiet. On the (14), I find eating while watching a soap with them the best way out.

..... (15) of the girls seems at all interested in what (16) my wife or I is doing. (17) I can say is that life was much easier and more comfortable when (18) of them could utter anything more than 'goo-goo' and 'da-da' and (19) my wife and I could settle down for a meal without feeling strangers in our own home. I suppose that time and tide wait for (20) man.

3 In most pairs of lines there is one unnecessary word. For each pair of numbered lines (1–16), write the unnecessary word in the space. Indicate correct pairs with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

- If I say 'I always tell lies', am I telling the truth? This is known as the Liar's Paradox. It has been around for all millennia and is ✓
- 1 usually attributed to Epimenides the Cretan who said 'All of Cretans are liars'. all
- 2 Logicians call this a circular argument or problem to which there is no the solution. The quick answer is that while either the question is valid from a grammatical viewpoint, from both a logical point of view it is a contrived contradictory nonsense, though this didn't stop the philosopher Bertrand Russell spending two whole of summers trying to solve the contradiction.
- 7 The theological answer is that the human race is made up of all three types of people: neither saints who always tell the truth, devils who always tell lies and sinners who sometimes tell either the truth and sometimes tell lies. Logically a saint cannot say 'I always tell lies' since this would be a lie. A devil cannot logically say 'I always tell lies' since all this would be the truth. Only a sinner can logically say 'I always tell lies', and this would be a lie. It is essentially both the same as the dilemma faced by the barber who shaves all the men who don't shave themselves. The whole question is: who shaves the barber? Clearly he cannot shave himself because he only shaves those who don't shave themselves. However, neither he cannot remain unshaven as he would then have to shave himself.

SECTION 2

Each and every

Each can be a determiner and a pronoun. Every is only a determiner.

1 DIFFERENCES IN MEANING

Each and every are similar in meaning and in some contexts both are possible:

Every / Each person in the group was fit and healthy.

- We use each when we are thinking of all the separate individuals in the group:
Each person chose a different route to the beach.
- Every refers more to the group as a whole (it is closer in meaning to all):
Every route was of about the same length.
- We use each to talk about two or more things, but we can only use every for more than two:
Two routes, each one avoiding steep hills, looked particularly attractive.

2 DIFFERENCES IN USE

We use each and every as determiners with a singular noun and a singular verb:

Every one of the walkers knows the area well. (Each one of is also possible but less common)

Every

We use every:

- after a possessive:
I listened to his every word.
- with some abstract nouns to emphasise that something is correct or necessary:
You had every right to say that.
I had every reason to be fed up.
- with plural nouns in phrases of frequency:
We go to the seaside every few weeks.
- with adverbs like almost, nearly, just about, practically:
Practically every route was over two miles.

Each

We use each as a pronoun:

- with of + noun:
Each of them took far longer than expected.
Each of the walkers was well over sixty.
- on its own:
There were six people in the group, and each was determined to win the race. (each one or each of them is more common)
- after nouns and pronouns for emphasis:
John and Angela each had their own supply of biscuits.
They each took a map with them.

3 SINGULAR OR PLURAL?

Each and every are followed by singular verbs. However, we commonly use a plural pronoun to refer back:

Every person I asked says that they are going to enjoy the walk.

- In formal English, after each, he / she is considered more correct than they, although they is common:
Each person claimed he / she / they would get to the beach first.

4 COMMON PHRASES

They were all late, each and every one of them.

It rains every single time I go to France.

Luckily, I only go there every now and then / every so often / every once in a while.

On the other hand, I go to Belgium practically every other week.

Brussels is every bit as romantic as Paris.

Decide whether each, every or both are acceptable in these sentences.

- You have each / every right not to sign the contract.
- Each / Every* of them gave their opinion in turn.
- Each / Every* time I hear that music, it reminds me of you.
- I can read your every / each thought.
- I like every / each one of them.

Practice

1 In some of the following sentences each and every are possible; in others we can use only one of them. Cross out any words we cannot use.

- You will each / every receive a name badge on arrival.
- Not every / each participant will necessarily be interested in each / every seminar.
- Nearly every / each time I see her, she's wearing that blue and yellow floral dress.
- You can record each / every event that takes place in this little book.
- Each / Every* of these containers contains something, but not every / each one has something valuable in it.
- You have every / each right to be dissatisfied with every / each member of your team.
- If you don't listen carefully to his every / each word, he'll twist you around his little finger.
- As every / each day passes, the situation seems to grow worse.

2 Fill each of the blanks with one suitable word.

Example: He's late practically every time we go out.

- I don't go out evening. Every evening perhaps.
- He bought a present for of the children.
- Every culture its own different customs and traditions.
- Every so my sister calls from Australia.
- He bought an enormous cake and ate last crumb.
- In fact he had three different kinds of cake, two of
- He gave us one slice and kept the rest for himself.
- He had intention of going to the party but in the end just fell asleep.
- He is every as good as you.
- I like going to the cinema every and then.

3 Would you choose each or every if you were writing a song? Here are some lyrics to complete.

- of us was mischievous
- I say 'Please stay' to you – single day, I do.
- We were out of reach.
- few years I remember your tears.
- once in a while I remember your smile.
- time I ever need a dime ...

4 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one of the words listed.

each every all whole none no

I was telling you about my family, wasn't I? It seems that not (1) family is having the same problems. Since last week, I have spoken to nearly (2) my colleagues and (3) other one says that (4) is sweetness and light in their family. (5) of them – the (6) family – sit down and (7) of them takes turns to say something about what they're doing or have been doing and nearly (8) other member of the family hangs on their (9) word. There's (10) aggression; (11) of the others shows anything but total interest in the others' (12) story. (13) of them takes his or her turn and (14) of them listen – (15) of them resents it. (16) I can say is, they're lucky. Almost (17) meal we have together is spoilt because there's (18) contact with anyone else and (19) of us remains a little island. (20) wonder my daughters don't come and visit very often.

5 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

Some famous places are disappointing: dirty, cramped, and a bit of a cliché. But there are others which, even though you've seen (1) television programme ever made about it, are every (2) as wonderful as you'd imagined. The Grand Canyon is one of these and so, despite being next door to a main road, is Stonehenge. Another is Venice which, in its entirety, remains a great work of art, (3) decaying aspect revealing an unexpected glimpse of water or startling architecture, (4) individual building or piazza displaying an exquisite sense of proportion. I return to Venice every (5) often in the course of my work and on each (6) these occasions I have found something new to marvel at. Alarm cries about how long this can last are sounded (7) now and then (8) time the water levels rise. But the fact that this city is sinking into the sea seems to add to its romantic atmosphere. Far more serious is the depopulation, for it seems that (9) about every week another family leaves. Since 1945 more than half the population of Venice has moved to the mainland. The rich own the great palazzos along the Grand Canal and visit every once in a (10), but leave the windows dark for the rest of the time. Mass tourism threatens the very structure of the city. It is a sad victim of its own success.

SECTION 3

One(s), another, other(s), one another, each other

1 ONE/ONES AND ANOTHER

We use one / ones to replace a countable noun:

*They're all nice but I really like the red one.
What about the green ones?*

- Compare the different uses of one / ones and another as determiners and pronouns:
*That's an interesting one. Have you got another?
One day, you'll see I was right. We'll have to leave this for another day. Would you like another drink?
One of the buttons is missing. Is this another of those computer games? One of us is going to have to go.*
- We use one of the... with a singular verb:
One of the many / main / countless reasons I resigned is that I can't stand the boss.
This is one of the few letters we received about him.
One of the other players is going to have to play in goal.*
- Sometimes another means 'the same again' and sometimes it means 'a different one':
*'That piece of cake was good.' 'I'll get you another.'
This shop is no good – let's try another.*
- We often use another with few or numbers + plural noun:
*I need another few minutes.
You owe me another ten pounds.*

watch out!

Apart from plural phrases with few or numbers, e.g. another few minutes, we use another only before a singular noun. With plural nouns, we use other, or some more or any more:

- ✗ Are there another trains coming soon?
✓ Are there other trains coming soon? or: Is there another train coming soon?

2 OTHER AND OTHERS

Other is a determiner:

Other people may come later.
I've got most of the other information already.*

- We can also use other as a pronoun with the:
I've got one of the floppy disks. Have you got the other?

Others is only a pronoun:

*It's his best book, though he wrote many others.
This computer's crashed. Use one of the others.*

- Others sometimes means 'people':
Go and tell the others to hurry up.

3 ONE ANOTHER AND EACH OTHER

We use one another and each other as objects of verbs. They mean the same thing – each of two or more people does something to or for the other(s):

They all tried to help each other / one another.

4 COMBINING TWO IDEAS

Other(s) and another often occur as the second item in sentences that combine two ideas:

Some people like the red ones but others prefer the green.*

One man's meat is another man's poison. (proverb)*

Each member of the coach trip got on well with the others.*

On the one hand I appreciate what you're doing but on the other I wish you wouldn't interfere so much.

5 COMMON PHRASES

I met Larry the other day. (= a few days ago)

One of these days you're going to get a nasty surprise. (= One day in the future...)*

I was talking to none other than the Prime Minister yesterday. (= no less a person than ...)

They arrived one after another / the other. (= in quick succession)

They arrived one by one. (= not all together)

We were talking about something or other. (= I can't remember exactly what)

? check

Some of the words and phrases in this section are used as pronouns, some as determiners, and one as both. Tick (✓) the acceptable sentences.

Determiner	Pronoun
a Go and tell the others children.	Go and tell the others.
b Let's look at the other one.	Let's look at the other.
c We must talk to each other people.	We must talk to each other.
d There's only room for one person.	There's only room for one.
e Are there another buses?	Here comes another.

Practice

1 Underline the best alternative.

- a These trousers are better than the other one / ones.
 b I don't like them. Let's choose another / the other pair.
 c Well, hurry up – the others / another are waiting.
 d I suppose one pair is as good as another / one.
 e You've tried on so many, one after the other / others.
 f Can I try just one / another more pair?
 g OK, but let's stop arguing with each / one another.
 h Give me another / the other few minutes.

2 Fill each of the gaps with other, another, others, or other's.

Left-handedness is a fascinating phenomenon unless you are trying to undo a knot that a left-handed person has tied the (1) way round. It is surprising that left-handers have not protested more about how the physical world has been constructed around the '..... (2) lot'. Though the days have gone when children were forced to change to the (3) way, we still don't make enough concessions. Surely lefties should be encouraged to greet one (4) by shaking the (5) left hand. Why don't they always stick out their left hand anyway and surprise all us (6) once in a while? I've seen some lefties writing like crabs and producing handwriting from (7) planet and I've seen (8) who produce better writing than any (9) person I know. And (10) thing: why don't left-handed waiters tease us by laying the table 'back to front'? They've as much right as the right-handers.

3 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

Raising (1) child at a time is hard enough; parents of twins have an even more difficult job. It is important that they don't become so bonded that (2) becomes merely a missing part of (3) other. Parents have to help their children grow up together, but realising that they are individuals first and twins second. The sibling rivalry may be avoided by encouraging them to develop different interests from one (4) to help to preserve their identities. But the special intimacy that twins share can lead to problems. As they grow older they may find it hard to develop close relationships with

..... (5) because they think no person will ever know them as well as their twin. They think like (6) other and do the same things, marry similar partners and live in virtually identical houses. In one study, a twin declared that losing the (7) would be like losing a part of her own body. In (8), a pair separated at birth and brought up in different towns, unaware of (9) another's existence, moved into houses in Florida with their families, only to discover that the person next door was (10) other than their twin.

4 In most pairs of lines there is one unnecessary word. For each pair of numbered lines (1–14), write the unnecessary word in the space. Indicate correct pairs with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

- The intimacy between each twins can sometimes be destructive. Psychologists each are trying to find out where closeness ends and pathology begins. From the ✓
- 1 time June and Jennifer Gibbons could speak, they seldom did – except for one
 2 rare simple sentences to adults and some words to the other children. Eventually 3 they spoke only with the one another and around their home town in Wales they 4 became known as the other Silent Twins, developing a private language
 5 that no another one else could understand. Jennifer was so jealous of June, 6 whom she thought prettier one and more loved by their parents, that she forced 7 her into a childhood vow of silence. The one acquaintance said that Jennifer 8 seemed to have 'possessed' her sister: with eye signals, she told June when 9 to talk, how to move, what to do. Each one monitored of the other so that 10 they could act in perfect unison. They even fell off horses at the same time.
 11 Once Jennifer intoned to her other sister, 'You are Jennifer. You are me.' An 12 agonised June screamed back, 'I am June! I am June!'

SECTION 4

Quantifiers: much, many, a lot of, (a) few, (a) little, most

These quantifiers act in a similar way. However, there are a number of individual peculiarities.

1 ARTICLE PROBLEMS

We can use much of / most of / a lot of / little of + proper nouns without the:

I haven't seen a lot of Sarah lately.

I don't think much of London.

- With common nouns we use of with the, my, your, etc., and this, that, etc.:
Much of my time is spent driving between jobs.
Far too much of the north is underdeveloped.
- With few after very and quite, we use a / an in different positions:
Quite a few people have complained about his behaviour. A very few people have voiced their support for him. (Very few... is more usual)
- When we don't use a / an, few and little have negative connotations:
A few people came. (= at least some people)
Few people came. (= not enough)
There's a little time left. (= perhaps enough)
There's little time left. (= probably not enough)

watch out!

Most is a determiner and a pronoun. We use the most when we make a comparison, and most to talk about quantity:

✗ The most people liked his music.

✓ Most people liked his music.

The most popular music to relax to is classical.

- Sometimes the distinction can be very small:
The third storm caused (the) most damage.
- We use most as an intensifier meaning 'very':
You're most kind. That's most interesting.

2 USES IN POSITIVE, NEGATIVE AND QUESTIONS

We use much and many mainly in negative statements and questions:

You haven't eaten very much food.

Are there many good restaurants here?

- Very much as a determiner is almost never used in positive sentences. We use a lot of or a great deal of instead:

✗ I've eaten very much food.

✓ I've eaten a lot of food.

- In positive sentences, quantifiers are common with comparatives:
Bahrain was much better than I'd expected. There were as many as two hundred people at the meeting.

3 DIFFERENCES IN FORMALITY

In positive sentences, many and much are typical of formal written English. We generally use plenty (of), a lot (of), lots of, loads of, etc. are more informal:

Much rubbish has been written on this subject. (A lot of... is more usual)

Loads of people have rather extreme views on it. (Many... is more formal)

- Little and few can be fairly formal. We use not much / not a lot of / only a little or not many to be more informal:
Little is known about his private life. (Not much... is more informal)
There is little time left. (There isn't a lot of time... is more usual)
Few people know much about him. (Not many people... is more informal)

4 COMMON PHRASES

I don't feel up to much today.

I'm afraid I'm not much of a cook.

There's many a time that I've wished I could quit.

Many's the time I've had to talk to him about that.

Let's make the most of the good weather.

I'm not that old: I've got a good few years left in me yet.

He seems to have precious little idea of what's going on.

The weather was fine for the most part.

There's an awful lot of onion in this dish.

? check

Tick (✓) the sentences which can be considered formal.

- Much* has been said on this subject.
- I have little to say that is relevant.
- I don't think there is much pasta left in the cupboard.
- This is one of the few original paintings remaining.
- We have received lots of letters on this topic.

Practice

1 Correct these sentences.

- a Much of the Holland is below sea level.
- b Not many of people know much about him.
- c Don't hurry: we have little time left before we have to leave.
- d The most of people complain about the weather here.
- e A quite few people came to his party.
- f He's had very much good luck in his life.
- g I've been to visit him many the time.
- h We've put in good many hours to get this work finished.

2 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one suitable word.

There is, remarked George Bernard Shaw, no subject on which more dangerous nonsense is talked than marriage. He was right: (1) paper has been wasted on the subject and (2) a newspaper columnist has felt impelled to share with us their thoughts on the subject, a (3) of which are laughable rubbish. But the question still remains: why do (4) of us still want to get married? Traditionally, it has been seen as necessary to social cohesion and inheritance, but today, these factors carry (5) importance and it is the psychological aspects which dominate (6) of the discussion. The psychologist Carl Jung claimed that whereas man's most important business was his work, for a woman 'man is her work'. Home, continued Jung with the bland confidence of a man who knows how to (7) the most of his domestic arrangements, 'is like a nest - not enough room for both birds at once. One sits inside, the other perches on the side and looks about and attends to all outside business.' (8) modern marriages are more equal, involving partners who start out having (9) in common, particularly social class and educational attainment. Indeed it might even be said that marriages that do not involve these stand (10) chance of long-term success.

3 In most pairs of lines there is one unnecessary word. For each pair of numbered lines (1-15), write the unnecessary word in the space. Indicate correct pairs with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

- Finding accommodation in Khartoum is a bit of a nightmare. While I was there I met people paying off no less than £1000 rent a month for their houses. ✓
.....
off.....
- 1 They reckoned that when they left, the owners would ask half as much as again,
- 2 and this would be paid. Few of Sudanese can afford to build houses in the
- 3 city. Most the workers and office staff live far out of the centre or in
- 4 Omdurman on the other side of the Nile. Hotels are either very much expensive,
- 5 catering for visiting businessmen on little expenses, or extremely cheap,
- 6 providing just a simple room and probably no less food. Overland travellers
- 7 usually stay in the youth hostel. We were lucky to be able to stay with
- 8 friends for the most of our time in Khartoum; we could neither afford
- 9 the expensive hotels, where the many standards are in any case usually low and
- 10 food indifferent, nor face the cheap ones where the few conditions are generally
- 11 primitive. Much of the Khartoum remains little changed today from the time when
- 12 General Kitchener reasserted British control in 1898, though quite many of the
- 13 elegant buildings have faded and it is clear that passing years have reduced
- 14 much of the city's former glory to squalor. Most of all the time the streets are
- 15 stifling and oppressive. Only under the many riverside trees is it cool and bearable.

4 Finish each sentence so that it is similar to the sentence printed before it.

- a No one knows a great deal about her private life. Little
- b I'm not very good at gardening, I'm afraid. I'm not much of
- c I didn't like that play very much. I didn't think
- d I've often thought of giving up and leaving. Many a
- e Quite a lot of my friends feel the same as I do. A good

SECTION 5

Any, some, somewhere, anywhere, etc.

1 SOME AND ANY

We generally use some and any to talk about indefinite amounts:

I've got some good news. Have you got any news?

- With this meaning, we use some in positive sentences, and any in negatives and questions.

Some and any as pronouns

We use some and any as pronouns:

- on their own to replace a noun:
'I didn't bring my money with me.' 'Don't worry, I've got some.'
I'd love to meet a news reporter. Do you know any?
- with of + the, my, your, etc., this, these, etc.:
Some of the information in last night's broadcast was incorrect.*
I didn't know any of the people at the party.
- with of + pronoun:
Can you be quiet? Some of us are trying to work.
Are any of them here yet?

Some and any as determiners

In addition to talking about indefinite amounts, we use some and any as determiners in other ways.

ANY

We use any:

- in positive sentences, often meaning 'it doesn't matter who, what, which' or 'if any exists':
Any news you have could be useful.*
- in conditionals:
If any news comes in while I'm away, let me know.
- intensified with at all or whatever / whatsoever:
I haven't got any news at all / whatever / whatsoever.

SOME

We use some:

- in questions when we expect the answer 'yes':
Do you want to hear some good news?
- with expressions of measurement to mean 'quite a large amount or number':
They've lived there for some time.

- meaning 'approximately':
The suspect weighs some 70 kilos.
- with singular nouns, to indicate we don't know exactly who or what is being referred to (this is fairly informal). We can add ...or other for emphasis:
Some idiot has tried to blow up the UN building.*
I read about it in some book or other.

2 SOMEWHERE, ANYWHERE, ETC.

Somebody, anybody, nobody, everybody, someone, anyone, no one, everyone, something, anything, nothing, everything, somewhere, nowhere, and anywhere are all pronouns though we can sometimes use some of them as adverbs. They take singular verbs:

I think you'll find everything you need to know is in this report.

- They can be followed by else or by adjectives or qualifying clauses:
I'm going to go somewhere else.
'Going anywhere nice?' 'Somewhere warm.'
Everyone I spoke to seemed very friendly.

3 COMMON PHRASES

I'd love to go there some day.
There are reported to be few, if any, survivors.
Pass me a book: any old book will do.
I don't think it's true and in any case it's not important.
You couldn't lend me $10, could you, by any chance?
I am not by any means an expert in this subject.
He should be arriving any moment now.
This building dates from 1975 or 6. Sometime around then at any rate.
Something like a hundred hectares was destroyed in the fire.*
He keeps on phoning me for some reason or other.
Come up and see me some time.
These discussions don't seem to be getting anywhere.

? check

Which of the following sentences are unacceptable?

- Any of the people there last night knew who I was.
- Any information you have would be really helpful.
- Do you want to hear something really funny?
- You didn't see that documentary on the television last night did you by some chance?
- I've never actually met anyone famous.

Practice

1 Underline the better alternative. Sometimes both are possible.

Example: Have you heard any / some news today at all?

- a The news should be on any / some minute now.
- b I'd like to be a newsreader some / any day.
- c I'm not sure this one is any / some improvement on the others.
- d She appears to be having some / any difficulty reading her auto cue.
- e In fact she's getting anywhere / nowhere.
- f If she gets any / some worse, they'll have to sack her.
- g Why doesn't she do anything else / something else?
- h Aren't there any / some other jobs she could do better?
- i Any / Some old job would do, I'd have thought.
- j Though I reckon few if any / some employers would look on her favourably after this.

2 Fill each of the numbered gaps with one suitable word.

The BBC World Service on radio claims a regular worldwide audience of (1) 25 million for its English language programmes. It is funded directly by the British Foreign Office, though (2) Government attempt to control the content of programmes is vigorously fought off. It is broadcast around the world and (3) who has access to a radio with short wave need be without it. The archetypal listener today is under 30, male, likely to be relatively well-educated, for whom English is likely to be a second or even third language. Few women tune in, which is why there is no women's programme (4) in its 24-hour service. The biggest and most important of the news programmes is Newshour, a 60-minute survey of world news which goes out (5) night at 10p.m. British time. This slot cannot please (6) but is the optimum time to catch (7) listeners having breakfast in Hong Kong or settling down for the night in West Africa. It can be recommended to (8) who wants to understand the world, not just Britain. At (9) rate, that is its aim and certainly by comparison, (10) British domestic news programmes seem trivial and parochial.

3 In most pairs of lines there is one unnecessary word. For each pair of numbered lines (1-14), write the unnecessary word in the space. Indicate correct pairs with a tick (✓). The exercise begins with two examples.

- One of the marvellous things on my first trip to Europe was the discovery that the world could be so full of any variety, that there were so many ✓
- 1 different ways of doing essentially identical things, something like eating and any.
- 2 drinking and buying cinema tickets. It fascinated me that any Europeans could be
- 3 at once alike – that they could be so bookish and cerebral, and some drive
- 4 small cars, and live in little houses in ancient towns, and nobody love soccer,
- 5 and have chilly hotel rooms and warm inviting places to eat and drink –
- 6 and yet be so endlessly, unpredictably different anyone from each other as well.
- 7 I loved the idea that you could never be sure of anything else in Europe.
- 8 This is why I have never learned any more language other than English. I don't
- 9 want to know what other people are talking about. I can't think of anything
- 10 that excites a greater sense of any childhood wonder than to be in a country
- 11 where you are ignorant of almost everything else. Suddenly you are five years
- 12 old again. You can't read nearly anything, you have only the most rudimentary
- 13 sense of how any things work, you can't even reliably cross a street without
- 14 endangering your life. Your whole existence becomes a series of some interesting guesses.

4 Fill each of the gaps with one suitable word.

Example: Everybody has now received their orders.

- a They didn't give me any help at
- b His dissertation amounted to 200 pages.
- c Few if of those eligible to vote did so.
- d You don't have the time, do you, by chance?
- e Everything, including all your orders this week, now waiting to be collected.
- f I heard the news on some satellite channel or
- g If calls, tell them I'll be back by two.

Vocabulary

SECTION 6

Amount and extent

1 EXTENT AND DEGREE

Many adjectives and phrases collocate with extent and degree:

To some degree / extent she is right.

- Here are some more examples:
to a lesser / greater / large / small / great / considerable / marked degree / extent

We use extent in common phrases:

The true / full extent of her injuries only gradually became apparent. I agree with you to a certain extent.

Crime has risen to such an extent that it has become a serious political issue.

- We can also use other phrases that have a similar meaning:
That's true up to a point, but you're forgetting something. They won by a substantial / considerable / narrow margin.

1 Choose the correct word to fill the gap.

They finally realised the full of their financial predicament.

- a margin b degree c point d extent

2 WORDS TO EXPRESS QUANTITY

We use many nouns to talk about quantity. Here are some examples:

The high incidence of violent crime is a major source of worry.

We have one of the highest crime rates in the world.

What is the proportion of men to women here?

He was paid a nominal sum for his help.

This road was not built to carry this volume of traffic.

There is a new quota system for fishing in the North Sea.

He's struggling with his enormous work load.

The company has a pool of cars to be used by the workers.

I always have a stock of biscuits with me when travelling.

Large reserves of oil have been discovered in the Atlantic.

It is dangerous to exceed the recommended dosage.

2 Choose the correct word to fill the gap.

The supermarket claimed to have sold its entire of French cheese.

- a reserves b load c stock d pool

Practice

- 1 Match the quantity words with an appropriate group of collocating words and phrases (a-o). Use all the quantity words. Write down the complete phrase.

Example: p a dose of antibiotics / cough mixture

(dose)	reserves	point margin	extent	volume
degree	sum	incidence rate	load	proportion
proportions	amount	stock quota

- a the of men to women
b a substantial / fair / enormous of c the high / light of traffic d a wide / narrow of error
e pay a nominal / lump f sell the entire / complete of g to some / a marked / a considerable h a high / significant of the disease i to such an that j a strict immigration
k the crime / unemployment / exchange l agree up to a m a tragedy of huge / immense n adequate / ample / vast of coal
o a of bricks / complaints
(p a of antibiotics / cough mixture)

2 Circle the word or phrase that best completes each sentence.

- 1 I simply couldn't cope with such an enormous work a amount b quantity c load d volume
- 2 I'm afraid we can only afford to pay you a sum for your services.
a nominal b titular c complete d calculated
- 3 The high of cancer was attributed to the proximity of a nuclear power station.
a amount b dosage c extent d incidence
- 4 What was the sum of our takings for the week?
a amount b final c total d quota
- 5 Its success seems to work in proportion to the number of people involved.
a inverse b opposite c contrary d retrograde
- 6 They won the election by the narrowest of a extents b margins c votes d degrees
- 7 If you don't get your full of sleep, your work will begin to suffer.
a extent b quota c degree d ratio
- 8 I agree with you up to a certain but there are other considerations.
a extent b point c degree d level

3 Fill each numbered blank with a suitable word.

- 1 By the time the siege was lifted, the city had only (1) reserves of food left. The entire (2) of meat and bread had long since gone and there was a high (3) of disease. Truck (4) of food and medicines were brought in but to a (5) extent it was too late to do any good.
- 2 The (6) extent of the damage caused by the earthquake soon became apparent. Although many areas of the city had to a large (7) escaped serious devastation, a substantial (8) of homes were no longer safe to live in.
- 3 After most of the funds had been spent, there was a small (9) of money left which we had to decide what to do with. But, since the sheer (10) of business generated by the fund's success had left most of us out of pocket, it was decided that we should each receive a one-off lump (11) payment as compensation.

4 In the following sentences, sometimes one and sometimes both of the alternatives are acceptable.

Cross out those that are not acceptable.

- a My parents have always given me a good / great deal of encouragement.
- b There seems to be masses / tons of stuff that we've left out of the inventory.
- c They sent me a considerable / huge quantity of material to read.
- d The fact that I wasn't born in this country added a whole new dimension / size to the problem.
- e There was widespread / across-the-board condemnation of their behaviour.
- f There are an awful / a horrible lot of soaps on TV.
- g A disaster of this scale / magnitude mercifully seldom happens.
- h Donations for the disaster fund have topped / exceeded $1m.

5 Choose the word or phrase that best completes each sentence.

- 1 These days the castle is swamped with of tourists.
a hordes b cliques c mobs d assemblies
- 2 The President denied they were nuclear weapons.
a hoarding b stockpiling c collecting d reserving
- 3 By being rude to his superiors he is considered to have the mark.
a transcended b outrun c surpassed d overstepped
- 4 He always kept a of the number of goals he scored each season.
a mark b sum c tally d calculation
- 5 The crowds the streets trying to catch sight of their hero.
a flocked b thronged c overpopulated d huddled

Groups of and parts of

1 DIFFERENT WAYS OF DESCRIBING GROUPS

We can link many different words using of + uncountable and plural nouns to indicate quantity and other categories of meaning:

Category	Example
mass	a mountain of work, a pile of washing
a small amount	a spot of rain, a pinch of salt
a part	a portion of chicken, a segment of orange
a fixed shape	a ball of wool, a stick of dynamite
a portion of liquid	a drop of milk, a pool of blood
speed of movement	a jet of water, a gush of blood
a group	a flock of sheep, a gang of youths
a container	a bottle of beer, a packet of cigarettes
an example or part of an uncountable noun	an article of clothing, an item of news

1 Add these examples to the appropriate category above:

- | | |
|------------------------------|---------------------|
| a a piece of cloth | e a gust of wind |
| b a piece of information | f a strip of land |
| c a section of the newspaper | g a slice of bread |
| d a family of mice | h a heap of rubbish |

2 INFORMAL PHRASES

We use informal vocabulary in a variety of common phrases:

a blob of glue a bit of land a heap of papers piles of homework stacks of replies mountains of washing

3 COMMON PHRASES IN CONTEXT

Some examples depend on collocation:

They couldn't find a shred of evidence to support their claim.

At last there's a ray of hope.

There wasn't a speck of dust to be seen.

He was greeted with a torrent of abuse.

Her enquiries were met with a wall of silence.

Their offer of help was my only crumb of comfort.

FOR THIS, THAT, THESE, THOSE, SUCH AND SO TO REFER TO WORDS AND CLAUSES, SEE SECTION 4.

OVERVIEW

1 WHAT ARE NOUN CLAUSES?

Noun clauses (sometimes called 'nominal clauses') are groups of words within a sentence referring to a fact – they can sometimes be replaced by a noun. We can use pronouns like it and that to refer to these clauses:

I know that you didn't mean to do it but I'm afraid that's not so obvious to everyone else.

To stop and think about things for a while is something we all need to do, but it is something few of us have time for.

I understand what you are saying but I disagree with it.

Going shopping is something I hate; I always try to avoid it.

How well we do remains to be seen. That depends on you.

- Noun clauses normally refer to abstractions (ideas, processes, events, facts) rather than to things or people. (Nominal relative clauses are an exception; see Unit 11, Section 3.)

2 TYPES OF NOUN CLAUSE

Noun clauses use these structures:

Type	Example
that-clauses	That he is not the best choice goes without saying.
wh-clauses	I'm not really sure what he's talking about. exclamation clauses	I can't believe how quickly he learned the language.
to-infinitive clauses	I like to get up early.
-ing clauses (gerunds)	Driving too fast is something most new drivers tend to do.
nominal relative clauses	That is exactly what I've been trying to tell you all day.

3 POSITION

We use noun clauses in these positions in a sentence:

Position	Example
as subject of the sentence (see Section 1.4)	Where we go next depends on you. To run as fast as that takes a lot of training.
as object of a verb	He phoned me to ask what we should do. I love showing people my home town.
after be	The question is who will take over when he retires. My first job every morning is getting the breakfast ready.
after some nouns	His first excuse, that he had been caught in traffic, was untrue. I don't like his claim that we have no freedom of choice.
after some adjectives	I'd be very happy to be of any assistance. I'm very disappointed that I didn't get any promotion this year.
after prepositions	The traffic warden came over to where I was parked.

watch out!

- Sometimes we can replace a noun clause with a noun or pronoun:
He phoned to ask what we should do.
He phoned to ask something.
- However, this isn't always possible, especially after adjectives:
I'm glad to have met you.
- We can always refer back to a noun clause using it or that. If we can't, it's another type of clause:
I'd be very happy to help. It would give me great pleasure. (= noun clause)
I'm very disappointed that I didn't get a promotion. That is why I'm resigning. (= noun clause)
That's the man to talk to about it.
(= relative clause; see Unit 11, Section 2)
We need something to open the bottle.
(= purpose clause, see Unit 6, Section 2)
- Normally, we only use wh-clauses after a preposition:
~~✗ I'm so pleased about that you got the job.~~
✓ I'm so pleased that you got the job.
I'm very pleased about what you told me.

SECTION I

That-clauses

1 FOLLOWING NOUNS

We commonly use that-clauses to talk about facts or beliefs:

The idea that we don't care is simply untrue.
The fact that he isn't here shouldn't be too surprising.

- Here are nouns commonly followed by that-clauses:

danger evidence idea impression principle risk experience view sign fact disadvantage news opinion possibility tradition

2 FOLLOWING ADJECTIVES

That-clauses are common after certain adjectives:

It's sad that they couldn't stay longer.

- We commonly begin these structures with It:
It was inevitable that they should find out eventually.
- Here are adjectives commonly followed by that-clauses:

essential interesting likely sad inevitable true probable lucky important awful possible extraordinary

3 FOLLOWING REPORT VERBS AND NOUNS

That-clauses are also common after report verbs (see Unit 13, Section 2) and related nouns:

He explained that the company policy was about to change.

His explanation was that the company policy was about to change.

- After some report structures we use the subjunctive in the that-clause (see Unit 5, Section 1.1):
I suggested he remove all reference to alcohol in the article.

4 THAT-CLAUSES AS SUBJECT OF THE SENTENCE

In formal English, we can use that-clauses as subjects (without a preceding noun):

That we don't care is simply untrue.
That he wasn't there didn't come as a huge surprise.

- It's more common to use the structure with It...that...:
It's simply untrue that we don't care.
It didn't come as a huge surprise that he wasn't there.

5 OMITTING THAT

When we use a that-clause as an object, for example after report verbs, we often omit that:

He promised (that) he would come.

- With subject clauses beginning with It (see above), we normally only omit that after the common phrase It's a pity / shame...:
It's a shame (that) you couldn't come to the party.

6 RELATIVE CLAUSE OR NOUN CLAUSE?

After nouns, we use that to introduce both relative clauses and noun clauses. There are important differences:

- In the following example, the noun clause extends the meaning of the noun promise and tells us what it is. We can't replace that with which:
He made a promise that he would return all the money. (= noun clause)
- In the following example, we don't know exactly what the promise was. In relative clauses we can usually replace that with which (see Unit 11, Overview):
He made a promise that (or: which) he failed to keep. (= relative clause)

? check

Underline the noun clauses in these sentences.

- The assumption that we'll do all the preparations annoys me.
- I'm convinced he didn't do it.
- They said it was a waste of time.
- It seems unlikely that they'll succeed the first time.
- That he is here at all is a miracle.

Practice

1 In some of these sentences, both the adjective and the noun are possible. In others only one will do. Cross out any options that cannot complete the sentence.

- a It's ridiculous / a ridicule that he should be allowed to get away with it.
- b It's factual / a fact that she put colleagues' backs up in nearly everything she did.
- c It's legal / a rule that no-one under 18 should be involved in such social activities.
- d It's absurd / an absurdity that men are permitted into such clubs and women are not.
- e It's comfortable / a comfort that you are here in our time of need.
- f It's inconvenient / an inconvenience that we have to go up three flights of stairs for a bath.

2 In each group below, cross out any sentences that are not correct.

- 1 a Paul gave the impression that he hates pop music.
- b That he hates pop music is well known.
- c He was talking about that he hates pop music.
- d The thing is that he hates pop music.
- e I'm certain that he hates pop music.
- f He explained that he hates pop music.
- g The thing that he hates is pop music.
- 2 a He explained that he had been held up.
- b She excused that she was late.
- c That he was late was really inexcusable.
- d His excuse that he got lost was accepted.
- e It wasn't that surprising that she was late.
- f The fact of the matter was they were both late.
- g The fact that neither was on time that was extremely annoying.

3 Rewrite each of the following sentences with that-clauses starting with the words given.

Example: It's a complete waste of time, I think.

I think that it's a complete waste of time.

- a People have completely distorted views about the European Union. That is my experience.
It's
- b We may get there in time. It's certainly possible.
It's
- c New members have to buy the first round. It's an old tradition.

- d My brother completely forgot about my birthday, which upset me.
The fact
- e William believes in ghosts, which I find ridiculous.
I find it
- f The new government would make radical changes. That is what people believed.
It
- g They are not going. That was their answer.
Their
- h The company runs at a loss. That is the truth.
The truth

4 In the following passage, ten phrases have been taken out and listed below. Decide where they have been taken from and write the appropriate capital letter in the numbered gap.

- A the fact that so many people
- B or at least an absence of rain
- C it's a pity
- D that people have stopped caring
- E that people have put up with it
- F that action will be taken
- G it's absurd
- H that good weather
- I the fact that this has not happened here
- J here we are

I sit here shivering in July. This is the month that should see us prancing along beaches and complaining of the oppressive heat. And (1), contemplating whether to turn the central heating on. No, that's not an option. Not in July. Yet we have suffered day after day of drizzle mixed in with occasional thunderstorms. It's amazing (2). In any civilised country it would have led to demonstrations. People would have marched with posters demanding sunshine (3). Is (4) a testimony to our resigned attitude to the weather? Can it be true (5) ? Surely not. And yet, (6) have been grinning and bearing it these past few weeks suggests it may be so. How can any nation sit back and accept the climate it is given year in, year out? We need motions passed (7) be shared about more evenly. We need assurances (8). (9) that some people should go on ad nauseam about deforestation and global warming and things like that. (10) those same people don't take our bitterly cold Julys more seriously. I can't stand another one like this.

SECTION 2

Wh-clauses

1 USES OF WH-CLAUSES

Wh-clauses are related to questions:

I don't know who is coming to the party.

(= Who is coming to the party?)

Why she disappeared remains a mystery.*

(= Why did she disappear?)

- We commonly use wh-clauses in reported questions. Note the word order:
~~✗ He asked me where had I been that morning.~~
 ✓ He asked where I'd been that morning.

2 PREPOSITIONS WITH WH-CLAUSES

We can use wh-clauses after prepositions:

They consulted us on who they should invite.

- When the preposition belongs to the verb in the wh-clause, it usually comes at the end of the clause:
He asked me where I got the coat from.
- However, in very formal English it may come at the beginning:
He asked me from where I got the coat.

3 INFINITIVES WITH WH-CLAUSES

We often use to-infinitives with wh-clauses, especially when referring to possible courses of action:

I never know how to work out percentages.

I was wondering what to do.

- These clauses can often be rewritten with should:
I never know how I should work out percentages.
I was wondering what I should do.

4 WHETHER AND IF

We use whether and if when a yes / no question is implied:

Do you know whether / if there's a good film on tonight?

- We commonly use whether rather than if when talking about a choice or alternative:
Whether it's necessary to tell her everything about this is debatable. (= choice)*
- If is common when the noun clause is the object of a verb:
I don't know if there is anything we can do to help.
- In other positions, we commonly use whether. We use if in informal spoken English:

Position	Example
as subject	Whether the extra work makes any difference remains to be seen. If we will do it again depends on the weather. (= informal) after be	My worry is whether he's taken all the risks on board. The question is if we should risk it or not. (= informal)
after a preposition	We have to discriminate between whether they really need the money or are just being greedy. (Not possible with if)
after nouns	The decision, whether to wait another year before spending the money, will be taken at today's meeting. (Not possible with if)
before a to -infinitive	I can't decide whether to go or not. (Not possible with if) immediately before or not	We have to decide whether or not we are going. (Not possible with if unless or not comes later in the phrase: We have to decide if we are going or not.)

5 EXCLAMATIONS

We also use what and how in exclamation clauses.

These are similar in structure to wh-clauses:

It's amazing how fast children grow!

- With singular nouns, what is followed by a / an:
I told him what a great time we had.
- With how, and with plural or uncountable nouns after what, it is sometimes difficult to decide whether the clause is an exclamation or an ordinary wh-clause. The context is the only clue:
*You'd never believe what problems I had. (= exclamation meaning 'You'd never believe what a lot of problems I had.' or: = wh-clause meaning 'You'd never believe what the problems were.')*

? check

Tick (✓) the sentence with an exclamation clause.

- How to start a composition is often the most difficult thing.
- I'm not entirely certain which way to go next.
- It's surprising what a difficult question this is.
- The question of whether he is competent or not can only be answered tentatively.
- He was sure what we had done was to blame for the accident.

Practice

1 Fill each of the gaps in the following sentences with two suitable words.

- a It's not a question of how big your camera is; it's do with it that counts.
- b How soon they'll operate on you depends on your condition is.
- c Annie was curious to know of the shops in the centre I had bought my skirt
- d I wouldn't know who to in an emergency like that.
- e Sometimes I don't to express myself.
- f The game will definitely go ahead is raining or not.
- g Our cleaning lady told me about wonderful time she had had.
- h like it or not, you'll never play properly unless you practise.

2 For each of the following sentences, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

Example: The editor wanted to know the earliest I could let him have the proofs back.

soon The editor wanted to know how soon I could let him have the proofs back.

- a The landlord demanded to know the extent of the damage done at the previous night's party.
much
- b The book-keeper asked for consideration to be given to the probable cost of such a venture.
how
- c The board were unable to agree on the best person for the job.
who
- d No one seems too sure as to the actual frequency of earthquakes in the area.
often
- e The police need to establish the vehicle's precise speed at the moment of impact.
fast
- f How heavy the package is obviously determines the postage required.
weight
- g I wonder how Peter and Anne are related.
relationship
- h Do you happen to know when trains leave from here to Edinburgh?
departure

- i I'd be interested to find out how badly she wants the job.
strength

3 Rewrite the following as sentences starting with the words given.

Example: I've no idea of the way there, I'm afraid.

How to get there I've no idea, I'm afraid.

- a He didn't even phone me at Christmas which made me really angry.
What
- b We have a choice: either we can get it finished now or we can leave it until Monday.
We have to decide
- c When does our flight leave? I'm a little unsure of the time.
I'm
- d I've been wondering whether or not I should ask her.
I've been wondering if
- e I don't mind going now: it's up to you.
When
- f They accused me of something. I could only describe it as an appalling crime.
They accused me of
- g He looked very well, which I was relieved to see.
I was relieved to see
- h We might go there again or we might not. It's a good restaurant, nevertheless.
Whether

4 Complete each of the following sentences with a suitable word or phrase.

- a What the verdict hinges reliable the landlady's testimony is seen to be.
- b Whether the imprisoned serial killer will ever only the Justice Minister can answer.
- c They put the girl's string of thefts she had been treated badly at school.
- d Why he suddenly threw promising career in the police is anybody's guess.
- e How becoming overcrowded is obviously a consideration when judges are sentencing.
- f What to regular recidivists is clearly a problem.
- g People are thinking constantly about how punishment fit the crime.
- h The state really has to decide once and for all what is to with juvenile offenders.

SECTION 3

To-infinitive and -ing clauses

1 POSITIONS IN A SENTENCE

We can use to-infinitive clauses and -ing clauses in similar positions:

Position	Example
as subject or complement	To achieve so much by the age of 25 is wonderful. (= written / formal) It's wonderful to achieve so much by the age of 25. Achieving so much by the age of 25 is wonderful. It's wonderful, achieving so much by the age of 25.
as object	I love to listen to music in the evenings. I love listening to music in the evenings.
after be	My main ambition is to become a surgeon. My biggest nightmare is completely forgetting to turn up for the exams.
after nouns	His plans to travel during the Christmas holiday fell apart. There could be a problem finding a suitable hotel.
after adjectives	I was very sorry to have to tell her about the accident. The children were all happy playing in the garden.
after prepositions	(Not possible with to -infinitive clauses) I really object to driving on busy holiday weekends.

2 DIFFERENCES BETWEEN -ING AND TO-INFINITIVE

Many people have tried to establish differences in meaning between to-infinitive and -ing clauses, e.g:

- that we use to-infinitive clauses to refer to possibilities, ideas and aims:
To set up business in China was his long-term aim. (= his idea)
- that we use -ing clauses to refer more to facts and things that have already happened:
Setting up this business was really hard work. (= fulfilled aim)

- However, there are so many exceptions that such distinctions are often not helpful:
I'm glad to have finished that. (= fulfilled aim)
Every night I dream about winning the Lottery. (= an idea)

3 ADDING A SUBJECT TO TO-INFINITIVE CLAUSES

When there is a subject in a to-infinitive clause, we normally add for:

For him to complain about being overworked is ridiculous.

- We also use for after some adjectives, such as easy, keen, desperate:
He's very keen for us to go and visit him in Canada.

4 ADDING A SUBJECT TO -ING CLAUSES

When there is a subject in an -ing clause, the pronoun is either possessive or objective. Possessives are more formal:

I really object to his making so much noise.

I really object to him making so much noise.

5 COMMON PHRASES

To err is human; to forgive, divine.

To be or not to be, that is the question.

To travel hopefully is better than to arrive.

It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.

I can't get used to losing you.

? check

Cross out the sentence that does not contain a to-infinitive clause or an -ing clause.

- I dislike having to wake up early.
- Being a politician is very demanding.
- Your suggestion to donate the proceeds to charity is an excellent one.
- Laughing and joking, they walked out of the building together.
- I'm sorry to tell you that your application was not successful.

Practice

1 Change the verb in brackets to a to-infinitive or -ing form as appropriate. Add any other preposition that is needed.

- Have you ever considered (move) to York; it is considered (be) one of the nicest cities in England.
- I like (leave) home before 8.15 in the morning. I don't like (sit) in traffic when I know I could be doing something useful at work.
- We were meant (leave) at seven but that would have meant (get) up at 5.30.
- I'm rather afraid (bring) the subject up with her because I'm afraid (upset) her.
- As you're so keen (follow) fashions, you'll probably be keen (visit) this exhibition.
- I regret (inform) you that I already regret (enrol) for this course.
- Fortunately I remembered (bolt) the door, but to be honest, I don't remember (do) so.
- She stopped (shout) for a moment and he decided (have) a cigarette.
- My intention was (stay) single; I really had no intention (get) married.
- This guitar needs (tune) and you also need (do) something about your piano.

2 Rewrite each of the following as one sentence with a to-infinitive clause or -ing noun clause starting with the words given.

- Example:* I wish he wouldn't put that music on when I'm trying to sleep.
I object to his putting that music on when I'm trying to sleep.
- I understood the plot. It wasn't a problem for me.
Understanding
 - The kidnapper said that he would shoot the hostages if food wasn't sent.
The kidnapper threatened
 - It's not often that I get the chance of going to the USA.
The opportunity
 - Seeing you again after all this time is wonderful.
It's
 - The audience couldn't understand everything she said because the subject was so difficult.
For the audience
 - I think it's brilliant that you've got such a good job.
I think your

3 At the end of all these openings, add a form of come / coming / for coming, etc. to England. Write out the sentences in full using the opening given.

Example: At first I was reluctant to come to England.

- I had no desire...
- In fact I was dead set against...
- But my parents wanted me...
- Of course my boyfriend wouldn't let me...
- But then my boss insisted on me...
- I wasn't too keen...
- But he made me...
- Anyway, I began to have second thoughts about...
- And finally I came round to the idea of...
- And I must say I don't regret...

regret delight sue broadening entitles managed pride resented objected protest subjected

Dear John,

It is with great (1) that I have to herewith give you notice that I (2) to leave the organisation at the end of next month.

I would like to say that it has been a (3) working for you and I have (4) being part of the team. I know we have had our ups and downs and at times I must confess I (5) being called a liar and being (6) to apologise for mistakes I had not made. However, overall, the experience has been good for me and I have taken great (7) in (8) that experience in many ways. As you know, I have never (9) to being made the scapegoat whenever one was needed and I think you will (10) that I have (11) to keep up a brave face even when I was being (12) of all kinds of heinous crimes. I have taken great (13) in doing my work well, despite your (14) that I was as much good as a fart in a colander. But I know for me to (15) about your treatment is pointless.

..... (16) the boss of such a department gives you the right to be aggressive, boorish and ill-mannered. It allows you to treat your employees as if they did not exist. Whether it (17) you to call me an incompetent twit only the courts will decide.

My (18) now are to have a holiday and then to look for a position in which I will not be (19) to continual abuse and bullying. My next step will be to (20) you for constructive dismissal.

Thank you for giving me three wonderful years of employment.

SECTION 4

Reference: this, that, these, those, such; so

1 THIS/ THESE v. THAT/ THOSE: TIME AND DISTANCE

We use this and these as both pronouns and determiners, to refer to things that are closer in time or distance. We use that and those for more distant things:

In those days people only had radios whereas these days, everybody watches television.

- The word we use may depend on how close or distant we 'feel' to the thing we are talking about: 'What do you think of these new digital televisions?' 'Oh those are a waste of money.'

2 THIS, THAT, THESE: REFERRING BACK

We use this and that to refer back to previously stated ideas. In writing, this is more common than that. We use this when we want to say more about the subject:

Television was invented by Baird. This is news to most people who assume that television just invented itself.

- However that's why is more common than this is why:
I hate television. That's why I haven't got one.
- If a preceding paragraph contains several points, we can use this as a pronoun rather than these to summarise the general idea of the paragraph:
In the 1950s and 60s, watching television had a sense of occasion. The whole family would gather round the black and white set, waiting for it to warm up. There were no remote controls, and only one or two channels. This has all changed now.
- We use these more often as a determiner:
All these shortcomings have now become history.

3 SUCH

We can use such before a noun to refer back to a fact, activity or concept, meaning 'like this / that'. With singular nouns, such is followed by a / an:

Computers may eventually replace television, though such a move seems a long way off.

- We can modify such with few / all / many or a number:
People are predicting about the future of technology. Few such predictions become reality.

4 SO AND NOT AS PRONOUNS

We can use so to replace adjectives or noun phrases after a link verb in common combinations, e.g. become so, remain so:

I was very happy but my wife was rather less so.

He was an enormous influence on me as a student and remained so in later life.

- We use do so to replace a verb and its object or complement:
'Could you write up a report on the visit for me?' 'I've already done so.'
- So* and not can replace a that-clause, especially after be and the following report verbs:
appear seem believe expect hope imagine think suppose guess reckon
'I hope that you have a nice journey.' 'I hope so too.'
'Have you got the flowers?' 'I'm afraid not.'
- We say I don't expect so, I don't think so rather than I expect not, I think not. We use I hope not and can't say I don't hope so.
- We can use some transitive verbs without so or an object in responses:
I know. I understand.
- We can use so at the beginning of a phrase in these types of sentence:
'He's late again.' 'So it appears.' or: So it would appear.
We were convinced we would win and so it turned out. 'They're here.' 'So they are!'

5 COMMON PHRASES

That's that. We've finished. 'What have you been doing?' 'Oh, this and that.' That's it! I quit!

'Did you get a pay rise?' 'No such luck.'

Sea levels are rising, or so they say.

If you insist on doing it your way, so be it.

? check

Underline the most likely alternative.

- I don't like game shows. These / Such programmes I find an insult to the intelligence.
- She didn't even say 'thank you'. That / This is the last time I do her any favours.
- She told lies about me to the neighbours and she even tried to steal my tools. These are / That is why I refuse to speak to her.
- They were asked to sign a declaration condemning the authorities but many refused to do such / so.
- It must be very difficult to become a ballet dancer, or at any rate this / so I imagine.

Practice

1 Complete each of the sentences with so, such, that, this, these or those.

Example: You were told to wear a tie. Why didn't you do so ?

- I'm always out when my favourite TV programme is on.'s why I bought a VCR.
- Different channels seem to have different weather forecasts. How can things happen?
- Channel 4 is supposed to be for people who like documentaries while Channel 3 is for who enjoy soap operas.
- Cheap programmes, amateur production values, unimaginative programming: are just some of the reasons for the channel's failure.
- Videotape is a thing of the past – or they say.
- Commercial television needs to satisfy the advertisers with its programming. State television has no obligation.
- Satellite and cable have led to a massive increase in the number of channels. Many would say that has also led to a reduction in quality.
- 'It looks like digital television will be taking over.' 'It certainly seems

2 Match the five sentences (1–5), with the most appropriate response (a–e).

- Will it be all right to borrow his paper?
 - Thanks for putting me up at such short notice.
 - Would they dare to put us on a three-day working week?
 - They're finally going to get married then.
 - Sorry, they've decided to give the job to Anna and not you.
- That's all right.
 - I should think so.
 - That's that, then.
 - I sincerely hope not.
 - So it seems.

3 Match the five sentences (1–5), with the most appropriate response (a–e).

- I've been here getting on for a year now.
 - You've got a stain on your sleeve.
 - Could you lend me your bike this afternoon?
 - So you didn't win the lottery then?
 - He can't have left the office, yet, can he?
- Only too happy to.
 - So have I.
 - So I have.
 - I wouldn't have thought so.
 - No such luck.

4 Fill each of the numbered gaps with one of the words listed. More than one word may fit.

this that these those so such as

The events that have rocked Europe in the past fifty years and had a profound effect on (1) who witnessed them have to a certain extent passed me by. (2) a statement by a fifty-year-old man may seem rather silly but (3) it seems to me. I was too young to appreciate what was happening in Hungary in 1956. In (4) days we had no television at home and I was too young to read newspapers. (5) was an event I discovered through history books rather than the media. Prague in 1968 found me on a remote island with no TV; (6) is why the tanks in the square I only really remember from black and white front-page photos. Even (7) memories have faded to sepia, as it were. Then there was Gdansk and the shipyards. Again at (8) time I was living without the benefit of moving pictures and gained a rather vague impression of events from the radio. Many other (9) landmark events have not left me with clear animated images. I never really 'saw' the momentous Berlin Wall destruction in 1989. (10) with the other occasions, (11) was one that I experienced through words rather than pictures, even more (12) than Czechoslovakia '68. The effect was (13) of reading a novel as opposed to watching a play and, despite my now having seen some news footage, has remained (14) to (15) day. All (16) events have entered my subconscious, (17) have countless others, but they have done (18) with my own subjective impressions of them and in (19) day and age, when truth and objective reality are so important, I'm not sure that I really like (20).

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Nouns from phrasal verbs

1 PARTICLE FIRST OR SECOND?

Nouns derived from phrasal verbs sometimes have the particle or preposition as the first part of the word, sometimes the second. The stress is on the first syllable whichever form the word takes. When the particle comes second, there is often a hyphen before it unless the compound is extremely common.

Here are some examples

overspill underpass intake output outbreak upturn breakdown break-up phone-in pay-out setback cut-off

- Some phrasal verbs allow both types of noun:

overspill spill-over breakout outbreak offcut cut-off

2 TRANSITIVE OR INTRANSITIVE?

Nouns can be derived from transitive and intransitive phrasal verbs:

intake outgoings output lock-out bystander fry-up knockout breakout onlooker input takeover takeaway lift-off income walk-out freeze-up backwash print-out

- 1 Write down the nouns from 2 above that derive from intransitive verbs.

3 DIFFERENCES BETWEEN NOUN AND PHRASAL VERB

The noun may not have all the meanings of the corresponding phrasal verb e.g. there is no noun deriving from the verb work out meaning 'calculation' – I tried to work out how much I needed to live on each month – but there is a noun, workout, from the verb work out meaning 'exercise':

*He works out most mornings.
He had a gentle workout in the gym.*

- The noun derived from a phrasal verb can have more than one meaning:
He did a hilarious take-off of the boss's wife.
(= impersonation) Flight LH496 is ready for take-off. (= act of a plane leaving the ground)

- Sometimes there is a difference in meaning or use between the phrasal verb and the noun:
Look out! There's a bus coming. The outlook is bleak. He checked out of his hotel at dawn. There are 36 check-outs in our supermarket.

- Often the verb is less common than the noun, and may have almost disappeared from current use. Here are some examples:

feedback backlash outcome outcry drawback offspring

- On the other hand, many common phrasal verbs don't have a corresponding noun. We use another noun:

Money suddenly started flowing in. There was a sudden influx of money.

Ring me up later. Give me a ring later.

4 OTHER POINTS

- We can use the -ing form of some phrasal verbs to produce a noun. Here are some examples:
setting-up opening-up closing down sending-out dressing-down

- The particle up, usually as the second part, is very popular in recent colloquialisms:

hang-up send-up fry-up shake-up cover-up wind-up

- Some phrasal verbs have forms that we use as adjectives:

*a stand-up comedian a put-up job
a get-out clause give-away prices throwaway lines*

- There are only a few three-word noun phrases deriving from phrasal verbs:

a put-you-up hand-me-downs a pick-me-up

Practice

- 1 For each of the sentences below, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

a Let's hope so-called mad cow disease doesn't break out again.

SECTION 6

Lack, shortage and excess

Read these two texts.

The haves

In Santa Maxima people were well-to-do, well-off and well-heeled. They ate and drank to their hearts' content and often to excess. They had plenty of delicacies to eat and ample fine wine to drink. There was an abundance of natural resources in the country and manifold crops were plentiful. Most people wanted for nothing: they had mountains of food, stacks of money, heaps of stocks and shares and piles and piles of bonds and other assets.

The have nots

In San Minimo there was abject poverty. There were insufficient crops and an acute shortage of drinking water. Inadequate sanitation meant that standards of hygiene fell well below an acceptable norm. Rice was scarce and many were suffering from severe vitamin deficiency. What food they got was lacking in protein and low in nutritional value.

We can use a wide range of vocabulary to express lack, need, sufficiency and excess:

- verbs and verbal phrases:
to need to require to be in need of (could) do with (could) do without to lack to stuff yourself to overdo it to be crying out for to satisfy a need
- adjective + noun collocations:
in desperate need of a plentiful supply in abject poverty an acute shortage untold wealth / luxury dire need untapped resources easy money conspicuous consumption
- adverb + adjective collocations:
severely lacking in desperately short of barely adequate fabulously wealthy desperately poor filthy rich
- adverb + verb collocations:
badly need urgently require obviously lack want something desperately
- idiomatic phrases:
well-heeled down-at-heel down and out on the bread-line more than enough to run short of be strapped for cash to stuff yourself silly

Practice

- 1 wine hard-up untold full butter need overweight fleets brimming surfeit fraction surplus excessive unimaginable overdid

In Santa Maxima no one knew what it meant to be (1). Santa Maximans were (2) of optimism and (3) over with confidence. When they hit the big time, their wealth became (4) and they lived in a (5) of luxury and – often – with a (6) of fat. (7) and over-indulgent, with (8) riches and (9) wealth, they (10) everything, with their (11) of cars, their (12) mountains, (13) lakes and over-consumption, desperately in (14) of a modicum of self-control to consume a (15) of what was theirs to use. That was how life was in Santa Maxima before the revolution.

- 2 dire lack utter hardship short scraps non-existent empty drop devoid basic bereft scarcity clear lacking

..... (1) of medical supplies, San Minimo was in (2) need of help and there was a (3) need for urgent action. There was a serious (4) of any kind of expertise and their educational system was virtually (5). With the (6) of food and (7) commodities, babies were being born (8) of all hope and (9) in fundamental human rights. Whenever war broke out, they suffered even greater (10). After each war, when the country needed completely restructuring, the government was (11) of ideas. Survivors survived on (12) of food, hardly a (13) of water and just crumbs of hope from aid agencies. They existed in (14) degradation, under-nourished, underfed, running on (15), with more than enough dreams for the whole world. That was how life was in San Minimo before the revolution.

2 Rewrite each sentence using the two words below it.

- a We need somebody like you to help us.
in / assistance
- b He may be inexperienced but he makes up for it by being enthusiastic.
what / lacks
- c The pay increase didn't come up to our expectations.

- f How anyone on such a high salary so down-at-heel is beyond me.
- g She has self-confidence abundance.
- h Until pay-day I've hardly on.

Exam practice 10

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

Some people have a touching faith in the intelligence and sensitivity of dolphins. A long scientific study has recently reported (1) they are (2) highly intelligent that, given the chance, they would spend their time reading The London Review of Books and listening to Wagner. As far as I am concerned, the height of dolphinkind's achievements are in a dolphinarium, where they learn (3) to jump out of a pool to snatch a fish from a blonde in a wet suit. I completely (4) to understand (5), armed with (6) slender evidence, people can make their extraordinary claims for the swimming mammal's superior brain power. Dogs, after all, can be trained in much the same way but (7) anyone to (8) similar claims of massive I.Q. for a dog (9) a stick would be clearly ridiculous. If dolphins are (10) clever, how come they keep (11) caught in those tuna nets? I can't understand (12) they don't swim the other way. Have they got highly developed communication skills or haven't they? (13) dolphins are playful is indisputable, as is the (14) that (15) them to do tricks is relatively easy. The purely coincidental fact (16) their mouth structure makes them look to humans (17) in normal critical awareness as if they are smiling and thoroughly enjoying themselves is not, however a (18) of intelligence. During the Cold War, the US Navy trained dolphins to (19) out highly dangerous mine-clearing work. If anything, (20) strikes me as conclusive proof of lack of intelligence.

OVERVIEW

1 DEFINING AND NON-DEFINING RELATIVE CLAUSES

A defining clause (also called 'an identifying clause') gives essential information about a noun:

People who talk too much annoy me intensely.

I'd like to marry someone whose star-sign is Libra.

- Without the clause, the meaning of the sentence is different:

People annoy me intensely. I'd like to marry someone.

A non-defining (or 'non-identifying') clause gives additional information about a noun:

My younger brother, who is painfully shy, rarely speaks to anyone.

This watch, which I was given for Christmas, keeps perfect time.

- Without the clause, the main information of the sentence remains the same:

My younger brother rarely speaks to anyone.

This watch keeps perfect time.

- In writing, we use commas to separate non-defining clauses from the rest of the sentence.

That

We often use that in defining relative clauses instead of which or (more informally) who:

It's the dark blue top that really appeals to me.

There are loads of people that believe in UFOs.

(See Watch out! below)

2 PEOPLE OR THINGS?

We use who and whom for people, and that or which for things, or for groups of people (a team etc.). We use whose for both (see 6 below):

It's usually the mother who has most influence on young children.

Nepal is a country that / which has always interested me.

3 WHO OR WHOM?

Whom is an object pronoun, who is a subject pronoun:

I had further discussions with Andreas, whom I had met the previous week. I don't like men who wear perfume.

- However, whom is now considered very formal and we often use who instead:

I saw John, who I had met the previous week.

(See Watch out! below)

4 WHERE, WHEN AND WHY

With relative clauses of place and time, we can use where and when instead of a preposition + which:

Tuesday is the day when (or: on which) I go to the fitness club. The school where (or: at which) I first studied English is in Thassos.

5 POSITION OF RELATIVE PRONOUNS

Relative pronouns usually immediately follow the noun they refer to:

✗ ~~The film was very interesting that we saw.~~

✓ The film that we saw was very interesting.

- A common exception, especially in newspaper reports, is when the noun and relative clause(s) are separated by another noun phrase:

Is Richard Branson, the Virgin boss, whose attempts to fly round the world in a hot air balloon have all ended in failure, a better businessman than pilot?

6 WHOSE

Whose is a possessive relative pronoun. It's a determiner and so can only be used before a noun:

My uncle, whose house we stayed in every summer, never had any children of his own.

- We use whose with both people and things, but of which is more common with things:

The house, the gardens of which sloped down to the beach, was enormous. The house, whose gardens sloped down to the beach, was enormous.

- We commonly use with:

The house, with gardens that sloped down to the beach, was enormous.

watch out!

- We use whom, not who, after prepositions and phrases like most of, all of:

✗ ~~That's the man to who I sold my car.~~

Several people came, most of who I hadn't met before.

✓ That's the man to whom I sold my car. Several people came, most of whom I hadn't met before.

- We can't use that after prepositions or in non-defining clauses:

✗ ~~My father, that has recently retired, spends all day reading the newspaper.~~

This is the house in ~~that~~ I grew up.

✓ My father, who has recently retired, spends all day reading the newspaper. This is the house in which I grew up / that I grew up in.

SECTION I

Words used with relative pronouns

1 PREPOSITIONS IN RELATIVE CLAUSES

When a preposition is necessary, it can go before the relative pronoun or at the end of the relative clause.

When it goes before, it is generally more formal:

✗ Chemistry is a subject ~~which~~ I always had problems.

✓ Chemistry is a subject which I always had problems with. Chemistry is a subject with which I always had problems. (= more formal)

- We use many fixed prepositional phrases with which (and when) in non-defining relative clauses:
It might rain, in which case we'll get back as soon as possible.
The hero died, at which point the curtain came down.
There was a scandal, as a result of which all the ministers resigned.
There was another scandal, the result of which was that the President himself resigned.
He stopped playing in 1995, since when he hasn't kicked a ball.
Plant them out in May, by when (or by which time) the risk of frost will have passed.

2 RELATIVE CLAUSES AFTER PRONOUNS

Defining relative clauses often follow these pronouns:

someone anyone something anything everything all many those some nothing little much

Many who saw the film were unimpressed.

- Instead of using which, we commonly use that, or omit the relative pronoun, when the pronoun is impersonal (anything, something, nothing, etc.):
I'm ready for anything that happens.
Anything you can do I can do better.
- After the personal pronouns we use relative clauses only in formal or literary English:
He who laughs last laughs longest. (proverb)*
...we that are young
Shall never see so much, or live so long. (Shakespeare, King Lear)*
- Those in structures like the following example nearly always refers to people rather than things:
Will all those who want to go please raise their hands?
- Much that and little that are fairly formal:
Much that has been done here is of profound significance. I will tell you the little that I know.*

watch out!

The relative pronoun acts as both a linking word and a pronoun. It replaces other pronouns:

✗ That was a very interesting film which we saw it.

The man ~~who he~~ called yesterday has just come in.

✓ That was a very interesting film which we saw.

The man who called yesterday has just come in.

3 RELATIVE PRONOUNS AFTER SOME OF, ALL OF, ETC.

Who, whom, whose and which frequently combine with all of, some of, several of, both of and other quantifiers:

I bought a load of apples, three quarters of which were bad.

Thousands of people, none of whom realised what was about to happen, had come to Dallas to see the President.

4 WHICH WITH OTHER WH-WORDS

We can use which with other wh-words in non-defining clauses:

He arrived at six, which was when the diamonds went missing.

She left her address, which was how we contacted her.

All delegates are in the lecture theatre, which is where you should be.

His fingerprints were all over it, which was what gave him away.

She had become separated from her mother in the shop, which was why she was crying.

? check

Correct these sentences.

- My sister, who I am always being compared, is actually two years older than me.
- His second symphony, which I heard it last night, is not nearly as good as his first.
- I'm afraid that under the circumstances there is little which we can do.
- Many people were hurt in the explosion, several of who were standing a hundred metres away.
- She's always open to new ideas, that is what I really like about her.

Practice

1 In each of the gaps in the following sentences, write in as many of the five words as possible.

Example: The team who/which/that wins will qualify for the final.

who whom that whose which

- Wasn't there some German or Czech author beginning with a K in novels individuals got lost in bureaucratic mazes?
- We are blessed with good health, for we should all be grateful.
- Anything you want you can have.
- Anyone wants to help should leave their contribution in this box.
- Much has been said will soon be forgotten.
- We bought six loaves of bread for the party, half of weren't touched.
- My daughter invited five of her friends to dinner, none of expressed any kind of thanks.
- We had quite an informal supper actually, is what may not have pleased them.

2 Rewrite each of the following sentences to include the word which and another wh- word.

Example: I had a holiday in Rome last year and that's the place it all began.

I had a holiday in Rome last year, which is where it all began.

- I met him in May and it was then that I fell in love with him.
- We met because a friend introduced us.
- He had the most beautiful smile and that was what attracted me initially.
- We spent a weekend in Venice and that was the place we decided to get engaged.
- We had a big white wedding and that was something I'd always wanted.

3 Underline the options that can complete each sentence. In each case, one, two or three may be possible.

- My tennis-playing friend retired in 1996, he had earned over £3 million.
a by which time b since when c at which point d when
- Over there are the 12th century dungeons, hundreds of well-known people were tortured.

5 Rewrite each sentence using the words printed below it.

- Example:* My thanks to my family, who made all of this possible. without / none
My thanks to my family, without whom none of this would have been possible.
- Since writing a best-seller in 1995, Joe has hardly produced any good work at all.
wrote / since / very
 - He hasn't written much recently that's been appreciated by those attracted by his early style.
Little / who
 - Not only his appearance but also his manners leave great scope for improvement.
He / man / both / desired
 - By the time he realised where his career was going in the late nineties, it was too late.
In / which
 - He now regrets writing the article because it was that that caused him all the problems he's had.
now wishes / but for / not

SECTION 2

Omitting relative pronouns

1 OMITTING THE RELATIVE PRONOUN

In defining relative clauses, we often omit the relative pronoun when it is the object of the clause:

The excuse he offered was unconvincing. (= that / which omitted)

In other words: He offered the excuse
(subject + verb + object) becomes: the excuse he offered (object + subject + verb)

watch out!

- We can't omit the relative pronoun when it's the subject of the clause:
 - ✗ The people were sitting at the back couldn't see anything.
 - ✓ The people who were sitting at the back couldn't see anything.
- We can't omit the relative pronoun in non-defining clauses.
 - ✗ My lawyer's excuse, he offered rather reluctantly, was that the law had recently changed.
 - ✓ My lawyer's excuse, which he offered rather reluctantly, was that the law had recently changed.

2 REPLACING RELATIVE CLAUSES

-ing forms

We can use -ing forms after nouns and pronouns in a 'reduced' defining relative clause:

The people sitting at the back couldn't see anything.
(sitting = who were sitting)

- With this structure, we can use stative verbs not commonly found in the Continuous (see Unit 1, Section 5):
Anyone wanting to go on the excursion should go to Reception. (wanting = who wants)
They found several boxes containing explosives.
(containing = which contained)
- We can omit the -ing form when it's followed by a prepositional phrase:
The people at the back couldn't see anything.

Past participles and adjectives

We can use past participles after nouns in a 'reduced' defining relative clause:

All those selected will be informed by 5 o'clock on Friday. (= who are / have been selected)

The man arrested last night has yet to be charged.
(= who was arrested)

- We can do the same with some adjectives:
I used to work for a man capable of all sorts of dishonesty. (= a man who was / is capable)
We will do everything possible to ensure you get your money back. (= everything that is possible)

TO-INFINITIVES

To-infinitives can sometimes replace relative clauses containing modal verbs:

The woman to talk to is over there.
(= who you should talk to)

I haven't got a thing to wear. (= that I can wear)

- We can also use to-infinitives after quantifiers and anything, nobody, etc:
There is a lot to do. (= which we need to do)
Is there anything left to eat? (= which we can eat)
- We can also use to-infinitives after phrases like the next, the first, etc:
He was the only man to believe us. (= who believed us)
The next person to walk through that door will get a surprise. (= who walks)

3 NON-DEFINING DESCRIPTIVE CLAUSES

As well as non-defining relative clauses, we can add participle or noun phrases to give extra information about a noun:

The three men, laughing and joking, burst in through the door. The town, devastated by three recent earthquakes, has an almost unreal atmosphere.

Brazil, the largest South American country, is in many ways different from its neighbours.

Tick (✓) the sentences that are correct.

- The man was by the door beckoned me over.
- The annual fair, has been running for centuries, brings the whole city to a halt for two days.
- The car in front is likely to break down any minute.
- John is the man to ask if you have any questions about grammar.
- Thessaloniki, in the north of Greece, is the second largest city in the country.

SECTION 3

Nominal relative clauses

1 WHAT ARE NOMINAL RELATIVE CLAUSES?

In nominal relative clauses, the relative pronoun acts like a noun and a linking relative pronoun working together. The most common nominal relative pronoun is what meaning 'the thing(s) which':

This is just what we need.

What I want is a bigger computer.*

- Note that a nominal relative pronoun replaces the noun:

~~✗ Here's the ticket what I was looking for.~~

✓ Here's what I was looking for.

- Because a nominal relative pronoun replaces the noun it refers to, we don't need another pronoun or relative pronoun:

~~✗ They were referring to what that we discussed.~~

✓ They were referring to what we discussed.

2 OTHER NOMINAL RELATIVE PRONOUNS

We can also use the following as nominal relative pronouns:

whatever I'll do whatever the boss wants me to.
(= anything that) whoever You can invite whoever you like. (= anybody who) whichever Choose whichever you like: they're all good.

(= any one that) when We just talked about when we'd first met.

(= the occasion on which) where Believe it or not, this is where I first met my wife.

(= the place in / at which) who Bernadette? That's not who I thought you meant.

(= the person who) how Great coffee! Just how I like it. (= the way that) why I know you like chocolate; that's why I bought you some.

(= the reason that)

- We can use whoever, whatever and whichever as both adverb phrases and nominal relative pronouns. In the latter, we omit the noun or pronoun that the relative pronoun refers to:

Whatever I do, it's wrong.* (= adverb phrase)

Whatever I do is wrong.* (= nominal relative pronoun)

Whichever computer you choose, it will be expensive*
(= adverb phrase)

Take whichever you like. (= nominal relative clause)

3 NOMINAL RELATIVE PRONOUNS FOLLOWED BY A TO-INFINITIVE

When, who, what, where and how can be followed by a to-infinitive:

Good leadership is largely a question of deciding when to take action.

I really did want to pay but I didn't know who to ask.

I just don't know what to do about this leak.

Where to sleep is my biggest problem at the moment.*

I don't know how to tell you this.

4 WHAT BEFORE A NOUN

We can use what before a noun:

I gave the beggar what change I had.

What experience I have of carpentry is rather limited, I'm afraid.*

- When we use what like this, it means 'all the change' and 'all my experience', but also suggests that there wasn't or isn't much.

5 WHICH

We use which to refer back to a whole clause rather than the preceding noun only (see Section 1.4):

He only did what anyone else would do in that situation, which is panic.

The piano required several men to lift it, which was perhaps not surprising.

? check

Tick (✓) the sentences that contain a nominal relative clause. Underline the clause – there may be more than one in each sentence.

- That's exactly what I was going to say.
- They first met in Paris, where they got married fifteen years later.
- It's not what you know, it's who you know.
- We need someone who knows something about washing machines.
- I can't remember when he said he'd call back.

Practice

1 Fill each of the blanks in the following sentences with one of the words listed.

who whoever what whatever which where how whichever

- That's exactly I was going to suggest we stayed.
- According to her, I do is wrong.
- We're not fussy here; we take on shows any talent whatsoever.
- Putting an even heavier tax on petrol is I think we can solve our traffic problems.
- hand she writes with, her handwriting is perfectly legible.
- Can you advise me to go and see with this problem?
- I offered her little I had.
- I spoke to John this afternoon, is something I've been meaning to do for ages.

2 Rewrite each sentence using the words that follow so that it is as similar in meaning as possible to the one printed above it.

Example: I was so shocked I was lost for words.

aback / know

I was so taken aback, I didn't know what to say.

- She said something that was not at all polite.
what / extremely
- I can't decide on the best way of telling her what's happened.
how / break
- No matter what the outcome of the general election, things will go on more or less the same.
Whichever / change
- I'm not sure what level of difficulty to pitch the test at.
decide / how
- You could write what I know about computers on a postage stamp.
What / knowledge / written
- I always thought San Francisco would look and feel exactly like this.
how / imagined / be
- Can you remember the subject of our conversation last week?
recall / what / was / talking

3 Fill each of the blanks with which, that or what.

- Do you remember he was found guilty of in the end?
- Anything goes wrong will be your responsibility.
- The pace of life in the city is puts me off.
- I can't decide of these two CDs to buy.
- I'd really like to be a tax inspector, you may think is a little foolish.
- to do next is our main problem.
- The little remained was thrown away.
- little I happened to have I would give someone like that.
- This isn't I expected at all.
- There's sport on all three channels; I don't know to watch.

4 Underline the options that can complete each sentence. One, two or three may be acceptable. Writing – as an option means that no word is necessary.

- You can say you like, there's no substitute for hard work.
a what b that c whichever d whatever
- The only way you'll be able to contact her is by e-mail.
a that b which c what d –
- That's about all I have to say.
a which b this c – d that
- I can't believe these students have learnt.
a how much b the little c what d whichever

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Reference words

1 SPECIFIC REFERENCE WORDS

We use a range of words and phrases to refer to something that has gone before or is about to come:

The former is / are not as complex as the latter.

The aforementioned incident took place on Monday.

The facts are as follows:...

Please note the following terms and conditions:...

Please return to the undersigned.

Send to the above address / to the address below.

2 INTRODUCING TERMS OF REFERENCE

We can use a number of common phrases to introduce our terms of reference:

Regarding... As regards... With regard to...

As for the food,... As to whether...

In historical terms,... Linguistically speaking,...

In terms of cost,... Apropos of costs,...

1 Fill in the missing word in each of these phrases.

- a regards payment,
- b regard to a discount,
- c when it comes paying,
- d with reference your invoice,
- e the question of commission,

3 MAKING SPECIFIC REFERENCE

We can use a range of words and phrases to add precise information to a general statement:

Our options, namely English for Business or Tourism,...

The Business students, in particular / particularly those in the Marketing department,...

The town's student discos, notably Enfer, Alcatraz and Diablo, are offering...

Some employees, or to be more specific, those in Section A, are...

4 ARRANGING DATA

We use a number of words and common phrases to express how information is arranged. For example:

I'd like to take every other Monday off.

I only want every alternate Monday.

I've worked on this three days consecutively.

Yuko and Yuki got an A and a C respectively.

List the battles in chronological order.

Are they arranged alphabetically or chronologically?

2 Fill in the missing preposition in each of these phrases.

- a according your report
- b oldest to youngest
- c alphabetically first name
- d random
- e order of merit
- f numerical order

5 REFERRING TO WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

We use many phrases – often sentence adverbials (see Unit 7, Section 5) – that refer to what has gone before. We can't use them on their own:

in such circumstances at that time accordingly be that as it may because of that consequently

3 Fill in the missing word in each of these phrases.

- a in days
- b is more
- c to make matters f on the other
- d as if that were not
- e that the case

6 MOVING FROM TOPIC TO TOPIC

In conversation, we often move from one topic or point to another in a haphazard way with common phrases. Here are some examples:

*Oh, by the way Before I forget Incidentally Oh, that reminds me Speaking of which
Oh, and while I think of it*

In writing, we move from one topic or point to another smoothly and logically, often referring directly or indirectly to what has come before. We have several options:

- We use sentence adverbials (see Unit 7):
moreover furthermore in addition however in the same way similarly likewise and yet
- We can also use introductory phrases:
*The first point I'd like to make is... One further point we'd like to bring to your attention is...
One final point which may have escaped your notice concerns... Last but not least,... To summarise,...
In conclusion may I say...*
- We can lead from one point to another within a sentence, often with a phrase involving which:
*..., at which point the debate reached stalemate.
..., as a result of which half the cabinet resigned.*

7 VERBS THAT FOCUS ATTENTION ON A REFERENCE

There are many verbs we can use to focus attention on a particular reference point. Here are some examples:

highlight focus on make mention of refer to point out pinpoint spell out pin down emphasise lay stress on underline point up specify

8 VERBS THAT FOCUS IN AN INDIRECT WAY

We can also use certain verbs to focus indirectly, but so that the listener / reader can guess what we mean.

Here are some examples:

imply indicate hint at suggest insinuate intimate

Practice

1 Fill each of the numbered blanks with one suitable word.

As a follow-up to our series on the two major football clubs in Manchester, (1) United and City, we (2) attention this week on the big two North London teams, (3) Arsenal and Tottenham Hotspur. For the uninitiated, the (4) are referred to as 'Spurs', while the (5) glory in the nickname 'The Gunners'. In the 1997–98 season, they finished first and seventeenth (6) in the Premiership. What is (7), Arsenal went on to win the Double, that is to (8) the League Championship and the FA Cup, while Spurs struggled. To make matters even (9), apart from (10) afore-mentioned titles going Arsenal's way, Tottenham fans had to watch as their West London neighbours, Chelsea, carried off the European Cup-winners Cup. And to (11) it all, their team finished below their East London rivals, West Ham, in the league. The reasons for (12) mixed fortunes are hard to (13). (14) paper both first-team squads looked strong. In financial (15), both were reasonably secure and when it (16) to cash for buying new players, the money was generally available. So why did one team prosper and one all but give up the ghost? Pundits make (17) of long injury lists, unforgiving fans harp (18) about bad refereeing decisions in key matches, others just (19) it down to luck. As (20) the current season, Arsenal are looking ominously strong again while Spurs look distinctly vulnerable, to say the least.

2 Rewrite each of the sentences in a more formal style using the prompt words in the order given.

- a About this letter you wrote to us on 19 October last, there's no way we can agree.
reference / October / regret / inform / unable / demands
- b Well, first of all, you've got to realise that Rome wasn't built in a day, haven't you?
first / make / such projects / time
- c He spent a while trying to lay down the law and then he walked out.
opening / half an hour / attempted / assert / authority / after / left / room
- d You know you were saying about the garage, well, I think it's all right as it is.
regard / we / opinion / action / necessary
- e When it comes to experience you've got to plump for Ian rather than Mike.
terms / obviously / stronger candidate
- f So that you know what's going on, Dimos and Maria haven't quite made it this term.
I / ought / make / clear / two / namely / failed / expectations

3 Underline the word, a, b, c or d, that best completes each sentence.

- 1 The are of the opinion that they have been badly treated.
a underwritten b undersigned c below d initialled
- 2 As a partner I accept full responsibility but by the same I feel others should too.

- 7 It would be useful if we could the reasons for our failure.
a pinpoint b answer c underline d focus
- 8 We need to the main points of our argument.
a pin b highlight c spotlight d enlighten

SECTION 5

Problems and solutions

1 WHERE DO OUR PROBLEMS COME FROM?

Many verbs collocate with the noun problem (see Unit 1, Section 6 for an introduction to collocation):

Problems can arise / crop up / present themselves / recur. A recurring problem is one of the worst!

- We can also use other verbs and phrases;
We encounter / experience difficulties. Sometimes we hit a snag. We come up against a brick wall and find something (like money) a stumbling block.

2 WHERE ARE WE WHEN PROBLEMS ARISE?

We use several common phrases to describe a problematical situation. Here are some examples:

in a quandary in a dilemma in dire straits in a predicament

- More informally we can use:
a bit stuck in a jam in a fix in a hole in trouble

3 HOW TO FACE PROBLEMS

We use many verbs and common verb phrases to talk about how we face problems:

One solution is to run away from them, ignore them, bury our heads in the sand, hope they'll go away. We may wash our hands of the matter, shirk our responsibility, pass the buck. But then this may come back to haunt us one day.

No doubt the best solution is to confront the problem (head on), tackle it, deal with it, sort it out on the spot / there and then. Perhaps we should take the bull by the horns, say 'The buck stops here', stand up and be counted, shoulder the responsibility and sort it out once and for all.

4 SOLUTIONS TO PROBLEMS AND THEIR OUTCOME

We can also use many verbs and common verb phrases to talk about how we deal with problems:

If there is uncertainty and doubts, we must dispel them.

Standards must be maintained.

Deadlines and demands must be met.

The mission must be accomplished and success must be achieved.

Minor details can be ironed out later.

1 Fill each of the gaps with one of these verbs.

overcome averted reached struck restored

- Agreement can be...
- A deal can be...
- These obstacles must be...
- In this way a disaster would be...
- Confidence will be...

5 IDIOMATIC PHRASES

English is full of idiomatic phrases relating to problems and solutions:

He's been a fly in the ointment / a real headache / a pain in the neck.

2 Underline the option that best completes the idiomatic phrase.

- Let's bury the axe / hatchet.
- We've turned the corner / switch.
- You'll rise above / over it.
- We've got our backs to the wall / sun.
- We're in a tight corner / bend.
- Don't put all your shopping / eggs in one basket.

6 INSOLUBLE PROBLEMS

Sometimes problems can be so serious that there is no apparent solution:

His behaviour is incomprehensible.

The operation is irreversible.

3 Use the following adjectives to complete the collocation.

insurmountable unfathomable incurable irreparable unavoidable indecipherable

- an delay
- an disease
- handwriting
- damage
- obstacles
- reasons

Practice

1 Complete each sentence with a suitable phrase.

- We must these obstacles.
- I was at a loss respond.
- You shouldn't try to run problems.
- I'm afraid she's made a real life.
- Don't bury sand; face facts.
- I'm confident these final details out.

2 Fill each of the gaps with one of the adjectives listed.

Example: O incomprehensible

SCORE _____

2 Fill each of the numbered blanks with a suitable word or phrase.

In the spring of 1778, the French revolutionary Talleyrand went to pay his respects to Voltaire. Even in a society (1) the worldliness of the clergy was notorious, (2) was a little unseemly. The ink (3) hardly dried on his theology degree from the Sorbonne before the young priest, by (4) a delegate to the Assembly of the Clergy, hastened to do homage to the most notorious scourge of the Church. The visit (5) was undertaking had a flavour of filial impiety to it; Talleyrand (6) undoubtedly in search of a father figure (7) satisfactory than his natural parents. It was (8) who (9) placed him in the hands of a nurse and she (10) had let him drop from a cabinet, (11) a bone in his foot (12) would never mend. Disgraced as a cripple, the young Talleyrand was, (13) effect, also disinherited. For a boy (14) could neither fence nor dance could never hope to succeed either at court or in the army, (15) only two callings (16) for someone of his background. Only one possible course (17): a career in the Church, (18) he might rise in wealth and eminence, but (19) which, (20) was plain early on, he had the deepest aversion.

OVERVIEW

We can emphasise words or parts of sentences in a variety of ways.

1 STRESS AND INTONATION

When speaking, we stress a word and give it a higher pitch. In writing, we use italics or underline the word:

I said I liked the blue ones, not the green.
Oh, for goodness' sake, what is it this time?

2 USING STRONGER WORDS

We can emphasise our feelings by using nouns, adjectives, verbs, etc. with a much stronger meaning than normal, neutral words:

Our team hammered the opposition 5-0. (= defeated)
I found her life-story absolutely riveting.
(= very interesting)

3 ADDING OTHER WORDS

We can emphasise our feelings by adding words and phrases. For example:

- by adding do:
But it's true! I did give it back to you!
- by adding intensifying words and phrases (see Section 6):
My son's really good at basketball.
My hosts went to considerable lengths to make sure I was comfortable.
- by adding reflexive pronouns (also called 'emphatic' pronouns) (see also Unit 14, Section 1):
He managed to do it himself.
- by adding other pronouns (see also Unit 9, Section 1)
Fredricks and Boldon both finished with a time of 10.02 seconds.
- by adding link words and phrases:
Both Simon and Bernardine are pushing 60.*
They not only look similar, they sound the same as well.

4 REPETITION

We can also repeat words in order to emphasise them:

That was the worst song I've ever heard or ever want to hear.
The pile gave off a terrible smell, a smell which reminded her of her husband's socks.

- We can repeat words linked with and or a preposition:
He ran and ran until he could go no further.
- This is especially common with time phrases:
I've told you time and time again not to pick your nose.
This question keeps coming up year after year.

5 SENTENCE ADVERBS

We also use adverbs that emphasise the whole sentence (see also Unit 7, Section 5):

Above all, we must stay calm.*
You look a complete mess, to put it mildly.

6 PASSIVES

By changing the order of subject and object, and by sometimes omitting the agent, the passive helps us change the emphasis of a sentence from who did it, to what happened (see Unit 2):

Manchester United have beaten Arsenal again. becomes: Arsenal have been beaten again.

7 OTHER GRAMMATICAL CHANGES

The following Sections of this Unit describe other grammatical changes we make to emphasise words or parts of a sentence:

- fronting (see Section 1)
 - introductory it and there (see Section 2)
 - cleft sentences (see Section 3)
 - nominalisation (see Section 4)
- (For inversion after negative adverbs, see Unit 7, Section 2.)

SECTION I

Fronting

1 WHAT IS FRONTING?

Fronting involves moving an object, verb or adverbial phrase to a position before the subject:

Usual	Fronted
The door opened and Daphne came in.	The door opened and in came Daphne.
I don't know what we're going to do.	What we're going to do I don't know.
His second book was particularly good.	Particularly good was his second book.
The swimmers dived into the water.	Into the water dived the swimmers.
I waited all week for your phone call.	All week I waited for your phone call.
They walked slowly into the garden.	Slowly, they walked into the garden.
I've never seen anything so awful.	Never have I seen anything so awful.

(For inversion after negative adverbs, see Unit 7, Section 2.)

watch out!

It's unusual to end a sentence with be as a result of fronting. Therefore we invert the subject and verb:

✗ Lying in the field three men were.

✓ Lying in the field were three men.

- When we front a prepositional phrase of place or movement, we normally invert the subject and verb. This is not usual with other prepositional phrases:

✗ At seven o'clock arrived the removal van.

✓ Out of the water jumped the penguins.

2 WHY DO WE USE FRONTING?

There are two main reasons for using fronting:

- In English the beginning of a sentence contains the topic; new information normally comes at the end (see Unit 2, Overview). Fronting changes the order and so changes the emphasis:
I stopped work at four o'clock. (= the time is the most important information)
At four o'clock I stopped work. (= stopping work is the most important information)

- We may move information to the beginning of the sentence to provide a clear link with what comes before:

He planned to complete the painting in time for the opening ceremony. This he did, but only just.

They looked out to sea. On the horizon he could see a number of ships.

3 FRONTING NOUN CLAUSES

We can front noun clauses in fairly formal English (see Unit 10):

Where he went I have no idea.

That he ran a marathon at his age is unbelievable.

To read all Shakespeare's plays is my ambition.

- More commonly we use a to-infinitive or that-clauses after It (see Section 2):

It is unbelievable that he ran a marathon at his age.

It is my great ambition to read all Shakespeare's plays.

4 USING INTRODUCTION PHRASES

We often use introduction phrases, especially in spoken English, to signal that what we're about to say is important:

The thing is, I haven't got any money.

The fact remains that we've made a mistake.

The point is we should be there by now.

- We can also use phrases with the same pattern (The + noun + be) to focus on the point of what we are saying or writing. Here are examples:

The question is—are we ready for the radical changes being proposed?

The truth is I'm just too tired to concentrate properly.

The problem is she just refuses to work with me.

The trouble is her attitude upsets just about everyone.

? check

Tick (✓) the sentences that include examples of fronting.

- Up in the air went the balloon.
- Early the following morning we all got into the car.
- That people should get angry nobody ever anticipated.
- I rushed out of the room, grabbing my glasses from the table.
- What happened next we shall find out next week.

Practice

1 Change the order of information in these sentences to emphasise a different part. Make any other necessary changes.

- He burst in through the window.
- They crossed the Atlantic in record time.
- He destroyed the first letter.
- He put the second letter into his pocket.
- The letter was on the table.
- It is terrible that he was punished so severely.
- It is very difficult to imagine him failing.
- It's perhaps not surprising that he's done so well.
- I can't imagine how he got here so fast.
- He's useless; that's the problem.

2 Match the prompts (a–f) with those (1–6) and write complete sentences using all words in the order given.

Example: All films / last month's / festival / good best of all / Polish cartoon

All the films at last month's festival were good, but best of all was a Polish cartoon.

- | | |
|---|---|
| a Many qualities / required / this job | 1 particularly delicious / lasagne |
| b The pizza / excellent | 2 by far / hectic / casualty |
| c Ivan / range / linguistic skills | 3 exhilarating / still / parascending |
| d Water-skiing / exciting | 4 even better / cannelloni |
| e All / dishes / good / that restaurant | 5 absolutely vital / a / humour |
| f All / departments / busy | 6 exceptionally impressive / letter-writing |

3 Rewrite each of the following sentences using two of the adverbial particles listed with went and / or came.

Example: As the rain started, people opened their umbrellas.

Down came the rain and up went the umbrellas.

down up out in back over on off across

- When the value of the pound increased, the volume of exports fell.
- The new technocrats took over when the old guard retired.
- When she walked in, all those old forgotten feelings returned.
- The witches leave the stage and Macbeth enters.
- As the ball was crossed, the goalkeeper fell to the ground.

4 Rearrange the words in each line to make one sentence.

Example: that is incredible it it happened

It is incredible that it happened.

- incredible happened is that this
- amazing to want it so leave is soon she that should
- soon she leave want amazing that should so is to
- mystery party went after he a is where the
- escaped police mystify continues how the to he
- believed find that incredible I him you

5 Here is one side of a telephone conversation. Fill each of the numbered gaps with one word.

 Well, the thing (1), we haven't seen you at college for a week now.

 The (8) is whether you are going to start taking things seriously. (9) it difficult to get up in the morning (10) don't accept as a reasonable excuse.

 (11) is having too far to walk to the college every morning.

 Two hundred (12) we do not consider a long way.

 Eleven o'clock we do not (13) an unearthly hour for lessons to begin. One hour a day at college we do not feel (14) unreasonable imposition. Please try to attend more regularly or (15) you go on your ear.

SECTION 2

Introductory There and It

1 THERE AS SUBJECT

We use There + be to introduce new information. The word there has no real meaning in this structure – it functions as a grammatical subject:

There were two men in the room. (= Two men were in the room.)

Suddenly, there was a loud explosion.

There are sure to be casualties.

2 INTRODUCTORY IT

It often refers back to a noun or noun phrase:

Next year's sales plan is now available; it contains a few changes.

- However, sometimes It doesn't refer back to a noun. Instead we use it simply as a grammatical subject:

It's very dark in here.

It was just unbelievable what they'd done.

- We use introductory It especially when describing things, e.g. with adjectives that can't normally function as subjects. We commonly use It to talk about the weather and the time:

It's raining.

It's nearly six o'clock.

It smells of fish in there.

watch out!

All English sentences must have a subject. When there is no obvious subject for the sentence, we generally use There before nouns or noun phrases and It before adjectives and noun clauses:

✗ Is cold, isn't it?

✓ It's cold, isn't it?

3 IT + CLAUSE

Introductory It is often followed by a to-infinitive, -ing, or that-clause. We do this especially if we want to emphasise the adjective or avoid fronting a noun clause (see Unit 10, Section 1):

It's difficult to understand a word he said.

It's fun working with you.

It turned out that he was lying to us all along.

4 REFERRING FORWARD

Sometimes It refers forward to a noun clause in the sentence:

It's amazing what you learn from hanging around bars.

It frightens me that there are so many criminals around.

- We use It especially with that-clauses, wh-clauses and to-infinitive clauses that may be formal in subject position. The sentences above could be rewritten:
What you learn from hanging around bars is amazing.
That there are so many criminals around frightens me.

5 IT + REPORT VERB

Introductory It is common with report verbs used in the passive (see Unit 2, Section 2.3):

It is thought that many people have been injured.

- The structure with It + seem / appear + that is common in reporting events. We also use It would seem / appear that:

It appears that he's been promoted.

It would seem that someone left the door unlocked.

6 VERBS FOLLOWED BY IT

Some verbs are commonly followed by it + clause:

I find it strange that they haven't told us.

- Here are more examples of verbs we use in this way:

believe consider feel imagine think suppose judge count reckon guess

? check

Write F next to the sentences where it refers forward to a clause, B next to those where it refers back, and ✗ next to those where it doesn't refer to anything in the sentence.

- It's getting crowded now.
- It is astonishing how often I've been asked that question.
- I bought a new car and it broke down almost immediately.
- What time is it?
- Is it true that she's run away?

Practice

1 Write there's or it's in each of the gaps to complete the following sentences.

Example: It's a good job you told me when you did.

There's little point in going back over the same old ground.

- a just as well we brought our umbrellas.
- b a strong possibility of the Chairman not making the meeting.
- c I gather also doubtful whether his deputy will be there.
- d not thought to be any serious risk involved in the operation.
- e no use pleading with me; I have no say in the matter whatsoever.
- f no shame attached to being beaten by a player of his calibre.
- g Don't you think any chance at all that he was unfairly dismissed?
- h no good feeling sorry for yourself; what's done is done.
- i a lot to be said for vegetarianism, in my opinion.
- j a shame you won't be able to see your own son receive his degree.
- k generally believed to be a good thing to get eight hours' sleep a night.
- l Wouldn't you say all a question of habit how long you need to sleep?

2 For each of the sentences below, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

Example: It's no good sitting feeling sorry for yourself.

point

There's no point in sitting feeling sorry for yourself.

- a I've only just realised what our director meant by that comment.
dawned
- b You should have been at the party; you would have enjoyed it.
pity
- c People are optimistic that this new drug will be a success.
hoped

- d I realised all of a sudden that we had been stitched up.
occurred
- e We discovered eventually that all the goods had been stolen.
transpired
- f The polls point towards a landslide victory for the presidential party.
indication

3 Complete each of the following sentences with a suitable word or phrase.

Example: It is common knowledge that superstitious people live longer, isn't it?

- a I absolutely amazing that in this day and age superstitions are so rife.
- b It strikes so odd that people still fret for days over a broken mirror.
- c Restaurants are half full of people necessary to throw a few grains of any spilt salt over their shoulders.
- d Most of the people I know believe be an unnecessary risk to walk under a ladder.
- e It is widely grown men and women that cracks in the pavement should not be stepped on.
- f But I must confess I consider be my major ambition in life to find a four-leaf clover.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence before it.

Example: Showers are known to be better for you than baths.

It is common knowledge that showers are better for you than baths.

- a It looks as if there's been an accident over there.
There
- b I'm glad we decided to come by train.
It's
- c The speed at which young children acquire language is quite incredible.
It's
- d No doubt there was a terrible row when the mistake was discovered.
There is sure
- e Such behaviour is totally inexcusable.
There
- f The choice of restaurant is entirely yours.
It's entirely up

SECTION 3

Emphasis using What, All and It

1 EMPHASISING AN ACTION WITH WHAT

To emphasise an action, we can use a structure with What + do. (The full structure is What + subject + do + be + infinitive with or without to.):

Usual	What...
He put the pot on the table.	What he did was (to) put the pot on the table.
I'm going to persuade him to come earlier.	What I'm going to do is persuade him to come earlier.

- We commonly use this structure when demonstrating a procedure or telling someone about a sequence of events:
What you do next is fold the top left corner back on itself.

2 OTHER WAYS OF USING WH-CLAUSES

We can emphasise a whole action or series of actions with a similar structure using What + happen + be + that-clause:

What happened next was (that) he dropped it.
What happened was (that) they all ran away as soon as they saw the police car coming.

- We can also use fronted wh-clauses with be as a sort of introductory phrase:
What I think is (that) she should resign.
What you need is a holiday.
What Clive is is a pain in the neck.
- Occasionally, the what-clause comes at the end of the sentence:
A good rest is what I need.
Your lateness is what I want to talk about.

3 USING ALL INSTEAD OF WHAT

We can use all instead of what to mean 'the only thing'. This suggests that what happens is not very big or important:

All we are going to do is take your teeth out.
All that happened was that a window was broken.

4 EMPHASISING NOUNS WITH IT + BE + THAT/WHO

To emphasise nouns, we can use a structure with It + be + that / who. These structures are sometimes called 'cleft sentences':

Usual

She threw the jug out of the window.

Richard ran into the office.

Cleft sentence

It was the jug (that) she threw out of the window. (= not, for example, the cup) or: It was the window (that) she threw the jug out of. (= not, for example, the door)

It was Richard who ran into the office. (= not Bernard) or: It was the office (that) Richard ran into. (= not the kitchen)

- Cleft sentences allow us to stress a noun, often in contrast to what we have already said:
I love going to Cornwall in summer, but it's in the winter that it's at its best.

5 EMPHASISING OTHER PARTS OF THE SENTENCE

We can also use a cleft sentence to focus on other parts of the sentence, not just nouns. We can use it:

- to emphasise an action by using a gerund:
It was learning to speak French that he found most enjoyable at school. (not, for example, playing football)
- to emphasise a prepositional phrase:
It was from Heather that I heard the news.
It was in London that he met his first wife.
- with because to give reasons:
It was because you're clever that I married you.
- with when or until to emphasise time:
It was only when he phoned that I realised what had happened.
It wasn't until Tuesday that they finally delivered the equipment.

? check

Write W next to the sentences that contain a what-clause or all-clause, C next to those that contain a cleft sentence, and X next to any that contain neither.

- What we did was to go back to the beginning and start again.
- Your progress is all I'm concerned with.
- He promised to call me but it wasn't until later that week that he eventually phoned.
- It is unbelievable the lengths I had to go to in securing the contract.
- I think it's because we have the same sense of humour that we work so well together.

Practice

1 In each sentence one of the underlined words or phrases does not fit. Write the number beside it in the space and the correct word or phrase.

Example: All you (1) have to do is tell me (2) everything what (3) happened once you (4) left the hotel. 3 that

- What you did (1) wrong was that (2) you started on the top coat before (3) the undercoat that was (4) dry.
- All that (1) happened that I (2) told him what I thought of (3) him in no uncertain (4) terms.
- It was (1) while trying (2) to mend the window when (3) I fell off the ladder.
- He claimed to like (1) music but it was (2) literature what (3) he loved more than anything else (4).
- All (1) I love most about the weather (2) in this country is that (3) it is totally unreliable.
- He left the country at the age of (1) twenty and it was (2) only after several years when (3) he returned.
- I mislaid my wedding ring once and it (1) wasn't before (2) we eventually moved house that it (3) came to light (4) again.
- It's (1) not learning (2) new words that I find (3) difficult, and (4) remembering them.

2 Rewrite each of the sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence before it. The first word and one other is given as guidance.

Example: I know what you did to her. You broke her heart. (What / break)

What you did to her is break her heart.

- I know what happened. You lost your nerve, didn't you?
What / chickened
- I know what she did. She upset all her colleagues by being so arrogant.
What / arrogance
- I know how you feel after getting your results. Many others are feeling the same way.
How / how
- I know where you made your mistake; you underestimated the competition.
Where / appreciate
- I know why he was attracted to this job; he wanted to give people orders.
What / authority

3 Rewrite each sentence in three different ways. Begin with the words given.

Example: The rising tide frightened me.

- What frightened me was the rising tide.
- I was frightened by the rising tide.
- It was the rising tide that frightened me.

- We took him to the hospital.
a Where... b It was... c The hospital is...
- I went to see my GP.
a My GP... b It was my GP... c The person...
- The spices are amazing.
a It's the... b What... c The spices are what...
- The location was important.
a It's the... b What... c The location...
- I spent £15 on the ticket. a £15 was how... b It was £15... c The amount I...
- He looks amazing for his age.
a How... b What is... c It is...

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: We only noticed the stain on the carpet when all the guests had gone.

It wasn't until all the guests had gone that we noticed the stain on the carpet.

- In some organisations what you know is not important; who you know is.
In some organisations it's not
- He took his hat off and then I recognised him.
It wasn't
- I only realised she was a foreigner when she opened her mouth.
It was
- Your place of birth doesn't determine your accent; the place you spend your childhood in does.
It's not where
- His actions didn't bring about his downfall; lying about them did.
It wasn't what
- You don't know who your real friends are until a time like that.
It's only
- His jokes in themselves are not funny; his manner of telling them is.
It's how
- The salary increase wasn't why I stayed on; you were the reason.
It wasn't

SECTION 4

Nominalisation

1 WHAT IS NOMINALISATION?

It is often possible to use a noun group instead of one or more verb or adjective groups. This is called 'nominalisation':

The boys laughed loudly and woke up the baby. (=

This sentence consists of two actions (verb groups), one causing the other)

The boys' loud laughter woke up the baby.

(= This sentence has one thing – the boys' loud laughter (a noun group) – that causes an action)

2 WHY USE NOMINALISATION?

We use nominalisation for several reasons:

- It can change the emphasis of the sentence. Compare:
I wasn't very well so I had to stay at home.
My poor health meant I had to stay at home.
(= nominalised)
The first sentence has two parts linked by so. Both parts are equally important. In the nominalised version, the action – stay at home – is the focus of the sentence.
- Because a lot of information can be packed into a noun group, it can make sentences shorter and leave the rest of the sentence free to add new information:

Usual	Nominalised version
He had an insatiable appetite for adventure and because of this he became involved in a pioneering expedition to Antarctica.	His insatiable appetite for adventure led to his involvement in a pioneering expedition to Antarctica.

- It can refer back to processes already mentioned:
After several days they eventually reached the summit of the mountain. The ascent left them tired and exhausted. (= Here the ascent summarises the whole of the process in the previous sentence)
- We often prefer to start a sentence with a noun phrase rather than a verb phrase. Compare:
They looked at the evidence and realised that there had been a miscarriage of justice.
The evidence revealed that there had been a miscarriage of justice. (= nominalised)

- Nominalised language is especially typical of formal, scientific and academic English:
This interesting Australian development was possible because of the isolation of these primitive mammals.
- Nominalisation can make it easier to be impersonal. Compare:
It's always painful when people criticise you.
Criticism is always painful. (= nominalised)

3 HAVE A ..., MAKE A..., ETC.

We use a number of verbs, e.g. look, laugh, comment, etc., as nouns with verbs such as give, have, make, take:

He gave a short laugh. Let's have a quick look.

She made some remark about his smelly feet.

- We do this especially if we want to use an adjective before the noun – this is more common than using a verb and adverbial phrase:
We had a long talk about it.
- Sometimes there is no comparable adverbial phrase:
She sat down and had a good cry.
- This is partly a matter of collocation:
give a shout / sigh / hug / welcome / look have a look / belief / chat / fall / sleep have belief / respect take a look / bath / walk / photograph / holiday make a comment / start / claim make progress

? check

Underline the nominalised phrases in these examples.

- A sharp fall in the value of sterling followed speculation about the government's economic policy.
(Sterling fell sharply in value because people were speculating about what the government planned to do about the economy.)
- The total eradication of smallpox was the direct result of an intensive programme of immunisation.
(Smallpox was totally eradicated because everyone was immunised in a programme that was very intensive.)
- It is a truth universally acknowledged, that a single man in possession of a good fortune must be in want of a wife. (Pride and Prejudice, Jane Austen: meaning 'Everyone knows it is true that a single man who has a good fortune must want to be married.')

Practice

1 Rewrite these questions starting with What.

Example: How old do you have to be to hire a car?

What is the minimum age for hiring a car?

- a How big is the room exactly?
What
- b How fast are you allowed to drive on motorways in Britain?
What
- c How do you think you would react if such a thing happened?
What
- d How tall are you precisely?
What
- e How far is it from your house to the school?
What
- f Do you know how heavy this package is?
What
- g Where does he stand officially in the firm's hierarchy?
What
- h Where do the government stand officially on capital punishment?
What

2 Fill the gaps in these sentences with a form of one of these verbs.

Example: The doctor wanted to have / take a look at my chest.

give make take have

- a Can I a word with you in private?
- b The boy a deep breath and dived in.
- c Come on, me a cuddle.
- d Can I a suggestion?
- e She me a telling-off.
- f I'm sure he'll a good account of himself in the match.
- g She always manages to a success of things.
- h Sometimes if you a good cry you feel better.
- i He the trouble to visit her later in hospital.
- j They us a wonderful send-off.

3 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as close as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

Example: My father finds much of modern society incomprehensible.

My father has difficulty understanding much of modern society.

- a Any traveller to the sub-continent obviously has to have a valid passport.
Possession
- b Beethoven's late quartets have been very influential on modern composers.
Beethoven's late quartets have exerted
- c I wasn't at all surprised to find the builders had already gone home.
It came
- d One is constantly threatened by violence in some large cities.
There
- e I explained what had happened but they totally refused to accept what I said.
They found
- f The article only referred briefly to the problem of inner-city crime.
There
- g Everyone approved of the decision to implement tougher parking restrictions.
There

4 Rewrite each sentence using all the prompt words printed below it.

Example: A lot of people have complained in writing to us about how bad the food was.

received / number / written / standard

We have received a large number of written complaints about the poor standard of the food.

- a I'm shocked that most members have responded so negatively to what we proposed.
shock / response / proposals / majority
- b The mayor is reputedly proud of the way he looks.
reputation / pride / appearance
- c A soldier must be brave, level-headed and obedient.
qualities / paramount importance
- d What we spend doesn't always tally with what we earn.
sometimes / discrepancy / outgoings / earnings
- e It's distinctly possible that she will not recover from her illness very rapidly.
distinct / rapid
- f You needn't pay anything until you've received the goods.
There / make / before / of
- g She could do with being more confident.
suffers / of
- h I really did intend to try harder this term, but I haven't succeeded.
every / more / effort / met / no

Unit twelve

Vocabulary

SECTION 5

Substituting one phrase for another

We can use words or phrases to replace others with more or less the same meaning. We may use one phrase rather than another because it is shorter, more precise or involves a change of emphasis.

1 ADVERBS

We can use adverbs to replace phrases:

Despite renovations, the building remains the same in nearly every way. can become: Despite renovations, the building remains substantially the same.
Some students use commas without taking much care.
can become: Some students use commas indiscriminately.

1 Replace the underlined phrases with one of the adverbs listed. Make any other necessary changes.

inevitably inadvertently

- a Such military posturing is almost certain to lead to war.
b I wiped the entire disk without meaning to.

2 NOUNS

We can use nouns to replace phrases (see Section 4 for nominalisation):

My brother knows nothing about chemistry, which is why there was an explosion. can become: My brother's ignorance of chemistry led to an explosion.
That the two sexes are not treated in the same way is taken for granted in some quarters. can become: Inequality between the sexes is taken for granted in some quarters.*

2 Replace the underlined phrases with one of the nouns listed. Make any other necessary changes.

malnutrition inferiority

- a His feeling that he just wasn't as good as other people never went away.
b An alarming number of dieters are simply not eating as much as their body needs.

3 ADJECTIVES

We can use adjectives to replace phrases:

Everyone agreed with the decision to complain to the director. can become: The decision to complain to the director was unanimous.
They were locked together in combat, trying to kill each other. can become: They were locked together in mortal combat.

3 Replace the underlined phrases with one of the adjectives listed. Make any other changes necessary.

partial painstaking

- a It was an investigation that left no stone unturned.
b The driver of the second car accepted that she wasn't wholly without blame for the accident.

4 PHRASES AND MULTIPLE CHANGES

When we make grammatical changes, we usually need to change more than one word. These changes may also be a matter of collocation:

I had fully intended to start this report this afternoon, but I couldn't. can become: I had every intention of starting this report this afternoon, but I couldn't.
The statue is extremely tall. can become: The statue reaches a considerable height.

• We can also use common phrases and prepositional phrases:

We've been trying to sell our flat for over a year.
can become: Our flat has been on the market for over a year.
I was so shocked by her revelations I couldn't think what to say. can become: I was so shocked by her revelations I was lost for words.

4 Rewrite the following sentences using one of the phrases listed.

all and sundry at sixes and sevens

- a The leaflet was distributed to absolutely everyone whether they wanted it or not.
b My filing system is hopelessly disorganised.

Practice

1 Replace the underlined words with one of the adverbs listed. Make any other necessary changes.
prematurely single-handedly conclusively consecutively interminably concurrently scrupulously arbitrarily

- a The leader's speech went on for hours and hours until we were all nodding off.
- b I think they have proved beyond any doubt that the painting is genuine.
- c My father with extreme care avoided any mention of the coming wedding.
- d Ian completed the renovation of the house entirely on his own.
- e I worked on the farm for three summers in a row.
- f My son was born three weeks before he was due.
- g For the experiments, they selected several animals at random.
- h On this computer you can run several programs at the same time.

2 Replace the underlined words with one of the adjectives listed. Make any other necessary changes.

antiquated cumbersome meticulous cursory ingenious frivolous unwarranted exhaustive

- a This is an extremely clever device for opening bottles with no effort.
- b The factory is still using old and out-of-date equipment on the production line.
- c Your intrusion into my affairs is unjustified and unnecessary.
- d The inspectors merely gave a brief and not very thorough glance at the records.
- e The current administrative procedures are slow, inefficient and difficult to deal with.
- f The conductor paid close and detailed attention to the composer's instructions.
- g I think your comments are silly and not to be taken seriously.
- h After a thorough and painstaking enquiry, the conclusions remained unclear.

3 Rewrite the sentences below using one of the common phrases listed. There are more phrases than you need.

with time on my hands grow on somebody round the bend slow but sure cut and thrust rule of thumb ins and outs too much of a good thing lost his touch rank and file make a go of by a hair's breadth at the best of times

- a At a party you can reckon on one bottle of wine for three people as a rough guideline.
- b Even when things are going really well, I find it hard to get on with my boss.
- c As a pianist, he's not as good as he used to be.
- d I've got plenty of spare time now the children are at school.

- e The ordinary soldiers don't get the same food as the officers.
- f I think we could try and make a success of this business.
- g That woman drives me completely mad!
- h I'm no good at the quick thinking needed in a debate.
- i That car only just missed me.
- j I really don't understand all the history and details of the controversy.

4 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as close as possible in meaning to the sentence before it.

- a What was being proposed was far-reaching in the extreme.
It
- b The builders put in an enormous amount of work to ensure their customers were happy.
The builders went to
- c The little girl looked remarkably like her grandmother at the same age.
The little girl bore
- d The water is over 50 metres deep at this point.
The water reaches
- e The painter was greatly inspired by the Italian masters.
The painter derived
- f The boxer was severely injured by his opponent.
His opponent inflicted

5 For each of the sentences below, write a new sentence as similar as possible in meaning to the original sentence, but using the word given.

Example: The campaign was at its most intense just before the election.

peak
The campaign reached its peak just before the election.

- a Nobody died in the explosion.
fatalities
- b The fact that I am the managing director's niece is beside the point.
neither
- c My teacher is always criticising my paragraphing.
fault
- d Solomon couldn't stop crying when he lost his favourite toy.
floods
- e The two lawyers worked in an atmosphere where neither trusted the other.
mutual

SECTION 6

Intensifying and emphasising

We can emphasise the meaning of a statement in many ways.

1 POWERFUL ADJECTIVES

The choice of a strong adjective is a common device. Here are some examples:

It's very hot in here. can become: It's boiling in here.

It cost a lot. can become: The price was exorbitant / extortionate / astronomical.

It's a big problem. can become: It's a monumental / vast / colossal / gigantic problem.

2 COLLOCATION

Collocation is important when choosing strong adjectives. For example, a number of intensifying adjectives close to the meaning of 'complete' collocate with particular nouns but not with others.

Here are some examples:

an eternal optimist a comprehensive defeat sheer stupidity arrant nonsense rank disobedience utter madness unshakeable faith an unmitigated disaster

1 Which two of the nouns listed collocate with utter, which two with sheer and which two with both?

- a excellence c degradation e ruin
b panic d ecstasy f joy

3 ADVERBS OF DEGREE

- Adverb–adjective combinations are common to give emphasis. Here are some examples:
absolutely ridiculous totally wrong downright rude plain stupid thoroughly ashamed dead right utterly defenceless that's perfectly all right
- Adverb–verb combinations are also quite common. For example:
*I quite / totally agree. I quite / fully understand.
I would much / greatly appreciate it.*

4 CLICHÉS AND EXAGGERATION

We often hear or read clichés such as:

We're running out of superlatives for this athlete.

- We often use phrases that contain exaggeration to strengthen a meaning; because we use them so much, the meaning becomes weaker. Here are some examples:

indescribably beautiful incredibly talented unutterably filthy unspeakably rude inexpressibly sad infinitely better incomparably superior

- If we want to add strength to a meaning we can try to use less frequent collocations:

delightfully eccentric perfectly awful

2 Which of the five adjectives listed does not collocate with the adverb purely?

hypothetical accidental correct incidental coincidental

5 SENTENCE ADVERBIALS

Sentence adverbials (see Unit 7) can also lend emphasis to a statement. Here are some examples:

*Believe it or not, ... Amazingly enough, ...
Difficult as it is to believe, ... Incredible though it is, ...
To everyone's astonishment, ...*

6 PHRASES THAT INVITE OR EXPRESS SURPRISE

We can also strengthen a statement, or question, by adding a word or short phrase before or after a key word in the sentence:

*The same thing happened as recently as last week.
You can pay as much as £100 for a pair of jeans there.
No fewer than 90 students turned up for the lecture.
Bill Gates himself was at the conference. You mean the Bill Gates? The very man. What in the world was he doing there? Why on earth didn't you give him my name? Why ever didn't you tell me before?*

Practice

- ① Underline one, two or three of the adjectives that can complete each sentence.

Example: The runner collapsed in a state of exhaustion. sheer total full

- a The fact I had done the exam essay a week earlier was luck.
pure comprehensive sheer
- b It was will-power that enabled me to win.
sheer full utter
- c This is the thing I was dreading.
one very sheer

- d Deliberate handball is cheating.
outright out-and-out comprehensive
- e The athlete has confidence in his ability.
unshakeable pure supreme
- f 5-0 is a win in anybody's book.
comprehensive confirmed complete
- g He was reprimanded for his stupidity.
crass very utter
- h Giving his nephew the job was favouritism.
out-and-out outright downright
- i Many a time he's proved to be a(n) liar.
rank compulsive inveterate
- j He carried off the role of Hamlet with skill.
unadulterated consummate faultless

2 Arrange these adjectives into four groups according to their meaning.

- | | | |
|----------------|--------------|----------------|
| a ludicrous | i laughable | q preposterous |
| b excruciating | j astounding | r agonising |
| c pathetic | k unbearable | s dazzling |
| d staggering | l immense | t stupendous |

OVERVIEW

1 GRAMMAR AND VOCABULARY CHANGES

When we report what somebody says or thinks, we commonly make changes in vocabulary and grammar:

Reason	Changes	Examples
We are reporting what somebody else said.	change personal pronouns, or use other nouns to make the reference clear	'I love you .' becomes: He said he loved me . ' You're being ridiculous.' becomes: He told Roula she was being ridiculous.
We are reporting the original saying or thought in a different place.	change words referring to place or other things that are no longer there	'I love it here .' becomes: She told me she loved it by the sea . ' Hey! Look at this! ' becomes: She drew my attention to the headline in the paper.
We are reporting the statement at a different time.	change tenses and words referring to time	'I only got here yesterday .' becomes: She said she had only got here on Wednesday . 'I'm coming tomorrow .' becomes: He said he's coming today.

2 REPORTING ORDERS AND QUESTIONS

- We usually report orders using verbs such as ask, tell, forbid, etc. with a to-infinitive:
He told me to be there at nine o'clock sharp.
- We report questions using verbs such as ask, want to know, etc. with wh-clauses or if-clauses (see Section 2):
He asked me where I'd been.
She enquired whether I wanted to wait for a reply.

3 FLEXIBLE CHANGES

The changes we make to tenses and vocabulary when reporting are not fixed transformations. The possible variations in who we are talking to, and where and when we are speaking, mean we must be flexible. All references to place and person and time, including tense, must make sense to the speaker and listener at the time and place in which they are speaking. Here are some examples to show how report words and structures can change according to the situation:

Situation	Report	Original
Person joins a group of people chatting at a party	'Hello. I was just saying to George here that they've given the go-ahead for that new airport.'	'They've given the go-ahead for that new airport.'
Shouting to somebody in another room	'What did you say? I can't hear you.' 'I said your dinner's ready!'	'Your dinner's ready!'
Impatiently waiting for somebody	' He said he would be here at eight o'clock.'	'I promise I'll be there at eight o'clock.'
Sitting in a café, telling a friend about a long discussion you had a couple of days ago with a colleague	'Anyway, then she said she was thinking of leaving work and going abroad for a year.'	'I'm thinking of leaving this place. I may spend a year abroad.'

SECTION I

Tenses in reported speech

1 TENSES OF THE REPORT VERB

Because we usually report what was said in the past, we normally use a Past tense for the report verb:

Last night in a television address, the President claimed he'd done nothing wrong.

- We use a future form to guess the future:
I'm sure he'll say he's too tired.
What do you think the judge's decision is going to be?
- We often use Past Continuous to report gossip, or to repeat what somebody else has just said:
Nikos was saying you're thinking of leaving.
- We may use a report verb in a Present tense if we feel the original statement is still relevant:
John says he's on his way and will be here in twenty minutes. (= reporting a phone message)

2 REPORTING PAST TENSES

When reporting a statement or question that referred to the past, we commonly use Past Perfect:

He told me he'd been working all day. (= original: 'I've been working all day.')

- Where the time relationship is obvious, we can report past events with Past Simple rather than Past Perfect:
The palaeontologist claimed the world had begun / began earlier than originally thought.
- Sometimes, we keep the original tenses, especially if the report verb is Present tense. :
Oh, by the way, Tony says he's going to be a bit late.
He told me he's been working all day. (= reported the same day)

3 REPORTING PRESENT TENSES

We may use Past tenses to report Present tenses if they refer to things that are no longer relevant:

Jo said she felt sick. (= she isn't any longer)

- But, we can use Present tenses if the statement is still thought to be relevant:
Jo said she is feeling sick. (= she still is)
- There can sometimes be a conflict between logical truth and grammatical habit when reporting situations that are still true at the time of reporting. If somebody asks your age, it is logical to report it (a short time later) as:
He asked me how old I am.

- However, there is a strong grammatical tendency to keep the tenses in a sentence in agreement:
He asked me how old I was. (and you are still the same age)
- Both are acceptable and there's no difference in meaning:
They asked me where you live / lived.
She told me she hadn't / hasn't got much money.
- If we don't believe the speaker, we use a Past tense:
He claimed the Earth was flat.
He told me he was broke but I know he was lying.

4 REPORTING MODAL VERBS

For many modal verbs (see Units 3 and 4) there is no difference between direct and reported speech:

'I might go but I don't want to.' becomes:

He said he might go but he didn't want to.

'You shouldn't have eaten so much.' becomes:

My wife said I shouldn't have eaten so much.

- Those that can change (if necessary) are:

Modal	Changes	Examples
can	becomes: could (or would be able to)	'Can I borrow your ball?' becomes: He asked if he could borrow our ball.
must	becomes: had to or was / were to (to express obligation)	'You must go back again later.' becomes: They told me I had to go back again later.
will	becomes: would	'I'll come later.' becomes: She told me she would come later.
may	becomes: might	'I may come.' becomes He said he might come.
needn't	becomes: didn't need to or didn't have to / wouldn't have to	'You needn't go tonight.' becomes: He said I didn't need to go last night.

? check

What are the likely original statements which these report?

- They said they would be at the station by ten.
- She said she had to wash her hair this evening.
- He tried to convince me that Goa was in Africa.
- She claimed she spent her childhood in Australia.
- She said she'd given up studying English and was going to get married instead.

Practice

1 Put a cross (X) by any of the options below that cannot complete the sentence. Put a question mark (?) beside any that are possible but very unlikely.

- a Tom just told me he is / was going home because he doesn't feel well.
- b According to Shakespeare, life is / was nothing but a walking shadow.
- c It's reported that there has been / had been a massive earthquake in Indonesia.
- d Shakespeare wrote that all the world is / was a stage.
- e Would you believe it, he's told the others he has / had passed Proficiency.
- f Ali says he'd / he'll see you later.
- g He told me just now he is / was definitely going to resign.
- h My mother was always saying that you can / could take a horse to water but you can't / couldn't make it drink.

2 Fill each of the numbered gaps with one suitable word.

It was quite an emotional day, I (1) admit. A few of the younger clerks just (2) me good luck and (3) I would be happy in my new job. Some of the farewells from older colleagues were quite touching; one said I (4) been a kind of model for him, (5) I (6) rather nice. The managing director made a speech at lunchtime, the usual gushing stuff about all I (7) done for the firm, how much I had (8) to its ethos and how the place (9) be the same without me. Fortunately he omitted to recall a conversation in which he had (10) me an incompetent idiot who (11) deserve to be working in a company as good as his. When it was my turn to respond, I couldn't believe the clichés I (12) out with: about what a pleasure (13) had been to work in a firm that (14) such high standards and (15) stand comparison with any company in the country; about how I (16) miss everybody and how I really (17) their kindness in presenting me with a pen. The cleaning lady was the last person (18) say goodbye to me. She just said she'd always (19) me as a gentleman. I thought that (20) sweet.

3 Write the appropriate form of the verbs in brackets. More than one form is often possible.

Example: He asked me if I (be) going to the party tonight. am, was

- a William says he (want) to be a policeman when he grows up.
- b Jenny called after me to ask if I (be) going to the party the following evening.
- c At lunchtime my wife called to ask me where I (be) all morning.
- d She called me on my mobile and asked me where I (be).
- e She demanded to know why I (not come) home last night.
- f She demanded to know why I (not come) home the night before.
- g Nikos asked if I (ever visit) Thessaloniki before.
- h The teacher wanted to know if I (can take) his class for him that evening.

4 Report what the assistant said to you in each shop when you were hunting for a particular piece of computer software.

Example: John Brown's Software Store: 'I've never heard of that particular product. I'm not sure it exists.' In John Brown's Software Store the man said he'd never heard of the product, adding that he wasn't sure it existed.

- a Softly Softly: 'We don't actually stock what you want but there is a shop down the road that does.'
- b Disk Jockey: 'We normally keep them but we've had a run on them and I'm afraid we've sold out. We're expecting some in sometime next week.'
- c Apple Core: 'We only deal with Apple Mac, so we won't be able to help you.'
- d Surf'n Byte: 'We've got something very similar but I can't guarantee that it will do what you want it to do.'
- e Graphics Unlimited: 'I think there's a place not far from here where they may be able to help you. A friend of mine bought something similar from them last week.'
- f Softly Softly: 'You were here a few hours ago. We still don't stock them.'

SECTION 2

Report structures

1 THAT-CLAUSES AND WH-CLAUSES

We use that-clauses to report statements:

Jo suggested that I should go to see the film.

- We can also use that-clauses to report statements which include wh-clauses:

She remembered that what was strange was that the caller refused to leave his name. She claimed that whether we stayed or not made no difference to her.

2 WH-CLAUSES

We use wh-clauses to report questions with wh-words (why, when, etc.):

The department manager asked me when I was thinking of leaving. Our neighbours wanted to know where we were going on holiday.

watch out!

The word order is normally subject–verb, not verb–subject as in direct questions. There is no question mark:

- ✗ He asked me how did I manage it?
- ✓ He asked me how I managed it.

3 IF-CLAUSES

We use if-clauses to report yes / no questions:

My mother just rang to check if I was coming.

- We can also use if / whether in that-clauses to report conditionals, or statements which talk about alternatives:

She said that if we were staying, she'd have to make up the spare bed.

4 INFINITIVE AND -ING FORMS IN REPORTING

We can report statements, orders and questions with verbs followed by a to-infinitive, with and without an object:

She promised / offered to come with us.

She advised me / warned us not to go with them.

- We can also use report verbs followed by -ing. Sometimes we need a preposition:

He admitted / recalled her taking the money.

We apologised for / accused her of taking the money.

- Note we can use a number of structures:

He agreed that it was a good idea / to marry her / with me / to her marrying him.

I advise you to go home / that your rent is due.

I advise taking the pills / against going there.

5 IMPERSONAL REPORTS

We can report what people generally say or think using passive report verbs. There are two structures – It + that-clause, or subject + to-infinitive:

It's reputed that he's worth £100 million.

He's reputed to be worth £10 million.

- Here are report verbs we use in the same way:
know rumour report say believe suppose feel
- Some verbs, e.g. suspect and hint, can't be used with a to-infinitive structure:
He is suspected of being guilty of cheating.
It's been hinted that he's worth even more.
- Here are examples of report verbs we can use only in the structure It + that-clause:
suggest learn accept announce argue hope

6 SUMMARISING IN REPORTED SPEECH

When we report what people generally say or think, we commonly summarise the original statement. The aim is to report the meaning, not the exact words:

Original	Report
'I don't know. Maybe I'll give up work for a while. I'm fed up with this job anyway. What I really want to do is to travel overseas a bit. A year, maybe.'	Anyway, she said she was thinking of leaving her job and going abroad, possibly for a year.

7 ADDING PERSONAL COMMENTS

When reporting, we may add details and give our reaction, e.g. by using a particular report verb. In this example, these interpretations are in bold:

She was going on about leaving, which I thought was strange. She even said something about travelling, which in my opinion would be a complete waste of time.

? check

Add the missing word in each of these examples.

- Sylvia said she hadn't got enough time.
- We enquired or not they were staying.
- She asked I would stay long.
- The firemen told us leave the building.
- My father asked me I intended to do.

Practice

1 Match the comments, (a–e) with the openings 1 (1–5). Make a report combining the two.

Example: I didn't know... 'Are you really going to Siberia?'

I didn't know you were going to Siberia.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 'The president wanted it to be known ... | a 'Why haven't you got a road tax disc?' |
| 2 Fortunately Jane let me know ... | b 'I don't care whether you come or not.' |
| 3 The police wanted to know ... | c 'Do you know when we're meeting next?' |
| 4 My angry boyfriend wanted me to know ... | d 'I won't be able to pick you up.' |
| 5 A client just wanted to check ... | e 'I am definitely not resigning.' |

2 Underline all the options that can complete each sentence.

- My lawyer me to be on time.
a wanted b offered c asked d told
- Many people to help.
a offered b agreed c didn't mind d promised
- Their teacher against talking to strangers.
a advised b recommended c suggested d warned
- My girlfriend suggested alone.
a I go b going c I went d to go
- Many people on Rita's new hairstyle.
a complimented b talked c commented d remarked
- In the end they agreed to our two teams for the tournament.
a entered b enter c entry d entering
- I tried to Tara from having her nose pierced.
a persuade b discourage c encourage d dissuade
- The actress to having had first-night nerves.
a admitted b agreed c accepted d confessed

3 Finish each of the following sentences in such a way that it is as similar as possible in meaning to the sentence printed before it.

- A man called Jorgé is allegedly the ringleader.
A man called Jorgé is suspected
- People say the alleged terrorist is leaving the country tomorrow.
The alleged terrorist is believed
- People say the total amount collected is nearing £100,000.
The total amount collected is reckoned
- It's often said that science has done more harm than good.
Science is often
- The government has been dropping hints to the effect that unemployment benefit may have to be cut.
In government circles it

4 Rewrite each sentence in two ways, a and b. You will need to use that-clauses, wh-clauses, infinitive clauses or -ing clauses.

Example: 'I've done nothing to be ashamed of,' she sobbed.

- She denied having done anything to be ashamed of.
 - She refused to admit that she had been in any way responsible.
- 'I'll be there with you lot before you can blink,' the sergeant told them.
a The sergeant said next to no time.
b The sergeant promised a matter of minutes.
 - 'I don't think employees should be forced to work overtime,' he said.
a He disapproved made to work overtime.
b He was opposed obligatory.
 - 'Either you hand over those photos, or I'll tell the Tax Office everything,' B J said to her.
a B J threatened photographs.
b B J said that he have the photos.
 - 'Do I really need to stay?' she said.
a She enquired stay.
b She asked to be leave.
 - 'I have been unfairly treated,' the number nine complained.
a The number nine felt treated.
b The number nine claimed to treatment.

Unit thirteen

Vocabulary

SECTION 3

Quoting, reporting and interpreting

1 REFERRING DIRECTLY TO OTHER PEOPLE'S WORDS

We can use a number of phrases or structures to refer to what other people have said or written:

According to the Chancellor, a tax increase is unavoidable.

In the words of Shakespeare, 'All the world's a stage'.

To quote Julius Caesar: 'I came, I saw, I conquered'.

As the Prime Minister has it, 'Things can only get better'.

Beckett once wrote that people were 'bloody ignorant apes'.

To paraphrase Abraham Lincoln, we're not all idiots all the time.

2 INANIMATE OBJECTS CAN SPEAK

It's not only people who say and tell us things. We can talk about written materials in a number of ways:

'What came in the post, dear?' Oh, the usual stuff. The Sun says it's time to forget we're Europeans. And there was a leaflet offering four CDs for the price of one. And a letter from WD Autos reminding us that a service is due on the car. And a circular from the Town Hall telling us that our house is to be demolished. And a note from my boss saying I've been fired.

3 CASTING DOUBT ON WHAT PEOPLE HAVE SAID

We may wish to cast doubt or uncertainty on what has been said. We can use different phrasing:

If he's to be believed, he's on his way out. They're saying that he's on his way out. I gather / I understand / I hear he's on his way out. He is supposed to be on his way out. There's a rumour going around that he's on his way out. The word is that he's on his way out.

1 Fill each gap with one of the words listed.

unconfirmed spies rumour bird apparently

- has it that he's leaving.
- My tell me you're going.
- A little told me you're emigrating.
- this is her third marriage.
- reports say she's resigning.

4 INTERPRETING THE MEANING OF WHAT HAS BEEN SAID

Sometimes, as the listener or reader, we interpret what we hear or read. We can use a number of verbs and common phrases:

I infer from your letter that...

The only possible inference is that...

Your comments imply that...

From the tone of your letter I conclude that...

I feel bound to interpret your comments as...

Judging by your reply, you...

What you are saying in so many words is that...

2 Fill each gap with one of the words listed.

denote read signify dropping driving take

- What does this line from 'Hamlet' ?
- If I between the lines, ...
- A colon can a list is to follow.
- I think he was a hint.
- I couldn't see what he was at.
- what he said with a pinch of salt.

5 VERBS THAT INDICATE HOW SOMETHING IS SAID

We can use a number of verbs (and related adverbs) to indicate the purpose or effect of speakers' or writers' words:

He stated categorically that he was innocent.

He maintained throughout that he had done nothing wrong.

He challenged the authenticity of the papers.

He questioned the people's right to doubt his sincerity.

- Other verbs that indicate the person's attitude include:

(utterly) repudiate assert confirm clamour (for)

(openly) confess (to) doubt demand recollect allege reminisce (proudly) proclaim suspect

6 NOUNS THAT SUMMARISE WHAT HAS BEEN SAID

If we know what was said previously, we can summarise it with a noun:

He has repudiated all the recent allegations.

She continues to deny their accusations.

We cannot possibly meet their demands.

Their claims border on the ludicrous.

- Common nouns that act like this include:

comments remarks statements queries criticism praise compliment attack recollections protest

SECTION 4

Communicating

1 USING WORDS TO SHOW THE WAY WE SPEAK

We use many verbs to show how people say something. They can often be used as nouns:

'It's your fault,' she sobbed / grinned / sneered.

- Here are examples of verbs we use in this way:
mutter shout scream whisper bark bellow cry

1 Tick (✓) the verbs that suggest quiet speaking; put a cross (X) beside those that sound loud.
mumble shriek mouth yell roar howl purr

2 ADDING WORDS AND PHRASES TO SHOW HOW THINGS ARE SAID

As well as using particular verbs to show how people say something, we can add adverbs and adverbial phrases:

'I didn't mean it to happen,' he said defiantly / tearfully / grim-faced.

'It'll be all right,' he said in a conciliatory manner / in typical fashion / in a mysterious way.

'I've had enough,' he said in a whisper / in a strangely muted tone of voice / under his breath.

'Who cares?' he said with a smirk / with a shrug of his shoulders / with a shake of his head.

2 Write in the missing preposition.

*'What?' he said the top of his voice /
..... a high-pitched voice / a joke / afar /
..... a frown / himself / a whim.*

3 USING PHRASAL VERBS

We can use many phrasal verbs to express how people say or write something. For example, with the verb come we have:

come out with (a rude word) come up with (a good idea) come back with (a sharp response) come across (as a coherent speaker) come in for (a lot of criticism)

- With the verb put, there are even more possibilities:
put forward (a suggestion) put across or put over (your message) put in (a claim) put someone down (with a sarcastic comment) put out (a statement)
- Phrasal verbs are useful in showing how a speaker expresses himself / herself:
She suddenly blurted out the truth.

He spoke out against her sacking.

He reeled off a long list of reasons.

He sounded off about the lazy students he had.

She only briefly touched on the heart of the problem.

3 Complete each sentence with a particle or preposition.

- Speak ! I can't hear you.
- Do I need to spell it for you?
- I'm sorry. I'd like to take what I said.
- He read a prepared statement.
- We shouldn't dwell our mistakes.
- To sum, I'm calling a completely fresh approach.

4 IDIOMATIC PHRASES

There are many idiomatic phrases associated with communicating. Here are some examples:

*Don't beat about the bush. Give it to me straight.
She let the cat out of the bag. She gave the game away.*

He came clean. He let it be known that he was unhappy.

*He ad-libbed. He spoke off the cuff.
Off the top of my head, I'd say ...*

4 Use one of the words to complete each sentence.

gab confidence secret point cross plain words shop syllable spit

- Get to the
- it out!
- I'll tell you in words of one
- He took me into his
- I'm not going to mince
- I'll tell you in English.
- Do I have to dot the i's and the t's for you?
- She let me in on her
- They talked all evening.
- She's got the gift of the

Practice

1 Replace a 'speaking' verb (underlined) with one of the words or phrases listed. The meaning of the sentence must not be changed.

Example: 'Shoot as soon as they come round the corner,' Bond whispered, breathed

(breathed) said under his breath enquired snapped roared chanted said with a smirk chortled declared hinted admitted stammered shrieked

- a 'Get out of my office!' he bellowed.
 b 'Can I help you in any way?' she asked.
 c 'Was it 20 or 25% you got in the test?' he sneered.
 d 'That's so typical of my young grandson,' the old man chuckled.
 e 'You'll regret this,' he muttered.
 f 'I want you in my office in two minutes,' he said angrily and sharply.
 g She confessed that she had been economical with the truth.
 h 'You did what?' he exclaimed loudly.
 i 'Jobs not hand-outs! Jobs not hand-outs!' they repeated together.
 j He insinuated that things had gone wrong because of me.
 k 'But, but, but. But surely not!' he stuttered.
 l She announced that she would be leaving within the month.

2 Fill each gap in the sentences below with one word.

- a 'Let's not speak ill the dead,' she said under her breath.
 b She poured her heart to him.
 c He blurted the names of his accomplices with a shrug of his shoulders.
 d The third candidate clammed , either through nerves or stubbornness.
 e Don't keep me the dark any longer. Tell me what's going on.
 f He reeled the names of all the people involved by heart.
 g They'll be trying to build this group as the new Spice Girls, won't they?
 h It says here black and white that you have to give three months' notice.
 i How do you propose to put your message ?
 j 'I just can't get to my parents any more,' he said with a shake of his head.
 k I feel gratified that you have confided me.
 l 'I'm sorry, I'd like to take what I said,' she said tearfully.
 m I think it's time I put you all the picture regarding future prospects.
 n The minister trotted the usual assurances in typical fashion.
 o He dredged the normal accusations against the opposition.
 p He dwelt the past achievements of the government rather too long.
 q Do you mind if I butt ? It's just that this is item 17!!!

3 Rewrite each of the sentences using the prompt word given. This word must not be changed in any way.

Example: I'd like to make a few suggestions.

forward

I'd like to put forward a few suggestions.

- a Can I give you an update on the latest figures?

4 Fill each of the numbered blanks in the passage with one appropriate word.

I'd like to (1) off by telling you some things to do and some definitely not to do. First of all, (2) up; don't mumble. Speak at normal speed, perhaps slightly slower; don't gabble. Don't just trot (3) a series of statistics. (4) to your notes, of course, but don't just read them (5). Maintain eye contact with your listeners. Don't go (6) too long; no guest should overstay their welcome. In any presentation there will be a number of points you can just (7) on rather than go (8) great detail about. Don't forget the need to paraphrase and summarise with expressions like 'in (9) words' or 'if I could put it (10) way'. If someone calls (11) or butts (12) while you're in (13) flow, don't get tongue-tied. Wait, and then come back (14) a light-hearted response. Don't, whatever you do, get involved in a running (15) of words or, worse, a slanging (16) with one particular member of the audience. And don't patronise any questioner; no one likes being talked (17) to. When it comes to question and answer time, try to stick to the point, try not to come out (18) too many clichés. Be careful not to talk yourself (19) a corner; it's very easy to start going (20) in circles.

The chance to 'get away from it all' is often (1) as a reason for choosing to live on an island. Many feel (2) there is something appealing about running up a metaphorical drawbridge against the world. Experienced islanders (3) uproariously at such idealism, (4) off a long list of reasons why it is nonsense. People, (5) is claimed, can feel more isolated in deep countryside than they would on an island. One hill farmer in the north of Scotland, whose only company in winter was the odd passing helicopter, (6) to feeling suicidally lonely at times, (7) his lifestyle to living on the moon. By contrast, isolation tends to bind island communities together. One old woman who had spent her whole life on Easdale in the Inner Hebrides, (8) out that there was no place to hide on an island which meant that you (9) to face your mistakes. (10) she said, you can't avoid people when you have to sit next to them on a ferry the following day. 'You can't get away with anything,' she laughed. On the other hand, many claims are (11) that the social life is better than on the mainland, with people forever popping into each others' houses for a (12). Off Scotland, though, the weather can be a problem in winter, (13) to a resident novelist who advises (14) to even think about moving to an island if you are addicted to comfort. OVERVIEW

1 TRANSITIVE AND INTRANSITIVE VERBS

Transitive verbs must be followed by an object. The object is usually the thing or person affected by the action. We can use intransitive verbs without an object:

- ✗ ~~Dominic kicked.~~ When he fell flat on his back, I laughed him.
- ✓ Dominic kicked the ball. When he fell flat on his back, I laughed.
- Here are more examples:

Transitive	Intransitive
I think we ought to discuss this matter as soon as possible, don't you?	Does the Loch Ness monster really exist?
Can't you control yourself just for five minutes?	I should sleep well tonight, after all that exercise.
You really can't expect him to stay silent for the whole trial.	The man is believed to have disappeared shortly after leaving the night club.

- We can use some verbs both transitively and intransitively, sometimes with different meanings.

Transitive	Intransitive
After the match, he went home and walked the dog.	He walked back from the penalty spot looking sheepish.
You're not really going to leave that mess all over the floor, are you?	After checking all the doors had been locked, he turned and left.

2 STRUCTURES AFTER TRANSITIVE VERBS

As well as using nouns and pronouns as the object of transitive verbs, we can use noun clauses (see Unit 10):

- I knew what he was going to say.*
- I think that it's a waste of time.*
- Some transitive verbs can have two objects, the first of which is usually a personal object:
 - Harry gave me a call later that evening.*
 - Pass me the salt, would you?*
 - I offered him what he had asked for but he didn't hear me.*

- With some verbs, we can use either two objects or an object + prepositional phrase:
 - I sent you the package. I've sent the package to you.*
- With other verbs, e.g. explain, report, describe, we can only use object + prepositional phrase:
 - ✗ ~~He explained me the procedure.~~
 - ✓ He explained the procedure to me.

3 STRUCTURES AFTER INTRANSITIVE VERBS

We can follow some intransitive verbs with prepositional phrases or words referring to place or time:

- It occurs to me that my licence is due for renewal soon.*
- I used to live here.*
- They're coming tomorrow, or so they say.*

4 LINK VERBS

We can follow link verbs, e.g. seem, sound and be, with adjectives and noun phrases:

- I must say I feel a little nervous about the concert this evening.*
- I'm frankly astonished that someone so mediocre can end up as President.*
- The whole thing seems a waste of time to me.*

Jones lobbed the ball high and Vassily fell backwards.

Vassily walked back to the baseline. 'I should win this game easily,' Jones thought.

'I'm a little nervous but if I concentrate, I'll win,' Vassily said to himself. He won the match.

SECTION I

Reflexive and reciprocal verbs

1 GENERAL USE

We can use most transitive verbs with reflexive pronouns (himself, ourselves, etc.) when the meaning is appropriate:

The driver blamed himself for the accident.
The escaped prisoner turned himself in to the police.

- Behave is normally intransitive but we can use it transitively with reflexive pronouns:
The boys behaved themselves very well.

2 VERBS THAT ARE ALWAYS REFLEXIVE

A very few verbs are always followed by reflexive pronouns:

He busied himself cleaning the room.
You'll have to content yourself with second place.
They prided themselves on their performance.
They availed themselves of the free coffee.

3 VERBS THAT ARE COMMONLY REFLEXIVE

The following examples show verbs, including phrasal verbs, that we commonly use with reflexive pronouns:

He proved himself to be unreliable. Don't kid yourself: he's completely untrustworthy. Pull yourself together! If you don't stop working for a bit you'll wear yourself out.

- Other verbs that we commonly use reflexively include:
assert distinguish commit exert repeat suit

4 VERBS THAT CHANGE THEIR MEANING WHEN USED REFLEXIVELY

A few verbs change their meanings when used with reflexive pronouns:

Meaning 1	Meaning 2
Bach composed an enormous amount of music.	The witness took a deep breath and composed himself.
Can you explain what you mean?	I think you need to explain yourself.
Have you applied for the job yet?	You'll have to apply yourself to the work more.
They expressed their disapproval.	Doesn't he express himself well!
Do you enjoy watching golf on TV?	Did you enjoy yourself last night?

5 VERBS NOT USED REFLEXIVELY

Some verbs are commonly reflexive in some languages but are generally used intransitively in English:

He got up, washed and shaved.

- We may use these verbs reflexively for emphasis:
He got up and washed himself and got dressed.
- Other verbs we use in this way include:
adapt dress undress hide

6 RECIPROCAL VERBS

We use some verbs that involve two or more participants (crash, marry) intransitively when it's clear who the participants are. In many other languages these verbs have an object or reflexive pronoun:

We disagreed, we fought, then we kissed and made up.

- Here are more examples of verbs we use this way:
embrace argue touch fall out compete meet chat negotiate quarrel haggle divorce split up talk collide shake hands
- We sometimes use with each other with some of these verbs for emphasis or to make the meaning clear, but it isn't grammatically necessary:
We disagreed (with each other).
- With other verbs, we must always use a prepositional phrase:
~~✗ I didn't see her coming and we bumped.~~
 ✓ I didn't see her coming and we bumped into each other.

? check

Three of the following sentences are correct. Put a ✗ next to the one that is incorrect and a ? next to the one that sounds unnatural.

- The whole platoon distinguished themselves in the skirmish.
- I was so exhausted I just undressed myself and fell into bed.
- I think the referee behaved in the only way possible and showed him a red card.
- The French team asserted themselves early in the match.
- She prides on her cooking.

Practice

1 Rewrite each of the following sentences using one of the verbs listed reflexively (in an appropriate form).

Example: O Do as you please. Suit yourself.

repeat distance assert exert draw up blame busy pride (suit)

- He took full responsibility for the contract being lost.
- He got on with various mundane tasks.
- She was very proud of her reputation as an old dragon.
- He keeps saying the same thing all the time.
- If you want to run 400 metres in under 48 seconds, you'll have to make more of an effort.
- She stood as tall as she could in order to intimidate him.
- You really ought to be more forceful in situations like that.
- They claimed the project's failure was nothing to do with them.

2 Arrange these instructions into sensible pairs according to meaning.

Example: Don't demean yourself. – Assert yourself more.

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| (Don't demean yourself.) | Give yourself a break. |
| Don't belittle yourself. | Stop deluding yourself. |
| Be yourself. | Get a grip of yourself. |
| Keep calm. | Stop putting on an act. |
| Stop kidding yourself. | Don't put yourself down so much. |
| Don't push yourself so hard. | Don't get yourself worked up. |
| Pull yourself together. | (Assert yourself more.) |

3 Fill each of the numbered gaps with one of the verbs listed.

position ask let be make tell allow look rate control blame distinguish limit put

You must (1) yourself that you are a winner. Don't (2) yourself get dragged down by self-pity. (3) yourself in front of a mirror and (4) yourself in the eye. Don't (5) too hard on yourself, don't (6) yourself for things that have gone wrong, but at the same time, don't (7) yourself to be carried away; keep your feet on the ground. (8) yourself why you don't exactly (9) yourself in class. If you feel you're getting angry, (10) yourself. Never (11) yourself down, but at the same time don't (12) yourself above the others. As for exercise, (13) yourself to a couple of sessions in the gym every week and you won't (14) yourself ill, I promise you.

4 Summarise each of the following situations using one of the verbs listed.

Example: Her lips met mine and mine met hers.

We kissed.

split up (kiss) make up embrace collide fight marry

- She was coming from the left. I was coming from the right.
Bang!
- She held me. I held her.
- She threw a cup at me; I grabbed her arm.
- She sent me an 'I'm sorry' card; I sent her flowers.
- She said 'I do' in 1992; I said 'I do' too.
- She said, 'You go your way and I'll go mine,' in 1998; I said 'OK'.

SECTION 2

Verbs followed by that-clauses and adjectives

1 VERBS FOLLOWED BY A THAT-CLAUSE

Many verbs can be followed by a that-clause (see Unit 10), especially report verbs and verbs referring to mental processes such as thinking, feeling, realising:

I've decided that I'm going away for the weekend.

- Here are more examples of verbs we can use in this way:

comment say forecast request write warn assume consider infer conclude reckon recognise presume

the fact that

We can use the phrase the fact that with some of these verbs for additional emphasis:

I recognise the fact that she can't help it.

- Some transitive verbs can't be followed by a that-clause alone but only by the fact that:
We cannot ignore the fact that she lied to us.
- Other examples include:
quote can't bear/stand enjoy express investigate leave out face

THAT-CLAUSE OR TO-INFINITIVE

We can use a that-clause or to-infinitive after some of these verbs (agree, hope, pretend, forget, etc.) with practically no difference in meaning:

*He agreed to come. He agreed that he would come.
I promise to remember. I promise that I'll remember.*

- A few verbs can be followed by an object + to-infinitive (usually to be). This is usually more formal than the alternative that-clause:

To-infinitive	That-clause
I recognise her to be one of our best players.	I recognise that she is one of our best players.
I know him to be scrupulously honest.	I know that he is scrupulously honest.
They estimated costs to be in the region of £1m.	They estimated that costs were in the region of £1m.

- Other examples include:

wh-clauses

Many verbs commonly followed by a that-clause can also be followed by a wh-clause:

I didn't know what to do.

I can't imagine why they did that.

- They are sometimes reported questions:
He asked what I was doing.

2 VERBS FOLLOWED BY DESCRIBING NOUNS OR ADJECTIVES

Some verbs are followed by nouns or adjectives that describe the subject. Verbs used in this way include those connected with appearance and the senses (appear, look, sound, seem, etc.) and those connected with change (become, remain, grow, turn, etc.):

My father remained a member of the society even after they criticised his behaviour.

- Other verbs (prove, appear, seem, etc.) are followed by an adjective or to be + adjective:
The plan proved (to be) unworkable.
- Some verbs (make, constitute, form, comprise, etc.) are followed by describing noun phrases:
*You'll make a rotten teacher – you've no patience.
This represents a considerable increase in our profits.*
- Some verbs are followed by object + complement. We use most of these verbs in a limited range of collocations:
*The jury found him guilty of arson.
He knocked him unconscious in the third round.
You're driving me crazy!
I hold you responsible for the damage.
I want him caught as soon as possible.*
- A few intransitive verbs can also be followed by adjectives:
*lie empty / awake / helpless etc.
stand motionless / erect / firm / proud / idle etc.
sit quiet / silent / still etc.
die young / happy / intestate etc.
escape unharmed etc.
pass unnoticed / undetected etc.
emerge unscathed / uninjured etc.*

SECTION 3

Verbs used with prepositional and adverbial phrases

1 VERBS OF MOVEMENT

Most verbs of movement are commonly followed by a prepositional phrase or an adverbial phrase:

The van skidded into the back of the car in front.

The rescue workers hurried towards the scene of the accident.

The smell of something wonderful wafted through from the kitchen.

- Other verbs we use in this way include:

drift pour speed slide stagger pull in set off leap storm bound turn arrive float burst limp race shuffle

watch out!

We use home as an adverb after verbs of movement. We don't use a preposition:

✗ I'm going to home as soon as we've finished.

✓ I'm going home as soon as we've finished.

2 VERBS OF POSITION

Some verbs which indicate the position of things are commonly followed by a prepositional phrase or an adverbial phrase:

Vocabulary

SECTION 4

Dependent prepositions and prepositional phrases

1 VERB + PREPOSITION

As well as verbs of movement and place followed by prepositional phrases (see Section 3), we can use verb + preposition combinations:

*The film consists of nothing but car chases.
Given the choice, I'll always opt for the cash prize.*

- Sometimes, the verb and preposition are separated by an object:

*He played off one side against the other and lost.
They subjected him to fierce interrogation.*

It is primarily its greater size which distinguishes the raven from the common crow.

- Very often, verbs with related meanings are followed by the same preposition. Here is an example of such a group:
ask for appeal for hope for long for yearn for
- However, some verbs with similar meanings have different prepositions:
accuse someone of blame someone for

1 Fill these gaps with a suitable preposition.

- Few men escaped / emerged / ran away / vanished the prison cells.
- I'd like to swap / exchange / substitute / trade this computer a more recent model.

2 ADJECTIVE + PREPOSITION

Some adjectives are commonly followed by collocating prepositions (see Unit 2, Section 1.4). As with verb + preposition, the verbs can have related meanings:

similar to related to characteristic of typical of responsible for sorry for fraught with riddled with deficient in lacking in upset about annoyed about

2 Choose the most suitable preposition to complete these sentences:

- Is the program compatible your computer?
- As a musicologist, he is completely steeped the music of that period.

3 NOUN + PREPOSITION

Some nouns are commonly followed by collocating prepositions:

a prelude to a sequel to a taste for a craving for an attack on a relationship with insurance against a safeguard against an extract from

3 Choose the most suitable preposition to complete these sentences:

- We eventually gained access his computer files.
- I've just had a blazing row my line manager.

4 PREPOSITIONAL PHRASES

Prepositional phrases usually begin with a preposition which may not be connected with the preceding noun, verb or adjective:

*I arrived at the checkout out of breath.
I find his arrogance beyond belief.
Their luggage arrived in advance.
Please go to Gate 11 without delay.*

4 Choose the most suitable preposition to complete these sentences:

- The driver of the van was found to be fault.
- Some people appear to be the mistaken impression that Scotland is part of England.

Practice

1 Link the openings of the sentences (1–10) with their endings on the right (a–j).

Example: O k

- a devout Muslim* a strict vegetarian a leading expert
- a practising Christian* a firm believer
- a die-hard Conservative* a staunch supporter
- a fierce opponent*

4 WHAT SORT OF KNOWLEDGE?

Note how adverbial phrases can be replaced by adjectives used attributively and vice versa:

Adverbial phrase	Adjective
We need an account of what happened in full.	We need a full account of what happened.
You'll have to report in detail what happened.	We'll need a detailed report of what happened.
He knows about his subject in depth.	He has an in-depth knowledge of the subject.
We only have an idea of the plan in broad outline.	We only have a sketchy idea of the plan.

- We also use a number of idiomatic phrases:
I know London like the back of my hand.
She knows the locking-up procedure inside out.
He knows the lyrics of at least twenty Beatles songs by heart.
The fire and safety officer knows the regulations backwards.

5 HAVING NO KNOWLEDGE

There are many ways to say we don't know or understand something. Some are colloquial such as:

- I'm in the dark.*
- Search me. The police have nothing to go on.*
- I haven't (got) a clue. I haven't (got) the faintest / slightest / foggiest idea. I've no idea.*
- It's beyond me. It all goes over my head.*

- There are fewer formal common phrases we can use to express ignorance:
I am not familiar with the facts.
I am not fully acquainted with the facts of the case.
I must confess to ignorance regarding...

OVERVIEW

1 TWO ACTIONS TOGETHER

When we want to talk about two actions together, we can use two verbs. The first verb follows the normal rules of person and tense, while the second verb is either an -ing form, a to-infinitive, or a bare infinitive:

I've always avoided visiting my cousins.

My parents will never agree to lend us that much money.

My mother made me stay at home until I had finished clearing up.

We're going to have to postpone visiting your mother again.

Practise doing that every morning.

It looks as if we'll be forced to give in.

I challenge you to prove it.

I heard him talk to Colin.

Did you see that guy run?

- Verbs commonly followed by -ing include (see Section 1 for fuller list):

imagine enjoy admit deny

- Verbs commonly followed by to-infinitive include (see Section 2 for fuller list):

ask promise agree expect

- Some verbs can be followed by more than one form with little difference in meaning:

I hope they don't intend to visit / visiting me soon.

- Here are some more examples:

intend begin continue cease propose start

We can also use -ing or to-infinitive after love, prefer, and like. The differences in meaning are sometimes very small:

I love to lie on the beach. is virtually the same as:

I love lying on the beach.

- Like + to-infinitive usually suggests a preferred routine; we use like + -ing to talk about something that pleases us:

I like to listen to music. (= a pleasing routine)

I like listening to music. (= I enjoy it)

- To talk about conditional and hypothetical preferences after would, we commonly use to-infinitive:

I'd prefer to wait a bit if you don't mind.

I'd love to visit you.

I'd like to think people trusted me.

(See Section 1 for other differences between verb + to-infinitive / bare infinitive and verb + -ing. See Section 2 for verbs followed by to-infinitive or bare infinitive.)

2 PREPOSITION + -ING

Verbs that follow prepositions are always -ing forms:

I am totally fed up with having to cover for you when you're away.

Gill and Stratis always insist on my visiting them when I'm in the country.

watch out!

- Some verbs are followed by a to-infinitive and others by the preposition to. When to is a preposition, any following verb must be -ing form:

I'm afraid I have to confess to (= preposition) being completely ignorant about classical music.

*I can't believe they intend to (= to-infinitive) demolish such a historic building.*

- After some verbs, especially stop, the to-infinitive may be an infinitive of purpose. We can replace it with in order to:

I stopped to ask the way. (= stopped in order to ask)

SECTION I

Verbs followed by -ing or infinitive

1 VERBS FOLLOWED BY -ING OR TO-INFINITIVE

We can use a number of verbs followed by another verb in the -ing form:

I simply adore listening to music in the garden.

How can they justify spending so much!

- Some of these verbs are related in meaning. Verbs that we commonly use in this way include:
like / dislike start* / stop* contemplate report adore quit forget* mention detest resume remember* suggest can't bear* / stand keep recall describe (don't) mind go on* dread* advise* resent carry on regret* recommend* tolerate give up anticipate forbid* miss finish risk admit fancy keep on consider* deny*

(Those marked * can also be followed by to-infinitive but with differences in meaning or use. See below.)

2 PERFECT -ING FORM

With some verbs, we use a Perfect -ing form to emphasise that one action happens before the other:

They denied having avoided me as well.

- We can usually rewrite this structure with a that-clause and a Perfect tense:
They denied that they had avoided me as well.

3 WITH AN OBJECT

We can often put an object between the two verbs:

I don't like their / them / people gossiping.

- We can use both object pronouns (them, him, etc.) and possessives (their, your, etc.). The possessive is considered more formal. If an adjective comes before the -ing, we must use a possessive:
I don't like their spiteful gossiping.

4 DIFFERENCES BETWEEN -ING AND TO-INFINITIVE

With some verbs where it is possible to use both -ing form and to-infinitive, any differences in meaning depend on the preceding verb. Here are the most common differences.

- Like, hate* and can't bear are usually followed by to-infinitive when we use would or could in a hypothetical or conditional sense:
*I'd like to hear that again, if possible.
 I couldn't bear to go through all that trauma again.*

- Dread* is followed by to-infinitive in these phrases:
I dread to think / contemplate what will happen.

In other uses of dread we use -ing:

I dread getting ill when I'm abroad.

- Forget* and remember: when these have meanings that are 'forward looking', we use to-infinitive:
Don't forget to send them a Christmas card.
 When forget and remember have meanings that are 'backward looking', we use -ing:
I remember their teasing me about my knobbly knees.
- Regret* + to-infinitive is a polite or formal form of apology:
I regret to inform you that you were turned down.
 When we use regret with -ing it means 'wish it had/hadn't happened':
I really regret speaking to Jack like that.
- Advise, recommend* and forbid are followed by to-infinitive when there is an object:
I advise you to stay out of their way.
 They are followed by -ing when there is no object:
I advise staying out of their way.
- Go on* + -ing means 'continue an action':
I ignored her calling and went on reading my paper.
Go on + to-infinitive means 'do something after you have finished doing something else':
He left Oxford and went on to train as a lawyer.

5 VERB + -ING OR BARE INFINITIVE

One group of verbs connected with observation, e.g. see, observe, sense, feel, hear, watch, perceive, can be followed by either -ing or a bare infinitive:

I noticed him sneaking / sneak out at lunchtime.

We heard the alarm bell ring / ringing and rushed out to see what was happening.

- We normally use a bare infinitive when the action is completed. We use the -ing form when the action is still in progress – this is similar to Continuous tenses (see Unit 1, Section 3).

? check

Match these sentences with the main points above.

- I felt something brush against my arm in the dark.
- I regret to say your progress has been too slow.
- As for my neighbours, I really can't stand their relentless quarrelling.
- Vasili didn't mention going to the party tonight.
- My grandmother could remember having ridden in one of the first cars on the island.

Practice

1 Match the first part (1–8) of each sentence with the most appropriate ending (a–h).

Example: 0 i

- | | |
|---|---|
| 0 My four year old son can't bear) | a doing this. | a getting b to get c having got d to getting

- 2 They are to build a new by-pass around the town.
a suggesting b planning on c proposing d advising
- 3 I think he really to go to the races last weekend.
a enjoyed b wanted c appreciated d adored
- 4 How can you bear him to tell such obvious lies to you, week after week?
a keeping b carrying on c continuing d going on
- 5 By the weekend, people had to worry about the volcano.
a finished b ceased c quit d given up

SECTION 2

Verbs followed by infinitive

1 VERBS FOLLOWED BY TO-INFINITIVE

We can use a number of verbs followed by another verb in a to-infinitive form. The two verbs may be separated by an object when the first verb is transitive:

I agreed to do the lion's share of the donkey work.
I wanted her to take more responsibility for checking the details.

- Some of these verbs are related in meaning. Verbs that are commonly followed by a to-infinitive include:

guarantee threaten want arrange consent demand wish* decide undertake plead aim negotiate pledge ask* desire agree swear beg* seek consent resolve prefer* expect* volunteer*

- Verbs commonly followed by an object and to-infinitive (in addition to those marked * above) include:

advise force oblige teach encourage command order train help permit program inspire expect tell brainwash invite forbid prefer induce persuade urge challenge enable remind allow condemn instruct warn

(For differences between -ing and to-infinitive for certain verbs, see Section 1.4)

2 VERBS FOLLOWED BY TO BE

We can use a passive infinitive after some verbs, especially report verbs (See Unit 2, Section 2.2):

He failed to be elected for the third time in a row.
The silver was alleged to have been stolen from the palace.

- Here are some more examples:
rumour assume reckon report understand think prove estimate believe consider feel
- After these verbs we can often use to be and an adjective or noun:
The judge instructed me to be more attentive to the evidence. He originally wanted to be a gymnast before eventually becoming a sprinter.

3 VERBS FOLLOWED BY PERFECT INFINITIVE

With some verbs, e.g. appear, seem, claim, pretend, happen, prove, tend, and report verbs, we often use a Perfect infinitive such as to have done to emphasise that one action happens before the other:

He appears to have put on weight.

- We can usually rewrite this structure with introductory It + that-clause and a Perfect tense:
It appears that he has put on weight.

4 USING FOR + OBJECT

With one group of verbs connected with 'wanting' we commonly use for + object + to-infinitive:

He appealed for help to find his missing wallet.

- Here are some more examples:
ask call plead press clamour long yearn wish wait opt vote arrange apply

5 VERB + BARE INFINITIVE

After dare, need (in negative sentences) and help we commonly use a bare infinitive, although a to-infinitive is also possible with no change in meaning:

I didn't dare say what I really thought.
They stopped to help push the car out of the way.
I don't think you need (to) rewrite the essay.

- Note that need can't be followed by to-infinitive when used as a modal in questions:
Need you be so offensive?
- We use dare in the common phrases I dare say meaning 'I suppose it's true' or 'I expect it's true', and How dare you said to show you feel offended:
I dare say you're off to Greece for your holiday again.
How dare you talk to me in that tone of voice!
- A few verbs are followed by an object + bare infinitive:
I'll let you finish the rest of that cake. Do you want to help me wrap these Christmas presents? They made the whole family stand outside while they searched the house.
- However, note the structure with to-infinitive in the passive with make and help:
The whole family was made to stand outside.

? check

Match these sentences with the five main points above.

- He claimed to be the rightful heir to the throne.
- They pretended to have met before.
- I'm waiting for you to make up your mind.
- Tell me what you know and I'll let you go.
- I absolutely forbid you to see that man again.

Practice

- 1 Fill each of the gaps in these sentences with a correct form of the verb printed in bold and another verb of your own choice.

SECTION 3

Verbs followed by as

1 DEFINING ROLE OR FUNCTION

A number of verbs are followed by a phrase with as that helps to define the thing we are talking about:

- its role or function:
My father worked as a chef for many years.
- the role or function it pretends to have:
William loves dressing up as Batman.
- is perceived as having:
We viewed the whole activity as rather mundane.

2 AS + NOUN

After some verbs we use as + noun (phrase):

- He's going to stand down as President at the next election.*
This gadget doubles as a bottle opener and corkscrew.
He started off as an ordinary sailor but ended up as admiral.
To be honest, she comes across as a bit of a know-all.

The lump was diagnosed as non-malignant.

- Here are more examples:
attack confirm characterise denounce reveal brand expose categorise dismiss describe

Note that we can also use most of these verbs with as + noun (phrase).

4 DEFINING THE OBJECT

We can use as + noun (phrase) to define the object of some verbs:

- I have always acknowledged my first teacher as a great influence on me.*
I see this year as a great opportunity to improve our production rate.
They appointed the vice-president as chairman.
The dealer tried to pass various forgeries off as the real thing.

- We can also use this structure in the passive:
I was regarded as a problem child.
The oldest man was identified as the main culprit.
- Here are some more examples of verbs we use in this way:
name interpret elect proclaim label perceive nominate treat classify keep recognise employ define use select dismiss accept rate

5 SIMILAR STRUCTURES

- We use for, not as, after a few verbs similar to those above:
Do you take me for a fool?
I was mistaken for a foreigner.
- We use like, not as, with some verbs:
She behaved like a child.
- Sometimes a verb can be followed by like or as:
He treated me like a child. (= I'm not a child)
Let's treat this as a lesson for both of us. (= It can be a lesson)
- With some similar verbs, we don't use like, as, or for:
My teacher considers me a fool.
The youngest woman proved the best candidate.
He ended up unemployed. (End up can be followed by as + noun. See 2 above)

watch out!

We use as if in a different way from as:

- ✗ He looked at me as I was an idiot.
✓ He looked at me as if I was an idiot.

2 ENDING

There are also many common phrases related to ending things:

People die, pass away and 'go to meet their maker', crops fail, the seed falls on stony ground and bank customers close accounts.

A newspaper reporter might write of whole communities being massacred, annihilated, wiped out, slaughtered, even butchered.

Reputations can be ruined, destroyed, forever tarnished or stained, in tatters, in ruins.

Public figures can be cut down to size, brought down to earth with a bump, stripped of their dignity, reduced to ciphers, consigned to the scrap-heap, be kicked out of office or just stand down.

Companies can close, shut down, cease trading, be taken over, go out of business, go bankrupt, go to the wall, go into liquidation or simply call it a day.

3 Match a first half (1–6) with a second half (a–f) to make complete sentences.

- 1 His career took off with two successful films
- 2 They got engaged in spring
- 3 He was made skipper last season
- 4 He joined the fitness club in August
